

T H E
POST-CHAISE COMPANION:

O R,
TRAVELLER'S DIRECTORY,

T H R O U G H
I R E L A N D.

C O N T A I N I N G,

Among many other useful Particulars,

I. An alphabetical List of all the CITIES, TOWNS, and remarkable VILLAGES, with the COUNTIES they are in.

II. The Direct Roads from DUBLIN to all the Places in the KINGDOM: shewing the Distances from each CITY, TOWN, or VILLAGE, to the next on the same Road, with their respective Distances from DUBLIN.

III. Descriptions of NOBLEMEN'S and GENTLEMEN'S SEATS, CITIES, TOWNS, natural CURIOSITIES, CASTLES, RUINS, LOUGHS, GLENS, HARBOURS, &c. &c.

IV. The CROSS ROADS of IRELAND.

V. The CIRCUITS of the JUDGES.

Compiled from the only authentic SURVEY ever made of the ROADS in IRELAND, by Messrs. TAYLOR and SKINNER, and other valuable WORKS, both in PRINT and MS. with the Assistance of several NOBLEMEN and GENTLEMEN, forming an Historical and Descriptive Account of the Kingdom.

---

Ornamented with a new and correct MAP of IRELAND.

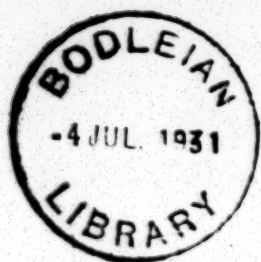

---

L O N D O N:

Printed for W. FADEN, No. 487, STRAND.

M,DCC,LXXXIV.

TO HIS GRACE
CHARLES MANNERS,
DUKE OF RUTLAND,
MARQUIS OF GRANBY,
EARL OF RUTLAND,
BARON ROOS OF HAMLAKE,
TRUSBUT AND BELVOIR, AND
BARON MANNERS OF HADDON,
LORD LIEUTENANT
AND CUSTOS ROTULORUM
OF THE COUNTY OF LEICESTER,
ONE OF THE LORDS OF HIS MAJESTY'S MOST HONOURABLE PRIVY COUNCIL,
KNIGHT OF THE MOST NOBLE ORDER
OF THE GARTER, AND
LORD LIEUTENANT GENERAL,
AND GENERAL GOVERNOR OF IRELAND.

THIS DESCRIPTION OF THE ROADS OF IRELAND, IS WITH THE UTMOST RESPECT, DEDICATED
BY HIS GRACE'S
MOST OBEDIENT HUMBLE SERVANT,
THE EDITOR, }

W. WILSON.

DUBLIN,
Sept. 1, 1734.

---

P R E F A C E.

THE Public are here presented with a convenient Pocket Volume of the Roads of Ireland, similar to Mr. Paterson's useful Book of the English Roads. Although the first of the kind attempted in this Kingdom, the Editor hopes, on inspection, it will be found more comprehensive than the latter. The Utility of it to all Orders of People, particularly to Travellers, must be obvious. Indeed, the want of such a work has been so long, and so generally felt, that it is not easy to account for the deficiency, but from the difficulty of the execution.

To display the difficulties, and to point out the various sources of Information requisite for the compilation, might appear ostentatious, and rather calculated to excite surprise, or move contempt, than to win approbation, or avert censure. Yet, let the intelligent weigh well the nature of the undertaking; of describing what has been hitherto undescribed; of pointing out what has hitherto been unnoticed; of travelling over Ground, that though often trod, had not been accurately surveyed; and he will be convinced of the usefulness of our labours, and will not, from the mean suggestions of caprice, indulge his spleen, or, from the worst kind of avarice, withhold his praise.

What the Reader may expect to meet with in our POST-CHaise COMPANION, we shall briefly mention.

I. Accurate Lists of the Direct and Cross Roads of Ireland, with the Distances from the Castle of Dublin, to the Market-Houses of the several Towns; or from the Market-House of one Town to that of another; from actual Surveys by Taylor and Skinner, or well authenticated Information.

II. Descriptions of Cities, Towns, Churches, Castles, Ruins, Gentlemens Seats, Loughs, Waterfalls, Spa's, Glens, &c. with their respective Distances from the Places last described, or the nearest Town.

III. The present State of Improvement, and Appearance of the Country, so essentially different from what it has hitherto been, and as represented in Publications relative to our natural and civil History.

These are the chief particulars of the Work; and we hope they will appear to be accurately and faithfully executed, allowing for the alterations and changes that have happened from the time of writing to the day of publication.

But Perfection, in a Work of this transient Nature is not at first to be expected. We could not every where see things with our own eyes, but were to take them where we could find them: and every one knows, that information is difficult to be acquired; is frequently obscure, and sometimes erroneous; that written accounts are defective, and verbal ones partial; that a parental affection for possessions may exaggerate beauties, and a perverted judgment, if not a detracting spirit, represent defects that exist not; that the same objects, viewed at different seasons, take different appearances; that where many things are to be described, some of great relative importance, may be entirely passed over, or very inadequately exhibited, and others, of no great consequence, be circumstantially dwelt on. But these are things unavoidable, and affect not the general merit of a work, if truth and fidelity are adhered to.

Every

Every one knows too, that what is desirable is not always practicable, and what is practicable is not always executed.

The Face of our Country is continually changing. New Roads, new Seats, new Plantations, new Improvements of every Kind, create so total an Alteration of the Appearance of Things, that in the Revolution of a very few Years, a Country is scarcely known to the returning, astonished Spectator. To these Circumstances add the Tumbling down of Houses and Edifices by the Assaults of Men; the Mouldering away of Monuments, Churches, and Castles by the Devastations of Time; the Emigrations of Persons from their Seats; the Marriages and Deaths of Parties; the Change of Names; the Acquisition, or Alteration of Titles; the Alienation of Property; the Fluctuation of Trade and Manufactures; the Mutability, in short, of all human Things; and it will not appear wonderful, that some Errors are to be found in this Performance. The candid and intelligent Reader may rather wonder that there are so few; especially, if he adverts to the numerous Obstacles and Difficulties we had to encounter, and the Nature of our Work. In Fact, the Hopes of finishing a complete and permanent Picture of such evanescent Images, would be equally vain with painting Clouds, which while we survey and prepare to delineate, shift their Forms, and before the Work is well begun totally vanish.

Our Picture, however, of the present State of the Country being just and faithful, with respect to the resemblance, however deficient in the colouring, we trust it will be as lasting as the nature of it will permit. As new scenes, new circumstances arise, it may be retouched and varied, according to the inclinations or abilities of the succeeding Painters, the Contour, or Outline, being still preserved. The subject is susceptible of continual improvement; and particular parts of the work may receive it from persons that might be unequal to the whole performance. The Ground-Work here laid may enable future artists,

artists, when the head and hand are cold that furnished these materials, to finish a picture that travellers may contemplate with pleasure.

The Measurements of the Road from one Stage to another, shew the Distance in Miles, Halves, and Quarters, which are arranged in two Columns; for instance, the first gives the Distance from one City, Town, or Village to the next; the further Column, the Number of Miles from Dublin, or the commencement of the Road, noting each different County as the Traveller enters. And for farther information and amusement, at the end of each Road is given a brief account of whatever is worthy of Observation.

To find the Road from Dublin to any City, Town, or remarkable Village in Ireland, look for the Name of the Place in the Index to the Roads from Dublin, and the Figure opposite to it refers to the Page in which is that Part of the Road containing the Place looked for; thus from Dublin to Cork, the Index directs you to Page 146, where you find Cork, with its Distance from Dublin.

In describing the less Roads branching out from the greater, the last remarkable Place on the great Road, or the spot where the less turns off, is first given with a Reference to the Page in which you will find the Road so far as to that Place; and afterwards the Branch is continued: as for instance, to find the Road from Dublin to Waterford, the Index refers you to Page 176, where you find it in the following form, viz.

|                                         |                                 |
|-----------------------------------------|---------------------------------|
| Gowran , as in Page 175          | 52                              |
| Thomastown                       | $6\frac{3}{4}$ 58 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Jerpoint                         | $1\frac{1}{4}$ 60               |
| Mullinavat                       | 8 68                            |
| Ferrybank                        | $6\frac{1}{4}$ 74 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| WATERFORD , Co. Waterford | $\frac{1}{4}$ 74 $\frac{1}{2}$  |

By

By which it appears you are referred to Page 175 for this Road as far as Gowran; thence the Remainder of the Road is given after the above Form in Page 176, as directed by the Index. In like manner for the Roads from Dublin to Ballyragget, the Index directs to Page 160, where you are referred to Page 159 for one Road as far as Castle-comer, and to Page 146 for the Road from Dublin to Kilkullen Bridge, the Continuation of each Road being given in the several Pages referred to. These References are made Use of, in order to prevent the numberless repetitions which otherwise would unavoidably occur in a work of this kind.

In looking for the Cross Roads, recourse must likewise be had to their respective Indexes, which are so plain as to require no farther explanation than what is given with them in their proper places.

The Reader is requested to observe, that Descriptions of Places and Gentlemen's Seats are given indiscriminately in the Accounts of both the Direct and Cross Roads; and therefore, if he finds not the Article he expects in one, by examining the Index of the other, and turning to the Pages referred to, he may, probably, meet with it.

---

 Eleven Irish Miles are equal to Fourteen British; and One Shilling and One Penny Irish Currency, is One British Shilling.

R A T E S of P O S T I N G.

|                                  |           |                   |
|----------------------------------|-----------|-------------------|
| For a Chaise and Pair of Horses, | - -       | 1s. 1d. per Mile. |
| Four Horses,                     | - -       | 1s. 8d. per Do.   |
| A Saddle Horse.                  | - - - - - | 0s. 4d. per Do.   |

I N D E X

T O T H E

R O A D S F R O M D U B L I N ,

To all the CITIES, TOWNS, and VILLAGES,

I N

I R E L A N D.

✚ The First Column contains the Name of the Place; the Second, the County it is in; and the Third, the Page in which the Road is to be found.

| A                 |              |     | B                   |             |     |
|-------------------|--------------|-----|---------------------|-------------|-----|
| Abbydorney        | Kerry        | 121 | Bagnell's Bridge    | Carlow      | 179 |
| Abbyfeale         | Limerick     | 103 | Baillieborough      | Cavan       | 49  |
| Abington          | Limerick     | 136 | Balbriggan          | Dublin      | 5   |
| Adair             | Limerick     | 102 | Balcarra            | Mayo        | 79  |
| Aghrim            | Galway       | 87  | Ball                | Mayo        | 73  |
| Aghrim            | Wicklow      | 185 | Ballaghadirreen     | Mayo        | 67  |
| Aglifh            | Waterford    | 173 | Ballaghneed Inn     | Tyrone      | 35  |
| Ahascragh         | Galway       | 86  | Ballaghy            | Mayo        | 67  |
| Annacotty         | Limerick     | 102 | Ballatedare         | Sligo       | 59  |
| Annalong          | Down         | 11  | Balliboghill        | Dublin      | 5   |
| Antrim            | Antrim       | 16  | Ballina, or Belleek | Mayo        | 67  |
| Arbella           | Kerry        | 125 | Ballinatad          | Sligo       | 59  |
| Ardee             | Louth        | 34  | Ballinalack         | Westmeath   | 59  |
| Ardfert           | Kerry        | 121 | Ballinanaght        | Cavan       | 53  |
| Ardkarna Church   | Rescommon    | 59  | Ballinasloe         | Galway      | 75  |
| Ardra             | Donegal      | 42  | Ballinderry         | Antrim      | 18  |
| Ardallas          | Clare        | 116 | Ballindine          | Mayo        | 84  |
| Ardstraw Bridge   | Tyrone       | 37  | Ballindrait         | Donegal     | 38  |
| Arklow            | Wicklow      | 193 | Ballinlough         | Rescommon   | 73  |
| Armagh            | Armagh       | 22  | Ballinrobe          | Mayo        | 84  |
| Arnoy Church      | Antrim       | 19  | Ballintra           | Donegal     | 42  |
| Artane            | Dublin       | 201 | Ballybay            | Monaghan    | 39  |
| Askeyton          | Limerick     | 123 | Ballybofey          | Donegal     | 53  |
| Athboy            | Meath        | 53  | Ballybough Bridge   | Dublin      | 201 |
| Athenry           | Galway       | 75  | Ballyboy            | King's Co.  | 96  |
| Athlone           | West. & Ros. | 74  | Ballybrittas        | Queen's Co. | 102 |
| Athy              | Kildare      | 159 | Ballycanoe          | Wexford     | 198 |
| Aughadowny Bridge | Derry        | 25  | Ballycarry          | Antrim      | 13  |
| Augher            | Tyrone       | 35  | Ballycastle         | Antrim      | 19  |
| Aughnacloy        | Tyrone       | 28  | Ballyconnel         | Cavan       | 54  |

INDEX to the ROADS from DUBLIN.

|                   |             |     |                    |             |     |
|-------------------|-------------|-----|--------------------|-------------|-----|
| Ballycumber       | King's Co.  | 87  | Bridgetown         | Clare       | 112 |
| Ballyforan        | Roscommon   | 78  | Broadford          | Clare       | 112 |
| Ballygawly        | Tyrone      | 28  | Broughshane        | Antrim      | 21  |
| Ballyhaunis       | Mayo        | 73  | Bruff              | Limerick    | 136 |
| Ballyjames-Duff   | Cavan       | 42  | Bryan's Ford       | Down        | 10  |
| Ballyket          | Clare       | 101 | Bullboyle          | Dublin      | 199 |
| Ballymahon        | Longford    | 67  | Bullock            | Dublin      | 189 |
| Ballymalony       | Clare       | 112 | Burris             | Carlow      | 179 |
| Ballymanlagh      | Tipperary   | 138 | Barros in Offory   | Queen's Co. | 102 |
| Ballymascanlan    | Louth       | 7   | Burton Hall        | Carlow      | 149 |
| Ballymegarry      | Tyrone      | 38  | Butler's Bridge    | Cavan       | 42  |
| Ballymena         | Antrim      | 19  | Butterstown        | Dublin      | 189 |
| Ballymoney        | Antrim      | 16  | C                  |             |     |
| Ballymoreen       | Tipperary   | 138 | Cabragh            | Dublin      | 48  |
| Ballymore-Eustace | Dublin      | 180 | Cahier             | Tipperary   | 143 |
| Ballymulalon      | Roscommon   | 78  | Caghryariff        | Clare       | 101 |
| Ballymurphy       | Roscommon   | 82  | Cairnhill          | Meath       | 51  |
| Ballynaganny      | Meath       | 53  | Callaghan's Mills  | Clare       | 112 |
| Ballynagar        | Roscommon   | 67  | Callahil           | Fermanagh   | 52  |
| Ballynahinch      | Down        | 13  | Callen             | Kilkenny    | 146 |
| Ballynamore       | Galway      | 78  | Callidon           | Tyrone      | 29  |
| Ballynure         | Antrim      | 14  | Caltragh           | Galway      | 85  |
| Ballypooreen      | Tipperary   | 160 | Cappoquin          | Waterford   | 168 |
| Ballyragget       | Kilkenny    | 160 | Carlanstown        | Meath       | 49  |
| Ballyroan         | Queen's Co. | 137 | Carlingford        | Louth       | 7   |
| Ballyshannon      | Donegall    | 42  | Carlow             | Carlow      | 146 |
| Baltimore         | Cork        | 146 | Carmoney           | Antrim      | 14  |
| Baltinglass       | Wicklow     | 180 | Carncastle Church  | Antrim      | 14  |
| Banagher          | King's Co.  | 89  | Carnew             | Wicklow     | 188 |
| Banagher Church   | Tyrone      | 32  | Carrickfergus      | Antrim      | 13  |
| Banbridge         | Down        | 2   | Carrickmacross     | Monaghan    | 39  |
| Bandon            | Cork        | 146 | Carrick on Shannon | Leitrim     | 59  |
| Bangor            | Down        | 5   | Carrick on Suir    | Tipperary   | 175 |
| Bantry            | Cork        | 166 | Carrigans          | Donegall    | 35  |
| Barry             | Longford    | 71  | Cashell            | Tipperary   | 138 |
| Baunboy           | Cavan       | 53  | Castlebar          | Mayo        | 73  |
| Beggar's Bridge   | Westmeath   | 74  | Castle Bellingham  | Louth       | 1   |
| Belcamp           | Dublin      | 201 | Castle Blakeney    | Galway      | 85  |
| Belfast           | Antrim      | 2   | Castle Blaney      | Monaghan    | 28  |
| Belgriffin        | Dublin      | 201 | Castlecarrberry    | Kildare     | 89  |
| Belleck           | Mayo        | 67  | Castle Caulfield   | Armagh      | 30  |
| Belleck Town      | Fermanagh   | 42  | Castlecormer       | Kilkenny    | 159 |
| Belurbet          | Cavan       | 52  | Castledermot       | Kildare     | 146 |
| Bennet's Bridge   | Kilkenny    | 175 | Castlesin          | Donegall    | 53  |
| Birr              | King's Co.  | 95  | Castle Hacket      | Galway      | 81  |
| Blackbank         | Armagh      | 24  | Castle Island      | Kerry       | 129 |
| Blackrock         | Dublin      | 189 | Castleknock        | Dublin      | 41  |
| Blackwater Foot   | Down        | 22  | Castle Laghan      | Mayo        | 67  |
| Blackwater Town   | Armagh      | 24  | Castle Lyons       | Cork        | 172 |
| Bleffington       | Wicklow     | 180 | Castlemain         | Kerry       | 135 |
| Bovaugh Bridge    | Tyrone      | 31  | Castlemartyr       | Cork        | 172 |
| Boyle             | Roscommon   | 59  | Castle Plunket     | Roscommon   | 73  |
| Brakenstown       | Dublin      | 5   | Castlereagh        | Roscommon   | 73  |
| Bracklown Inn     | Kerry       | 103 | Castle Shane       | Monaghan    | 35  |
| Braganstown       | Louth       | 27  | Castletown         | Kildare     | 62  |
| Bray              | Wicklow     | 190 | Castletown         | Queen's Co. | 102 |

INDEX to the ROADS from DUBLIN.

11

|                   |             |     |                  |             |     |
|-------------------|-------------|-----|------------------|-------------|-----|
| Castletown Roche  | Cork        | 63  | Cullovile        | Armagh      | 28  |
| Castlewella       | Down        | 8   | Cumber           | Down        | 12  |
| Cavan             | Cavan       | 42  | Curragha         | Meath       | 39  |
| Celbridge         | Kildare     | 97  | D                |             |     |
| Chapel-Izod       | Dublin      | 60  | Dalkey           | Dublin      | 189 |
| Chapelmidway      | Dublin      | 39  | Daly's Bridge    | Cavan       | 53  |
| Charlemont        | Armagh      | 23  | Dargle           | Wicklow     | 183 |
| Charleville       | Cork        | 136 | Darien's Bridge  | Cavan       | 53  |
| Church-hill       | Fermanagh   | 42  | Dawson's Court   | Que n's Co. | 105 |
| Church-town       | Dublin      | 183 | Derry            | Tipperary   | 112 |
| Clady             | Derry       | 32  | Desartmartin     | Derry       | 24  |
| Clain             | Kildare     | 97  | Dingle           | Kerry       | 108 |
| Clara             | King's Co.  | 87  | Donaghclony      | Armagh      | 17  |
| Clare             | Clare       | 85  | Donaghadee       | Down        | 2   |
| Clentibret Church | Monaghan    | 35  | Donaghmore       | Armagh      | 30  |
| Clogh             | Antrim      | 8   | Donegall         | Don g. l.   | 42  |
| Cloghan           | Donegall    | 53  | Doneraile        | Cork        | 161 |
| Cloghan           | King's Co.  | 89  | Donnybrook       | Dublin      | 198 |
| Cloghanlea        | Donegall    | 42  | Donnycarney      | Dublin      | 101 |
| Clogheen          | Tipperary   | 143 | Donough          | Fermanagh   | 42  |
| Clogher           | Tyrone      | 37  | Douglas Bridge   | Tyrone      | 15  |
| Clogh Mills       | Antrim      | 20  | Doulough's Saint | Dublin      | 101 |
| Clondalkin        | Dublin      | 103 | Downhills        | Armagh      | 38  |
| Clonegal          | Wexford     | 187 | Downpatrick      | Down        | 8   |
| Clonegowan        | King's Co.  | 97  | Downs Glen of    | Wicklow     | 194 |
| Clonekilty        | Cork        | 146 | Drogheda         | Louth       | 1   |
| Clones            | Monaghan    | 49  | Dromilli         | Armagh      | 28  |
| Clonkeen          | Louth       | 39  | Dromore          | Down        | 2   |
| Clonmell          | Tipperary   | 146 | Drum             | Monaghan    | 49  |
| Clonmellon        | Westmeath   | 53  | Drumafnave       | Lettin      | 10  |
| Clonmulsh Church  | Carlow      | 179 | Drumcondra       | Dublin      | 10  |
| Clononaflee       | Queen's Co. | 122 | Drumcong         | Galway      | 89  |
| Cloonakenny       | Limerick    | 103 | Drummole         | Lettin      | 59  |
| Cloyne            | Cork        | 171 | Duleek           | Meath       | 41  |
| Coagh             | Tyrone      | 31  | Dunaghy          | Tyrone      | 17  |
| Coal Island       | Tyrone      | 24  | Dundalk          | Louth       | 1   |
| Colehill          | Longford    | 71  | Dundrum          | Down        | 10  |
| Coleraine         | Derry       | 16  | Dundrum          | Tipperary   | 140 |
| Collon            | Louth       | 34  | Dunfanaghy       | Donegal     | 38  |
| Colooney          | Sligo       | 59  | Dungannon        | Tyrone      | 1   |
| Cookstown         | Tyrone      | 27  | Dungarvan        | W.aterford  | 174 |
| Coolock           | Dublin      | 101 | Dungiven         | Derry       | 32  |
| Cootchill         | Cavan       | 49  | Dunkerrin        | King's Co.  | 100 |
| Corcreagh         | Louth       | 34  | Dunkary          | Dublin      | 189 |
| Cork              | Cork        | 146 | Dunlecknoy       | Carlow      | 179 |
| Coroneery         | Cavan       | 49  | Dunleer          | Louth       | 1   |
| Corrofin          | Clare       | 101 | Dunmacreen       | Mayo        | 82  |
| Coulclare         | Clare       | 101 | Dunmanway        | Cork        | 166 |
| Craghwell Bridge  | Galway      | 89  | Dunmore          | Galway      | 8   |
| Craigtown Inn     | Tyrone      | 33  | Dunmore          | Kerry       | 181 |
| Cromlin           | Dublin      | 180 | Dunshaglin       | Meath       | 42  |
| Crossdony         | Cavan       | 53  | Durrow           | Kildare     | 107 |
| Crossmalincy      | Mayo        | 79  | E                |             |     |
| Crotto            | Kerry       | 121 | Edgeworth's Town | Longford    | 10  |
| Crumlin           | Antrim      | 18  | Edenderry        | King's Co.  | 10  |
| Crusheen          | Clare       | 91  | Eglith           | King's Co.  | 10  |

INDEX to the ROADS from DUBLIN.

|                    |              |     |                      |            |     |
|--------------------|--------------|-----|----------------------|------------|-----|
| Eight Mile Bridge  | Down         | 10  | Inchegeela           | Cork       | 165 |
| Elphin             | Roscommon    | 72  | Inniskeane           | Cork       | 166 |
| Emo Inn            | Queen's Co.  | 102 | Innistioige          | Kilkenny   | 178 |
| Emy Vale           | Monaghan     | 35  | Innistymond          | Clare      | 101 |
| Ennis              | Clare        | 94  | Inver                | Donegall   | 42  |
| Enniscorthy        | Wexford      | 187 | Johnstown's Fews     | Armagh     | 24  |
| Enniskerry         | Wicklow      | 183 | Johnstown            | Kilkenny   | 102 |
| Enniskillen        | Fermanagh    | 42  | Jonesborough         | Armagh     | 1   |
| Erigill Church     | Monaghan     | 35  | Julian's Town Bridge | Meath      | 1   |
| F                  |              |     |                      |            |     |
| Fearbane           | King's Co.   | 87  | Keady                | Armagh     | 30  |
| Fernoy             | Cork         | 163 | Kells                | Meath      | 19  |
| Ferns              | Wexford      | 193 | Kenagh               | Longford   | 71  |
| Fethard            | Tipperary    | 179 | Kenmare Town         | Kerry      | 126 |
| Finac              | West. & Cav. | 58  | Kilbeggan            | Westmeath  | 74  |
| Finglask           | Dublin       | 39  | Kilcock              | Kildare    | 59  |
| Fintown            | Donegall     | 53  | Kilconnel            | Galway     | 75  |
| Forest             | Dublin       | 5   | Kilcullen Bridge     | Kildare    | 146 |
| Forkill            | Armagh       | 23  | Kildare              | Kildare    | 100 |
| Foxford            | Mayo         | 67  | Kildorery            | Cork       | 160 |
| Frankford          | King's Co.   | 89  | Kilfenora            | Clare      | 101 |
| G                  |              |     |                      |            |     |
| Galway             | Galway       | 75  | Kilfin               | Kerry      | 103 |
| Garvagh            | Derry        | 25  | Kilkenny             | Kilkenny   | 146 |
| Gilford            | Down         | 16  | Killalla             | Mayo       | 67  |
| Glanevy            | Antrim       | 15  | Killaloe             | Clare      | 112 |
| Glassnevin         | Dublin       | 5   | Killarney            | Kerry      | 126 |
| Glenarm            | Antrim       | 14  | Killashee            | Derry      | 71  |
| Glen of the Downs  | Wicklow      | 194 | Killberry            | Meath      | 51  |
| Glynna             | Limerick     | 118 | Killeigh             | King's Co. | 96  |
| Gore's Bridge      | Kilkenny     | 178 | Killeny              | Dublin     | 189 |
| Gorey              | Wexford      | 193 | Killesandra          | Cavan      | 53  |
| Gort               | Galway       | 94  | Kilkeele             | Down       | 11  |
| Gowran             | Kilkenny     | 175 | Killynaule           | Tipperary  | 144 |
| Graigeanamanagh    | Kilkenny     | 178 | Killough             | Down       | 10  |
| Granard            | Longford     | 58  | Killwater            | Down       | 14  |
| Grange             | Antrim       | 18  | Killybegs            | Donegall   | 42  |
| Grange, near Slane | Meath        | 40  | Killygordon          | Donegall   | 52  |
| Grange Fortescue   | Meath        | 39  | Killyleagh           | Down       | 12  |
| Greenoge           | Dublin       | 39  | Killyman Church      | Tyrone     | 24  |
| Grey Abbey         | Down         | 8   | Kilmacrennan         | Donegall   | 38  |
| Grosborough Inn    | Monaghan     | 35  | Kilmagany            | Kilkenny   | 175 |
| Gurtahurk          | Donegall     | 42  | Kilmain              | Mayo       | 85  |
| H                  |              |     |                      |            |     |
| Hacketstown        | Carlow       | 183 | Kilmallock           | Limerick   | 136 |
| Hall's Mill        | Down         | 17  | Kilmeague            | Kildare    | 97  |
| Hamilton's Bawn    | Armagh       | 23  | Kilmoon Church       | Meath      | 39  |
| Headfort           | Galway       | 81  | Kilmurry Church      | Clare      | 117 |
| Hervey's Hill      | Tyrone       | 33  | Kilmurry-ibrickan    | Clare      | 101 |
| Hillsborough       | Down         | 2   | Kilgarvan            | Kerry      | 164 |
| Hollymount         | Mayo         | 79  | Kilrea               | Derry      | 31  |
| Hollywood          | Down         | 5   | Kilrush              | Clare      | 101 |
| Hortelap           | King's Co.   | 74  | Kilternan            | Dublin     | 183 |
| Howth              | Dublin       | 199 | Kilworth             | Cork       | 141 |
| I                  |              |     |                      |            |     |
| Jerpoint           | Kilkenny     | 176 | Kingscourt           | Cavan      | 51  |
|                    |              |     | Kinnegad             | Westmeath  | 59  |
|                    |              |     | Kinfale              | Cork       | 167 |
|                    |              |     | Kircubben            | Down       | 8   |

INDEX to the ROADS from DUBLIN.

v

|                     |             |     |                     |             |     |
|---------------------|-------------|-----|---------------------|-------------|-----|
| Knightbridge        | Cork        | 164 | Middleton           | Cork        | 171 |
| Knocklong           | Limerick    | 138 | Mill of Louth       | Louth       | 27  |
| Knocktopher         | Kilkenny    | 176 | Mill Street         | Cork        | 161 |
| Kyle                | Wexford     | 198 | Miltown             | Dublin      | 183 |
| L                   |             |     | Mitchell's Town     | Cork        | 140 |
| Laggan Bridge       | Monaghan    | 39  | Moatagrenoge        | Westmeath   | 74  |
| Laghy               | Donegal     | 42  | Moirs               | Down        | 17  |
| Lambay              | Dublin      | 201 | Monaghan            | Monaghan    | 35  |
| Laneborough         | Longford    | 67  | Monasterevan        | Kildare     | 102 |
| Largay              | Cavan       | 54  | Moneygall           | King's Co.  | 102 |
| Larne               | Antrim      | 13  | Moneymore           | Derry       | 24  |
| Lea                 | Queen's Co. | 122 | Monivea             | Galway      | 85  |
| Leighlin Bridge     | Carlow      | 146 | Montrath            | Queen's Co. | 102 |
| Leixlip             | Kildare     | 59  | Mount Bellew Bridge | Galway      | 86  |
| Leny                | Westmeath   | 59  | Mount Charles       | Donegal     | 42  |
| Letterkenny         | Donegal     | 38  | Mount Juliet        | Kilkenny    | 175 |
| Lifford             | Donegal     | 35  | Mountmellick        | Queen's Co. | 122 |
| Limerick            | Limerick    | 102 | Moyallen            | Down        | 16  |
| Lisbellaw           | Fermanagh   | 42  | Moynalty            | Meath       | 49  |
| Lisburn             | Antrim      | 2   | Moyvore             | Westmeath   | 67  |
| Lisimore            | Waterford   | 168 | Mulhuddard          | Dublin      | 43  |
| Litimyny            | King's Co.  | 87  | Mullinavat          | Kilkenny    | 176 |
| Lisneskea           | Fermanagh   | 42  | Mullingar           | Westmeath   | 59  |
| Listowell           | Kerry       | 103 | Mulloghanee Bridge  | Armagh      | 28  |
| Lispole             | Kerry       | 103 | N                   |             |     |
| Lixnaw              | Kerry       | 120 | Naas                | Kildare     | 102 |
| Londonderry         | Derry       | 32  | Nannywater          | Meath       | 5   |
| Longford            | Longford    | 59  | Naren               | Donegal     | 42  |
| Longford Pass       | Tipperary   | 138 | Narraghmore         | Kildare     | 147 |
| Loughbrickland      | Down        | 1   | Narrow-water        | Down        | 10  |
| Loughgall           | Antrim      | 24  | Navan               | Meath       | 41  |
| Loughgule           | Antrim      | 19  | Naul                | Dublin      | 5   |
| Loughlin            | Roscommon   | 82  | Nenagh              | Tipperary   | 112 |
| Loughrea            | Galway      | 87  | Newborough          | Wexford     | 193 |
| Lucan               | Dublin      | 59  | Newbridge           | Kildare     | 102 |
| Lurgan              | Armagh      | 15  | New Buildings       | Derry       | 38  |
| Lurgan Green        | Louth       | 1   | Newcastle           | Down        | 11  |
| Lusk                | Dublin      | 7   | Newcastle           | Limerick    | 105 |
| M                   |             |     | Newcastle           | Meath       | 51  |
| Macroom or Macrompe | Cork        | 164 | New Mills           | Tyrone      | 27  |
| Maghera             | Derry       | 25  | Newport             | Moyo        | 73  |
| Magherafelt         | Derry       | 31  | Newport             | Tipperary   | 102 |
| Magheralin          | Antrim      | 17  | New Rofs            | Wexford     | 179 |
| Magilligan Church   | Derry       | 33  | Newry               | Down        | 1   |
| Magilligan Point    | Derry       | 34  | Newtownardes        | Down        | 2   |
| Magwire's Bridge    | Fermanagh   | 42  | Newtown Bary        | Wexford     | 188 |
| Mallow              | Cork        | 161 | Newtown Bellew      | Galway      | 76  |
| Manilla             | Mayo        | 73  | Newtown Butler      | Fermanagh   | 42  |
| Manor-Hamilton      | Leitrim     | 54  | Newtown Forbes      | Longford    | 59  |
| Marino              | Dublin      | 201 | Newtown Glens       | Antrim      | 21  |
| Market-Hill         | Armagh      | 22  | Newtown Hamilton    | Armagh      | 24  |
| Maryborough         | Queen's Co. | 102 | Newtown Limavady    | Derry       | 33  |
| Mawhan              | Armagh      | 23  | Newtown Mount       | Wicklow     | 195 |
| Maynooth            | Kildare     | 59  | Kennedy             |             |     |
| Menlough            | Galway      | 85  | Newtown Stewart     | Tyrone      | 35  |
| Middleton           | Armagh      | 29  | Nine Mile House     | Tipperary   | 30  |

|                 |                    |     |                       |                   |     |
|-----------------|--------------------|-----|-----------------------|-------------------|-----|
| Nobber          | Meath       | 51  | Seaford               | Down       | 13  |
| O               |                    |     | Shallagan Bridge      | Donegall   | 42  |
| Obrien's Bridge | Clare       | 114 | Shanagolden           | Limerick   | 118 |
| Oldcastle       | Meath       | 53  | Shane's Inn           | Kerry      | 161 |
| Omagh           | Tyrone      | 28  | Shangenagh            | Dublin     | 190 |
| Oranmore        | Galway      | 75  | Shannon Bridge        | Galway     | 87  |
| Ovens Inn       | Cork        | 164 | Sheepbridge           | Down       | 1   |
| Oughterard      | Galway      | 89  | Shircock              | Cavan      | 51  |
| P               |                    |     | Silvermines           | Tipperary  | 102 |
| Palmerstown     | Dublin      | 59  | Six Mile Cross        | Tyrone     | 30  |
| Parteen         | Clare       | 114 | Skeheewrinky          | Cork       | 142 |
| Peterborough    | Monaghan    | 34  | Skerries              | Dublin     | 7   |
| Philpstown      | King's Co.  | 89  | Skerries Rocks        | Dublin     | 201 |
| Pomeroy         | Tyrone      | 30  | Skibbereen            | Cork       | 146 |
| Port            | Donegall    | 42  | Slane                 | Meath      | 39  |
| Portadown       | Armagh      | 16  | Sligo                 | Sligo      | 54  |
| Portaferry      | Down        | 8   | Stewartstown          | Tyrone     | 22  |
| Portarlinton    | Queen's Co. | 97  | Stillorgan            | Dublin     | 193 |
| Portglenone     | Antrim      | 18  | Strabane              | Tyrone     | 35  |
| Portrush        | Antrim      | 25  | Straid                | Antrim     | 13  |
| Portumna        | Galway      | 95  | Stramore Inn          | Tyrone     | 32  |
| Powericourt     | Wicklow     | 183 | Strangford            | Down       | 8   |
| Prosperous      | Kildare     | 99  | Stranocum             | Antrim     | 21  |
| R               |                    |     | Stratford upon Slaney | Wicklow    | 180 |
| Racondra        | Westmeath   | 67  | Strokestown           | Roscommon  | 67  |
| Racool          | Dublin      | 102 | Stronorlane           | Donegall   | 53  |
| Raheny          | Dublin      | 199 | Summer Hill           | Meath      | 66  |
| Raholp          | Down        | 8   | Swanlinbar            | Cavan      | 53  |
| Randalstown     | Antrim      | 16  | Swatteragh            | Kerry      | 25  |
| Raphoe          | Donegall    | 38  | Swineford             | Mayo       | 67  |
| Ratharkan       | Antrim      | 18  | Swords                | Dublin     | 1   |
| Rathangan       | Kildare     | 97  | T                     |                   |     |
| Rathbride       | Kildare     | 100 | Taghmon               | Wexford    | 187 |
| Rathcormuck     | Cork        | 146 | Tallagh               | Dublin     | 180 |
| Rathdrum        | Wicklow     | 183 | Tallagh               | Waterford  | 168 |
| Rathfriland     | Down        | 8   | Tallanstown           | Louth      | 27  |
| Rathkeale       | Limerick    | 102 | Tanderagee            | Armagh     | 22  |
| Ratoath         | Meath       | 48  | Tara Hill             | Meath      | 41  |
| Richhill        | Armagh      | 23  | Tarbert               | Kerry      | 118 |
| Riverstown      | Galway      | 95  | Terril's Pass         | Westmeath  | 74  |
| Rochdale        | Louth       | 28  | Thomastown            | Tipperary  | 138 |
| Rochestown      | Dublin      | 190 | Thomastown            | Kilkenny   | 176 |
| Roscommon       | Roscommon   | 72  | Thurles               | Tipperary  | 140 |
| Roscrea         | Tipperary   | 102 | Timolin               | Tipperary  | 102 |
| Rokenellis      | Queen's Co. | 122 | Tinehaly              | Kildare    | 146 |
| Rosk            | Cork        | 146 | Tipperary             | Wicklow    | 187 |
| Rosfirevor      | Down        | 11  | Toomavara             | Tipperary  | 138 |
| Rush            | Dublin      | 7   | Tralee                | Derry      | 103 |
| Rusky Bridge    | Leitrim     | 59  | Trim                  | Meath      | 53  |
| S               |                    |     | Tuam                  | Galway     | 78  |
| Saintfield      | Down        | 13  | Tubberdonny           | Galway     | 94  |
| St. Doulogh's   | Dublin      | 201 | Tubbermore            | Derry      | 25  |
| St. Johnstown   | Donegall    | 35  | Tullamore             | King's Co. | 89  |
| St. Margaret's  | Dublin      | 39  | Tullicarbet           | Monaghan   | 39  |
| Santry          | Dublin      | 1   | Tullo                 | Clare      | 112 |
| Screen          | Meath       | 48  | Tullow                | Carlow     | 180 |

INDEX to the ROADS from DUBLIN.

vii

|                |                  |     |                 |                  |     |
|----------------|------------------|-----|-----------------|------------------|-----|
| Tulsk          | Roscommon | 67  | Waterfall       | Wicklow   | 183 |
| Turvey         | Dublin    | 1   | Watergrafs Hill | Cork      | 168 |
| Tynan          | Armagh    | 29  | Wattle Bridge   | Fermanagh | 42  |
| U              |                  |     | Wells           | Wexford   | 198 |
| Urlingford     | Kilkenny  | 137 | Wexford         | Wexford   | 193 |
| V              |                  |     | Wicklow         | Wicklow   | 193 |
| Virginia       | Cavan     | 42  | Woodford        | Limerick  | 110 |
| W              |                  |     | Woodstock       | Kilkenny  | 178 |
| Warren's Point | Down      | 11  | Y               |                  |     |
| Warrington     | Down      | 17  | Youghall        | Cork      | 173 |
| Waterford      | Waterford | 176 |                 |                  |     |

INDEX

I N D E X

T O T H E

C R O S S R O A D S.

☛ The Figures refer to the different Pages, in which the Roads are found leading to, from, or through the Towns to which they are annexed.

A

Aghaboe, 214.
 Anacragh, 271.
 Antrim, 309, 310, 311, 312.
 Ardce, 283, 292.
 Ardra, 266.
 Ardrie, 209.
 Ardallas, 246.
 Armagh, 298, 299, 318.
 Athboy, 279, 294.
 Athleague, 217.
 Athlone, 276, 277.
 Athy, 209, 211.
 Aghadoway Church, 306.
 Aghnacloy, 300, 308, 309.

B

Bailieborough, 283.
 Balcarra, 253.
 Baldwin's Town, 206.
 Balinagar, 249.
 Balintra, 269.
 Bail, 258, 274, 310, 312.
 Ballaghadiereen, 275.
 Ballaghy, 253, 258.
 Ballinamore, 268.
 Ballinasloe, 271.
 Ballinagarry, 237, 239.
 Ballinrobe, 254, 255, 256, 258.
 Ballintogher, 270.
 Ballintra, 263.
 Ballintoy, 304.
 Ballisfadere, 261.
 Ballybay, 316.
 Ballybovey, 263, 266.
 Ballycathedy, 284.
 Ballycastle, 302, 304, 306.

Ballyhack, 205.
 Ballyhays, 300, 301.
 Ballymahon, 269, 276.
 Ballymena, 302, 303.
 Ballymoney, 303, 304, 306.
 Ballymore Church, 267.
 Ballymullart, 286.
 Ballynacargy, 300.
 Ballynahinch, 309, 313.
 Ballynakill, 211, 212.
 Ballynamona, 228.
 Ballyneety, 229.
 Ballyragget, 212, 213.
 Ballyshannon, 263, 269.
 Banbridge, 318, 319.
 Bandon, 226.
 Bantry, 224.
 Barberstown, 244.
 Barnsmore, 264.
 Belfast, 302, 303, 310, 311, 317.
 Belleek, 261.
 Belleek Town, 269, 284.
 Bellisle, 289.
 Bennet's Bridge, 213.
 Birr, 236, 237, 241, 249, 251.
 Blarney, 226, 227.
 Borheen, 229.
 Boyle, 275.
 Brackloun Inn, 232.
 Briansford, 314.
 Brooksborough, 288, 289.
 Bruff, 229, 251.
 Burris, 207.
 Burrisliskane, 237, 240.
 Burros in Oflory, 214.
 Burrosaleigh, 236.

Bush Field, 233.
Bush Mills, 304.
Buttevant, 229, 230.

C

Caghriariff, 248.
Cahier, 233.
Cahirconcliff, 233.
Cahirmee, 230.
Cahirmorres, 255, 256.
Cairnlough, 304.
Callen, 237, 238.
Callidon, 300, 308.
Cappoquin, 219, 220.
Carlanstown, 292.
Carlow, 207, 209.
Carmoncy, 302.
Carnteel, 309.
Carrick, 215, 220, 267, 269, 274.
Carrickfergus, 310.
Carrickmacross, 294.
Carrigins, 265.
Carronageclough, 225.
Carton, 244.
Cath, 284.
Cathell, 234, 236, 237, 239.
Castlebar, 255, 256, 257, 259, 260.
Castleblaney, 316.
Castle Burke, 241, 251.
Castle Caldwell, 285.
Castle Caulfield, 309.
Castlefin, 263.
Castle Hume, 286.
Castle Island, 226.
Castle Lachen, 257.
Castle Leslie, 301.
Castle Martyr, 220.
Castlemain, 232.
Castle Pollard, 281.
Castle Shane, 299.
Castletown Delvin, 294.
Castlereagh, 273, 274, 275.
Castlewellan, 313.
Cavan, 281, 283, 284, 301, 302.
Charlemont, 296.
Charleville, 229, 239.
Clady, 307.
Clain, 243.
Clare, 247, 253, 320.
Clogh, 303.
Cloghanlea, 266.
Clogharney, 287.
Clogher, 288, 289.
Clogh Mills, 303.
Clonakenny, 249.
Clonbullock, 242.
Cloneen, 238.

Clonegowan, 210.
Clonekilty, 223.
Clones, 291, 301.
Clonloft, 278.
Clonmell, 233, 236, 237.
Clonroch, 206.
Cloyne, 222.
Collon, 284.
Coleraine, 304, 306.
Coloony, 270.
Coltrain Church, 288.
Connor, 302.
Convoy, 265.
Coolkenno Inn, 209.
Cookstown, 287, 290.
Coote-Hill, 300.
Cork, 220, 222, 223, 227, 228, 230.
Corrofin, 247, 248.
Cove, 222.
Couliclare, 248.
Creely, 300.
Crossdony, 302.
Crusheen, 245.
Cumber, 311.
Curragh, 242.
Curraghmore, 215.

D

Derrybryan, 249.
Dervock, 306.
Desart Church, 307.
Dingle, 232.
Donaghedy Church, 307.
Donaghmore, 288.
Donneraile, 230.
Donough, 288, 291.
Downgate Rock, 290.
Downpatrick, 312, 317.
Dromoland, 247.
Dromore, 313, 315, 316.
Drumahare, 270.
Drumcannon Church, 218.
Drumcondra, 284.
Drummore Church, 286.
Drumcullachar, 231.
Duffrey Hall, 207.
Dunaghy, 288.
Duncannon Fort, 205.
Duncormack, 206.
Dundalk, 292, 294.
Dundurerk Castle, 225.
Dunfanaghy, 266, 267.
Dungannon, 288, 308.
Dungarvan, 219, 220.
Dungiven, 310, 311.
Dunkittle, 221.
Dunmore, 212, 252.

Dunymagh, 307.

Durrow, 213, 214.

Dyon, 308.

E

Edenderry, 242.

Edgeworth's Town, 269.

Elphin, 274.

Ennis, 246, 247, 248.

Enniskillen, 284, 286, 287, 291.

Enniscorthy, 206, 207.

Enniscrone Church, 261.

Esly Bridge, 261.

Everog Bridge, 317.

Eyrecourt, 271.

F

Farnham House, 283.

Fethard, 238, 239.

Finac, 281.

Fintona, 287.

Fin Town, 266.

Firmount, 269.

Folk's Mill, 205.

Foxford, 259.

French Park, 275.

Freshford, 214.

G

Galway, 245, 252, 255, 256.

Garifon, 269.

Garvagh, 307.

Geashill, 210.

Giant's Causeway, 304.

Gilford, 318, 319.

Glanton, 228.

Glanmore, 218.

Glablough, 300.

Glenarm, 304.

Glen Inn, 267.

Gort, 245, 249.

Gortahurk, 266.

Gortin, 290.

Granard, 269, 272, 282.

Grany Ferry, 215.

H

Hacket's Town, 208.

Hamilton's Bawn, 318, 320.

Headfort, 255, 256, 293.

Hillsborough, 313.

I

Inch Church, 317.

Inchegeela, 225.

Inishonan, 223.

Innistymond, 247, 248.

K

Keady, 298.

Kells, 215, 278, 292, 293, 295, 296, 302.

Kilbeggan, 281.

Kilberry Ruins, 211.

Kildare, 209, 242.

Kilfenora, 248.

Kilkenny, 212, 213, 214, 215.

Kilmagany, 215.

Kilmac-Thomas, 219, 226.

Kilmallock, 229, 240.

Killala, 257, 261.

Killaloe, 251.

Killarney, 228, 232.

Killashee, 277.

Killeagh, 220.

Killeigh, 211.

Killenaule, 237, 249.

Killesandra, 267, 268, 302.

Killough, 317.

Killybegs, 266.

Killyleagh, 299, 311, 312, 313.

Killyock Church, 266.

Kilmain, 255.

Kilmatague, 259.

Kilmory, 226.

Kilmurry-ibrickan, 248.

Kilrea, 306, 307.

Kilrush, 248.

Kingcourt, 283, 284.

Kinlale, 223.

Knocklong, 240.

Knocktopher, 215.

L

Lanesborough, 277.

Leap, 251.

Leighlin Bridge, 208.

Leitrim, 269.

Letterkenny, 267.

Lifford, 263.

Limerick, 228, 229, 233, 234, 245.

Lisbellaw, 291.

Lisburn, 269, 298.

Liscarrol, 231.

Lisnarick, 284.

Lisnakea, 291.

Londonderry, 265, 267, 304.

Longford, 272, 276, 277.

Lota, 220.

Lough-Erne, 285.

Loughbrickland, 318, 320.

Loughgall, 296.

Loughrea, 241, 251.

Lurgan, 296, 314, 316.

M

Macroon, 225, 226.

Maghera, 310.

Magherateit, 312.

Magwire's Bridge, 289, 291.

INDEX to the CROSS ROADS.

xi

Mallow, 228, 230, 231.
 Manor-Cunningham, 267.
 Manor-Hamilton, 269.
 Maryborough, 210.
 Maynooth, 243, 244.
 Maypole, 278.
 Mead Town, 279.
 Middleton, 220, 222, 299.
 Mill Street, 226, 228.
 Miltown, 232.
 Moira, 313, 314, 315.
 Monaghan, 291, 300.
 Monasterevan, 211.
 Moss Side, 306.
 Mountmellick, 211.
 Mount-Shannon, 251.
 Mount-Talbot, 271.
 Muff, 283, 304.
 Mullingar, 277, 278, 281, 294.
 Mullinbone, 238.
 Muthel Church, 220.

N

Naas, 242, 243.
 Navan, 279, 295.
 Nenagh, 236, 237, 240.
 Newbridge, 228, 242.
 Newcastle, 231.
 Newmarket, 215.
 Newport, 251.
 New Rois, 205, 206, 218.
 Newton Breda, 317.
 Newry, 316.
 Newtown, 208.
 Newtown Barry, 207.
 Newtown Butler, 288.
 Newtown Cunningham, 267.
 Newtown Glens, 304.
 Newtown Hamilton, 316.
 Newtown Limavady, 304, 306.
 Newtown Stewart, 290.

O

Omagh, 286, 287, 288.
 Orange-Inn, 261.
 Orange-melon, 209.
 Oranmore, 245.

P

Pallis, 233, 234.
 Palace Castle, 241.
 Partree, 254, 255.
 Passage, 222.
 Paulville, 208.
 Pettigoe, 284.
 Philipstown, 210, 242, 280, 281.
 Pomeroy, 287.
 Portglenone, 306, 307.
 Portlawn, 215.

Portumna, 240, 241, 249, 271.

R

Racondra, 277.
 Randalstown, 310.
 Raphoe, 265.
 Rathangan, 242.
 Rathclare Inn, 229.
 Rathconnel, 209.
 Rathdowny, 213.
 Rathfriland, 314, 318, 320.
 Rathkeale, 239.
 Richhill, 298, 319.
 Rockcorry, 300.
 Roiscommon, 271, 273, 274.
 Roiscrea, 213, 251.
 Rosenellis, 211.
 Rossfrevor, 314.

S

Sandholes, 288.
 St. Johnstown, 265, 272.
 Saintfield, 317.
 Scarva, 320.
 Scots Houle, 301.
 Shalagan Bridge, 266.
 Shane's Castle, 310.
 Shane's Inn, 226.
 Shilelah, 208.
 Shirk, 213.
 Shrute, 255.
 Six-Mile Bridge, 229, 245, 246.
 Six-Mile Cross, 287.
 Skibbereen, 224.
 Slane, 295, 296.
 Slane Castle, 295.
 Slieve Russel Mountain, 302.
 Sligo, 253, 258, 259, 260, 261, 263, 265.
 Smithsborough, 291.
 Spancell Hill, 245.
 Stewartstown, 288.
 Stoneyford, 309.
 Stradbally, 210, 211.
 Stradon, 283.
 Strandhouse Inn, 261.
 Stranockum, 302.
 Swanlinbar, 268, 302.
 Swineford, 258, 260.

T

Taghmon, 205.
 Tamlagh Church, 307.
 Tanderagee, 318, 319.
 Templemore, 237, 249.
 Templepatrick, 312.
 Tempn, 287.
 Terril's Pats, 281.
 Thomastown, 213, 234.

Thurles, 236, 249.
Timahoe, 211.
Tintern, 206.
Tipperary, 233, 240.
Tobercorry, 253, 258, 259.
Tralee, 226.
Tramore, 218.
Trillick, 286.
Trim, 278, 279, 280, 295.
Tuam, 252, 253, 255.
Tubberdonny, 245.
Tullamore, 211, 281.
Tullow, 207, 208.
Tulsk, 274.

Tunyquin, 274.
Tynagh, 241.
Tynan, 299, 300.
U
Velvet's Town, 229.
Urlingford, 214.

W
Waterford, 205, 215, 218, 219.
Westport, 254, 260.
Wexford, 205.
White Church, 220, 228.
Woodford, 251.

Y
Youghall, 220.

WILSON'S New & Accurate MAP

LIST of the COUNTIES

|           |    |             |    |
|-----------|----|-------------|----|
| Antrim    | 3  | Limerick    | 25 |
| Armagh    | 7  | Londonderry | 2  |
| Carlow    | 28 | Longford    | 15 |
| Cavan     | 12 | Louth       | 13 |
| Clare     | 22 | Mayo        | 9  |
| Cork      | 31 | Meath       | 17 |
| Down      | 1  | Monaghan    | 6  |
| Dublin    | 21 | Queens      | 25 |
| Fermanagh | 5  | Rooscommon  | 14 |
| Galway    | 18 | Sligo       | 10 |
| Kerry     | 30 | Tipperary   | 24 |
| Kildare   | 20 | Tyrone      | 4  |
| Kilkenny  | 27 | Waterford   | 32 |
| King's    | 19 | Westmeath   | 16 |
| Leitrim   | 11 | Wexford     | 29 |
|           |    | Wicklow     | 26 |

39, Paternosterrow, & J. Godwin, 1710, Strand - W. Wilson, 1769, W. Allen, 1788, Dame's street, DUBLIN.

THE DIRECT ROADS FROM DUBLIN, TO DIFFERENT PLACES IN IRELAND.

N. B. The Names of Cities are printed in small CAPITALS, and Borough Towns in Italics.—The Counties are also distinguished in Italics.—R. is placed contractedly for Right, and L. for Left.

The First Column shews the Distance from one Town to another.
The Second Column shews the Distance from the Castle of DUBLIN.

| DUBLIN to Belfast and Donaghadee . |                                  | Loughbrickland                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |                                  |
|--------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------|
|                                                  |                                  | Banbridge                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | 5 58 $\frac{1}{2}$               |
|                                                  |                                  | Dromore                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | 2 $\frac{1}{2}$ 60 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Drumcondra, County of                            |                                  | Hillsborough                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | 5 $\frac{1}{2}$ 66               |
| Dublin                                    | 2                                | Lisburn, Antrim                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | 3 $\frac{1}{2}$ 69 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Santry                                           | 1 $\frac{1}{4}$ 3 $\frac{1}{4}$  | Belfast                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | 3 $\frac{1}{2}$ 73               |
| Swords                                    | 3 $\frac{1}{4}$ 7                | Newtownardes, * Down                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | 7 80                             |
| Turvey                                           | 2 9                              | Donaghadee                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | 7 $\frac{1}{2}$ 87 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Man of War                                       | 3 $\frac{1}{2}$ 12 $\frac{3}{4}$ |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | 6 $\frac{1}{4}$ 94 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Balruddery                                       | 1 $\frac{1}{2}$ 14 $\frac{1}{4}$ | N. B. You may go to Belfast without going through Lisburn , by turning to the Right, at the Bridge end, near the latter Town. It is a pleasant Road, and only half a Mile longer than the other. You may also, at Belfast Bridge, turn to the Right, and save a Mile, by not going through the Town.* See another Road to Newtownardes, p. 13. |                                  |
| Julianstown Bridge, Meath                 | 6 20 $\frac{1}{4}$               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |                                  |
| Drogheda, Louth                           | 3 $\frac{1}{4}$ 23 $\frac{1}{2}$ |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |                                  |
| Dunleer                                   | 7 30 $\frac{1}{2}$               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |                                  |
| Castle Bellingham                                | 4 34 $\frac{1}{2}$               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |                                  |
| Lurgan Green                                     | 3 37 $\frac{1}{2}$               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |                                  |
| Dundalk                                   | 3 40 $\frac{1}{2}$               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |                                  |
| Jonesborough, Armagh                      | 5 $\frac{1}{4}$ 45 $\frac{1}{4}$ |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |                                  |
| Newry, Down                               | 4 $\frac{1}{4}$ 50 $\frac{1}{2}$ |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |                                  |
| Sheep Bridge                                     | 2 $\frac{1}{4}$ 53 $\frac{1}{4}$ |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |                                  |

At Drumcondra, on the Left, is the Seat of Counsellor Leigh; and on the R. near the Church, are the Seats of Mr. Fitzpatrick and Mr. Drew.

On the L. of Santry, is Santry House, a large and beautiful Edifice, with extensive and fine Demesnes, a Seat of Mr. Domville.

Near 5 Miles from Dublin, on the L. is Tamora, the Seat of Counsellor Wilkinon; half a Mile beyond which on the R. is Cloghraa Church.

About a Quarter of a Mile, on the R. of Swords, is Mantua, the Seat of Mr. Keene.

Half a Mile beyond Swords is a Turnpike; near which, on the L. is Liffen-Hall, the Seat of Mr. Gordon.

Two Miles beyond Swords, on the R. is Turvey, the elegant and delightful Seat of Robert Birch, Esq.

A Mile to the R. of Balruddery, but not seen from the Road, is Prospect, a Seat of the Earl of Beftive: And half a Mile further, is Hampton-Hall, the beautiful Seat of the Hon. Baron Hamilton.

Three Miles and a half from Balruddery, on the L. is Gormanstown, the very elegant and beautiful Seat of Lord Gormanstown.

Within a Mile of Julianstown Bridge, on the L. is Rockbellew, a fine Seat of the Earl of Ludlow.

Near Drogheda, on the R. is Greenhills, the Seat of William Meade Ogie, Esq.

Drogheda is situated on the River Boyne, 5 Miles W. of the Irish Channel. It is a very strong Place, and has a good Harbour, and a Barrack for two companies of Foot. It was taken by Storm by Oliver Cromwell, who put all the Garrison to the Sword.

Two Miles up the River from Drogheda, is Old Bridge, where there is an Obelisk erected, in Memory of the Victory obtained by King William at the Boyne in 1690.

Half a Mile beyond Drogheda, on the L. is Meil, the Seat of Mr. Singleton.

Four Miles from Drogheda, on the R. is Carter's Town, the Seat of Mr. Hamlin; and about a Mile distant, situated at the Foot of a Hill, is Stonehouse, the Seat of Mr. Owens.

To the R. of Dunleer, on a Height, is Barmeath, the very fine Seat, with extensive Domains, of Sir Patrick Bellew, Bart.

Two Miles from Dunleer, on the R. is Drumcar, a new-built House of John Mc. Clintock, Esq; and half a Mile from it, to the L. on the opposite Side of the River, is Coolistown, the Seat of Tenison Smith, Esq.

At Castle-Bellingham, on the L. is the Seat of Henry Bellingham, Esq; and on the R. Mile's Town, that of the Revd. Mr. Ogle.

Near a Mile beyond Lurgan-Green, on the L. is Clermont, a fine and delightful Seat of the Earl of Clermont.

On the L. of Dundalk is a Seat and Park of the Earl of Clanbrasil.

Opposite to Jonesborough, on the R. is Ravensdale Park, a most magnificent and beautiful Seat, with extensive and delightful Demesnes, finely cultivated, and of late greatly improved, belonging to the Rt. Hon. James Fortescue.

Three Miles and a half beyond Newry, on the R. is Maryville, the fine Seat of Mr. Arbuckle; about half a Mile beyond which, is Tremont, the Seat of Mr. Johnson.

Near 7 Miles from Newry, on the R. is Ballintagart, the Seat of Mr. Gordon.

Within 2 Miles of Dromore, on the L. is Tullycarn, the Seat of Mr. Mc. Gill; and near it, Gillhall, that of Earl Clanwilliam.

At Hillsborough (a Town of late Years greatly improved, and which for elegance and cleanliness is second to none) is a noble Seat of the Earl of Hillsborough. The Church is esteemed one of the neatest in the Kingdom.

About half a Mile beyond Lisburn, on the L. is Belfize, the Seat of Mr. Hudson.

2 Miles beyond Lisburn, on the R. are the Ruins of Drumboe Castle; and near them, is Thornhill, the Seat of Mr. Maxwell.

A Mile further, on the L. is New-Grove, the Seat of Mr. Mc. Neil.

Within 2 Miles of Belfast, on the R. is Belvoir, a most beautiful and magnificent Seat of Lord Vil. Dungannon.

Two Miles and a half beyond Belfast, on the L. is Belmount, the Seat of Mr. Barber; and near it, Castle-Hill, that of Mr. Halliday; and Thorny-Hill, that of Mr. Mathers.

A Mile and a half further, is Ballymacaw; on the R. of which is Dundonald Church; and on the L. Dunlady, the Seat of Mr. Lambert.

Within half a Mile of Newtownardes, on the L. is Ballycullen, the Seat of Mr. Simon; and Springfield, that of Mr. Dalziel.

At Newtownardes, on the R. is the Seat of R. Stewart, Esq.

Another Road to Drogheda.

|                        |                 |                  |
|------------------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Balruddery, as in p. 1 | —               | 14 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Balbriggan             | 1 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 15 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Drogheda, Louth        | 8 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 24               |

Half a Mile from Balbriggan, on the R. are the Ruins of Braemore Castle; and a Mile further, is Lowther Lodge, the Seat of Mr. Lowther.

To Donaghadee by Bangor.

|                 |                 |                  |
|-----------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Belfast, Antrim | —               | 80               |
| Hollywood, Down | 4 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 84 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Bangor          | 5 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 90               |
| Donaghadee      | 5               | 95               |

Within half a Mile of Hollywood, on the R. is the Seat of Simon Isaac, Esq.

About half a Mile beyond Hollywood, on the R. is Ballymenagh, the Seat of Mr. Hamilton; and a little farther, on the L. Cultra, the Seat of Mr. Kennedy.

Within 3 Miles and a half of Bangor, on the L. is Craigavade, the Seat of Mrs. Pottinger.

Within 2 Miles of Bangor, on the L. is Crawfordburn, the Seat of Mr. Crawford; and near it, on the R. Ballywilly, that of Mr. Jackson; about a Mile to the R. of which is Ballyleedy, the Seat of Sir John Blackwood, Bart.

DUBLIN to Drogheda, by Naul.

|                        |                 |                  |
|------------------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Glassnevin, Co. Dublin | —               | 2                |
| Forest                 | 3 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 5 $\frac{3}{4}$  |
| Brackenstown           | 4 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 6 $\frac{1}{4}$  |
| Ballyboghil            | 4 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 10 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Naul                   | 3 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 14               |
| Nannywater Bridge      | 5 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 19 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Meath                  | 2 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 22               |
| Drogheda, * Louth      | 2 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 22               |

* See the Post Road to Drogheda, p. 1.

At Glassnevin, on the L. is a very handsome Brick House, with fine Gardens and most noble Improvements, lately the Seat of Hugh Henry Mitchell, Esq.

At Hampstead, on the R. is the Seat of Mr. Davis; and a little farther, are the Seats of the late Alderman Geale, and Mr. Hamilton.

One Mile and a quarter from Glassnevin, on the L. is Stormanstown, the Seat of Mr. Stevens. About a Mile to the R. is Santry House, a Seat of Charles Domville, Esq.

Near Forest, on the L. is Pickerstown, the fine Seat of Sir Henry Cavendish, Bart. and at Forest, on the R. is the Seat of Mr. Hill.

About half a Mile to the L. of Forest, is Dunbro, the Seat of Mr. Flood; and near it, on the R. that of Mr. Butler.

At Brackenstown, is the Seat of Lord Viscount Molesworth; and half a Mile from it, on the R. are the Ruins of a Castle.

Two Miles beyond Forest, on the R. is Catherine's Grove, the very fine Seat of H. Gorges, Esq.

Two Miles beyond Brackenstown, on the L. is Mount Stewart, the Seat of Mr. Facken; and a Mile further, on the R. is Skidow, the Seat of Mr. Mc. Dermot, and Cookstown, that of Mr. Plunket.

At Ballyboghil, on the L. is the Seat of Mr. Cuninghame; and about half a Mile farther to the L. Westpeltown, the Seat of Mr. Radwell.

A little beyond Ballyboghil, on the L. are the Ruins of a Church; and near a Mile to the R. is Pettyfield, the Seat of Mr. Bowen.

Within 2 Miles of Naul, and a Mile on the L. is Malahow, the Seat of Mr. Rowley; and near Naul, on the L. West-Town, the fine Seat of Lord Berulieu.

At Naul there is a most romantic long Bridge of Rocks, wherein are many Caves leading from one Chamber into another, a vast way under Ground.

A little beyond Naul, on the L. are the Ruins of Snowton Castle.

Three Miles and a half beyond Naul, on the R. is Lisdarnan, the Seat of Mr. Wilder.

Four miles and three quarters beyond Naul, on the R. is Darcistown, the Seat of Mr. Osborne.

At Nannywater Bridge, on the R. is Cooper-Hill, the Seat of Mr. Cooper; and near a Mile to the R. of it, Retbally, that of Mr. Doran.

Within a mile and a half of Drogheda, on the R. is Beamore, the Seat of Captain Knox.

DUBLIN to Rush, to Skerries, and Balbrigger.

Turvey, as in Page 1

|            |    |     |
|------------|----|-----|
| Lusk       | 2  | 9   |
| Rush       | 2½ | 11  |
| Skerries   | 3½ | 13½ |
| Balbrigger | 3¾ | 17  |
|            |    | 20½ |

Near a Mile beyond Rush, on the L. is Rush House, the fine Seat of Mr. Palmer; and to the L. of it, Hay's Town, the Seat of Mr. Ouge.

About two Miles beyond Rush, on the R. is Loughshinny, the Seat of Mr. Dempsey.

One Mile and a half beyond Skerries, on the R. is Prospect, a Seat of the Earl of Beffve; and near it, Hampton Hall, that of the Hon. Mr. Baron Hamilton.

DUBLIN to Carlingford and Newry.

|                             |    |     |
|-----------------------------|----|-----|
| Dundalk , as in p. 1 | —  | 40½ |
| Ballymascanlan              | 3¾ | 43¾ |
| Carlingford          | 8  | 51¾ |
| Newry                | 9½ | 61¾ |

See the direct Road to Newry, p. 1.

The English Army under Duke Schomberg, was encamped at Ballymascanlan, which proved fatal to Numbers.

A Mile beyond Ballymascanlan, on the R. is Bellurgan Park, the Seat of Edward Tipping, Esq.

At Carlingford, on the L. are the Ruins of an old Castle; near which is the Seat of Ephraim Stannus, Esq.

From Carlingford to Newry, is a pleasant Road, with grand Prospects of the Bay and Mountains around it. Such Vessels as cannot get up to Newry, load and unload at Roilstrevor and Warren's Point.

A Mile from Warren's Point is Narrow-water; near which is Mount Hall, the Seat of Roger Hall, Esq.

Two Miles from Newry is Fathom, the Seat of Mr. Ogle. It is there that the Canal begins, which goes through Newry to Lough Neagh.

DUBLIN to Downpatrick, and continued to Donaghadee.

Newry, as in p. 1

|                          |    |     |
|--------------------------|----|-----|
| Rathfriland              | 7  | 50½ |
| Castlewellan*            | 7½ | 57½ |
| Clogh                    | 4  | 65  |
| Downpatrick       | 5  | 69  |
| Raholp                   | 3  | 74  |
| Strangford               | 3  | 77  |
| Ferry over to Portaferry | ½  | 80  |
| Kircubben                | 6  | 80½ |
| Grey Abbey               | 3  | 86½ |
| Donaghadee               | 6½ | 89½ |
|                          |    | 96  |

* Another Road to Castlewellan is given in p. 10.

Three Miles and a half from Newry, on the L. is Glenville, the fine Seat of Mr. Glenny.

Within a Mile of Rathfriland, on the L. is Tullyquoilly, the Seat of S. Wilcox, Esq.

Within three Miles of Castlewellan, on the L. is Ballymoney, a Seat of the Earl of Hillsborough.

At Castlewellan are a Park and Plantations of Lord Vis. Glerawley; and two Miles from it, on the R. is Bryan's Ford, an elegant Seat, with very extensive Domains, of the Earl of Clanbrassil.—Also, beyond that is Slieve Donard, one of the highest Mountains in Ireland.

Within a Mile of Clogh, on the R. is Mount Panther, a fine Seat of Lord Glerawley; and about half a Mile on the R. of that, on a height, are the Ruins of Dundrum Castle.

Near Clogh, on the R. is the Seat of Mr. Ann. Bey.

Two Miles to the L. of Downpatrick, is Hollymount, the Seat of Mr. Price.

At Downpatrick are the Ruins of an old Cathedral, said to have been built by St. Patrick, and in which his Remains are reported to be deposited.

Two Miles from Downpatrick, are the Ruins of the Monastery of Saul, said to have been also built by St. Patrick.

To the R. of Saul is St. Patrick's Well; to which at certain Seasons of the Year, Thousands of People resort; some, in Expectation of receiving Benefit from the Water blessed by the Saint; others to perform Penance enjoined by the Priests.

Within a Mile of Strangford, on the L. is Castle Ward, a fine and elegant Seat of Lord Bangor.

At and near Portaferry are the Seats of the Family of the Savages.

Between 4 and 5 Miles beyond Portaferry, on the R. is Echlinville, the Seat of Mr. Echlin.

At Grey-Abbey, on the L. is Rose-Mount, the Seat of Mr. Montgomery.

From Portaferry to Grey-Abbey, and thence to Newtown, which is 5 Miles and a half, the Road runs along the Coast, commanding a fine View of Strangford Lough, and the opposite Shore.

Strangford Lough was formerly called Lough Coine. It is a deep Bay, or Inlet of the Sea, about 17 miles long, and between 4 and 5 broad. It goes West as far as Downpatrick, and North as far as Cumber and Newtown. The Coasts of this Lake are shelving and beautiful; and interspersed with a great many pleasant Islands, on which is exceeding good grazing for Cattle. This Lough, and all the Coasts here, abound with excellent Fish; and off the Bar there is a periodical Herring Fishery, in or about August.

The Bar, or Entrance into this Lough, is about 3 Miles below Strangford. There is a long Rock at the Entrance in the Middle of the Passage, dangerous to Strangers, on Account of the force of the current; yet there is a broad Passage on either Side, and deep Water. The Current here is very strong and rapid, running at the rate of 6 or 7 Miles an hour. There are but few Vessels that go higher up than Strangford. A good many Vessels, bound up the Channel, put in here, if the Wind is unfavourable to their Passage.

Within a Mile of Donaghadee, on the L. are the Ruins of a Church; and about half a Mile farther to the L. and nearer to Donaghadee, is Temple-Patrick, the Seat of Mr. Mc. Minn.

DUBLIN to Killough.

|                   |                 |                  |
|-------------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Clogh, as in p. 8 | —               | 69               |
| Killough          | 7 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 76 $\frac{3}{4}$ |

Half a Mile beyond Clogh, on the R. is the fine Seat of Mr. Annelley.

Three Miles beyond Clogh, on the Shore, is Terceola, the Seat of George Hamilton, Esq.

Another Road to Killough.

|                                  |                 |                  |
|----------------------------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Rathfriland, as in p. 8          | —               | 57 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Bryans Ford                      | 7 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 65               |
| Dundrum                          | 3 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 68 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Over the Strand, and to Killough | 7               | 75 $\frac{1}{2}$ |

*** By Narrow-water it is ~~two~~ Miles shorter.

At Bryan's Ford is an elegant Seat and Park of the Earl of Clanbrassil.

At Dundrum are the Ruins of an old Castle, formerly a Place of great Importance.

On the R. of Dundrum, is Murlough, the Seat of Mr. Macartney.

DUBLIN to Castlewella and Downpatrick, by Narrow-water.

|                                          |                 |                  |
|------------------------------------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Jonesborough, as in p. 1                 | —               | 45 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Over the Mountains to Narrow-water Ferry | 3 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 49               |
| Eight Mile Bridge                        | 6 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 55 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Castlewella                              | 7 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 63               |
| Downpatrick                              | 9               | 72               |

To the R. of Jonesborough is Ravensdale Park, the beautiful and ſuperb Seat of the Right Hon. James Forſetue.

At Narrow-water, on the L. is Mount-Hall, the fine Seat of Roger Hall, Eſq.

Two Miles beyond Eight Mile Bridge, on the R. is Keyhill, the ſeat of Mr. Newell.

For Remarks on the Road from Caſtlewellan to Downpatrick, ſee p. 8.

DUBLIN to Roſtrevor and Killkeele, and continued to Clogh.

|                   |                 |                  |
|-------------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Newry, as in p. 1 | —               | 50 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Narrow-water*     | 4               | 54 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Warren's Point    | 1               | 55 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Roſtrevor         | 2               | 57 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Killkeele         | 7 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 65               |
| Annalong          | 4 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 69 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Newcaſtle         | 6               | 75 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Dundrum           | 3 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 78 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Clogh             | 2 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 81               |

* By Narrow-water Ferry to Roſtrevor is 5 Miles and a half ſhorter than by Newry.

One Mile from Newry, on the R. is Walker's Park, the Seat of Mr. Ogle; and a Mile farther, on the ſame Side, is Fathom, another Seat of Mr. Ogle: Oppoſite to which is a Park and Lodge belonging to Mr. Scott.

Near Mid-way between Warren's Point and Roſtrevor, on the L. is Marli, the Seat of the Rev. George Rogers.

Within a Mile of Roſtrevor, on the L. is Arno's Vale, the Seat of Mr. Darley; about half a Mile from which, lying to the R. is Moore-Park, the Seat of Mr. Moore.

Juſt before you enter Roſtrevor, on the L. is a Seat of the Lord Biſhop of Dromore: And at Roſtrevor, on the L. is Lodge, the moſt elegant and delightful Seat, with very extenſive Domains and noble Improvements of Mr. Roſe.—This is a moſt beautiful and pleaſant Situation; commanding a grand and ample View of the neighbouring Mountain, and the famous Bay of Carlingford, which ranks among the firſt in Ireland, for its Safety and Commodiouſneſs for Shipping, and the Grandeur of the Scenery around it.

Two Miles and a half from Roſtrevor, on the R. is Seafield, the Seat of Mr. Rainy; about a Mile and a half to the R. of which, are the Ruins of Green-Caſtle; a Place formerly eſteemed of ſuch Importance, that an Act of Parliament paſſed, by which none but an Engliſhman could be Conſtable of it.

Six Miles from Roſtrevor, on the L. is Siberia, a Seat of William Nedham, Eſq; and about a Mile to the R. Bellhill, the Seat of Mr. Scott.

Riding along this Road, on a clear Day, the Traveller can ſee the Iſle of Man, and the Coaſt of Scotland, alſo the Mountains of the County of Wicklow; and he may alſo ſee, from the tops of the Mountains, ſome of the Hills in England.

At Newcaſtle, on the R. is the Seat of the Hon. Mr. Anneſley; to the L. of which is Slieve Donard, the higheſt of the Mountains of Mourne.

About half a Mile before you enter Dundrum, on the R. is Murlough, ſituated on the Side of a Hill, the Seat of Mr. Macartney.

Within a Mile of Clogh, on the L. is Mount Panther, a Seat of Lord Glenrawley.

DUBLIN to Killyleagh, and continued to Belvaſt.

|                            |                 |                  |
|----------------------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Downpatrick, as in p. 8    | —               | 74               |
| Killyleagh                 | 6               | 80               |
| Croſs Roads near Killinchy | 4 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 84 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Cumber                     | 4 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 89               |
| Belvaſt, Antrim            | 7               | 96               |

At Killyleagh is a famous old Caſtle, the Seat of R. Hamilton, Eſq; from which is a fine View of Strangford Lough, and the adjacent Country.—Sir John Blackwood, Bart. hath alſo a Seat here.

At Killinchy is a white House, belonging to the Rev. Dr. Trail.

At Cumber are the Ruins of Mount Alexander Castle, the Seat of the late Earls of Mount Alexander.

Two Miles from Belfast, on the R. is Belmount, the Seat of Browne Bamber, Esq.

DUBLIN to Ballynahinch by Clogh.

|                   |                 |                  |
|-------------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Clogh, as in p. 8 | —               | 69               |
| Seaford           | 1               | 70               |
| Ballynahinch      | 5 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 75 $\frac{3}{4}$ |

A little beyond Seaford, on the L. is Castle-Navan, the Seat of R. Forde, Esq.

At Ballynahinch is Montalto, a superb Seat of the Earl of Moira.

A Mile behind Ballynahinch, and to the L. is Ballynahinch Spa.

Another Road to Ballynahinch and Newtownardes.

|                     |                 |                  |
|---------------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Dromore, as in p. 2 | —               | 66               |
| Ballynahinch        | 8               | 74               |
| Saintfield          | 4               | 78               |
| Cumber              | 6               | 84               |
| Newtownardes        | 3 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 87 $\frac{1}{4}$ |

Dromore is a Bishop's See, but not a Corporation.

After you have passed through the Town, on the R. you will perceive a very remarkable Danish Mount.

Three Miles from Dromore, on the L. is Ballykee's, the Seat of Mr. Smith.

At Saintfield, on the L. is the very noble and beautiful Seat of Mr. Price.

Two miles and a half from Saintfield; on the L. is Prospect, the Seat of Mr. Savage.

On the R. of Cumber is Cherry-Valley, the fine Seat of Mr. Hall.

DUBLIN to Glenarm.

|                     |                 |                  |
|---------------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Belfast, as in p. 2 | —               | 80               |
| Carrickfergus       | 8               | 88               |
| Ballycarry          | 4 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 92 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Larne               | 5               | 97 $\frac{1}{2}$ |

Carncastle Church
Glenarm

|   |                   |
|---|-------------------|
| 3 | 100 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| 5 | 105 $\frac{1}{2}$ |

Another Road.

Belfast, as before

Carmoney

Straid

Ballynure

Killwater

Carncastle Church

Glenarm

|                 |                   |
|-----------------|-------------------|
| —               | 80                |
| 6               | 86                |
| 3 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 89 $\frac{1}{2}$  |
| 1 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 90 $\frac{3}{4}$  |
| 4 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 95 $\frac{1}{4}$  |
| 3 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 98 $\frac{1}{2}$  |
| 5               | 103 $\frac{3}{4}$ |

Another Road to Glenarm is given hereafter.

A little beyond Killwater turn to the R. into Larne; it is only a Quarter of a Mile farther than by Carrickfergus.

From Ballynure there is also a Road over the Mountain to Larne.

The Road along the Shore from Belfast to Glenarm is very pleasant; having the Mountains, which are finely variegated, on the L. and the Sea on the R. the greater Part of the Way.

The Roads round all the Coast of this County are made of white Lime Stone; of which the Sea Coast and Mountains are full.

All the Way from Belfast to Carrickfergus, you have a fine View of the Bay and Shipping; and of the opposite Shore of the County of Down.

Some Miles beyond Carrickfergus you go over higher Ground, having Larne Lough and Island Magee on the R.

You have here a View of Galloway and Air, Shires in Scotland; and after passing Larne, of the Mull of Cantire, and several of the Islands.

A Mile and a half from Belfast, on the L. is Mount Collier, the Seat of the Rev. Mr. Hamilton; and near it Grove, that of Mr. Lewis; and Jennymount, that of Mr. Thomson.

Near 2 Miles from Belfast, on the L. is Fort William, the Seat of Mr. Lendrick.

Between 2 and 3 Miles from Belfast, on the L. is Parkmount, a fine Seat of the Earl of Donegall.

Three Miles and a half from Belfast, on the R. is Whitehouse, the Seat of Mr. Stewart.—It was here King William landed.

A Mile farther, on the L. is White-Abbey, with very fine Bleach Mills, belonging to Mr. Bateon.

Within 2 Miles of Carrickfergus, on the L. are the Ruins of an antient Castle; and very near them, is the Seat of Mr. Allen, called the Three Sisters.

At Carrickfergus is the Castle, a Place of high Antiquity, and formerly accounted of great Strength, but now of very little.—In the Year 1759, Thurot landed here, and took Possession of the Castle, and carried off Hostages for Security of the Ransom of the Town.

The Town was formerly walled round, and some Part of the Walls is still remaining entire.

Two miles and a half beyond Carrickfergus, on the L. is Castle-Dobbs, the Seat of C. R. Dobbs, Esq; and a little farther, on the L. is Ballyhill, the Seat of Mr. Dalway.

About half a Mile beyond Ballycarry, on the R. is Red-Hall, the Seat of Sir A. Edmondstone, Bart.

Within two Miles of Larne, on the L. is Glynn, the Seat of Mr. Johnston.

Two Miles on the L. of Larne, is Killwater House, the Seat of Mr. Agnew; and near it, that of the Rev. Dr. Trail.—Near this, on the Road Side from Ballynure, is Tubbermore Well, a remarkable Spring of fine Water; the Stream of which turns two Mills at a small Distance from the Well.

Three Miles beyond Larne, on the R. is Ballygallogh, the Seat of Mr. Shaw.

Within 2 Miles of Glenarm, on the R. are the Seats of Mr. Robeson and Mr. Hunter.

At Glenarm, on the R. is Glenarm Castle, an antient and magnificent Fabric, the Seat of the Earl of Antrim, having very extensive and beautiful Domains, with Deer Parks, &c. &c.

DUBLIN to Coleraine by Antrim.

Banbridge, as in p. 2

Lurgan

Glaney

—|60½

7|67½

9½|77

Antrim

Randalstown

Ballymoney

Coleraine

7|84

4|88

19½|107½

6½|114

One Mile from Banbridge, on the R. is Greenfield, the Seat of Mr. Bullock.

At Lurgan, on the R. is the fine Seat of the Right Hon. William Brownlow.

At Glanevy, on the L. opposite the Church, is the Seat of Mr. Gorman.

Within 3 Miles of Antrim, on the L. is Clover-Hill, the Seat of Mr. Moore, with very ample and beautiful Plantations and Demesnes.

At Antrim is a Seat, with noble Domain, and beautiful and highly cultivated Lands, of the Earl of Massafereene.

On the L. of Antrim, is the fine Seat of Mr. Jackson.

Within 2 Miles of Randalstown, on the L. stands Shane's Castle, having most extensive and delightful Parks, rich Demesnes, and noble Plantations belonging to it. It is the Seat of the Right Hon. John O'Neil; and is situated on the very Border of Lough Neagh. This Lough has long been famous for its sanative Qualities, and for its petrifying Virtue. The Area of the Lake is computed to be 100,000 Acres.

Half a Mile beyond Ballymoney, on the L. is Leslie-Hill, the superb and beautiful Seat of James Leslie, Esq.

Within a Mile of Coleraine is the famous Water-Fall, called the Salmon Leap.

Opposite the Salmon Leap is Summer-Seat, belonging to J. Richardson, Esq.

At Coleraine is the noble and beautiful Seat of the Rt. Hon. Richard Jackson; and Milburn, that of Mr. Carey.

Coleraine is seated on the River Bann, 4 Miles S. of the Ocean. It is noted for the great Salmon Fishery adjacent to it; and hath a Barrack for two Companies of Foot.

DUBLIN to Gilford and Portadown.

Loughbrickland, as in p. 2

Gilford

Moyallen

Portadown, Armagh

—|58½

4|62½

1|63½

2½|65½

At Gilford, situated on the River Bann, is the Seat of Sir Richard Johnstons, Bart.

Within 3 Miles of Portadown, on the L. is Moyallen, the Seat of Joseph Phelps, Esq; and about a Mile from it on the L. Carrick, the Seat of Mr. Blacker.

A Quarter of a Mile on the R. of Portadown, is the Seat of Mr. Obins; and half a Mile further, Drumcree Church, near which is the Seat of the Rev. Mr. Maunfell.

To Lurgan by Hall's Mill.

|                       |                 |                  |
|-----------------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Banbridge, as in p. 2 | —               | 60 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Hall's Mill           | 2 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 63 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Warrington            | 3 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 66 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Lurgan, Armagh | 2               | 68 $\frac{3}{4}$ |

Near Hall's Mill, on the R. is the Seat of Mr. Wakefield.

Within a Mile of Warrington, on the L. is the Seat of Mr. Warring.

At Warrington is the Seat of Mr. Magennis.

To Lurgan by Gilford.

|                      |                 |                  |
|----------------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Gilford, as in p. 16 | —               | 62 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Warrington           | 4 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 67               |
| Lurgan               | 2               | 69               |

* * The whole Road from Gilford to Warrington is ornamented with Rows of Trees on either Hand.

DUBLIN to Antrim by Moira.

|                       |                 |                  |
|-----------------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Banbridge, as in p. 2 | —               | 60 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Donaghcloney          | 4 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 65               |
| Magheralin            | 2 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 67 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Moira                 | 1 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 69 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Glanevy               | 6 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 76               |
| Antrim                | 7               | 83               |

Two Miles from Banbridge, on the L. is Roschall, the Seat of Mr. Monroe.

Near Donaghcloney are the Seats of Mr. Dempster, and Mr. Campbell.

At Magheralin is the See House of the Lord Bishop of Down; and near it the Seat of Mr. Bateman.

At Moira, lying a little to the L. is Moira Castle, a most noble Edifice, with fine Demelnes, the Seat of the Earl of Moira.

About a Mile beyond Moira, on the L. is Soldierstown Church, and near it the Seat of Mr. Mason.

At Glanevy, opposite the Church, is the Seat of Mr. Gorman.

DUBLIN to Lurgan and Crumlin.

|                     |                 |                  |
|---------------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Lurgan, as in p. 15 | —               | 67 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Ballinderry         | 5 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 73 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Crumlin             | 4 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 78               |

* * * From Lurgan to Antrim by Crumlin, is the same Distance as by Glanevy.

At Lurgan is the fine Seat of the Right Hon. William Brownlow.

Within a Mile of Ballinderry, on the L. are the Ruins of a Church.

About half a Mile to the L. of Ballinderry, are the Ruins of a once noble Castle, seated in the Midst of some fine Plantations belonging to the Earl of Hertford.

About three Quarters of a Mile to the L. of Crumlin, is Cherry Valley, the Seat of Mr. Gorman.

Near Crumlin is a large Flour Mill, belonging to Mr. Heyland.

DUBLIN to Portglenone, and continued by the Bann Side to Coleraine.

|                          |                 |                   |
|--------------------------|-----------------|-------------------|
| Randalstown, as in p. 16 | —               | 88                |
| Grange                   | 5 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 93 $\frac{1}{4}$  |
| Portglenone              | 4               | 97 $\frac{1}{4}$  |
| Ratharkan                | 5               | 102 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Vow Ferry House          | 4               | 106 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Coleraine                | 9               | 115 $\frac{1}{4}$ |

Two Miles from Randalstown, on the L. is Monyrod, the Seat of Mr. Henderson; and a little farther to the L. Paymount, that of Mr. O'Neil.

Dunnain Church is about half a Mile to the L. of Paymount.

Four Miles from Randalstown, on the L. is Moneyglass, the fine and pleasant Seat of Mr. Jones.

At Grange, on the L. situated at the Foot of a pretty high Hill, is the Seat of Mr. Charlton; and near it, that of Mr. Clarke.

Five Miles and a half from Randalstown, on the L. near the New Ferry over the River Bann, is the very fine Seat of Mr. Courtney.

At Portglenone is the beautiful Seat of Mr. Hamilton.—Here are delightful Prospects, and fine Views of the River.—Plenty of Wood about this Place.

Two Miles below Rasharkan, seated on rising Ground, is the Village of Killea.

At Rasharkan, on the L. near the Church, is the Glebe House, in the Possession of the Rev. Mr. Bristolow.

Three Miles from Rasharkan, on the R. is Desartderry, the Seat of Mr. Rowen; and nearly opposite to it, on the other Side of the River, is Banville, the Seat of the Rev. Dr. Torrens.

Moore's Lodge, on the R. situated on the Banks of the Bann, is the Seat of William Moore, Esq.

DUBLIN to Ballycastle.

|                             |                                   |
|-----------------------------|-----------------------------------|
| Antrim , as in p. 17 | 84                                |
| Kells                       | 5 $\frac{3}{4}$ 89 $\frac{3}{4}$  |
| Ballymena                   | 3 $\frac{1}{4}$ 93 $\frac{1}{2}$  |
| Clogh*                      | 6 99 $\frac{1}{2}$                |
| Loughgule                   | 5 $\frac{1}{2}$ 105               |
| Armoyle Church              | 4 109                             |
| Ballycastle                 | 4 $\frac{1}{2}$ 113 $\frac{1}{2}$ |

* See another Road to Clogh, p. 22.

At Antrim is the fine Seat of the Earl of Massareene.

About a Mile and a half, on the L. is Shane's Castle, the beautiful and magnificent Seat of the Right Hon. John O'Neil.

Three Miles from Antrim, on the R. is a Hill, from which is a fine View of Lough Neagh, and the adjacent Country.

About half a Mile before you come to Kells, lying on the R. is the Cathedral Church of Connor.

Near to, and on the L. of Kells, are the Ruins of a Church.

One Mile and a half beyond Kells, on the R. is Leminery, the Seat of Doherty Gorman, Esq.

At Ballymena, near the Church, on the R. is the Seat of Mr. Adair; and about half a Mile, to the L. Hillhead, the Seat of John Dicky, Esq.

A Mile and a half from Ballymena, on the R. is Ballygarvy, the Seat of Mr. Campbell.—A Mile to the R. is Broughshane; near which is the Lodge, a Seat of the Right Hon. John O'Neil; and Whitehall, that of J. White, Esq.

Within a Mile and a half of Clogh, on the R. is Killyre, the Seat of Mr. Copler.

Near Clogh, on the R. are good Bleach Mills, and a new well-built House, belonging to John Allen, Esq.

On the L. of Clogh are the Ruins of two Castles.

Two Miles and a half beyond Clogh, on the R. is the Seat of Mr. Crawford; and two Miles beyond that, on the L. Corky, the Seat of Mr. Pirie.

At Loughgule, surrounded by the Lough and a Canal, is Lissanoure Castle, the beautiful Seat of Lord Macartney.—Loughgule Church stands on the R. of the Lough, but boasts of nothing remarkable.

Within a Mile of Armoyle Church, on the L. near the River Bush, is Lime Park, the Seat of the Rev. Mr. Clarke.

Near 3 Miles beyond Armoyle Church, on the L. are some remarkable Ruins of a Castle, near a Plantation of Trees.

At Ballycastle, near the Church, on the L. is the Charter-School: And a little beyond Ballycastle, on the R. situated on the Banks of the River Gleneshelk, is the Seat of H. Boyd, Esq.

One Mile on the L. of Ballycastle, is Clare, the Seat of E. D. Boyd, Esq.

Ballycastle Coal Mines are within a Mile of the Town; and are equally worthy the Notice of the philo sophic and patriotic Traveller.

Another Road to Ballycastle.

|                    |                                   |
|--------------------|-----------------------------------|
| Clogh, as in p. 19 | 99 $\frac{1}{2}$                  |
| Clogh Mills        | 2 101 $\frac{1}{2}$               |
| Loughgule          | 3 $\frac{1}{2}$ 105               |
| Ballycastle        | 7 $\frac{1}{2}$ 112 $\frac{1}{2}$ |

See the Observations in the preceding and this Column.

To Ballycastle by Stranocum.

|                          |                 |                   |
|--------------------------|-----------------|-------------------|
| Clogh Mills, as in p. 20 | —               | 101 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Stranocum*               | 7 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 108 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Ballycastle              | 7 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 116 $\frac{1}{2}$ |

Three Miles beyond Clogh Mills are very good Bleach Mills, and the Seat of Mr. Moore.

At Stranocum on the R. is a Seat of James Leslie, Esq; and on the L. Clover-hill, the Seat of Mr. Henry.

Two Miles beyond Stranocum, on the L. is Grace-Hill, the Seat of Mr. Stewart.

Three Miles from Stranocum on the R. is Chatham-Hall, the Seat of Mr. Dunlap.

Within 2 Miles of Ballycastle, on the L. are the Ruins of a Castle.

* The Roads by Stranocum and Loughgule, though something longer, are more free from Hills than the direct Road to Ballycastle from Clogh.

DUBLIN to Glenarm, by Antrim.

|                    |                 |                   |
|--------------------|-----------------|-------------------|
| Kells, as in p. 19 | —               | 89 $\frac{3}{4}$  |
| Broughshane        | 5 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 95                |
| Glenarm            | 9 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 104 $\frac{3}{4}$ |

Three Miles beyond Kells, on the R. is Craigbilly, the Seat of Hamilton O'Hara, Esq.

At Broughshane, on the R. is the Lodge, a Seat of the Right Hon. John O'Neil; and near it, Whitehall, that of J. White, Esq.

Near 2 Miles beyond Broughshane, on the L. situated on the Summit of a Hill, are the Ruins of Skirry Church.

Four Miles from Broughshane, on the L. opposite Forked Bridge, is Clagan, the Seat of Mr. O'Hara.

Within a Mile and a half of Glenarm, on the L. are the Ruins of a Church.

At Glenarm, is Glenarm Castle, the superb and beautiful Seat of the Earl of Antrim, with extensive Demelnes.

DUBLIN to Cusendall, or Newtown-Glens.

|                    |                 |                   |
|--------------------|-----------------|-------------------|
| Clogh, as in p. 19 | —               | 99 $\frac{1}{2}$  |
| Newtown-Glens      | 9 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 109 $\frac{1}{4}$ |

Seven Miles from Clogh, on the L. is Retreat, the pleasant Seat of Mr. Evans.

One Mile to the R. of Newtown-Glens, are Red-Castle Ruins; and near them is a fine Seat called Mount Edward.

To Clogh by Broughshane.

|                          |                 |                   |
|--------------------------|-----------------|-------------------|
| Broughshane, as in p. 21 | —               | 95                |
| Clogh                    | 5 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 100 $\frac{1}{4}$ |

Within a Mile of Clogh, on the L. is Killyre, the Seat of Mr. Coples.

To Armagh by Newry.

|                   |                 |                  |
|-------------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Newry, as in p. 1 | —               | 50 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Markethill        | 9 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 60               |
| Armagh            | 5 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 65 $\frac{1}{2}$ |

About half a Mile from Newry, on the R. is Demolly, the Seat of Mr. Carlisle; and nearly opposite to it, on the L. is Lisdrumgullion, a Seat of Mr. Nedham.

One Mile and a half from Newry, on the L. is Moor-Vale, the Seat of Mr. Moore; and near a Mile farther, on the same Side, is Greenfield, the Seat of Mr. Hamilton.

Three Miles from Newry, on the L. pleasantly situated on the Side of a Hill, is Tullyhapp, the Seat of Mr. Blacker.

Six Miles from Newry, on the R. is Loughgilly Church; near which is the Seat of the Rev. Dean Marlay.

At Markethill is Gosford Castle, the noble and beautiful Seat of Lord Gosford.

Near a Mile and a half from Markethill, on the R. is Mullybrack Church; and opposite to it, the Glebe House, belonging to the Rev. Dr. Godley.

Within a Mile of Armagh, on the L. is Ballyheridan, the Seat of Mr. McGough.

DUBLIN to Portadown and Stewartstown.

|                   |                  |                  |
|-------------------|------------------|------------------|
| Newry, as in p. 1 | —                | 50 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Tanderagee        | 10 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 61 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Portadown         | 4 $\frac{1}{2}$  | 65 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Blackwater Foot   | 6 $\frac{1}{4}$  | 72 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Stewartstown      | 5 $\frac{1}{2}$  | 78               |

Half a Mile from Newry, on the R. is Demolly, the Seat of Mr. Carlisle.

Two Miles and a half from Newry, on the R. and the opposite Side of the Canal and River, is Carmeen, the Seat of Mr. Laing.

Near 6 Miles from Newry, on the L. is Drumbanagher, the Seat of Mr. Moore.

At Acton, near 8 Miles from Newry, on the R. is the fine Seat of Mr. Stewart; and 2 Miles farther, on the L. is Clare Castle, that of Mr. Dawson.

Two Miles beyond Tanderagee, on the L. is Mullyvilly Church; and a Mile farther, Dawson's Grove, the Seat of Mr. Kelly.

Within a Mile of Portadown, on the L. is Mahone, the Seat of Mr. Workman.

A Quarter of a Mile beyond Portadown, on the R. is the Seat of Mr. Obins; and a little beyond it, Drumcree Church, and the Seat of the Rev. Mr. Maunfell.

On the R. of Blackwater Foot, is a Seat of the Earl of Charlemont, in an Island in Lough Neagh, near Coney Island.

One Mile and a half from Blackwater Foot, on the L. is Holy River Spa; and 2 Miles farther, on the R. is Belville, the Seat of Mr. Morres.

Within half a Mile of Stewartstown, on the R. is Barn's-Hill, the Seat of the Rev. Dr. Lill; and near it, Castle-Stewart, the Seat of Mr. Stewart.

DUBLIN to Charlemont, by Richhill.

Dundalk, as in p. 1

Forkill, Armagh

Dromilly

Mawhan

Markethill

Hamilton's Bawn

Richhill

Charlemont

40 $\frac{1}{2}$

5 45 $\frac{1}{2}$

5 $\frac{1}{4}$  50 $\frac{3}{4}$

5 $\frac{1}{2}$  56 $\frac{1}{4}$

1 $\frac{3}{4}$  58

2 $\frac{1}{2}$  60 $\frac{1}{2}$

1 $\frac{1}{4}$  62 $\frac{3}{4}$

6 $\frac{1}{2}$  68 $\frac{3}{4}$

At Forkill, is a very fine Seat of R. Jackson, Esq.

Two Miles beyond Forkill, on the R. is Slieve Gullen, one of the highest Mountains in the Kingdom.

About 2 Miles and a half beyond Dromilly, on the L. near Ballywire Church, is Ballymoyer Lodge, the Seat of Sir Walter Synnot.

At Market-Hill, on the R. is Gosford Castle, a very beautiful and agreeable Seat of Lord Gosford.

A Mile beyond Market-Hill, on the L. is Mullybrack Church; and opposite to it the Glebe House of the Rev. Dr. Godley.

About half a Mile from Hamilton's Bawn, on the L. is Dunnenaught, the Seat of Mr. Mc. Dowal.

At Rich-Hill, is the Seat of William Richardson, Esq.

One Mile from Rich-Hill, on the L. is Castle-Dillon, the very fine Seat of Sir Capel Molyneux, Bart.

Three Miles and a half from Rich-Hill, on the R. is Drummilly, the noble and elegant Seat of the Bishop of Clonfert.

To Charlemont, by Loughgall.

Richhill, as in p. 23

Loughgall

Charlemont

62 $\frac{1}{4}$

3 $\frac{1}{4}$  66

3 $\frac{1}{4}$  69 $\frac{1}{4}$

One Mile from Rich-Hill, on the R. is Hackley, the Seat of Mr. Graham.

At Loughgall, on the R. is the Seat of Mr. Cope.

Two Miles further, on the R. is Summer Island, the Seat of Mr. Clarke; and on the L. Hayes Hall, that of Mr. Hayes.

DUBLIN to Coleraine and Portrush, by Armagh.

Dundalk, as in p. 1

Johnston's Fews, Armagh

Newtown-Hamilton

Blackbank

Armagh

Blackwater Town

Charlemont

Killyman Church, Tyrone

Coal-Island

Stewartstown

Moneymore, Derry

Defartmartin

40 $\frac{1}{2}$

10 50 $\frac{1}{2}$

2 $\frac{1}{2}$  53

2 55

7 $\frac{1}{4}$  62 $\frac{1}{4}$

4 $\frac{1}{4}$  66 $\frac{1}{2}$

1 $\frac{3}{4}$  68 $\frac{1}{4}$

3 71 $\frac{1}{4}$

3 $\frac{1}{4}$  74 $\frac{1}{2}$

2 $\frac{1}{2}$  77

6 $\frac{1}{4}$  83 $\frac{3}{4}$

4 $\frac{1}{4}$  88

|                   |                 |                   |
|-------------------|-----------------|-------------------|
| Tubbermore        | 2 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 90 $\frac{1}{2}$  |
| Maghera           | 2 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 92 $\frac{3}{4}$  |
| Swatteragh        | 4               | 96 $\frac{3}{4}$  |
| Garvagh           | 3 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 100 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Aughadoway Bridge | 2 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 103 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Coleraine         | 6               | 109 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Portrush, Antrim  | 4 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 114               |

\* Between Dundalk and Armagh, by the Fews Road, there are some steep Hills, troublesome for Carriages to pass over; so that the Road by Market-Hill is preferable.*

On the L. of Dundalk is a fine Seat and Park belonging to the Earl of Clanbrassil.

Two miles from Dundalk, on the R. are the Ruins of Balriggeran Castle; and about a Mile further, on the L. Castle Roch Ruins.

Within a Mile of Johnston's Fews, on the R. is Roxborough House, the noble and beautiful Seat of Mr. Johnston.

One Mile beyond the Fews, on the R. is Comoley, the Seat of Mr. McCulloh; and directly opposite to it is Newtown-Hamilton Church.

Near 2 Miles beyond Newtown-Hamilton, on the R. are the Ruins of Barracks built when the Parts and Mountains adjacent were infested with Tories and Rapparees.

Three Miles beyond these Ruins, on the L. and on the other Side of the River, is Grouse Lodge, the Seat of Mr. Noble.

Two miles further, on the R. is Lisnaddill Church; about half a Mile from which is the Glebe House of the Rev. Mr. Radcliffe.

Within a Mile of Armagh, on the L. is Ballyheridan, the Seat of Mr. McGough.

At Armagh, on the R. is the archiepiscopal Palace, an antient but most magnificent Edifice, finely situated, and highly ornamented.

On the L. of Blackwater Town is Tullydowan, the Seat of Mr. Houston.

At Charlemont, on the R. is a Fort in very good repair; and beyond the River, on the R. is Roxborough, the Seat of Mr. Caulfield.

Near 2 Miles beyond Charlemont, on the L. is Grange, the Seat of Mr. Grier.

At Killyman Church, on the R. is the Glebe House of the Rev. Mr. Caulfield; and a little further, on the R. Drumespill, the Seat of Mr. Stewart.

At Coal Island are Coal Works, and a Canal from Lough Neagh, that passes by this place towards Dungannon.

Just before you enter Stewartstown, on the R. is Mullentine, the Seat of Mr. Lyne.

On the R. of Stewartstown is Castle-Stewart, the Seat of Mr. Caulfield.

Two Miles to the R. of Stewartstown, is Stewart-Hall, a most superb Edifice with extensive and beautiful Parks and Demesnes, the Seat of Lord Castle-Stewart.

About a Mile to the L. of Stewart-Hall, and two Miles from Stewartstown, is Killoone, the Seat of Mr. Henry; and opposite to it is Ballyclog Church.

Three Miles from Stewartstown, on the L. and situated on rising Ground, is Ardtreagh Church.

About half a Mile to the R. of Money-more, is Springhill, a most elegant and noble Seat of Colonel Conyngham, with beautiful Demesne.

A little beyond Delart-Martin, on the R. is Dromore, the Seat of the Rev. Mr. Waddy.

A Quarter of a Mile beyond Tubbermore, on the L. is Fort William, the Seat of Mr. Stevenson.

At Maghera, on the R. is the Glebe House of Lord Viscount Strangford.

At Garvagh, on the L. is the Seat of P. Canning, Esq; and a little farther, on the R. Glebe Hill, the Seat of the Rev. Dr. Borrowes.

Within two Miles of Coleraine, on the L. is Maqualquin Church; and near it the Glebe House of the Rev. Mr. Bristow.

Within a Mile and a half of Coleraine, on the R. is Tamnamony, a very agreeable Seat of Mr. Irvine, most pleasantly situated on the Banks of the Bann.

One Mile before you come to Coleraine, on the R. is Summer-Seat, the beautiful Seat of John Richardson, Esq;—Near it is a famous Salmon Leap.

At Coleraine is the noble and beautiful Seat of the Right Hon. Richard Jackson; and on the opposite Side of the River Bann, is Millburn, the Seat of Mr. Cary.

To Moneymore, by Cookstown.

|                         |                 |                  |
|-------------------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Charlemont, as in p. 23 | —               | 68 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Dungannon               | 4 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 72 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| New-Mills               | 2 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 75 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Dunaghy                 | 2 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 78               |
| Cookstown               | 3 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 81 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Moneymore               | 3 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 85 $\frac{1}{4}$ |

Two Miles from Charlemont, on the R. is Grange, the Seat of Mr. Grier.

Within a Mile of Dungannon on the L. is Formhill, the Seat of Lord Welle. On the R. of Dungannon are the Ruins of a Castle, formerly called Mc. Que, and where a Chief of that Name resided.

Near New-Mills, on the R. and the opposite Side of the Canal, is the Seat of Mr. Fairlough; and a little farther, on the L. Aughnaginy, the Seat of Mr. Mitchell.

On the L. of Dunaghy, near Defartcreat Church, is the Seat of Mr. Hamilton.

Within a Mile of Cookstown, on the L. is Killymoone, the superb and beautiful Seat, with very ample and highly cultivated Demesnes, of James Stewart, Esq.

Just before you enter the Town of Moneymore, on the R. is the Glebe House of the Rev. Mr. Martin.

On the R. of Moneymore is Springhill, the noble and delightful Seat of Colonel Conyngham.

To the Mill of Louth, by Dunleer.

|                     |                 |                  |
|---------------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Dunleer, as in p. 1 | —               | 30 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Bragantstown        | 5               | 35 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Tallanstown         | 3 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 39 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Mill of Louth       | 1 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 40 $\frac{1}{2}$ |

At Dunleer are the Seats of William Foster, Esq; and the Rev. Dr. Foster.

Two Miles from Dunleer, on the R. is Coolistown, the Seat of Mr. Smith; and about a mile to the L. Poe's Court, the Seat of Mr. Poe.

At Braganstown, on the L. is the Seat of Mr. Tisdall.

One Mile before you come to Tallanstown, on the L. is Rosy-Park, the Seat of J. W. Foster, Esq; and on the L. of Tallanstown, is Louth-Hall, the Seat of Mr. Plunket.

About half a Mile beyond Tallanstown, on the R. are the Ruins of a Church.

To Castleblaney, by Dundalk.

|                        |                 |                  |
|------------------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Dundalk, as in p. 1    | —               | 40 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Rochdale               | 5 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 45 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Cullovile, Armagh      | 3 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 49 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Mulloghanee Bridge     | 2 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 51 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Castleblaney, Monaghan | 2 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 53 $\frac{1}{4}$ |

One Mile from Dundalk, on the R. is Castletown, the Seat of Mr. Sibthorp.

Two Miles and three Quarters from Dundalk, on the R. is Brabazon Park, the Seat of Mr. Jenny.

Four Miles from Dundalk, on the R. are Castle-Roch Ruins.

Within a Mile and a half of Cullovile, on the R. is Foxfield, the Seat of Mr. Mc. Master.

About half a Mile beyond Cullovile, on the L. is Ardkirk, a Seat of Lord Viscount Weymouth.

At Castleblaney is a very noble and beautiful Seat of Lord Castleblaney.

To Omagh, by Aughnacloy.

|                    |                  |                  |
|--------------------|------------------|------------------|
| Emy Vale, Monaghan | —                | 66 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Aughnacloy, Tyrone | 4 $\frac{1}{4}$  | 71               |
| Ballygawly         | 3 $\frac{1}{4}$  | 74 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Omagh              | 12 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 86 $\frac{3}{4}$ |

* * This Road is half a Mile shorter than the Augher Road, but not so good.

On the L. of Emy Vale, is Anketell's Grove, the fine Seat, with very extensive Demesnes, and beautiful Plantations, of Mr. Anketell.

About half a Mile beyond Aughnacloy, on the L. is Revalla, the Seat of Miss Moore.

Two Miles beyond Aughnacloy, on the L. is Lismore Fort, now in Ruins.

At Ballygawly, on the R. is the Seat of Mr. Gorge; and half a Mile beyond, on the L. is Richmond, the Seat of the Rev. Mr. Richardson.

One Mile and a Quarter beyond Ballygawly, on the R. is the Seat of Mr. Harvey. Four Miles from Ballygawly, on the R. is Starbog Spa.

Within 3 Miles of Omagh, on the L. is Drumconley, the Seat of Mr. McFarlane.

To Aughnacloy, by Armagh.

|                     |                 |                  |
|---------------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Armagh, as in p. 24 | —               | 62 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Killyleagh          | 4 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 67               |
| Tynan               | 1 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 68 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Callidon, Tyrone    | 1 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 70 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Aughnacloy          | 5 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 76               |

Two Miles from Armagh, on the L. is Rosebrook, the fine Seat of Mr. Maxwell.

Four Miles from Armagh, on the R. is Elm-Park, the Seat of Mr. Clofe.

To the L. of Killyleagh, on a considerable Eminence, is Wood-Park Lodge, a most magnificent and beautiful Edifice, delightfully situated, the Seat of Nicholas Johnston, Esq.

Within a Mile of Tynan, on the R. are the Ruins of a Castle, situated in the midst of a fine Plantation of Trees.

At Tynan, on the L. opposite the Church, is a new House, built by the Rev. Dr. Jacob.

At Callidon, on the R. is a very noble and fine Seat of Lord Belmore, called Aghinnas; and nearly opposite to it, the Seat of Mr. Alexander.

To Tynan, by Castle-Shane.

|                   |                 |                  |
|-------------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Castle-Shane      | —               | 59 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Middleton, Armagh | 4               | 63 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Tynan             | 2 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 65 $\frac{1}{2}$ |

On the Right of Castle-Shane, is the Seat of Mr. Lucas.

Two Miles beyond Castle-Shane, on the L. is Killyneale, the Seat of Mr. Johnston.

One Mile beyond Middleton, on the L. is Fairview, the Seat of the Rev. Dr. Strong.

At Tynan, is Enogh, the Seat of the Rev. Dr. Jacob, situated near the Church.

Another Road to Tynan.

|               |                 |                  |
|---------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Castleblaney  | —               | 51 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Keady, Armagh | 7 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 58 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Tynan         | 6 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 65               |

Two Miles from Keady is Maddan Church; and near it the Glebe House, the Seat of the Rev. Dr. Jones.

N. B. To Keady, by Dundalk and Newtown Hamilton, is about the same Distance as by Castleblaney, but the Road is more mountainous.

From Keady to Armagh | 6

About Keady, and along the Banks of the Collon River to Armagh, are a great many Bleach Mills, the Linen Manufacture being carried on there very extensively.

To Omagh by Dungannon.

|                        |                 |                  |
|------------------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Dungannon, as in p. 27 | —               | 72 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Donaghmore             | 2 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 75 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Pomeroy                | 5 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 80 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Nine-Mile House        | 3 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 84 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Six-Mile Cross         | 3 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 87 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Omagh                  | 7 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 94 $\frac{1}{4}$ |

* * The old Road is from Donaghmore, by Altmore, to the Nine Mile House; but it is now out of Repair, and impassable for Carriages; but the Post rides that Way still, except when, in Winter, he is obliged to go by Pomeroy or Ballygawly.

By Ballygawly.

|                     |                  |                  |
|---------------------|------------------|------------------|
| Dungannon, as above | —                | 72 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Castle-Caulfield    | 2 $\frac{1}{2}$  | 75 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Ballygawly          | 7                | 82 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Omagh               | 12 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 94 $\frac{1}{4}$ |

About 2 Miles from Dungannon, on the R. is Mullaghmore, the beautiful Seat of the Rev. Mr. Evans.

At Castle-Caulfield, on the L. is a very noble and delightful Seat of the Earl of Charlemont.

About 3 Miles from Castle-Caulfield, on the R. is Killyshiel Church.

Near Ballygawly, on the L. is the Seat of Mr. Gorge.

For Remarks on the Road from Ballygawly to Omagh, see p. 28.

DUBLIN to Magherafelt.

|                        |   |                  |
|------------------------|---|------------------|
| Moneymore, as in p. 24 | — | 83 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Magherafelt            | 4 | 87 $\frac{3}{4}$ |

On the R. of Moneymore is a noble Seat of Colonel Conyngham.

Within a Mile of Magherafelt, on the R. is Killyfaddy, the Seat of Mr. Maxwell.

Another Road.

|                           |                 |                  |
|---------------------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Stewartstown, as in p. 24 | —               | 77               |
| Coagh                     | 4 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 81 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Magherafelt, Derry,       | 6 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 88               |

On the R. of Stewartstown, is Castle-Stewart, the Seat of Mr. Caulfield.

Two Miles from Stewartstown, on the R. is Killoone, the Seat of Mr. Henry.

At Coagh, on the R. seated on Ballinderry River, are the Ruins of a Church.

Five Miles from Coagh, on the L. is Killyfaddy, the Seat of Mr. Maxwell.

DUBLIN to Kilrea, and continued to Coleraine.

|                      |                 |                   |
|----------------------|-----------------|-------------------|
| Maghera, as in p. 25 | —               | 92 $\frac{3}{4}$  |
| Kilrea               | 7 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 100               |
| Bovaugh Bridge       | 4 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 104 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Coleraine            | 7 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 111 $\frac{3}{4}$ |

On the R. of Maghera is the Glebe House of Lord Viscount Strangford.

Within a Mile and a half of Kilrea, on the L. is the Glebe House of the Rev. Dr. Torrens; and a Mile beyond Kilrea, on the R. is Banville, the Seat of the Rev. Dr. Torrens.

About a Mile hence, to the R. and on the other Side of the River Bann, is Moore's Lodge, the Seat of Mr. Moore.

Within half a Mile of Bovaugh Bridge, on the L. is Lanmore, the Seat of Mr.

Church; and about a Mile, on the L. is Bovaugh Castle, situated on the Banks of Agivey River, a Seat of the Earl of Tyrone.

Near Bovaugh Bridge, on the R. is another Seat of the same Nobleman.

About a Mile and a half beyond Bovaugh Bridge, on the R. are the Ruins of a Church; and on the opposite Side of Aughadaway River, is Agivey, the Seat of Mr. Du Prie.

DUBLIN to Londonderry, by Armagh and Cookstown.

|                        |                 |                   |
|------------------------|-----------------|-------------------|
| Cookstown, as in p. 27 | —               | 81 $\frac{3}{4}$  |
| Stramore Inn           | 9 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 91                |
| Dungiven               | 8               | 99                |
| Banagher Church        | 2 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 101 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Clady                  | 6 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 107 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| The Cross              | 4               | 111 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Ferry Bank             | 2 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 114 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| LONDONDERRY *          | 1 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 115               |

* See another Road to Londonderry hereafter.

There is a Road from Desart-martin to Stramore Inn, by which the Mountains beyond Cookstown are avoided, but it is above two Miles longer.

The Road from Cookstown to Dungiven is over the Mountains, a great Part of the Way; but is a good Road, and kept in good Repair.

Two Miles from Cookstown, on the R. is Liffen, the Seat of Mr. Staples; and a Mile farther, on the same Side, is the Seat of Mr. Jackson.

Near Dungiven, on the L. are the Ruins of a Church, nearly opposite to Dungiven Church.

On the L. of Dungiven, just before you enter the Town, is a Seat of the Right Hon. Edward Cary.

A little beyond Dungiven, on the R. is Matt's-Mount, the Seat of Mr. Fanning.

Four Miles beyond Banagher Church, on the L. are the Ruins of Straid Church; and about a Mile farther to the L. situated at the Foot of a high Hill, is Laremount, the Seat of Sir W. Montgomery, Bart.

[33 To Newtown-Limavady, Magilligan, and Londonderry. [34

Near Clady, on the L. and on the opposite Side of Faughan River, is Beaufort Lodge, the Seat of Mr. Rofs.

One Mile and a half beyond Clady, on the L. are the Ruins of O'Cane's Castle.

One Mile beyond Crofs, on the L. is Beech-Hill, the Seat of Mr. Skipton; and about half a Mile further, on the same Hand, Ashbrook, the Seat of Mr. Ash.

About a Mile to the L. of Londonderry, is Prehen, the fine Seat of Mr. Knox.

Londonderry is remarkable in the Annals of History, for the long Siege it sustained, under the Command of Mr. Walker, a Clergyman, against the Forces of James II. when he was in possession of almost all the Rest of the Kingdom. It was built by a Company of London Adventurers (from whom it derives its Name) in the Reign of James I. It hath a military Governor, who is Commander of Culmore Fort. Its Church is very handsome, its Market Place large and beautiful, and its Harbour is bordered with a fine Quay.

DUBLIN to Newtown Limavady, Magilligan, and Downhills.

|                                          |                |                  |
|------------------------------------------|----------------|------------------|
| Dungiven as in p. 32                     | —              | 99               |
| Newtown-Limavady                         | $7\frac{1}{2}$ | $106\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Magilligan Church                        | $5\frac{1}{4}$ | $112\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Craigtown Inn                            | $1\frac{1}{2}$ | $113\frac{3}{4}$ |
| To Downhills, alias }Hervey's Hill } | $3\frac{1}{4}$ | $117$            |

N. B. You may go from Newtown Limavady to Downhills by Ardecleave.

About a Mile from Dungiven, on the L. and situated on the Banks of the River Rowe, is Derryard, the Seat of Mr. Kyle; a Mile beyond which, situated in like Manner, is the Glebe House of the Rev. Mr. Jeffard.

Five Miles from Dungiven, on the L. is the House of Mr. Smith; and a Mile farther, on the opposite Side of the River Rowe, is that of Mr. Campbell.

Within a Mile of Newtown Limavady, on the L. is Dairy Hill, the Seat of Mr. Mc. Cauland.

On the R. of Newtown-Limavady, is Fruithill, the Seat of Mr. Mc. Cauland; and Strieve, that of Mr. Thornton.

To Magilligan Point.

|                            |                |                  |
|----------------------------|----------------|------------------|
| Craigtown Inn, as in p. 33 | —              | $113\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Magilligan Point           | $4\frac{1}{4}$ | $118$            |

About Magilligan, and round to Downhills, are high Hills on the R. with exceeding steep rocky Cliffs, with Water-Falls in many Places, which have a very grand and pleasant Effect.

One Mile beyond Craigtown, you enter the Strand; and on the R. is Solomon's Porch, which was formerly a very fine Cave, but the Rock, being Limestone, is quarried down, and the Cave greatly damaged.

At Downhills the Bishop of Derry has built a fine House.

At Magilligan, between the Church and the Point, is the greatest Rabbit Warren in the Kingdom; yielding annually about three or four thousand Dozen of Skins, valued from 1500 to 1800l. and is the Property of the Bishop of Derry.

Magilligan Point is at the Mouth of Lough Foyle. The Ferry from this Place to Green Castle, is about three Quarters of a Mile.

DUBLIN to Londonderry.

|                                 |                |                 |
|---------------------------------|----------------|-----------------|
| Drogheda , as in p. 1    | —              | $23\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Collon*                         | $5\frac{3}{4}$ | $29\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Ardee*                          | $5\frac{1}{4}$ | $34\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Mill of Louth                   | 5              | $39\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Corcreagh                       | $2\frac{1}{4}$ | $41\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Peterborough, Monaghan } | 4              | $45\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Mullaghanee Bridge              | $3\frac{1}{2}$ | $49\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Castleblaney†                   | $2\frac{1}{4}$ | $51\frac{1}{2}$ |

* See another Road to Collon, hereafter, and a Road to Ardee, p. 39.

† See another Road to Castleblaney p. 40.

|                                                                                        |                 |                   |
|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------|-------------------|
| Clentibret Church                                                                      | 5 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 57 $\frac{1}{4}$  |
| Castle Shane                                                                           | 2               | 59 $\frac{1}{4}$  |
| Monaghan †                                                                             | 3 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 62 $\frac{1}{2}$  |
| Cross Roads, or }Grosborough Inn }N. B. From Castle }Shane by Falklandis } | 4               | 66 $\frac{1}{2}$  |
| 1 Mile shorter                                                                         | 6 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 65 $\frac{1}{2}$  |
| Emy-Vale                                                                               | 1 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 66 $\frac{3}{4}$  |
| Erigill Church                                                                         | 2 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 69 $\frac{1}{2}$  |
| Augher, Tyrone                                                                         | 5 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 75 $\frac{1}{4}$  |
| Ballaghneed Inn                                                                        | 3               | 78 $\frac{1}{4}$  |
| Omagh §                                                                                | 9               | 87 $\frac{1}{4}$  |
| Newtownstewart                                                                         | 7               | 94 $\frac{1}{4}$  |
| Douglas Bridge                                                                         | 3               | 97 $\frac{1}{4}$  |
| Strabane                                                                               | 4 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 101 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Lifford, Donegall                                                                      | 1               | 102 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| St. Johnston                                                                           | 6               | 108 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Carrigans                                                                              | 1 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 110               |
| LONDONDERRY                                                                            | 4 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 114 $\frac{1}{4}$ |

† See another Road to Monaghan,
p. 39.

§ See other Roads to Omagh,
p. 28, 30.

On the L. of Drogheda, is Ball's-Grove,
the Seat of Mr. Ball.

Two Miles from Drogheda, on the L.
seated on the Boyne River, is the Obelisk, erected there in Commemoration of the Victory gained by King William over the Forces of James
II.

Near three Miles from Drogheda, on the
L. is Townley-Hall, the Seat of Townley Balfour, Esq; and half a Mile further, is Ardagh, that of Mr.
Walth.

Three Miles from Drogheda, on the R. are the Tower and Church of Monasterboice, now in Ruins.

At Collon, on the R. is the fine Seat, with very extensive Plantations, of the Right Hon. John Foster.

Three Miles beyond Collon, on the R. is Millextown, the Seat of Mr. Orion; and near it the Glebe House of the Rev. Dr. Disney.

At Ardee on the R. is the Seat of Richard Dawson, Esq; and on the L. that of William Ruxton, Esq.

Two Miles from Ardee, on the R. is Charlertown Church.

Opposite the Mill of Louth, on the L. is Thomastown, the Seat of Mr. Tennison.

At Goreeagh, on the L. is Drumurvie, the Seat of the Rev. Mr. Stopford; two Miles from which, on the L. is Rahan, the Seat of Mr. Noble.

Within 4 Miles of Castle-Blaney, on the R. is Braca, the Seat of Mr.
Henry.

At Castle-Blaney, on the R. near the Church, is Castle-Blaney, the elegant and beautiful Seat of Lord Castle-Blaney. It is pleasantly situated on the Borders of a very fine Lake, that has many very agreeable Islands in it.

Within a Mile of Clentibret Church, on the L. is the Glebe House.

At Castle-Shane, on the R. is the fine
Seat of Francis Lucas, Esq; and about a Mile, on the L. are the Ruins of Rack-Wallace Church.

Within a Mile of Monaghan, on the R. situated on very rising Ground, is Culmain, the Seat of Mrs. Graham; and a little farther, Bessimount, the Seat of Mr. Montgomery.

At Monaghan, on the L. is the fine Seat of James Hamilton, Esq; and 2
Miles North from that, is Falkland, the Seat of the Rev. Dr. Maxwell.

Two Miles from Monaghan, on the L. is Lagacory, the Seat of Mr. Somerville.

On the L. of Emy-vale, is Anketell's-
Grove, a most noble Seat, with extensive and beautiful Demesnes and Plantations, of T. Anketell, Esq.

One Mile beyond Emy-Vale, on the L. is Fort Singleton, the Seat of Mr.
Singleton.

Three Miles beyond Erigill Church, on the R. is Favour-Royal, the fine Seat of Mr. Moutray; near a Mile beyond which, is Port Pleasant, the Seat also of Mr. Moutray.

A little beyond Augher, on the L. is Castle-Hill, the Seat of Mrs. Marven.

A Mile and a half beyond Augher, on the R. is Saville Lodge, the Seat of Mr. Carrans.

Two Miles and a half from Augher, on the R. is Lurnford Glen and Waterfall.

Six Miles from Ballaghneed Inn, on the L. is Drumconley, the Seat of Mr. Mc. Farlane.

Three Miles beyond Omagh, on the R. is Rath, the Seat of Mr. Gardiner, situated on the River Cammon.

Before you enter Newtown-Stewart, on the L. is Bessie Bell's Mount.

Two Miles West of Newtown Stewart, is Baron's-Court, a Seat of the Earl of Abercorn: Near which is a large Lake, with an Island, on which are the Ruins of a Castle called Mc. Que, where a Chief of that Name formerly resided.

One Mile beyond Douglas Bridge, on the L. situated near the River Foyle, are the Ruins of a Church.

About 3 Miles beyond Lifford, on the R. is Porthall, the Seat of Mrs. Sampson.

Within 2 Miles of St. Johnstown, on the R. is Magavlen, a Seat of the Earl of Abercorn; and near St. Johnstown, on the R. is Tullaowen, that of Mr. Thomson.

Near Carrigans on the L. are the Seats of Mr. Mc. Clintock.

Within a Mile and a half of Londonderry, on the opposite Side of the River Foyle, is Prehen, a very pleasant Seat of Mr. Knox.

DUBLIN to Clogher.

Clogher, as in p. 35  $\left| \begin{array}{r} - \\ 1\frac{1}{2} \end{array} \right| \begin{array}{r} 75\frac{1}{4} \\ 76\frac{3}{4} \end{array}$

At Clogher is the House of the Bishop; and a little South of it is the Deanery House of the Rev. Mr. Keating.

From Newtown Stewart to Strabane, by Ardstraw Bridge.

Ardstraw Bridge  $\left| \begin{array}{r} - \\ 5\frac{1}{4} \end{array} \right| \begin{array}{r} 3\frac{1}{2} \\ 8\frac{3}{4} \end{array}$
Strabane

One Mile and a half from Ardstraw Bridge, on the R. are the Ruins of a Church.

Within 2 Miles of Strabane, on the R. is Ballyfatton, the Seat of Mr. Hamilton; and just before you come to Strabane, on the R. is Ballycamon, the Seat of Mr. Hamilton.

Strabane to Londonderry, by Grange.

Strabane, as in p. 35  $\left| \begin{array}{r} - \\ 2\frac{1}{2} \end{array} \right| \begin{array}{r} 101\frac{1}{2} \\ 104 \end{array}$
Ballymegarry
Grange, or Mount- }  $\left| \begin{array}{r} 2\frac{1}{2} \\ 2\frac{1}{2} \end{array} \right| \begin{array}{r} 106\frac{1}{2} \\ 110\frac{1}{4} \end{array}$
Hamilton
New Buildings, Derry  $\left| \begin{array}{r} 3\frac{3}{4} \\ 2\frac{1}{4} \end{array} \right| \begin{array}{r} 110\frac{1}{4} \\ 112\frac{1}{2} \end{array}$
Ferry Bank
LONDONDERRY  $\left| \begin{array}{r} - \\ 2\frac{1}{2} \end{array} \right| \begin{array}{r} 113 \end{array}$

About half a Mile beyond Ballymegarry, on the R. is Reekpatrick Church. At Grange, or Mount-Hamilton, on the L. is the Seat of Mr. Hamilton; and near it are the Ruins of a Church. Within one Mile and a half of Londonderry, on the L. is Prehen, the Seat of Mr. Knox, situated on the River Foyle.

DUBLIN to Dunfanaghy.

Lifford, as in p. 35  $\left| \begin{array}{r} - \\ 1\frac{3}{4} \\ 2\frac{3}{4} \\ 6\frac{1}{2} \\ 5 \\ 15\frac{3}{4} \\ 8\frac{1}{2} \end{array} \right| \begin{array}{r} 102\frac{1}{2} \\ 104\frac{3}{4} \\ 107 \\ 113\frac{1}{2} \\ 116\frac{1}{2} \\ 124\frac{1}{4} \\ 132\frac{3}{4} \end{array}$
Ballindrait
Raphoe
Letterkenny
Kilmacrennan
Glen Inn
Dunfanaghy

At Ballindrait, on the R. is Cavanacore, the Seat of Mrs. Kays, pleasantly situated on the Banks of a River.

At Raphoe, on the L. is the Seat of the Bishop of Raphoe; and about half a Mile to the R. is Oakfield, the Seat of the Rev. Dean King.

At Kilmacrennan, are the Ruins of a Church.

Two Miles beyond Glen Inn, on the R. are some magnificent Ruins of a Castle; about a Mile from which, divided by an Inlet of the Sea, is Ards, the Seat of Mr. Wray.

Within two Miles and a Quarter of Dunfanaghy, on the L. is Ballymore Church; and about a Mile to the R. is Marble-Hill, the Seat of Mr. Bawington.

Within 2 Miles of Dunfanaghy, on the R. at the Foot of a lofty Hill, are the Ruins of a Castle, and within half a Mile of Dunfanaghy, on the L. are the Ruins of a Church.

DUBLIN to Ardee and Monaghan, by Slane and Carrickmacross.

|                           |                 |                 |
|---------------------------|-----------------|-----------------|
| Finglafs, Co. Dublin      | —               | 3               |
| Pais if you can *         | $2\frac{1}{4}$  | $5\frac{1}{4}$  |
| St. Margaret's            | $\frac{1}{2}$   | $5\frac{3}{4}$  |
| Chapelmidway              | $1\frac{1}{2}$  | $7\frac{1}{4}$  |
| Kilfallaghan              | 1               | $8\frac{1}{4}$  |
| Greenoge, Meath    | $1\frac{1}{4}$  | $9\frac{1}{2}$  |
| Curragha                  | $4\frac{1}{4}$  | $13\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Kilmoon Church            | $1\frac{1}{4}$  | $15\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Black Lion                | $3\frac{1}{2}$  | 19              |
| Slane                     | 5               | 24              |
| Grange Fortescue          | $3\frac{1}{4}$  | $27\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Ardee, Louth       | $5\frac{1}{4}$  | 33              |
| Clonkeen                  | 3               | 36              |
| Laggan Bridge, Mo- | $2\frac{1}{2}$  | $38\frac{1}{2}$ |
| naghan             |                 |                 |
| Carrickmacross            | 4               | $42\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Ballyhay                  | $10\frac{3}{4}$ | $53\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Tullycarbet               | 3               | $56\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Monaghan                  | $4\frac{1}{4}$  | $60\frac{1}{2}$ |

* There is a Road made from Pais if you can, through the Commons of Kilfallaghan, which is half a Mile shorter than by Greenoge.

A little to the L. of Pais if you can, are the Ruins of Plunket Castle, seated in the Midst of a Plantation of Trees.

On the L. of St. Margaret's are also the Ruins of a Castle. More Ruins at Kilfallaghan and Greenoge.

On the L. of Curragha, is Killbrew, the fine Seat of Mr. Gorges.

About a Mile from Kilmoon Church, on the L. are the Ruins of Macetown Castle, formerly of great Importance; and about a Mile further, are the Ruins of a Church.

Half a Mile beyond Black Lion, on the R. is Summer-ville, the fine Seat of Sir James Somerville, Bart.

Within a Mile and a half of Slane, on the R. is Cullen, the Seat of Mrs Aiken.

At Slane, on the R. situated on the Boyne, are the noted Flour Mills, belonging to Mr. Jebb and Co.

On the L. of Slane, most delightfully situated on the Banks of the River, is Slane Castle, the Seat of the late Earl of Conyngham, but now of the Right Hon. William Conyngham.

At new Grange, near Slane, there is a large Danish Mount, which has been found to be the Cover of a noble Heathen Temple. Near the Foot of the Mount, there is an Aperture or Entrance, which over Head is covered with a large flat Stone. One is obliged to go in on the Belly for a considerable Distance, then the upper Part rises higher until you enter the Temple, which is formed in Shape like a Bee Hive, rising in the Center upwards of 20 Feet in Height, and the Area or Circle about 30 Feet in Circumference. The Sides are made up of prodigious large Stones, with some Sculptures upon the Ends and Sides. There are two Altar Stones, one on the R. the other on the L.

About 3 Quarters of a Mile beyond Slane, on the L. are the Ruins of a once magnificent and venerable Abbey; and a Mile further, on the R. is Rockmaiden, the pleasant Seat of Mrs. Rigmaiden.

Within a Mile of Grange Fortescue, on the L. are the Ruins of a Church.

Three Miles beyond Grange Fortescue, on the R. is Drakestown, the Seat of Mr. Myning.

At Ardee, on the R. is the very magnificent and beautiful Seat of Richard Dawson, Esq; and, on the L. the Seat of Mr. Ruxton.

Near Clonkeen Church is the Seat of the Rev. Dr. Levans.

Half a Mile beyond Laggan Bridge, on the L. is Careless, the Seat of Mr. Sillery.

On the L. of Carrickmacross is the Seat of the Rev. Mr. Campbell.

Near Tullycarbet Church, on the L. is the Seat of the Rev. Mr. Jackson.

To Castleblaney, by Carrickmacross.

Carrickmacross, as in p. 39 |  $42\frac{1}{2}$
Castleblaney |  $8\frac{1}{2}$  51

One Mile from Carrickmacross, on the R. is Longfield, the Seat of Mr. Noble; and near a Mile thence, on the R. is Dunnymayne Church; near which are the Seats of Mr. Noble, and the Rev. Mr. Caulfield.

Five Miles beyond Carrickmacross, on the R. is Braca, the Seat of Mr. Henry.

At Castleblaney, on the R. is a very noble and beautiful Seat of Lord Castleblaney, with fine and extensive Parks and Demelines.

DUBLIN to Duleek and Drogheda.

Kilmoon Church, as in } | — | 15½

p. 39

Duleek } 5¼ | 20¾

Drogheda } 4¼ | 25

N. B. The Road from Glasnevin and Forest to Greenoge is a Mile and a half further than by Chapelmidway.

A Mile and a half beyond Kilmoon Church, on the R. are the Ruins of a Church, seated amidst some Trees. Within 2 Miles of Duleek, on the L. are the Ruins of Athcarne Castle; and almost a Mile beyond, on the L. is Ann's-Brook, the Seat of Mr. Hamilton.

At Duleek, on the L. and situated on the Banks of the Nannywater River, is the Seat of Thomas Trotter, Esq.

One Mile beyond Duleek, on the R. is Mount-Hanover, the Seat of the Rev. Mr. Curtis.

Two Miles and a Quarter beyond Duleek, on the L. is Platin, the Seat of Mr. Charnney; and near a Mile from it, further to the L. is Coolferrath, the Seat of Mr. Netterville.

On the L. of Drogheda, is Ball's-Grove, the Seat of Mr. Ball, pleasantly situated on the River Boyne.

DUBLIN to Killibegs, and continued to Dunfanaghy.

Castleknock, Co. Dublin } — | 3¾

Black Bull Inn, Meath } 6½ | 10¼

Ten Mile Bush } 1½ | 11¾

Dunfanaghy } 2¼ | 14

Tara Hill } 5 | 19

Navan * } 4¾ | 23¾

Kells } 7¾ | 31½

Virginia, Cavan

Bally James Duff

Cross Roads

Cavan

Butler's Bridge

Wattle Bridge, Fermagh } 5¼ | 62¼

Newtown Butler

Donough

Lisneskea

Magwire's Bridge

Lisbellaw

Enniskillen †

Church-hill

Belleek-Town

Ballyshannon, Donegal

Ballintra

Laghy

Donegal

Mount Charles

Inver

The Port

Killybegs †

Ardra §

Naren

Strand

Shallagan Bridge

Guybarrow River ¶

Cloghanlea

Guydore River ¶

Gurtahurk

Dunfanaghy

* See another Road to Navan, p. 48.

† See other Roads to Enniskillen hereafter.

‡ If you do not go into the Town of Killibegs, you save near 2 Miles.

§ There is a Road from Ardee to Shallagan Bridge, which is nearer than this. And a new Road has been lately made from Mount Charles, across the Mountains, to Shallagan Bridge.—See the End of these Direct Roads.

¶ The Rivers Guybarrow and Guydore are fordable at low Water.

N. B. This Road is improper for Carriages farther than Navan.

In the Phoenix Park, are the Seats of the Lord Lieutenant and his principal Secretary, the Bishop of Limerick, the Right Hon. Mr. Gardiner, and Sir Henry Cavendish.

Near Castle-Knock, on the L. is the Glebe House of the Rev. Dr. Connor; and a little beyond the Church, on the L. is the Seat of Mr. Warren.—The Ruins of an old Castle, formerly of considerable Importance, are a little to the L. of Mr. Warren's House, situated on a rising Ground.

Dunfink lies about half a Mile to the R. of Castle-Knock; where there is the handsome Seat of Mr. Malone.

One Mile beyond Castle-Knock, on the R. is Sheep-Hill, the Seat of Mr. Hamilton; and near it, Abbotstown, that of Mr. Faulkner.

One Mile and a half from Castle-Knock, on the L. situated in a very pleasant Valley, is Cardiff, the Seat of Mr. Warren; and near it is Mulhuddard Church, formerly a large and beautiful Fabric, but now in Ruins. The Church-Yard is, however, much used as a Burial Place. Near it is a very handsome Well, supplied with a remarkably fine Spring of Water, and dedicated to the Virgin Mary; whose Statue in Miniature, is set up in a Niche of the Building, in Form of a small House, round the Well.

Three Miles beyond Castle-Knock, on the R. is Damestown, the Seat of Mr. Proby.

At Upper Clonice, about half a Mile farther, on the L. is the Seat of Mr. Garnet.

Eight Miles from Dublin, on the L. is Dunboyne Church, near which is the Seat of Lord Dunboyne; and one Mile further, on the R. Norman's Grove, the Seat of Mr. Jones.

About a Quarter of a Mile on this Side the Black Bull Inn, on the L. is Wood-Park, the Seat of Mrs. Sheills; and three Quarters of a Mile beyond that Inn, on the L. is Rathreggan, the Seat of Mr. Tyghe.

One Mile beyond Ten Mile Bush, on the L. is Parson's-Town, the Seat of Mr. Wilson.

At Dunshaghlín, on the R. is the Seat of Mr. Webbe.

Two Miles and a half from Dunshaghlín, on the R. are the Ruins of a Castle and a Church, near each other; and on the L. is Warren's-Town, the Seat of Mr. Johnston.

At the Foot of Tara Hill, on the R. is New-Hall, the Seat of the Hon. William Brabazon; and a little further to the R. is Lismullan, the Seat of John Dillon, Esq.;—Tara Church stands to the L. on the Summit of the Hill. And 2 Miles beyond Tara Hill, on the R. are the Ruins of a Castle; and about a Mile, to the L. is Ballin-ter, the fine Seat of Mr. Preston.

A little farther, and on the opposite Side of the Boyne River, is Ardiallagh, a beautiful Seat of the Earl of Ludlow; and on the R. Killcarn, the Seat of Mr. Barry.—About a Mile farther is Mr. Barry's Flour-Mill.

Within a Mile of Navan, on the R. is Athlunnny, the Seat of P. Metge, Esq. Near Navan, on the R. are the Ruins of a Castle.

A Mile and a half beyond Navan on the R. is Rahaldern, the Seat of Mr. Garnett; and near it are the Ruins of a Castle.

Two Miles beyond Navan, on the L. is Ardraccan, the fine Seat of the Bishop of Meath, with ample Demesnes.

A Mile from Ardraccan, on the R. on the opposite Side of the Boyne, is Randal's-Town, the Seat of Mr. Everard; and a little beyond it, Batchelor's Lodge, that of Mr. Wade.

Near 4 Miles beyond Navan, on the R. is Tankard's Town, the Seat of Mr. Gerard; Near it are the Ruins of a Castle; and on the opposite Side of the Boyne, is Donoughpatrick Church.

A Mile further on the L. is Hurlestown, the Seat of Mr. Lowther; about a Mile to the L. Charles Fort, that of Mr. Tisdall; on the R. on the other Side of the Boyne, Bloomsbury, the Seat of Mr. Tisdall; and three Quarters of a Mile further, more to the R. Fyan's-Town, the fine Seat of Mr. Barnwall.

Within a Mile of Kells, on the R. is Headfort, a most superb and beautiful Edifice, with delightful and extensive Parks and Plantations, the Seat of the Earl of Beftive.

A little beyond Kells, on the R. is Stonebrook, the Seat of Archdeacon Stone; and 2 Mile further, on very rising Ground, on the L. is Drumbarra, that of the Rev. Dr. Woodward.

Two Miles beyond Kells, on the R. is Maperath, the Seat of Mr. Rowley; and two Miles from it, on the L. Jonesborough, the Seat of Mr. Jones. On the L. of Virginia, is a pretty large Lake, called Lough Ramor, in which are several Islands, where there are the Ruins of some Castles.

About a Mile and a Quarter, on the L. of Virginia, situated on the Side of a Hill, is Port Frederick, the Seat of James Tuite, Esq.

Two Miles and a half beyond Virginia, on the R. is Lurgan Church.

A Mile and a half to the L. of Cavan, is Farnham House; a very magnificent and handsome Fabric, with ample Dormains, beautiful Plantations, Parks and Improvements, the Seat of Lord Farnham.

Within 3 Miles of Newtown-Butler, situated on the very Edge of the River Fin, on the R. are the Ruins of an antient Temple of the Druids; and directly opposite, is Castle-Sanderton, the Seat of Mr. Sanderton.

On the R. of Wattle Bridge, is St. Mary's Church; and near a Mile further, Parton's-Green, the Seat of the Rev. Mr. Hastings.

Two Miles beyond Donough, on the R. is Glasdrummin, the Seat of Mr. Noble; and Holly-Brook, that of Mr. Armstrong.

On the L. of Liffeskea, is Balfour Castle, the Seat of Mr. Balfour.

Within a Mile of Magwire's Bridge, on the R. is Lisnagoal, the Seat of Mr. Auchinlech.

About half a Mile to the L. of Magwire's Bridge, is Dromgown, the Seat of Joseph Hall, Esq; and near 2 Miles beyond it, on the R. Millwood, that of Mr. Crawford, and Snow-Hill, of Mr. Young.

Two Miles and a half beyond Lisbellaw, on the L. is Dromcoo, the Seat of Alexander Gordon, Esq; and on the R. is Castlecoole, the Seat of Lord Belmore.

On your R. before you enter the Town of Enniskillen, is Chanter-Hill, the Seat of the Rev. Dr. Smyth; and before you cross the Bridge of Enniskillen, on a small Height, are the Remains of a Redoubt occupied by the People of the Town, when they defended themselves so successfully against King James's Army.

Four Miles N. W. of Enniskillen, near Ballycassidy, are subterraneous Caves, called the Daughtons, being the curious Works of Nature. The Entrance is by a large arched Cave 25 Feet high; the Roof is Rock, composed of various Pieces in regular Order. This leads into another of the same Form, but not quite so high, and from that is continued by narrow Passages into a Brook, which passing through those unknown Recesses, discharges itself at the first Entrance.

At Bel Cou, a small Distance from Enniskillen, Westward, on the great Road to Sligo, there is a celebrated Well, called Davugh Phadric, which is reputed to be the best cold Bath in the Kingdom, and is so intensely cold, that it throws one into a shaking Fit, by putting the Hand in it, and is clear and transparent. It is come into great Request, having relieved vast Numbers in nervous and paralytic Disorders. It exhibits a large Stream, which turns two Mills at 150 Yards Distance from the Head.

Enniskillen is situated between 3 Lakes, and hath a Barrack for three Companies of Foot. Our Readers scarce need be informed, that its Inhabitants greatly distinguished themselves in the Wars of Ireland at the Revolution; out of which a Regiment of Dragoons, bearing the same Name, was mostly formed.

Near one Mile beyond Enniskillen, on the R. is the Free School, kept by the Rev. Mark Noble; and near it are the Ruins of a Castle.

Two Miles beyond Enniskillen, on an Island in Lough Erne, is the Tower of Devenish; and on the L. of it, near the Road, Silver-Hill, the Seat of Dr. Johnston.

Near 3 Miles from Enniskillen, on the R. is Dunbar, the Seat of Mr. Crofier; and a Mile further, on the R. close by the Lough Side, is Castle-Hume, a very fine and delightful Seat of the late Earl of Ely.

Within a Mile of Church-Hill, on the L. is Wheat-Hill, the Seat of the Rev. Mr. Nixon.

A Mile to the R. of Church-Hill, on the Banks of Lough Erne, are the Ruins of a Castle.

Five Miles beyond Church-Hill, on the R. is Castle-Caldwell, a noble and most delightful Seat of Sir James Caldwell, Bart. situated on Lough Erne, and nearly surrounded by that Lake.

One Mile beyond this is Leurac, the Seat of Mr. Johnston.

On the R. of Belleek Town are the Ruins of a Church; and in the Town is a fine Water-fall.

From Enniskillen, almost to Belleek-Town, you have Lough Erne to your R. which exhibits a most pleasing Variety of beautiful and picturesque Views. From its Number of Islands, clothed with Wood and Verdure, you have a multitude of agreeable and enchanting Prospects. On the L. and near the Road, the View is bounded by lofty and steep Hills, which reach to, and connect with the Tiraw Mountains, a little beyond Church-Hill, and opposite to Sir James Caldwell's, and which give an Air of Magnificence to the pleasing Variety below.

At Ballyshannon is a fine Water-fall, called a Salmon Leap; and about half a Mile, on the R. are the Ruins of a venerable Abbey.

Near a Mile beyond Ballyshannon, on the L. is Park-Hill, the Seat of the Rev. Mr. Neil; and three Quarters of a Mile further, Covent Garden, that of Mr. Atkison.

On the L. of Ballintra, is Moneymore, the Seat of Mr. Knox; and about a Mile, on the R. Brown-Hall, the fine Seat of Mr. Hamilton.

Within a Mile of Donegall, on the L. is Brookfield, the Seat of Mr. O'Hara; and opposite to it are the Ruins of a Castle.

At Mount-Charles, on the L. is the Hall, a fine Seat of the Right Hon. William Conyngham; and near it that of Mr. Montgomery.

At Inver, on the R. situated on the River Inver, is Clover-Hill, the Seat of the Rev. James Montgomery.

A Mile and a half beyond Inver, on the R. is Kilmacredon, the Seat of Mr. Nesbit; and a Mile further, on the L. Ballymacdonnell, the Seat of Mr. Mc.Dowall.

Two Miles from the Port, on the R. is Duncaney Church; and a Mile to the R. are the Ruins of a Castle.

Within 3 Miles of Killibeggs, on the L. are Barney Salt-Works.

Seven Miles beyond Killibeggs, at Ardra, on the R. is Woodhill, the Seat of Mr. Nesbit.

At Naren, on the R. is the Glebe House of the Rev. James Montgomery.

Within a Mile of Gortahurk, on the R. is Cashell, the Seat of Mr. Finlay.

A Mile beyond Gortahurk, on the L. is Ballyconnell, the Seat of Mr. Olpherts; half a Mile beyond which, is Cloghaneely Church.

Near Dunfanaghy, on the L. on a Peninsula, nearly surrounded by the Sea, is Hornhead, the Seat of Captain Stewart; and on the R. are the Ruins of a Church.

DUBLIN to Navan, by Ratoath.

|         |                                     |
|---------|-------------------------------------|
| Cabragh | - -   2                             |
| Ratoath | 10 $\frac{3}{4}$   12 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Screen  | 6 $\frac{1}{4}$   19 $\frac{1}{2}$  |
| Navan   | 6 $\frac{1}{2}$   26                |

Two Miles from Dublin, is Cabragh, on the R. of which is the Seat of Neal Segrave, Esq; half a Mile further, on the R. is the Seat of Mrs. Waite.

Four Miles from Dublin on the L. are the Ruins of Cappoge Castle; and about half a Mile, on the R. is Kildonan, the Seat of Mr. Clinch.

Six Miles and a half from Dublin, on the R. is Mount-Hollywood, the Seat of Mr. Serjeant Wood; near which are the Ruins of a Church.

Eight Miles and a half from Dublin, on the R. are the Ruins of Kilbride Church; near which is Mabbot's-Town, the Seat of Mr. Greene; and about a Mile, on the L. Priest-Town, the Seat of Mr. Armstrong.

 Within 2 Miles of Ratoath, on the L. is Kurue, the fine Seat of Gorges Lowther, Esq; and about a Mile on the R. is Milntown, the Seat of Mr. Gaffney, near some Church Ruins.
 About half a Mile beyond Ratoath, on the L. is Ballymore, the Seat of Mr. Rathburn; and three Quarters of a Mile from it, Laggore, that of the Rev. Mr. Norman.
 Three Miles beyond Ratoath, on the L. is Gerard's Town, a pleasant Seat; and 2 Miles, on the R. Sydenham, the Seat of Mr. Corbally; and Cook's-Town, that of Mr. White.
 One Mile beyond Screen Church, on the L. is Litmullen, the Seat of Mr. Dillon.
 Opposite to Mr. Dillon's Seat, on the L. is Tara-Hill; whence, and along all the Road from Screen, are very extensive and beautiful Prospects of the Country.

DUBLIN to Enniskillen, by Clones.

|                           |                 |                  |
|---------------------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Kells, as in p. 41        | —               | 31 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Moynalty                  | 3 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 35 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Or by Carlanstown. |                 |                  |
| Navan, as in p. 41        | —               | 23 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Fyanstown Bridge          | 6 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 30               |
| Carlanstown               | 2 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 32 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Moynalty, as above        | 2 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 35 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Baillieborough, Cavan     | 7 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 43               |
| Coronery                  | 4 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 47 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Cootehill*                | 5               | 52 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Drum, Monaghan            | 3               | 55 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Clones                    | 5 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 61 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Donough, Fermanagh        | 6 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 67 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Enniskillen               | 12              | 79 $\frac{3}{4}$ |

* See another Road to Cootehill immediately succeeding this p. 51.

One Mile and a half from Navan, on the L. near the River Blackwater, is Rahaldern, the Seat of Mr. Garnett.
 Two Miles and a half from Navan, on the R. is Randal's-Town, the Seat of Mr. Everard.

Four Miles from Navan, on the L. are the Ruins of a Church; and a mile beyond, Tilltown, the Seat of Mr. Hatch.

On the L. of Fyanstown Bridge, is the Seat of Mr. Barnwall; and two Miles further, on the L. Headfort, the superb and beautiful Seat of the Earl of Beftive.

One Mile beyond Carlanstown, on the L. is Newtown, the Seat of Mr. Meredyth.—The Church is very near it.
 Half a Mile beyond Moynalty, on the R. is Walkers-Town, the Seat of Mr. Smith.

Two Miles beyond Moynalty, on the L. is Rose-Hill, the Seat of Mr. Kellet; and on the R. Smith-Park, the Seat of Mr. Smith.

Three Miles beyond Moynalty, on the L. are the Ruins of a Castle; and two Miles farther, on the R. those of a Church.

At Baillieborough, on the R. is the Seat of Mr. Crosby.

Three Miles beyond Coronery, on the L. are the Ruins of a Church; and half a Mile further, is Keighan, the Seat of Mr. Patten.

On the R. of Cootehill, is Bellamont Forest, a most magnificent and beautiful Edifice, with extensive Parks and Demesnes, the Seat of the Earl of Bellamont.

A Mile to the R. of Cootehill, is Dro-more, the Seat of Mr. Mayne; and near it, Dawson's Grove, the superb and delightful Seat of Lord Dartrey.

A Mile and a half beyond Cootehill, on the R. situated on very rising Ground, is Freamemount, the Seat of Mr. Mayne.

A Mile beyond Drum, on the R. is Currygarra, the Seat of Mr. Higgins; and a little beyond it, at the Foot of a little Hill, Lislea, that of Miss Walsh.

Within 2 Miles of Clones, on the R. is Lessnabuck, the Seat of Mr. Bradshaw.
 At Donough are the Ruins of a Church.
 About a Mile and a Quarter beyond Donough, on the L. is Manor Waterhouse, the Seat of Mr. Madden.

For Remarks on the Road from Donough to Enniskillen, see p. 46.

DUBLIN to King'scourt and Cootehill.

|                            |                 |                  |
|----------------------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Cavan , as in p. 41 | —               | 23 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Killberry                  | 3               | 26 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Cairnhill Turnpike         | 5               | 31 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Nobber                     | 1 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 33 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Newcastle                  | 3 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 36 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| King'scourt, Cavan  | 2               | 38 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Shircock                   | 6               | 44 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Cootehill                  | 7 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 52 $\frac{1}{2}$ |

One Mile from beyond Killberry, and a Mile and a Quart to the L. is Arch-Hall, the Seat of Mr. Payne.

About 3 Miles beyond Killberry Church, on the L. is Fletcher's-Town, the Seat of the Rev. Mr. Roberts; Nis-town, that of Mr. Beath; and Mountain's-Town, that of Mr. Gibbons. —Between these Seats are the Ruins of a Church.

Within 2 Miles of Cairnhill Turnpike, on the R. is Gravel Mount, the Seat of Mr. Weldon; and about half a Mile farther, on the R. near Castletown Church, is the Seat of Mr. Whittingham.

Within a Mile of Nobber, situated on a Hill, on the L. is the Seat of Mr. Cruice; and within half a Mile of Nobber, is Cruice-Town, the Seat of another Gentleman of the same Name.

About a Mile to the L. of Nobber, is Brittas, the Seat of Mr. Bligh; and half a Mile from it, White-wood, a Seat of Lord German-stown.

Two Miles beyond Nobber, on the R. is Carrickleck, the Seat of Mr. Sil-lery; and a Mile from it, on the L. Newcastle, the Seat of Mr. Verner.

At King's-Court, on the R. on the Summit of a Hill, is the very elegant and beautiful Seat of M. Pratt, Esq.

Within three Miles and a Quarter of Cootehill, on the L. is Belle-Green, the Seat of Mr. Bruncker; and near a Mile from it is Newgrove, the Seat of Mr. Mayne.

Near Cootehill, on the R. is Bellament Forest, the fine Seat of Lord Bellament; Dromore, that of Mr. Mayne; and Dawson's-Grove, that of Lord Dartrey.

To Shircock, by Carrickmacross.

|                             |                 |                  |
|-----------------------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Carrickmacross, as in p. 39 | —               | 42 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Shircock                    | 6 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 48 $\frac{3}{4}$ |

At Carrickmacross, on the R. is the Seat of the Rev. Mr. Campbell.

At Shircock, on the R. is the Seat of Mr. Adams.

DUBLIN to Enniskillen, by Belturbet.

|                             |                  |                  |
|-----------------------------|------------------|------------------|
| Cavan , as in p. 42  | —                | 54               |
| Butler's-Bridge             | 3                | 57               |
| Belturbet            | 4 $\frac{1}{4}$  | 61 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Callahill, Fermanagh | 7 $\frac{1}{2}$  | 68 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Enniskillen          | 11 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 80               |

One Mile and a half beyond Butler's Bridge, on the L. at the Edge of a small Lough, are the Ruins of a Church; and a Mile, to the L. on the opposite Side of the river, is Ashgrove, the fine Seat of Mr. Baker.

Within a Mile of Belturbet, on the R. are the Ruins of a Church; 2 Miles beyond Belturbet, on the R. situated near the River, are those of a venerable Abbey; and a Quarter of a Mile beyond the Bridge you pass over, on the R. are those of a Castle.

Half a Mile beyond the Bridge, on the R. is Killynick, a very fine Seat; and about a Mile and a half, on the R. by the Side of Lough Erne, is Crum-Castle, the noble Seat of Lord Visc. Erne.

Within a Mile and a half of Callahill, on the R. is Rathfeur, the Seat of Mr. Tighe.

On the L. of Callahill, are the Ruins of a Castle; and 3 Miles beyond it, on the L. are the Ruins of a Church.

Half-way between Callahill and Enniskillen, on the L. is Florence-Court, the most superb and beautiful Seat, with very extensive and delightful Demefines and Plantations, of Lord Viscount Enniskillen.

Two Miles and a half further, on the R. is Nixon-Hall, the Seat of Alexander Nixon, Esq; and opposite to it, is the Seat of Mr. Haffard.

DUBLIN to Cloghanlea, by Strabane and Ballybofey.

|                               |                 |                   |
|-------------------------------|-----------------|-------------------|
| Strabane , as in p. 35 | —               | 101 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Lifford, Donegal       | 1               | 102 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Castletin              | 4 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 107               |
| Killygordon            | 3               | 110               |
| Stronorlane            | 2 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 112 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Ballybofey             | $\frac{1}{2}$   | 113 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Cloghan                | 5 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 118 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Fin Town               | 7 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 125 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Shallagan Bridge       | 4 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 130 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Cloghanlea             | 8               | 138 $\frac{1}{2}$ |

Lifford hath a Barrack for a Troop of Horse, and is situated on the River Foye. It gives the Title of Baron to the present worthy Lord Chancellor of Ireland.

Near Castletin, opposite the Church, is the Seat of the Rev. Mr. Spence.

At Killygordon is the Seat of Mr. Mansfield; and opposite to it, Mount-Hall, the Seat of Mr. Young.

At Ballybofey, on the R. is Drumboe, the Seat of Mr. Basil.

Two Miles beyond Ballybofey, on the L. are the Seats of the Rev. Mr. Cox and Mr. Ramsay.

At Cloghan, on the R. opposite the Church, is the Seat of Mr. Knox.

DUBLIN to Sligo, by Oldcastle.

|                                                     |                 |                  |
|-----------------------------------------------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Black Bull Inn, Meath }as in p. 41       | —               | 10 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Grange                                       | 7 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 18               |
| Trim                                         | 4 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 22 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Athboy                                       | 6               | 28 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Clonmellon, Westmeath                        | 4 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 32 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Ballynaganny, Meath                          | 7 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 40 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Oldcastle                                    | 1               | 41 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Daly's-Bridge, Cavan                         | 5               | 46 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Darien's Bridge                              | 5               | 51 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Ballinanaght                                 | 3 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 54 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Crossdony                                    | 1 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 56               |
| Killesandra                                  | 4 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 60 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Baunboy                                      | 8 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 69 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Swanlinbar                                   | 4 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 74 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Cross Roads near Florence-Court, Fermanagh } | 3 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 77 $\frac{1}{2}$ |

Or by Ballyconnell.

|                                           |                  |                  |
|-------------------------------------------|------------------|------------------|
| Killesandra , as before            | —                | 60 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Ballyconnell                       | 6 $\frac{1}{4}$  | 67 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Callahill, Fermanagh               | 4 $\frac{1}{4}$  | 71 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Cross Roads , as before            | 5 $\frac{1}{4}$  | 77 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Largay, or Black Lion Inn, Cavan } | 6 $\frac{3}{4}$  | 84 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Manor-Hamilton, Leitrim }          | 10               | 94 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Sligo                              | 10 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 105              |

Two Miles and a half beyond the Black Bull, on the R. is Parlon's Town, the Seat of Mr. Wilton.

Within 3 Miles of Trim, on the L. is Galtrum, the Seat of Mr. Cortington; and near a Mile further, Adam's Town, that of Mr. O'Reilly.

Within 2 Miles of Trim, on the R. are the Ruins of Scurlack's-Town Castle; and about a Mile to the L. is Knightsbrook, the Seat of Mr. Percival.

Near Trim are the Ruins of 2 Churches. About a Mile and a half, on the L. of Trim, is Trimlestown, the pleasant Seat of Lord Trimlestown. Here is a fine Row of Trees on both Sides of the Road, from Trim to his Lordship's House.

Two Miles beyond Trim, on the R. nearly surrounded by Trees, are the Ruins of a Castle.

Three Miles beyond Trim, on the R. is Killbride, the Seat of Mr. Garnett; and near a Mile further, are the Ruins of a Church.

Four Miles beyond Trim, on the L. is Vestington, the Seat of Mr. Hopkins.

On the L. of Athboy is Castletown, the Seat of Mr. Persie.

Two Miles from Athboy, on the R. is Drew's-Town, a beautiful Seat, with spacious Domains, of Lord Viscount Farnham; and near it, are the Seats of Mr. Tandy, and Mr. Rodrum.

Three Miles beyond Athboy, on the R. are the Ruins of a Church; and near them is St. Lucy, the fine Seat of Sir Benjamin Chapman, Bart.

Two Miles beyond Clonmellon, on the R. are the Ruins of a Church and a Castle.

Within a Mile and a half of Ballynaganny, on the L. near the Church, is Loughcrew, the Seat of Napper Dutton, Esq; and about a Mile, on the R. are the Ruins of a Castle, situated at the Foot of a Hill.

At Ballynaganny is a noted Flour-Mill; and a Mile, to the L. Baltraíny, the fine Seat of Mr. O'Reilly.

Near a Mile to the R. of Oldcastle, is Newcastle, the Seat of Philip Tute, Esq.

One Mile and a half beyond Oldcastle, on the R. is Castle Freeman, the Seat of Mr. Freeman; and opposite to it, are the Ruins of a Castle.

Three Miles and a half beyond Oldcastle, on the R. is Roebuck, the Seat of Thomas Reilly, Esq; and near it, Mount-Pallas, the Seat of Mr. Reilly. — About a Mile to the L. is Bob's-Grove, the Seat of Mr. Nugent.

About a Mile on the L. of Daly's-Bridge is Lough Sheallin, where are some small Islands, on which are the Ruins of a Castle and a Church.

Three Miles beyond Daly's-Bridge, on the L. is Foxhall, the Seat of Mr. Pallas; and a little further to the L. Fortland, a Seat of the Bishop of Meath, pleasantly situated on one Side of Lough Sheallin.

Four Miles and a half beyond Daly's-Bridge, on the L. is Keil, the Seat of Mr. Lenole; and about a Mile distant, on the opposite Side of a small Lough, is Corglais, the Seat of Mr. Wilton.

Within 2 Miles of Ballinanaght, on the L. is Broom-Hill, the Seat of the Rev. Mr. Wade; and nearly opposite to it, are the Ruins of Ballintemple Church.

Half way between Ballinanaght and Crossdony, on the R. is Belle-Ville, the Seat of Mr. Fleming; and near it, Castle-Cosby, that of Mr. Nesbitt.

At Crossdony, on the L. is Liffnore, the Seat of Mr. Nesbitt; and about half a Mile, on the R. Liffnemandra, that of Captain Elliot.

Half a Mile beyond Crossdony, on the R. is Binghamfield, the Seat of Mr. Story; a Mile farther to the R. Kilmore, the beautiful Seat of the Bishop of Kilmore; and about a Mile distant from it, Dean's-Fort, the Seat of Thomas Nesbitt, Esq.

Two Miles from Crossdony, on the L. is Gortinardrafs, the Seat of Mr. Veaitch; and a Mile further, Lahard, that of Mr. Young.

Within half a Mile of Killesandra, on the R. is Castle-Hamilton, a Seat of R. Jackson, Esq; and on the R. a little beyond the Town, are the Ruins of a Castle.

Three Miles and a half beyond Killesandra, on the R. is Greenville, the Seat of Mr. Thornton; and 3 Miles further, on the L. are the Ruins of a Church.

At Baunboy, on the R. is the Seat of Captain Enery.

Within a Mile of Swanlinbar, on the R. are the Ruins of a Church; and 4 Miles beyond, on the L. is Florence-Court, the superb Seat of Lord Visc. Enniskillen.

About half a Mile from Swanlinbar, on the R. is the celebrated Spa; the Waters of which are excellent for Scurvy, Nerves, low Spirits, and bad Appetite. They are to be drank as the Stomach can bear them, preparing first with gentle Physic. You go to Bed at Ten, without Supper, in the Morning you appear at the Well at Six, drink till Nine, taking constant Exercise, and breakfast a little after Ten. At One you return to the Well, and drink two or three Glasses, returning home at Three, to be dressed for Dinner at Four. — There is no particular Regimen necessary, but to be temperate in Wine, and to drink as little Chinese Tea as possible.

Your Chambers are 8s. 1d. h. or 11s. 4d. h. per Week.

At Mr. Castle's Ordinary, you have a most excellent Table.

|                      |                     |
|----------------------|---------------------|
| Breakfast, at 0. 8d. | Your Horses         |
| Dinner, - - 1. 7h.   | Hay, 10d. p. Night. |
| Lady's Wine 6h.      | Grass, 6h. per Do.  |
|                      | Oats, 10d. p. Peck. |

The Gentlemen pay the remainder of the Wine Bill.

Servants Lodging, 2s. 8d. h. per Week.

Board, - - - 7s. 7d. per Do.

Evening Tea, - 6d. h. per Day.

Washing very cheap and good.

The Post from Dublin comes in

Monday, }
 Thursday, } At 11 in the Forenoon.
 Saturday, }
 Goes out
 Sunday, }
 Thursday, } At 10 at Night.
 Friday, }

At Ballyconnell, on the R. are the Seat and Flour-Mills of George Montgomery, Esq.

Within 2 Miles and a half of the Black Lion, on the L. are the Ruins of a Church; and within a Mile of the Black Lion, on the L. is Marle Bank, the Seat of Mr. Irwine.

A Mile beyond the Black Lion, on the R. are the Ruins of a Church.

Near Manor-Hamilton, on the R. is Skreeny, the Seat of Mr. Cullen; and a Mile beyond it, on the R. Lurganboy, a Lodge of the Right Hon. Owen Wynne.

Two Miles beyond Manor-Hamilton, on the R. close to the little River Shanwith, are Cor Ruins.

Two Miles from Sligo, on the L. beautifully situated close to Lough Gill, is Hazlewood, the fine and elegant Seat, with very extensive Demesnes, Parks and Plantations, of the Right Hon. Owen Wynne; and opposite to it, on the other Side of the River Garwoge, is Belvoir, the Seat of Mr. Ormsby.

Sligo hath a Barrack for 2 Companies of Foot; and near it is a Place called Lugna Clogh, or the Giants Grave, where several large Stones are raised upon the Ends of others, which are pitched perpendicularly, not unlike those very remarkable ones at Stonehenge on Salisbury Plain in England. They are the Monuments of several famous Persons that have been buried there, as is evident from their Bones, which have been found under these venerable Pieces of Antiquity.

DUBLIN to Finae, and continued to Granard and Longford.

Abbey, as in p. 53 — 28 $\frac{1}{2}$
 Clonmellon, Westmeath 4 $\frac{1}{4}$  32 $\frac{3}{4}$
 Cross-Keys, Meath 4 $\frac{1}{4}$  37

Finae, \* Westmeath } 10 $\frac{3}{4}$  47 $\frac{3}{4}$ and Cavan }
Granard, Longford 4 $\frac{1}{4}$  52
Longford† 12 64

* See the direct Road to Longford, p. 59.

† To Finae by Oldcastle.

Oldcastle, as in p. 53. — 41 $\frac{1}{4}$
Finae 8 $\frac{1}{4}$  49 $\frac{1}{2}$

Two Miles and a half beyond Clonmellon, on the R. are the Ruins of a Church and Castle.

A Mile from the Cross-Keys, on the L. is Carrick, the Seat of Mr. Tighe, who has very good Flour-Mills not far distant.

A Mile and a half beyond the Cross-Keys, on the L. are the Ruins of a Castle, seated by the Side of a small Lough; and 3 Miles further, on the L. is Carpenters-Town, the Seat of Mr. Nugent.

Within 2 Miles of Finae, on the R. opposite the Race-Course, are the Ruins of a Castle; and within 2 Miles of Granard, on the L. are the Ruins of Abbey Larra.

At Granard is a remarkable artificial Hill, or Danish Mount, called the Moat.—Granard hath a Barrack for a Company of Foot; and gives the Title of Earl to the noble Family of Forbes.

Two Miles and a half beyond Granard, on the R. is Spring-Park, the Seat of Peter Beatty, Esq; and on the L. Tully, that of Sir A. Stewart, Bart.

Three Miles beyond Granard, on the R. is Clonfin, the Seat of Mr. Thomson; and near it, Willbrook, that of Mr. Holmes.

Four Miles beyond Granard, on the R. is Killrully, the Seat of Mr. Edgeworth; and 3 Miles farther, on the L. are the Ruins of a Castle.

Within 4 Miles of Longford, on the R. are the Ruins of a Church; and a Mile nearer, those of a Castle, seated on the Banks of a River.

Within 2 Miles of Longford, on the R. is Kerryglais, a Seat of Sir William Gleadowe Newcomen, Bart. and just before you enter Longford, on the R. is Temple-Michael, the Seat of the Rev. Dean Ryder.

Longford is situated on the River Cromlin, which falls a few Miles below it into the Shannon. It hath a Barrack for a Troop of Horse. It gave the Title of Earl to the Family of Aungier; of Viscount to the Family of Micklethwaite; and now gives the Title of Baron to the noble Family of Pakenham.

DUBLIN to Sligo, by Longford.

|                                             |                  |                   |
|---------------------------------------------|------------------|-------------------|
| Chapel-Izod, Dublin Co.                     | —                | 2 $\frac{3}{4}$   |
| Palmerstown                                 | 1                | 3 $\frac{3}{4}$   |
| Lucan*                                      | 2 $\frac{3}{4}$  | 6 $\frac{1}{2}$   |
| Leixlip, Kildare                            | 1 $\frac{1}{2}$  | 8                 |
| Maynooth                                    | 3 $\frac{1}{2}$  | 11 $\frac{1}{4}$  |
| Kilcock                                     | 3                | 14 $\frac{1}{2}$  |
| Cloncurry                                   | 4 $\frac{1}{4}$  | 18 $\frac{1}{4}$  |
| New Inn, or 19 Mile }House, Meath }     | 1 $\frac{1}{4}$  | 20                |
| Blackwater Bridge, }Kildare }           | 2 $\frac{1}{4}$  | 22 $\frac{1}{4}$  |
| Clonard Bridge, Meath                       | 3 $\frac{3}{4}$  | 26                |
| Kinnegad, Westmeath                         | 3 $\frac{1}{2}$  | 29 $\frac{1}{2}$  |
| Mullingar                                   | 8 $\frac{1}{4}$  | 38 $\frac{1}{4}$  |
| Leny                                        | 6 $\frac{1}{4}$  | 44 $\frac{1}{2}$  |
| Ballinalack                                 | 1 $\frac{1}{4}$  | 46 $\frac{1}{4}$  |
| Edgeworth's Town, }Longford }           | 6                | 52 $\frac{1}{4}$  |
| Longford                                    | 6 $\frac{1}{4}$  | 58 $\frac{1}{2}$  |
| Newtown Forbes                              | 2 $\frac{1}{2}$  | 61                |
| Rusky Bridge, Leixtrim                      | 5 $\frac{1}{4}$  | 66 $\frac{1}{4}$  |
| Drummote                                    | 1 $\frac{1}{2}$  | 67 $\frac{3}{4}$  |
| Drumasnave                                  | 5                | 72 $\frac{3}{4}$  |
| Cross the Shannon }twice to Jamestown } | 1                | 73 $\frac{3}{4}$  |
| Carrick on Shannon                          | 3 $\frac{1}{4}$  | 77                |
| Ardkarna Church, }Rescommen }           | 4 $\frac{3}{4}$  | 81 $\frac{3}{4}$  |
| Boyle                                       | 2 $\frac{3}{4}$  | 84 $\frac{1}{2}$  |
| Ballinacrad, Sligo                          | 3 $\frac{1}{4}$  | 87 $\frac{3}{4}$  |
| Colooney                                    | 11               | 98 $\frac{3}{4}$  |
| Ballafadare                                 | 12 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 100 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Sligo                                       | 1 $\frac{1}{2}$  | 103 $\frac{1}{4}$ |

* To Lucan by the North Side of the River.

|             |                 |                 |
|-------------|-----------------|-----------------|
| Chapel-Izod | —               | 2 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Black-Mills | 2               | 4 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Lucan       | 2 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 7               |

To go to Chapel-Izod, you may either pass through the Phoenix Park, or along the high Road, near the River Liffey.—The Phoenix Park is about seven Miles in Circumference, and was Part of the Lands belonging to the Monastery of St. John of Jerusalem, on the Site of which the Royal Hospital of Kilmmainham now stands.—This Park is finely diversified with Woodland, Champaign and rising Grounds, and well stocked with Deer. The Gate next the City opens into the Park on two Roads; the one, planted at each Side with Clumps of Trees at equal Distances, leads through the Centre of the Park to its Extremity, about three Miles; the other goes round the Park in a winding Direction near the Wall. In the Middle of the Park is a large well-grown Wood, in the Centre of which is a Ring, at which Coaches run round the Figure of a Phoenix burning in her Nest, erected by the Earl of Chesterfield, when Lord Lieutenant, on the Top of a large fluted Corinthian Pillar, about 40 Feet high. There are several elegant Villas in this Park, a Magazine of Powder, and a Battery of 22 Iron Cannon.

Chapel-Izod is pleasantly situated on the Banks of the Liffey, just on the Outside the Wall of the Phoenix Park. It consists of a good Number of well-built Houses, a Church with a Steeple, and a Barrack for the Royal Irish Artillery. Behind the Barrack is a handsome Place well planted by the River Side, called the King's Garden, which now belongs to the Hibernian Military School, which is about a Quarter of a Mile from it, in the Phoenix Park. This School is established for the Maintenance and Instruction of the Sons and Daughters of Soldiers. The Building is of Portland Stone, and beautifully situated on a rising Ground, with a southern Aspect.

It consists of a principal Building, 3 Stories high, with a Range of eleven Windows, in each Story, and two Wings each, two Stories with five Windows in each Row, joined to the House at each Side by a beautiful Portico of hewn Stone. The Apartments are very neat, and capable of containing a greater Number of Children than are at present (1782) in it, being 163. Some Time ago the Children went to Church to Chapel-Isod; but in 1773 an elegant Chapel was erected near the School, of hewn Stone, with a Steeple adorned with a beautiful Cupola.

At Palmerstown are the Seats of Major Bettelworth, and the Right Hon. John Hely Hutchinson.

About half a Mile beyond Palmerstown, on the R. is the Seat of Mr. Brooke; half a Mile beyond which, on the L. are the Ruins of a Castle.

A Mile and a half beyond Palmerstown, on the R. is Hermitage, the Seat of Sir Lucius O'Brien, Bart. and near a Mile to the L. Ballyowen, the Seat of Mr. Rochfort.

Two Miles from Palmerstown, on the R. is Woodville, the Seat of the Rt. Hon. Theophilus Clements; and Edmondsbury, that of the Rt. Hon. Edmond Sexton Pery.

On the North Side of the River Liffey, opposite to these Gentlemen's Seats, is Luttrell's-Town, the fine Seat of Lord Carhampton.

At Lucan, on the R. is the Seat of the Rt. Hon. Agmondesham Veley.

A little beyond this House, by the River Side, is a noted Medicinal Spring, the Waters of which, though now much diffused, are of great Efficacy in many Disorders.

On the R. of Leixlip is the Seat of Mr. Brady; near which is the Seat of Mr. Law; and a little further to the R. are the Ruins of a Church.

On the L. of Leixlip, is the Castle, the Property of the Rt. Hon. Thomas Conolly, but inhabited by General Sandford, most beautifully situated on the Banks of the Liffey. It is a fine Edifice, and has large and pleasant Gardens; on one Side of which is a very pretty Water-fall, called the Salmon-Leap.

One Mile beyond Leixlip, on the R. situated on the Liffey, is the Seat of Mr. Glascock, called the Music-Hall.

A Mile to the R. of this Place, is Castle-Town, the magnificent and elegant Seat, with very extensive and beautiful Demesnes and Plantations, of the Right Hon. Thomas Conolly.—This House, which is universally allowed to be the finest in Ireland, is built entirely of hewn Portland Stone, and contains a range of thirteen Windows in each of the 3 Stories; a Colonnade, supported by nine Columns on each Side, joins the House to the two Wings, which are each two Stories high, and seven Windows in Breadth. The Apartments are elegantly finished; the grand Stair-Case is magnificent, and is ornamented with Brass Balustrades.

Two Miles beyond Leixlip, on the R. is Ravensdale, the Seat of Mr. Donnellan; about a Mile from which, on the L. are the Ruins of a Church; and near those, a very beautiful Obelisk, erected by the Duke of Leinster.

Within a Mile of Maynooth, on the R. is Carton House, the most superb and beautiful Seat of the Duke of Leinster, with a very large and handsome Park, extensive Gardens, Parks and Improvements, beautifully laid out in the modern Taste.

Near a Mile on the L. of Maynooth, is Dowdstown, the pleasant Seat of Colonel Cane.

A Mile and a half beyond Maynooth, on the L. is Laragh, the Seat of Mr. Hunt; and a Mile from it, on the R. Newtown, the Seat of Mr. Salt.

About a Mile on the R. of Kilcock, is Dollingstown, the Seat of Mr. Tew; and near it, Watermount, that of Mr. Hill.

On the L. of Kilcock, is Courtown, the Seat of Mr. Foster.

A Mile beyond Kilcock, on the R. is White's-Town, the Seat of Dr. Clegghorn; and about half a Mile from it, on the L. is Pritchard's-Town, a very fine Seat of the Earl of Westmeath.

Three Miles beyond Kilcock, on the R. is Cappoge-Hill, from which is a very grand and extensive Prospect.

A Mile from the New-Inn, on the L. is Newcastle, the Seat of Mr. Hunt.

On the L. of Blackwater Bridge, is Killmore, the Seat of Mr. Mollin; and near it, Ballina, that of Mr. O'Moore.

A Mile and a half beyond Blackwater Bridge, on the R. are Rylough Ruins; and a little further, on the R. is Cowfield, the Seat of Mr. Daly.

Within a Mile and a half of Clonard Bridge, on the L. is Ballinderry, the Seat of Mr. Tyrrell; and Carrisker, the Seat of Mr. Birmingham.

On the L. of Clonard Bridge, is the Seat of Mr. Tyrrell.

Near a Mile beyond Clonard Bridge, on the R. is Clonard Church; near which is the Glebe House of the Rev. Dr. Ash.

A Mile and a half beyond Clonard Bridge, on the L. are the Ruins of a Castle.

Within a Mile of Kinnegad, on the R. and situated on the Summit of a Hill, are the Ruins of Ardmullen Castle.

Two Miles beyond Kinnegad, on the L. and seated on a Hill, are the Ruins of a Church; and near it, is Griffin's-Town, the Seat of Mr. Smith.

About 3 Miles beyond Kinnegad, on the L. is Low-Town, the Seat of Anthony Dopping, Esq.

Four Miles beyond Kinnegad, on the L. are the Ruins of a Castle; and a Mile and a Quarter further, on the R. is New Down, the Seat of Mr. Cooper; a Mile beyond which is Great Down, the Seat of Mr. Cooper.

Within 2 Miles of Mullingar, on the L. are the Ruins of a Castle; near which is Plate's-Town, the Seat of Mr. Swift.

About 2 Miles from Mullingar, on the R. is Rathconnel, the Seat of Mr. Adams; and near it, are the Ruins of a Church.

Within a Mile of Mullingar, on the L. is Board's-Town, the Seat of Mr. Collins.

A Mile beyond Mullingar, on the L. is Irish-Town, the Seat of Mr. Johnston; near which, on the L. are the Ruins of a Castle.

Two Miles beyond Mullingar, on the L. situated on very rising Ground, near Loughail, is Farnastuffick, the fine Seat of Sir Richard Levinge, Bart.

Loughail lies close to the Road, on the L. It is a fine Lake, having in it five small Islands, which are all planted with Trees, and pretty well cultivated. It is about 3 Miles long, and one broad.

Within a Mile of Leny, on the L. near the Side of Loughail, is Mount Murray, the Seat of Alexander Murray, Esq.

On the L. of Leny, seated on the Side of a pretty high Hill, is a Charter School.

About a Mile and a half to the R. of Leny, is Donore, the Seat of Sir James Nugent, Bart. and near it, Lacken, the Seat of Mr. Delamar.

Within a Mile of Ballinalack, on the R. are the Ruins of a Castle; and a Mile and a half, on the L. over lower Lough Erne, is Trillick, the beautiful Seat of Sir William Pigot Piers, Bart.

At Ballinalack, on the R. is the Seat of Mr. Reynell; and about a Mile and a half on the L. on the other Side of the Lower Lough Erne, is Baron's-Town, the fine Seat of Richard Malone, Esq.

Three Miles beyond Ballinalack, on the L. is New-Pass, the Seat of Mr. Whitney, situated near a small Lake.

Within a Mile of Edgeworth's-Town, on the R. is Cranny, the Seat of Mr. West.

At Edgeworth's-Town, on the R. near the Church, is Mr. Edgeworth's Seat.

Within a Mile and a half of Longford, on the L. is the Charter School.

On the R. of Longford, is Temple-Michael, the Seat of the Rev. Dean Ryder.

About a Mile beyond Longford, on the L. is Mullogh, the Seat of Mr. Kennedy.

Near a Mile, on the L. of Newtown-Forbes, is Castle-Forbes, a fine Seat of the Earl of Granard; and 4 Miles further, on the R. situated on a Hill, near the Banks of the River Shannon, is Aghmore, the beautiful Seat of Charles Nesbit, Esq.

Two Miles beyond Rusky-Bridge, on the L. is Oghry, the Seat of Mr. Nesbit, situated near the Shannon.

Within a Mile of Drumsnave, on the R. is the Glebe Houle of the Rev. Mr. Mahon; and near it, Headfort, the Seat of Mr. Johnston.

Just before you enter Jamestown, and most delightfully situated on the Shannon, which nearly encircles it, is Charles-Town, the fine Seat of Mr. King.

Two Miles beyond Jamestown, on the R. is Grange, the Seat of Mr. Whitly.

Two Miles and a half beyond Carrick, on the R. is Hughes-Town, the Seat of Mr. Molloy.

About a Mile to the R. of Ardkarna Church, is Oakfort, the Seat of the Rev. Dean French.

A Mile beyond Ardkarna Church, on the R. is Kingston-Hall, a most magnificent and beautiful Edifice, with extensive and delightful Parks and Demesnes, the Seat of the Earl of Kingston; who has also a House at Boyle, close to the Ruins of an Abbey.

On the R. of Boyle is Lough Key, a fine and pleasant Lake, most beautifully adorned with a Variety of Islands well wooded and richly cultivated, belonging to the Right Hon. the Earl of Kingston.

A Mile and a half beyond Boyle, is Ballaghbuy Mountain.

On the L. of Ballinacrad, are the Ruins of a Castle.

Two Miles beyond Ballinacrad, on the R. is Hollybrook, the fine Seat of William Phibbs, Esq; most delightfully situated by the Side of a large and beautiful Lake, called Lough Arrow, which has in it a Number of Islands most romantically situated, and well planted.

Three Miles beyond Ballinacrad, on the R. are the Ruins of Ballindown Abbey; and on the L. are those of a Castle.—More Ruins of a Castle a Mile distant, on the L.

Six Miles and a half beyond Ballynacrad, on the R. are the Ruins of Drumfin Castle; and on the L. more Ruins of a Castle; near which is Tansy-Fort, the Seat of Arthur Cooper, Esq.

About a Mile to the L. of Drumfin Castle Ruins, is Branchfield, the Seat of Mr. Duke; and near it are the Ruins of Coolteem Castle.

On the R. of Coloony Church, is Mercera, the fine Seat of the Right Hon. Joshua Cooper.

On the L. of Ballafedere, (where there is a Water-fall) are very magnificent Ruins of an ancient Abbey.

A Mile and a half beyond Ballafedere, on the L. is Clover-Hill, the Seat of Mr. Chalmers; and near it the Seat of Mr. Deboots.

On the R. of Sligo is Belvoir, the Seat of George Ormsby, Esq; situated at the Foot of a Hill; and on the opposite Side of the River, Hazlewood, the fine Seat of the Right Hon. Owen Wynne, with very ample and beautiful Demesnes.

A Mile to the L. of Sligo, is Cuming House, the very fine Seat of John Ormsby, Esq.

DUBLIN to Trim and Kells by Kilcock.

Kilcock, as in p. 59

Summerhill

Trim

Kells

|                  |                  |
|------------------|------------------|
| —                | 14 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| 5 $\frac{1}{2}$  | 20               |
| 5                | 25               |
| 11 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 36 $\frac{1}{2}$ |

On the R. of Kilcock is Bride-Stream, the Seat of Mr. Hill; and near it are the Seats of Mr. Barry and Mr. Jones.

On the L. of Kilcock, is Whites-Town, the Seat of Dr. Cleghorn.

Two Miles and a half beyond Kilcock, on the L. is Gallow, the Seat of Mr. Flanagan; and about half a Mile farther, on the R. is Garradice, the Seat of Mr. Pratt.

Four Miles beyond Kilcock, on the L. is Agher, the Seat of Thomas Winter, Esq.

Near 5 Miles beyond Kilcock, on the R. is Spring-Valley, the Seat of Mr. Dennis; and at Summer-Hill, on the L. is the beautiful Seat of Hercules Langford Rowley, Esq;—About a Mile to the L. is Rahan's-Town, the Seat of Mr. Bamford.

One Mile to the L. of Summer-Hill, is Bramble Hall, the fine Seat of Mr. Roden.

A Mile and a half from Summer-Hill, on the R. is Genots, the Seat of Mr.

Stear; and on the L. Dangan, the noble Seat of the Earl of Mornington, beautifully situated on the Side of a small Lake.

Three Miles beyond Summer-Hill, on the R. is Adam's-Town, the Seat of Mr. O'Reilly; and a Mile to the L. Knight's-Brook, that of Mr. Percival.

At Trim, on the L. is the Charter School.

Three Miles beyond Trim, on the L. is Philpots, the Seat of Westby Percival, Esq.

Three Miles further, on the R. is Ardbraccan, the fine Seat of the Bishop of Meath, with beautiful Demesnes.

Within three Miles of Kells, on the R. is Allen's-Town, the Seat of Mr. Waller.

About a Mile, on the R. of Kells, is Headfort, the magnificent and beautiful Seat of the Earl of Beftive.

DUBLIN to Killala and Castle Laghan.

|                        |                 |                   |
|------------------------|-----------------|-------------------|
| Mullingar, as in p. 59 | —               | 38 $\frac{1}{4}$  |
| Racondra               | 6               | 44 $\frac{1}{4}$  |
| Moyvore                | 3 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 48                |
| Ballymahon, Longford   | 4 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 52 $\frac{1}{2}$  |
| Laneshorough           | 9 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 62 $\frac{1}{4}$  |
| Strokestown, Roscommon | 7 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 70                |
| Tullsk                 | 5 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 75 $\frac{1}{2}$  |
| Ballynagar             | 5 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 81                |
| French Park Inn        | 2 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 83 $\frac{1}{4}$  |
| Ballaghadrreen, Mayo   | 6 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 89 $\frac{1}{2}$  |
| Ballaghy               | 8 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 97 $\frac{1}{4}$  |
| Swinesford             | 5 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 103               |
| Ballylaghan            | 7               | 110               |
| Foxford                | 2 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 112 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Belleek, or Ballina,   | 8               | 120 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Killala*               | 6 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 127               |
| Castle Laghan          | 5 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 132 $\frac{1}{4}$ |

* See another Road to Killala, p. 78.

Two Miles and a half from Mullingar, on the L. are the Ruins of a Church; and a Mile further, on the L. is Tuite's-Town, the Seat of Mr. Hudson.

Four Miles from Mullingar, on the R. are the Ruins of a Church; and a Mile to the L. is Feeltown, the Seat of Mr. Fetherlton.

Two Miles beyond Racondra, and one to the R. is Meares Court, the fine Seat of John Meares, Esq.

Two Miles and a half beyond Moyvore, on the R. is Forgney Church; and a Mile on the R. situated on the River Inny, is New-Castle, a fine Seat of the Rev. Dean Harman; who hath also a Seat a Mile beyond Ballymahon, on the L. called Cattle-Core.

Within a Mile of Ballymahon, on the L. is Criveaghmore, the Seat of Mr. Sandes; and a Mile, on the R. near Ballymahon, is Ballymulvy, the Seat of the Rev. Mr. Ahmuty.

Two Miles beyond Ballymahon, on the R. is Tirlicken, the Seat of Henry Gore, Esq.

Three Miles beyond Ballymahon, on the L. is Ledwithstown, the Seat of the Rev. Mr. Palmer; and on the R. is Kilcommack Church.

On the R. of Laneshorough, is Clonbonny, the Seat of Mr. Davies.

Near 2 Miles beyond Laneshorough, on the L. are the Ruins of a Church.

Three Miles beyond Laneshorough, on the L. is Mount Dillon, the Seat of Mr. Dillon.—On the L. is the high Mountain, called Slieve Bonn.

At Strokestown, on the R. is the magnificent and fine Mansion House, with very ample and beautiful Demesnes, of Maurice Mahon, Esq.

Three Miles and three Quarters beyond Strokestown, are the Ruins of a Church; and at Tullsk, on the R. are the Ruins of an Abbey.

About a Mile to the R. of Tullsk, is Foxborough, the Seat of Mr. French.

Two Miles beyond Tullsk, and about a Mile to the R. is Mantua, the Seat of the late Richard Underwood, Esq.

At Ballynagar, on the R. is the Seat of Mr. O'Connor, near the Ruins of two Churches, and an Abbey.

A Mile and a half beyond Ballynagar, is Clonshanville, the Seat of Mr. Davies.

French Park is a most beautiful Seat, with very extensive and noble Demesnes, of Arthur French, Esq. It lies on the R. 2 Miles and a half beyond Ballynagar.

A Mile beyond French Park Church, on the R. is Rathra, a Seat of Mr. French; and about half a Mile further, on the L. are the Ruins of a Church.

Within 2 Miles of Ballaghadirreen, on the L. of a Bridge over the River Gara, is Liffion, the Seat of Mr. Dillon; and a Mile on the R. Long, the Seat of Mr. Dillon.

Within 2 Miles and a half of Ballaghy, on the L. are the Ruins of a Castle; and a Mile on the R. is Cloon-More, the fine Seat of Mr. Phillips.

At Ballaghy, on the R. are the Ruins of a Barrack.

Within about half a Mile of Swineford, on the R. are the Ruins of a Church.

On the L. of Swineford, is New-Park, the fine Seat of George Brabazon, Esq; with beautiful Demesnes.

Three Miles and a half beyond Swineford, on the R. are the Ruins of Millick Church; and near them, is New-Castle, the Seat of Gen. O'Donnell.

Two Miles beyond, on the R. are Temple-Row Ruins; and near a Mile further, on the L. are the Ruins of Ballylaghlan Castle.

Two Miles beyond Foxford, on the R. is Moore-Field, the Seat of Mr. Moore; and about a Mile and a half further, are the Ruins of a Church.

Within 2 Miles of Ballina, or Belleek, on the L. are also Church Ruins; and a little beyond, on the R. are the Ruins of two Castles.

About a Mile to the L. of Belleek, is Keromore, the Seat of Mr. Vaughan.

Belleek, or Ballina, is a considerable Market Town, of Tyrawly, in the County of Mayo. It is delightfully situated on the W. Bank of the River Moy, which is here in breadth 200 Yards, and over it is a stately Stone Bridge of 16 Arches, and at the Head of the Estuary at this Place, interrupted by a Waterfall 6 Miles from the Sea, to which it is navigable for small Craft.

In the centre of the Town, there is a spacious Edifice of 132 Feet in front, with two large and noble Squares of Offices in the Rear, the Residence of the Right Hon. Henry King, and one of the most elegant and useful Gardens in the Kingdom. Here is a large weekly Market, held on Mondays for Linen Yarn (the Staple of the Country) bought up by Dealers and Factors for the Use of the Manchester Manufacturers in England. The Salmon Fishery here is one of the most considerable in Ireland, which is the Estate of the Hon. Richard Gore, and according to Mr. Young's Account, lets for 520l. per Ann. and produces yearly 70 or 80 Tons of salted Fish, besides the fresh.

The Moy is a beautiful River in the West of Ireland; it rises at the Foot of a romantic Mountain, called Knockneshce, in the County of Sligo, and after meandering through a fertile Country about 45 Miles, accounting for its sinuations, disembogues in the Atlantic Ocean, under the Port of Killala.

On the Banks of the Moy, are 3 remarkable Steeples, or round Towers, called Clackagh, in the Language of the Country, and not Clockhas, which signifies a Bellfry: the original Intention or Use of such singular Erections, (being from 84 Feet to 100 in height) the best Antiquarians cannot positively account for. Five noble Abbeys in the highest Style of Gothic Building, all founded by the English in the 12th and 13th Centuries, and 5 Stone Bridges, and 3 public Ferries, are situated near this River; on which are several Eel Weirs, and a Salmon Weir.

Two Miles and a half beyond Belleek, on the R. are the Ruins of Connor Castle; and a little further, the Ruins of Roserk Abbey.

Within a Mile and a half of Killala, on the R. by the Shore, is Moyne, the Seat of Mr. Knox; and nearer Killala, are the Ruins of a Church.

At Killala, on the L. is the Seat of the Bishop.

A Mile and a half West of Killala, is Rathrone, belonging to the Rev. G. Rogers, Chancellor of Dromore, but inhabited by Mr. James Rogers. It is within 300 Yards of the Road, and on the Bishop of Killala's Estate.

A Mile and a half beyond Killala, on the L. is Castle Rea, the fine Seat of Mr.

Knox; and near it, Palmer's-Town, that of Mr. Palmer.—Opposite are the Ruins of an Abbey; and about half a Mile further, is Summer-Hill, the Seat of Mr. Palmer; and 2 Miles further, on the L. Carrowmore, the Seat of Mr. Palmer.

At Castlelaghan is the Seat of Sir R. Palmer, Bart. and near it, on the L. is the Glebe Houfe of the Rev. Mr. Little.

DUBLIN to Strokestown, by Colehill.

|                                           |                 |                  |
|-------------------------------------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Mullingar , as in p. 59            | —               | 38 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Ballinacargy                              | 7 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 45 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Buck-Houfe Inn                            | 1 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 47 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Colehill, Longford                 | 3 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 51               |
| Barry                                     | 3 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 54 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Kenagh                                    | 2 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 56 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Killafhee                                 | 4 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 61               |
| Tarmonbarry Bridge, }Roscommon | 3 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 64 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Strokestown                               | 7               | 71 $\frac{1}{2}$ |

One Mile from Mullingar, on the R. is Irish-Town, the Seat of Mr. Johnston; and near it, Farnarustick, that of Sir Richard Levinge, Bart. and Tulloghan, that of Mr. Nugent.

Three Miles beyond Mullingar, on the R. are the Ruins of a Castle; and a Mile and a half further, is Johnstown, the Seat of Mr. Sommon.

Five Miles and a half beyond Mullingar, on the R. is Sonnagh, the fine Seat of Sir Henry Tuite, Bart. and a Mile on the R. Tristernagh, that of Sir William Pigot Pier, Bart.

Within a Mile of Ballynacargy, on the R. is Baron's-Town, the fine Seat of Richard Malone, Esq; and a Mile forward, Rockbrook, the Seat of Mr. Idell; and Conlanstown, Mr. Idell's Seat.

On the L. of Buck-Houfe Inn are the Ruins of a Church; and a Mile, on the R. are the Ruins of a Castle.

Near 2 Miles beyond Buck-Houfe Inn, on the R. are the Ruins of a Church and a Castle; and near them, is Castle-Wilder, the S. at of Mr. Wilder.

On the L. of Colehill is Tenelick, the noble Seat, with beautiful Demefnes, of Lord Annaly, situated on the River

Inny; on the opposite Side of which are the Ruins of a Castle.

Two Miles beyond Colehill, on the L. is Kilicurry, the Seat of Mr. Nugent; and on the R. Dury, the Seat of Mr. Jelfop.

On the R. of Barry is Liffglaffick, the Seat of Mr. Robertson.

On the L. of Kenagh, is Moss-Town, the Seat of Sir Thomas Newcomen, Bart. and two Miles further on the R. are the Ruins of a Church and a Castle.

A Mile beyond Killafhee, on the L. is - Middletown, the Seat of Mr. Montfort.

Two Miles and a half beyond Killafhee, on the R. is Aghnagoe, the Seat of Mr. Ahmuty; and near it are the Ruins of a Church.

At Strokestown is the noble and beautiful Seat of Maurice Mahon, Esq.

DUBLIN to Boyle, by Strokestown.

|                                  |                 |                  |
|----------------------------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Strokestown , as in p. 67 | —               | 70               |
| Elphin                           | 5 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 75 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Boyle                            | 8 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 84               |

Two Miles from Strokestown, on the R. is Kilthruston Church, situated on the Side of a high Hill, near the Ruins of a Castle.

A Mile on the L. of Elphin, is Ballywoghter, the Seat of Mr. Goldsmith. On the L. of Elphin, is the beautiful Seat of the Bishop of the Diocese.

Three Miles beyond Elphin, and a Mile to the R. are the Ruins of Kanbo Castle; and on the L. are the Ruins of a Castle and a Church.

Four Miles beyond Elphin, on the R. is Croghan, the Seat of Mr. Lloyd; and a Mile forward, on the L. is Cave-Town, the Seat of the Rev. Dr. Mahon, situated between two small Loughs.—Opposite is Easter Snow Church.

At Boyle, on the R. are the venerable Ruins of an antient Abbey: And near them is a Seat of the Earl of Kingston.

DUBLIN to Roscommon.

|                                  |   |                  |
|----------------------------------|---|------------------|
| Laneborough , as in p. 67 | — | 62 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Roscommon *               | 7 | 69 $\frac{1}{4}$ |

* See another Road to Roscommon, hereafter.

Four Miles from Lanesborough, on the L. is Beech-Wood, the Seat of Henry Hughes, Esq; and on the R. seated on a high Hill, is the Church of Mulloghnahce.

About half a Mile from Beech-Wood, on the L. is Bob's-Grove, the Seat of Mr. Ormsby.

DUBLIN to Castlebar and Newport by Strokestown.

|                          |                  |                   |
|--------------------------|------------------|-------------------|
| Strokestown, as in p. 67 | —                | 70                |
| Tullsk                   | 5 $\frac{1}{2}$  | 75 $\frac{1}{2}$  |
| Castle-Plunket           | 3 $\frac{1}{4}$  | 78 $\frac{1}{4}$  |
| Castlereagh*             | 5 $\frac{3}{4}$  | 84 $\frac{1}{2}$  |
| Ballinlough              | 5 $\frac{1}{4}$  | 89 $\frac{3}{4}$  |
| Ballyhaunis, Mayo        | 4                | 93 $\frac{3}{4}$  |
| Ball                     | 13 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 107 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Manilla                  | 2 $\frac{1}{2}$  | 109 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Castlebar†               | 4 $\frac{1}{4}$  | 114 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Newport                  | 9 $\frac{1}{4}$  | 123 $\frac{3}{4}$ |

* See another Road to Castlereagh, p. 82.

† See another Road to Castlebar, p. 78.

Five Miles from Strokestown, and a Mile on the R. is Foxborough, the Seat of Mr. French.

A Mile beyond Tullsk, on the R. are the Ruins of a once beautiful Church; and from one to two Miles forwards, on the same Side, are the Ruins of three strong Castles; Objects that must strike the most frigid Breast with a religious Awe, and convince the most careless Traveller, that neither Strength or Beauty are Proof against the Depredations of Time.

Near a Mile beyond Castle-Plunket, on the R. is Belgart, the Seat of Mr. Dillon; and a Mile and a half further, are the Ruins of a Church; opposite to which, a Mile on the L. is Will's-Grove, the Seat of Mr. Wills.

Three Miles beyond Castle-Plunket, on the L. is South-Park, the fine Seat of the late General Gisborne; and a Mile, on the R. are the Ruins of a Church; beyond which, about a Mile, are the Ruins of an Abbey.

At Castlereagh, on the R. is the Seat of Mr. Sandford; and about a Mile, to the L. Harris-Town, the Seat of Mr. Young.

A Mile beyond Castlereagh, on the R. is Clounmalis, the Seat of Mr. O'Connor.

Near Ballinlough, on the R. is Perreborough, the Seat of Mr. Wills.

At Ballyhaunis, on the R. are the Ruins of an Abbey; and about a Mile beyond, on the R. is Annagh, the Seat of Mr. Dillon.

Near a Mile beyond Ballyhaunis, on the L. is Hazle-Hill, the Seat of Mr. Dillon; and a Mile further Holywell, Mr. Dillon's Seat.

Six Miles and a half beyond Ballyhaunis, on the R. are the Ruins of a Castle; and two Miles further, on the same Side, more Ruins; and within three Miles of Ball, on the L. the Ruins of two more Castles.

On the L. of Ball, is Moat, the Seat of Sir Harry L. Blöffe, Bart. and a little more to the L. Browne-Hall, the Seat of George Browne, Esq.

Near 2 Miles beyond Manilla, on the L. is Breaty, the Seat of Mr. Browne.

At Castlebar, on the R. is the fine Seat of Lord Lucan; and about half a Mile, to the R. is Soho, the Seat of William Ellison, Esq.

On the L. of Castlebar, is Mount-Gordon, the Seat of Mr. Garden.

Two Miles beyond Castlebar, on the L. is Rahcons, the Seat of A. N. Browne, Esq.

On the L. of Newport, is Sea-Mount, the Seat of the Hon. John Browne; and near it, is Melfort, that of William O'Mally, Esq.

DUBLIN to Galway, by Athlone.

|                          |                 |                                  |
|--------------------------|-----------------|----------------------------------|
| Kinnegad, as in p. 59    | —               | 29 $\frac{1}{2}$                 |
| Pas of Kilbride          | 3 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 33                               |
| Beggar's-Bridge          | 4               | 37                               |
| Terril's-Pas             | 3               | 40                               |
| Kilbeggan                | 4 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 44 $\frac{1}{4}$                 |
| Horteleap, King's County | 3               | 47 $\frac{1}{4}$                 |
| Moatagrenoge,            | }               | 4 $\frac{1}{4}$ 52               |
| Westmeath                |                 |                                  |
| Athlone, W. Meath        | }               | 7 $\frac{1}{2}$ 59 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| and Roscommon            |                 |                                  |

|                              |                  |                   |
|------------------------------|------------------|-------------------|
| Ballinasloe, Galway * | 12 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 71 $\frac{3}{4}$  |
| Kilconnel                    | 6 $\frac{1}{2}$  | 78 $\frac{1}{4}$  |
| New-Inn                      | 3 $\frac{1}{4}$  | 82                |
| Athenry †             | 9 $\frac{1}{4}$  | 91 $\frac{3}{4}$  |
| Oranmore                     | 6 $\frac{1}{4}$  | 98                |
| Galway ‡              | 4 $\frac{1}{4}$  | 102 $\frac{3}{4}$ |

* See another Road to Ballinasloe, hereafter.

† About a Mile before Athenry, you may turn to the Left, and save near a Mile by not going through the Town.

‡ See other Roads to Galway, hereafter.

One Mile and a half from Kinnegad, on the R. is Griffin's-Town, the Seat of Mr. Smith; and a Mile further, Low-Town, the fine Seat of Anthony Dopping, Esq. Near this, on the L. are the Ruins of a Church and a Castle.

Half a Mile beyond the Pass of Kilbride, on the R. are the Ruins of a Church; and a Mile further, is Clare-Mount, the Seat of Mr. Tyrrell.

Five Miles beyond Kinnegad, on the R. is Lemon-Grove, the Seat of Mr. Winton; and near it, Belfield, the Seat of Captain Rochfort; and Gaul's Town Park, that of the Earl of Belvedere.

On the R. of Beggar's-Bridge, are the Ruins of a Castle; and on the L. is Side-Brooke, the Seat of Mr. Rochfort.

One Mile on the R. of Beggar's-Bridge, is the West, the Seat of Mr. Kartland; and opposite to it, Old-Town, that of Mr. Cane. A Mile, to the R. is Kilbrenen, the Seat of Mr. Bonyng.

Within a Mile of Terril's-Pass, on the R. is Newcastle, the Seat of Ulysses North, Esq; and at Terril's-Pass, are the Ruins of a Castle.

Two Miles beyond Terril's-Pass, on the R. is New-Park, the Seat of the Rev. Dr. Lowe; a Mile beyond which, are the Ruins of a Castle.

At Kilbeggan, on the L. near the Church is the Seat of George Lambert, Esq.

Two Miles on the R. of Kilbeggan, is Coulalough, the Seat of Mr. Handy; and Duncore, that of Mr. Geoghegan.

Within a Mile of Horleap, on the L. is Curriagh, the Seat of Mr. Goggin.

A Mile beyond Horleap, on the L. is Gag-borough, the very fine Seat of J. Judge, Esq; with ample Demesnes.

Two Miles beyond Horleap, on the L. are the Ruins of a Castle; and a little beyond, are Ballinaminton, the Seat of Mr. March; and Killylin, that of M. Birmingham.

Within 2 Miles of Moatagrenoge, on the R. are Ballybrickuck, the Seat of Mr. Geoghegan; and March-Brook, that of Mr. Judge; and about a Mile, on the L. Myally, that of Mr. March.

At Moatagrenoge, on the R. are the Seat of the Clibborn Family; and Jones-Lake, the Seat of Mr. Jones.

Two Miles beyond Moatagrenoge, are the Ruins of two Castles, opposite to each other, not quite a Mile distant; and on the L. is the Hall, the Seat of Mr. Clibborn.

Near 3 Miles beyond Moatagrenoge, on the L. is Castle-Daly, the pleasant Seat of Mr. Daly; and a Mile and a half distant Ballinahon, that of Mr. Malone.

Within 3 Miles of Athlone, about a Mile on the R. over the Bog, is Willbrook, the pleasant Seat of the Rev. Dean Handcock.

A little farther, on the Road Side, is Craggan, the Seat of Francis Langworth, Esq; and half a Mile further, on the R. are the Ruins of Cary Castle.

On the R. of Athlone is the Charter-School.

Athlone was formerly a Place of Strength. A Part of the English Army, under General Ginckle, fording the River, formed and took Possession of the Town, not losing more than 50 Men in the Attack, which is esteemed as bold and successful an Enterprize as any recorded in History.

Four Miles and a half beyond Athlone, on the L. is Clonark, the fine Seat of Mr. Dillon; a Mile on the R. of which, is Archriny, the Seat of Mr. Kelly.

Six Miles beyond Athlone, on the R. is Thomastown, the Seat of Mr. Naghton; and opposite to it are the Ruins of a Castle.

Two Miles beyond, on the L. is Tulleigh, a beautiful Seat of Sir R. St. George, Bart. and 2 Miles and a half farther, are the Ruins of a Castle.

Within a Mile of Ballinasloe, on the L. is Fort William, the Seat of Mr. Landcaster; and Suckville, that of Mr. Lynch.

At Ballinasloe are the greatest Wool and Cattle Fairs in Ireland.

A Mile and a half beyond Ballinasloe, is Garbally, the very fine Seat of William Power Keating Trench, Esq.

Four Miles beyond Ballinasloe, on the L. is Aghrim, the Seat of the Rev. Mr. Ward.

At Kilconnel, on the R. is an Abbey—magnificent though in Ruins.

Two Miles, on the L. is Killagh, the Seat of Mr. Donnellan.

Three Miles beyond Kilconnel, on the R. is Woodlawn, a very superb Edifice, delightfully situated, with extensive Parks and Demelines, and richly cultivated Lands, the Seat of Frederick French, Esq.

A Mile to the L. of the New-Inn are the Ruins of a Castle; and on the R. those of a Church.

Two Miles beyond the New-Inn, on the R. is Beech-Hill, the Seat of Mr. Mahon; and near it, Clooncha, that of Peter Daly, Esq.—On the L. is Benmore, the Seat of Mr. Daly; on the R. is Killimer, Mr. Daly's; and on the L. Rathford, Captain Daly's; and Touraw, Mr. Dolphin's.

Near 5 Miles and a half beyond the New-Inn, is Kiltolla, the Seat of the late Patrick D'Arcy, Esq; and on the L. Carrorowe, that of Mr. Kelly.—

Many Ruins of Churches and Castles hereabouts, arrest the Attention of the Traveller; awakening Reflection, and humbling Pride.

Eight Miles from the New-Inn, but not in the direct Road, it lying two Miles to the L. is Dunfandle, the most magnificent and beautiful Seat, with ample Demelines, of the Rt. Hon. Dennis Daly.

Within 3 Miles of Athenry, on the R. is Eskar-House, the Seat of Mr. Daly.

Athenry hath been a Place of considerable Strength; but, like the numerous Churches and Castles, which surround it, as well as all sublunary Things, has felt the resistless Force of Time. Some of the Walls and Towers, however, are still remaining, as Monuments of its former Grandeur.

About a Mile to the R. of Athenry, is Newford, the Seat of Edward Browne, Esq.

Five Miles beyond Athenry, on the R. is Frenchford, the Seat of Mr. French.

At Oranmore, on the L. is the Seat of Xavierius Blake, Esq; and near Galway, on the R. that of Dr. Joyce; and Lynch's Folly, Mr. D'Arcy's.

Galway is a large Town, and Capital of the County of the same Name. It is surrounded with strong Walls, with long, straight Streets, and the Houses are generally well built with Stone. It has a very considerable Trade with foreign Parts on Account of its Harbour, which is defended by a Fort. It is governed by a Mayor, Sheriff, and Recorder, hath a Barrack for ten Companies of Foot, and gives the Title of Viscount to the illustrious Family of Monckton. It is seated on the Bay of Galway on the Western Ocean. The People of this Town, as well as those of the County in general, are endued with a peculiar Sensibility, which renders them impatient of Affronts, and more spirited than the Inhabitants of many other Parts of the Kingdom.

DUBLIN to Castlebar and Killala, by Athlone.

|                              |                  |                  |
|------------------------------|------------------|------------------|
| Athlone , as in p. 74 | —                | 59 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Ballymullalon, Ref-   | 4 $\frac{1}{2}$  | 64               |
| common                |                  |                  |
| Thomas-Street                | 5 $\frac{1}{4}$  | 69 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Ballyforan                   | 2                | 71 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Ballynamore, Galway   | 3 $\frac{1}{4}$  | 74 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Newtown Bellew               | 5                | 82 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Tuam                  | 10 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 93               |

|                         |                  |                   |
|-------------------------|------------------|-------------------|
| Kilglaffan, Mays | 9 $\frac{1}{4}$  | 102 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Hollymount              | 3 $\frac{1}{4}$  | 105 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Balcarra                | 9 $\frac{1}{2}$  | 115               |
| Castlebar        | 4 $\frac{1}{2}$  | 119 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Crossfinaliney          | 14 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 134 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Killala                 | 9                | 143 $\frac{1}{4}$ |

Two Miles and a half from Athlone, on the R. are the Ruins of Carton Castle.

A Mile and a half beyond Ballymullalon, on the L. and situated near a small Lake, is Cork, the Seat of Mr. Tough.—Two Miles beyond, near the Road, are the Ruins of a Church.

Within a Mile and a half of Thomas-Street, on the L. are the Ruins of Dyfert Church.

Between Thomas-Street and Ballyforan, on the L. is Ballyna, the Seat of Mr. Fallon; and Cloonagh, the Seat of John Fallon, Esq.

On the R. of Ballyforan is the Seat of Mr. Kelly; and near a Mile on the L. Muckland, the beautiful Seat of Mr. Kelly.

On the R. of Ballynamore, is Ballybawn, the Seat of Mr. Kelly; and a Mile forward are the Ruins of a Church.

Within half a Mile of Mount-Bellew Bridge, on the R. are the Ruins of a Church.

At Bellew-Bridge there are very good Flour-Mills, and noted Fairs for Cattle.

On the L. of Bellew-Bridge, is Mount-Bellew, the Seat of Michael Bellew, Esq; and a little beyond it, Hill, the Seat of Mr. French.

Within a Mile and a half of Newtown-Bellew, on the L. are the Ruins of Castle Bellew.

Half a Mile beyond Newtown-Bellew, on the R. near the Church, are the Ruins of Moylagh Castle.

Three Miles beyond Newtown-Bellew, on the L. is Windfield, the Seat of Mr. Blake; and about a Mile, on the R. Corebo, that of Mr. Browne.

Six Miles beyond Newtown-Bellew, on the L. are the Ruins of a Castle; and a Mile further, on the L. the Ruins of a Church; opposite to which, and distant about half a Mile, is Castle-Moyle, the Seat of Mr. Deane.

Within a Mile and a half of Tuam, on the R. is Bermingham, a Seat of the Earl of Louth; and at Tuam, on the R. is the archiepiscopal Palace; and on the L. the Seat of Mr. Coleman.

A Mile beyond Tuam, on the R. is Ballygaddy, the Seat of Mr. Kirwan; and Friendly Quarters, Mr. Kirwan's.—About half a Mile, on the L. are the Ruins of a Church.

Four Miles and a half beyond Tuam, on the R. are the Ruins of a Castle; and near them, is Castle-grove, the Seat of Mr. Blake.

One Mile beyond, on the L. is Newborough, the Seat of Mr. Lynch; and a Mile forward, Blenwell, the Seat of Mr. Kirwan.

Within 2 Miles of Kilglaffan, on the R. are the Ruins of a Castle; and about a Mile, on the L. is Cloghan-Castle, the Seat of Mr. Lane; and Trim-Castle, that of Mr. Kirwan.

Within half a Mile of Kilglaffan, on the R. are the Ruins of Cary Castle.

Near a Mile beyond Kilglaffan, on the R. is Creaghduff, the Seat of Mr. Burke; and a Mile further, are the Ruins of a Church.

At Hollymount, on the R. is the Seat of Mr. Lindlay; and Lehinch, that of Henry Blake, Esq; about half a Mile from which is Bloomfield, the fine Seat of Thomas Rutledge, Esq.

One Mile beyond Hollymount, on the L. are the Ruins of Robin Castle.

Four Miles beyond Hollymount, on the L. is Newbrook, the elegant and delightful Seat of C. Bingham, Esq.

Within two Miles and a half of Balcarra, and a Mile on the L. is Clogher the fine Seat of Peter Lynch Esq.

Within a Mile and half of Balcarra, on the R. are the Ruins of two Castles; and one Mile from Balcarra, is Mil-town, the Seat of Henry Blake, Esq.

At Balcarra, on the R. is the Seat of the Rev. Charles Boynes; and half a Mile beyond Balcarra, is Elm-Hall, the Seat of the Rt. Hon. James Cuffe, situated near the Church.

Two Miles and a half beyond Balcarra, on the R. is Tallyho, the Seat of Mr. Cuffe; and near a Mile from it, Rock-land, the Seat of Mr. Ellison.

At Castlebar, on the L. near the Church, is the Charter School.—On the R. are the fine Seats of Lord Lucan, and Mr. Ellison; and on the L. is Mount-Gordon, the Seat of Mr. Garden.

Eight Miles beyond Castlebar, on the L. is a Church, hastening to Decay.—Near it, on the same Side, is Nephin Mountain, one of the most remarkable in the Kingdom: And on the R. is a large Lake, eight or ten Miles long, called Lough-Conn.

Eleven Miles and a half beyond Castlebar, on the R. is Castle-Hill, the Seat of Mr. Mc. Cormick; and about a Mile and a half further, Prospect, the Seat of Mr. Jackson; half a Mile to the R. of which are the Ruins of a Castle.

Within half a Mile of Crossmaliney, on the R. is Mullinmore, the Seat of Mr. Cormick, pleasantly situated on the Edge of Lough Conn: And on the R. of Crossmaliney, is Gortnar-Abbey, the Seat of Mr. Ormsby, situated in the like manner.

On the L. of Crossmaliney, near the Church, are the Ruins of a Castle.

One Mile beyond Crossmaliney, and near a Mile on the R. is Newtown-Gore, the Seat of Mr. Gore, but inhabited by the Right Hon. James Cuffe, Esq.

Near 5 Miles beyond Crossmaliney, on the L. is Rappa, the fine Seat of Mr. Knox.

Six Miles beyond Crossmaliney, on the R. is Ballybrany, the Seat of Mr. Fallon; and about half a Mile, on the L. Farragh, the Seat of Mr. Palmer.

About a Mile to the L. of Farragh, is Ranadyff, the Seat of Mr. Gardner.

At Killala, on the R. is the Seat of the Bishop of that Place.

DUBLIN to Headford.

|                           |                |                 |
|---------------------------|----------------|-----------------|
| Tuam , as in p. 78 | —              | 93              |
| Castle Hacket             | $4\frac{1}{2}$ | $97\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Headford                  | $5\frac{1}{2}$ | 103             |

At Castle-Hacket, on the R. is the Seat of John Kirwan, Esq; and nearly opposite to it, at the Foot of a Hill, are the Ruins of a Castle.

Three Miles beyond Castle-Hacket, on the R. a little beyond Galway Road, is a Church.

Within a Mile of Headford, on the R. is Lodge, a beautiful Seat of Mr. Shaw.

DUBLIN to Castlereagh and Ballaghy, by Athlone.

|                              |                 |   |                  |
|------------------------------|-----------------|---|------------------|
| Athlone , as in p. 74 | }               | — | $59\frac{1}{2}$  |
| Roscommon             |                 |   |                  |
| Ballymurry                   | $10\frac{1}{4}$ |   | $69\frac{3}{4}$  |
| Roscommon             | 5               |   | $74\frac{3}{4}$  |
| Castlereagh                  | $13\frac{1}{2}$ |   | $88\frac{1}{4}$  |
| Loughlin                     | $4\frac{3}{4}$  |   | 93               |
| Ballaghy, Sligo       | $12\frac{1}{4}$ |   | $105\frac{1}{4}$ |

On the R. of Athlone, seated on the River Shannon, is the Charter School. At Athlone, there is a very considerable Eel Fishery.

Three Miles and three Quarters from Athlone, on the R. is New-Park, the Seat of Captain Lyfter; and about a Mile beyond it, still further on the R. is Kilmore, the fine Seat of Major Waller, situated on the River Shannon; and near 2 miles from it, on the L. are the Ruins of Ardmillen.

Along here is a very fine View of the Shannon, which above Athlone swells into a large Lake, extending in Length to Lanchborough; and in some Places is 4 or 5 Miles in Breadth. It is called Lough Ree, and is interspersed all over with many Islands, well covered with Wood, and there is good Grazing for Cattle on all of them.

Seven Miles from Athlone, on the R. is Gort, the Seat of Mr. Doyle; and 2 Miles beyond are Kellybrooke, Churchborough, and Scregge, the Seats of the Mr. Kelly's; and Sandfield, the Seat of Mr. Sandys.

Within 2 Miles of Roscommon, on the L. is Moat, the elegant Seat of Sir Marcus Lowther Crofton, Bart. and Marlin's-Town, that of Mr. Davys.

Near Roscommon, on the L. are the Ruins of an Abbey, also large Ruins of a Castle.

Two Miles and a half beyond Roscommon, on the R. are the Ruins of a Church; and near it, is Clover-Hill, the Seat of David Latouche, Esq.

About half a Mile on the L. of Clover-Hill, is Ardmore, the Seat of Mr. Croghan; and near it, on the opposite Side of the River Suck, is Dunamon, the Seat of Mr. Caulfield.

A Mile and a half beyond Clover-Hill, on the L. are the Ruins of a Castle; and nearly opposite, Runnimede, the Seat of Mr. Fallon; and High-Lake, Mr. Fallon's.

About a Mile on the L. of Highlake, is Emlough, the Seat of Mr. McDermot; and on the other Side of the River Suck, is Glinsk, the Seat of Sir John Burke, Bart.

Near a Mile on the R. of Glinsk, is Oran, the Seat of R. Malone, Esq.

A Mile beyond Oran, on the R. is Ash-Park, the Seat of Mr. Lyfter; and on the L. are the Ruins of a Castle.

About a Mile on the L. is Lebag, the Seat of Mr. Irvine; Daudermot, the Seat of Mr. Owens; and Durry, that of Mr. Bagot.

Near a Mile and a half from Durry, on the L. near Ballintobber, are remarkable Ruins, formerly the Residence of some of the Princes of Connaught; half a Mile from which, on the R. is Wills-Grove, the Seat of Mr. Wells.

At Castlereagh, on the R. is the Seat of Mr. Sandiord; and on the L. are the Seats of Messrs. Young, and Magrath.

About a Mile beyond Castlereagh, on the R. are the Ruins of a Church.

Four Miles and a half from Castlereagh, on the R. is Lough-Glin, the fine Seat of Lord Dillon; 2 Miles beyond which, on the L. are the Ruins of a Church; and 3 Miles farther, on the R. those of a Castle.

Within 3 Miles of Ballaghy, on the R. is Cloonmore, the fine Seat of Mr. Phillips; and on the L. are the Ruins of a Castle.

On the R. of Ballaghy, are the Ruins of a Barrack.

DUBLIN to Ballinrobe, by Dunmore and Hollymount.

|                          |                 |                  |
|--------------------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Ballynamore, as in p. 78 | —               | 74 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Kilkerrin                | 9               | 83 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Dunmore                  | 7 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 91 $\frac{1}{4}$ |

Dunmacreen, Mayo

4 $\frac{1}{2}$  96

Ballindine

3 $\frac{1}{4}$  90 $\frac{1}{4}$

Hollymount

7 $\frac{1}{4}$  107 $\frac{1}{4}$

Ballinrobe *

4 $\frac{1}{2}$  111 $\frac{1}{2}$

* See another Road to Ballinrobe, p. 85.

There is a Road from Newtown-Bellew to Dunmore, said to be shorter than the above. There is also a Road by Athleague to Dunmore.

On the R. of Ballynamore is Ballybawne, the Seat of Mr. Kelly; and a Mile further are the Ruins of a Church.

Five Miles and a half from Ballynamore, on the L. is New-Forest, the Seat of Mr. Darcy; and 2 Miles beyond is Fidane, the Seat of Mr. Kelly.

Near two Miles beyond Kilkerrin, on the R. is Clondowel, the Seat of Mr. Blake; and a Mile further, are the Ruins of a Castle; and half a Mile further, other Ruins.

At Dunmore, on the R. is a fine Seat of the Earl of Ros.

Near three Miles beyond Dunmore, on the L. are the Ruins of a Church; and almost 2 Miles further, on the L. is Dalygan, the Seat of Mr. Birmingham; and on the R. is Dunmacreen, the Seat of Xaverius Blake, Esq.

One Mile and a half beyond Ballindine, on the R. is Castle Mount-Garret, the Seat of D. G. Browne, Esq; and about half a Mile to the L. are the Ruins of a Castle, seated on the Banks of a River.

Five Miles beyond Ballindine, on the L. are the Ruins of a Church; and half a Mile to the R. is Bouillybeg, the Seat of Mr. Crean.

A Mile beyond Mr. Crean's Seat, on the L. are the Ruins of a Church; and half a Mile further, on the R. is Lehinch, the Seat of Mr. Blake.

About a Mile and a half on the R. of Hollymount, are the Ruins of a once strong Castle.

On the R. of Ballinrobe, is Creagh, the fine Seat of Mr. Cuffe.

There are at Ballinrobe the Ruins of a once celebrated Abbey; and near them is a Charter-School, situated near the Banks of Lough Shy.

DUBLIN to Castlebar, by Dunmore.

|                         |                 |                   |
|-------------------------|-----------------|-------------------|
| Ballindine, as in p. 84 | —               | 99 $\frac{1}{4}$  |
| Clare                   | 3 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 102 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Ball                    | 4 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 107 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Castlebar               | 7               | 114 $\frac{1}{2}$ |

At Clare is Claremont, the Seat of the Hon. George Browne.

At Ball, on the L. is Moat, the Seat of Sir H. L. Blosset, Bart. and about half a Mile from it, Browne-Hall, the Seat of Mr. Browne.

Two Miles beyond Manilla, on the L. is Breaſy, the Seat of Mr. Browne.

At Castlebar, on the R. is the fine Seat of Lord Lucan.

DUBLIN to Ballinrobe, by Tuam.

|                   |                  |                   |
|-------------------|------------------|-------------------|
| Tuam, as in p. 78 | —                | 93                |
| Kilmain, Mayo     | 11 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 104 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Ballinrobe        | 4 $\frac{1}{4}$  | 108 $\frac{3}{4}$ |

A Mile and a half from Kilmain, on the R. is Turin, the fine Seat of Mr. Kirwan.

Beyond Kilmain, two Miles to the L. is the Neale, the superb and beautiful Seat of Sir John Browne, Bart.

Within 3 Miles of Ballinrobe, on the R. is Ellis-Town, the Seat of Mr. Browne; and opposite to it are the Ruins of a Castle. There are also the Ruins of a Church, at about a Mile distant; and those of a Castle within 2 Miles of Ballinrobe, on the R.

DUBLIN to Galway, by Monivea.

|                          |                 |                   |
|--------------------------|-----------------|-------------------|
| Ballynamore, as in p. 78 | —               | 74 $\frac{1}{2}$  |
| Caltragh                 | 4 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 79                |
| Castle-Blakeney          | 1 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 80 $\frac{1}{4}$  |
| Menlough                 | 3 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 83 $\frac{3}{4}$  |
| Monivea                  | 5 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 89 $\frac{1}{4}$  |
| Galway                   | 13              | 102 $\frac{1}{4}$ |

Two Miles from Ballynamore, on the L. is Clougher, the Seat of Mr. French.

Three Miles and a half from Ballynamore, on the R. is Alecant, the Seat of the Rev. Mr. Seaton.

Half a Mile beyond Castle-Blakeney, on the L. is Ashfield, the Seat of Mr. Blakeney.

Two Miles beyond Castle-Blakeney, and a Mile from the Road, on the L. is Bunrea, the Seat of Mr. Davies; and on the R. Fair-Hill, the Seat of Mr. French; and on the L. Munnine, that of Mr. French.

A Mile and a half beyond Menlough, on the L. is Colman's-Town, the Seat of Mr. French; and near a Mile from it, are the Ruins of a Castle.

Within 2 Miles of Monivea, on the L. is Corindo, the Seat of the Rev. Mr. Marsh; and about two Miles from it, on the R. is Abbert, the Seat of Mr. Blakeney.

Within a Mile of Monivea, on the L. is the fine Seat of Mr. French; and about a Mile and a half to the R. of Monivea, are the Ruins of a Castle.

Monivea was built, and a Linen Manufacture established in it, and the Neighbourhood, by the late Robert French, Esq; who also made great Improvements about it by Agriculture and Planting.

About 2 Miles from Monivea, on the R. is Carrorea, the Seat of Mr. French; and on the L. is Park, the Seat of Mr. Burke.

A Mile beyond Park, on the L. close to the Road, is Cuffane, the Seat of Mr. Parker; and near a Mile from it, on the L. are the Ruins of a Castle.

Two Miles and a half beyond Monivea, on the L. are the Ruins of a Castle.

—Two Miles further, are the Ruins of another Castle; and from three to five Miles further, on the R. are the Ruins of three more Castles.

Within a Mile and a half of Galway, on the L. is Ballyboghnan, the Seat of Dr. Joice; and near it is Lynch's Folly, that of Mr. Darcy.

To Newtown Bellew, by Ballynasloe.

|                          |                 |                  |
|--------------------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Ballynasloe, as in p. 75 | —               | 71 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Ahaferagh                | 6 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 78 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Caltragh                 | 3 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 82               |
| Mount-Bellew Bridge      | 3 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 85 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Newtown Bellew           | 2 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 87 $\frac{1}{2}$ |

A Mile and a Quarter from Ballinasloe, is Garbally, the fine Seat with extensive Demesnes, of W. P. K. Trench, Esq. Within a Mile of Ahascragh, on the L. is Low-Ville, the Seat of Mr. Lowe. Near 2 Miles beyond Ahascragh, on the L. is Clonbrock, the Seat of R. Dillon, Esq.

At Mount-Bellew-Bridge, are Flour-Mills, belonging to Michael Bellew, Esq. of Mount Bellew.

About a Mile beyond Mount-Bellew Bridge, on the L. is Hill, the Seat of Mr. French; and near a Mile beyond are the Ruins of a Castle.

At Newtown-Bellew is a House belonging to Sir Patrick Bellew, Bart.

DUBLIN to Loughrea, by Shannon Bridge.

|                         |                 |                  |
|-------------------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Kilbeggan, as in p. 75  | —               | 44 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Lifimyny, King's County | 2 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 46 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Clara                   | 2               | 48 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Ballycumber             | 2 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 51 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Fearbane                | 5 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 57               |
| Shannon-Bridge, Galway  | 8               | 65               |
| Ballinasloe             | 6 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 71 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Aghrim                  | 3 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 75               |
| Loughrea                | 11              | 86               |

At Kilbeggan, on the L. is the beautiful Seat of Mr. Lambert.

One Mile beyond Kilbeggan, on the R. are the Ruins of Moycathill Castle; and a Mile further, on the L. situated on the Broina River, near Lifimyny, is Bleachfield, the Seat of Mr. Armstrong.

A Mile beyond Lifimyny, on the L. are the Ruins of a Castle; and near them is Kilcoursey, the Seat of D. Baggo, Esq.

On the R. of Clara is the Seat of Mr. Armstrong; and on the L. are the Ruins of Erry Castle.

A Mile beyond Clara, on the R. is Boulart, the Seat of Mr. Telford; a Mile further, Prospect, the Seat of Mr. Holmes; on the R. of Ballycumber, that of George Armstrong, Esq.; on the L. Castletown, the Seat of Mr. Wetherall; and on the R. Twilnam, the Seat of Mr. Armstrong.

A Mile beyond Ballycumber, on the R.

is the Church; and half a Mile on the R. Ballard, the Seat of the Rev. Mr. Muilert.

Two Miles from Ballycumber, on the R. is Castle-Armstrong, the Seat of Mr. Armstrong; and a little beyond, on the L. are the Ruins of Lemanaghan Church; and on the R. those of a Castle.

Within a Mile and a half of Fearbane, on the L. are the Ruin of Killeolgan Castle; and a Mile further, the Ruins of Cool Castle; opposite to which, near a Mile, but within half a Mile of Fearbane, is Kincor, the Seat of Mr. Jessop; and Ballylin, that of Mr. King.

On the L. of Fearbane, is Gallan, the Seat of Andrew Armstrong, Esq.

One Mile and a half beyond Fearbane, on the R. is Moyclare, the Seat of Mr. Lowther; and a Mile from it, on the L. Killygally, that of the Rev. Mr. Coghlan; and Ballysheal, that of Mr. Judge.

Three Miles beyond Fearbane, and one Mile to the L. from the Road, is Strawberry-Hill, the Seat of Thomas Coghlan, Esq.; and near it are the Ruins of Clonony Castle. There are also the Ruins of two more Castles on the R. and of another on the L. near Moy-Town, the Seat of Mr. Lestrangle; and Bellmont, that of Mr. Holmes.

Six Miles from Fearbane, and a Mile to the L. on the River Shannon, is Derry-Holmes, the Sea of Mr. Holmes.

About 2 Miles to the L. of Shannon-Bridge, is a handsome Seat of the Bishop of Clonsfert; and at Shannon-Bridge, is the Seat of Mr. Lynch.

Two Miles and a half beyond Shannon-Bridge, on the L. is Carrine, the Seat of Mr. Potts.

Within a Mile and a half of Ballinasloe, on the L. is Fort-William, the Seat of Mr. Landcaster; and Suckville, that of Mr. Lynch.

A Mile and a half beyond Ballinasloe, on the R. is Garbally, the fine Seat of W. P. K. Trench, Esq.

At Aghrim and at Kilcormodon Hill, was fought, the 12th of July, 1691, the famous Battle between Gen. Ginkle and Monsieur St. Ruth, wherein the latter was killed, and his Army totally defeated.

On the R. of Aghrim are the Ruins of an Abbey; and near it is the Seat of Mr. Kane.

Two Miles beyond Aghrim, and half a Mile to the R. is Newcastle, the Seat of Mr. Davis; and near it, Oatfield, that of Anthony Brabazon, Esq.

Two Miles farther, on the L. is Ballydonnellan, the Seat of Mr. Donnellan; and near 2 Miles forward is Newgrove, that of Mr. Blake.

One Mile beyond Newgrove, on the R. are the Ruins of a Castle; and two Miles farther, on the L. is Ballydugan, the Seat of Mr. Burke; near which, on the R. are the Ruins of a Church; on the L. more Church Ruins; and near a Mile further, on the R. the Ruins of a Castle.

DUBLIN to Galway and Oughterard, by Banagher.

|                                                                |                 |                   |
|----------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------|-------------------|
| New Inn, as in p. 59, }Meath                               |                 | 20                |
| Johnstown Bridge, }Kildare                                 | 1               | 21                |
| Castle-Carbery                                                 | 4 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 25 $\frac{3}{4}$  |
| Edenderry, King's Co.                                          | 3 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 29                |
| Philipstown                                                    | 9 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 38 $\frac{1}{2}$  |
| Ballinagar                                                     | 2 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 41                |
| Tullamore                                                      | 5               | 46                |
| Pallas Inn                                                     | 5               | 51                |
| Frankford*                                                     | 4 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 55 $\frac{3}{4}$  |
| Cloghan                                                        | 6 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 62                |
| Banagher†                                                      | 4 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 66 $\frac{1}{2}$  |
| Cross the Shannon, }and enter Co. Gal-way by Eyrecourt | 5 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 71 $\frac{3}{4}$  |
| Kilmure Bridge                                                 | 6 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 78 $\frac{1}{2}$  |
| Loughrea†                                                      | 9 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 88                |
| Craghwell Bridge                                               | 6               | 94                |
| Drammore                                                       | 7 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 101 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Galway                                                         | 4 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 106 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Drameong                                                       | 6 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 113               |
| Oughterard                                                     | 6 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 119 $\frac{3}{4}$ |

* Another Road from Frankford

to Banagher is by going near Eglish, and then keeping to the Right. It is something nearer than by Cloghan.

† To Loughrea by Fallinastoe is 2 Miles shorter than by Banagher: Post-chaises may also be procured on that, but not on the Banagher Road. There is a Stage-Coach to Banagher, and one to Birr.

Near Johnstown Bridge, on the L. is Johnstown, the Seat of Mr. John-son.

About 2 Miles and a half beyond Johnstown Bridge, on the R. is Clonkeirn, the Seat of Mr. Birman; and about half a Mile further, on the R. is Myler's-Town Tower.

On the L. of Castle-Carbery, is Newbury, the fine Seat of Lord Harberton; and nearly opposite to it is the Charter-School; and a Quarter of a Mile to the R. are the Ruins of a large Castle, seated on a Hill, formerly the Residence of the Cowley Family.

A Mile and a half beyond Castle-Carbery, on the R. is Williamstown, the Seat of Mr. Williams.

Two Miles and a half beyond Edenderry, and near a Mile on the L. is Ballykillen, the Seat of Mr. Cartland; and near it, Ballylacken, that of Mr. Payne; and on the R. Lumville, that of Mr. Cane.—Near a Mile and a half on the L. are the Ruins of Ballynakill Church.

Six Miles and a half beyond Edenderry, on the R. is Springfield, the fine Seat of Mr. Lucas; and a Mile beyond it, on the L. is Mount Lucas, the Seat of John Lucas, Esq.

Two Miles to the L. of Ballinagar, is Geashill, where there is a Castle, belonging to Lord Digby; and near it is the Seat of the Rev. Dean Digby.

Three Miles beyond Ballinagar, on the R. are the Ruins of a Church; and nearly opposite, is Capancur, the Seat of Mr. Cammon, situated on a Hill.

Near a Mile beyond Tullamore, on the R. are the Ruins of a Castle; and a Mile further, is Charleville, the Seat of the late Earl of Charleville, but now of Mr. Bury.—Opposite to it is Merryfield, the Seat of Mr. Croiton.

Three Miles beyond Tullamore, on the R. by the Side of the Clara Road, is Scraggin, the Seat of Mr. Briscoe.

Within half a Mile of Pallas Inn, on the L. is the Seat of Edward Malone, Esq; and about half a Mile to the L. Mount Pleasant, that of Mr. O'Connor.

About a Quarter of a Mile beyond Pallas Inn, on the R. are the Ruins of a Castle; and a Mile farther to the R. is Dirramore, the Seat of Mr. Conroy.—There are the Ruins of four more Castles on either Side, before you reach Frankford.

On the R. of Frankford are the Seats of Mr. Briscoe, and Mr. Daulhat; and good Flour Mills belonging to the latter Gentleman.

One Mile beyond Frankford, on the L. is Broghill Castle, the pleasant Seat of Dr. Daly, situated on the River Silver.

Within a Mile of Cloghan, on the R. are the Ruins of a Church; and 3 Miles beyond Cloghan, are those of a Castle, on the Side of Moystown Road.

Within half a Mile of Banagher, on the R. is Cubo, the Seat of D. B. Daly, Esq; at the Foot of a Hill.

One Mile beyond Banagher, on the opposite Side of the Shannon, is Ash Grove, the Seat of Mr. Armstrong; and Cogan, that of Mr. Coolaghan.

Two Miles beyond Banagher, on the L. is Killnaborris, the Seat of Mr. Maddins; and a Mile and a half beyond, on the R. are the Ruins of a Castle; and on the L. is Lismore-Castle, the Seat of Anthony Daly, Esq.

At Eyre-Court on the L. near the Church, is the fine Seat of Lord Eyre, with ample Demelines; and near a Mile from it, further to the L. is Prospect, the Seat of Mr. French.

Near 2 Miles beyond Eyre-Court, on the L. is Faghy, the Seat of Mr. LeStrange; and on the R. Moorfield, that of Mr. Blake.—A Mile and a half to the L. are the Ruins of a Castle.

Three Miles beyond Eyre-Court, on the R. is Queenborough, the Seat of the Earl of Louth; and about two Miles to the L. is Heathlawn, that of Mr. Hamilton, near the Ruins of a Castle.

At Killymure Bridge are the Ruins of a Church; and near them is Heronbrook, the Seat of Mr. Heron.

A Mile beyond Killymure Bridge, on the R. is Ramore, the Seat of Mr. Browne; and near 2 Miles to the L. Nutgrove, the Seat of Mr. Donnellan; and Liffduff, that of Mr. Kelly.

Near three Miles beyond Killymure Bridge, on the R. are the Ruins of a Castle; a Mile to the L. is Dirry, the Seat of Mr. French; and on the R. Fox-Hall, that of Mr. Burke.

Within 4 Miles and a half of Loughrea, on the R. is Iniskelly, the Seat of Mr. Burke; on the L. are the Ruins of two Castles; and Clonbain, the Seat of Mr. Molloy; and on the R. Carha, the Seat of Mr. Ward; and Ballydugan, that of William Burke, Esq.

Within 2 Miles of Loughrea, on the R. are the Ruins of a Church; on the L. is Summer-Hill, the Seat of Mr. Perrie; and Mount-Pleasant, that of Mr. Daly.

At Loughrea is a beautiful Lake, more than a Mile in Length, and nearly one in breadth, from which the Town derives its Name.

On the R. of Loughrea, is Rathruddy Castle, the Seat of Mr. Kelly.—Many Ruins of Castles are to be seen hereabouts on every Side, too numerous to be particularized, and too visible Monuments of the corroding Teeth of Time, to require the additional Aid of a Writer, to rouse the most torpid Soul to various Reflections on the Weakness of all human things.

Within 2 Miles of Craghwell Bridge, lying a Mile from the Road, on the L. is Ballymanagh, the fine Seat of Mr. Blake.

On the R. of Craghwell Bridge, are the Seats of Mr. Burke and Mr. Rathburne.

Near 2 Miles beyond Craghwell Bridge, on the R. is Rockfield, the Seat of Mr. Burke; and about a Mile and a half to the L. is Lavally, the Seat of Mr. Lynch; and Moyvilly Castle, that of Mr. Vandeleur.

Within a Mile of Oranmore, on the R. is Frenchford, the Seat of Mr. French; and on the L. are the Ruins of a Castle. There are many more Ruins from Oranmore to Galway.

At Oranmore is the Castle, belonging to Xaverius Blake, Esq.

Within a Mile of Galway, on the R. is Ballyboghnan, the Seat of Dr. Joice; and Lynch's Folly, that of Mr. D'Arcy.

Near 2 Miles beyond Galway, on the R. is Menlogh, the Seat of Sir Patrick Blake, Bart. and Dangin, that of R. Martin, Esq.—On the L. is Rahoon, the Seat of Mr. French.

Two Miles beyond Galway, on the R. is Bushy Park, the Seat of Mr. French; Kentville, that of Mr. Martin; Eyrefield, that of Mr. Eyre; and a Mile on the L. Woodstock, the Seat of R. Kent, Esq.

Two Miles further, on the R. is Moycullen, the Seat of Mr. French; beyond that is Drumcong, Kilkelly, and Oghera, belonging to the Lynch's.

Nine Miles beyond Galway, on the R. situated near a Lough, and the Ruins of a Church, is Rois, the Seat of Mr. Martin.

Within 2 Miles of Oughterard, on the L. are the Ruins of a Church; and on the R. those of a Castle.

Within a Mile and a half of Oughterard, on the R. is Portacairn, the Seat of Mr. French, situated near Lough Corrib; and a little farther, on the same Side, is Lemonfield, the Seat of Sir John O'Faherty, Bart.

The Road from Galway to Oughterard is mostly in sight of Lough Corrib; which is a large Sheet of Water, near 20 Miles long, and in some Places five or six broad. The Country round it is rocky, wild, and mountainous.

At Galway, in the River which runs from Lough Corrib, is a very considerable Salmon Fishery: And in Galway Bay are Fisheries of Herrings, Cod, Hake, Mackarel, &c. There are between two and three hundred Fishing-Boats belonging to the Town. Galway was one of the strongest Towns in the Kingdom. It held out some Time against General Ginckle, who invested and took it after the Battle of Aghrim. Its Fortifications were then repaired. The Walls are flanked by Battions, and are mostly entire.—See a further Account of it p. 78.

DUBLIN to Ennis, by Loughrea.

|                         |                 |  |                   |
|-------------------------|-----------------|--|-------------------|
| To Loughrea, by Bal-    |                 |  |                   |
| linasloe, as in p. 87 } | —               |  | 86                |
| Kilcrist                | 3               |  | 89                |
| Gort                    | 9               |  | 98                |
| Tubberdonny             | 4 $\frac{1}{4}$ |  | 102 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Crusheen, Clare  | 3 $\frac{1}{2}$ |  | 105 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| ENNIS                   | 6 $\frac{3}{4}$ |  | 112 $\frac{1}{2}$ |

Near 2 Miles from Loughrea, on the L. is the pleasant Seat of Curheen, belonging to Mr. Loftus; and a Mile further, on the L. are the Ruins of a Castle.

One Mile and a half beyond Kilcrist, on the R. is Roxborough, the Seat of Mr. Perffe; and about a Mile on the L. are the Ruins of a Castle, near Killinan Church.

Three Miles and a half beyond Kilcrist, on the L. is Corbally, the Seat of Mr. Blake; and a Mile further, on the R. are the Ruins of two Castles, and a Church; and on the L. the Ruins of a Church.

Within 2 Miles of Gort, on the L. is Annagh, the Seat of Mr. Burke.

Near a Mile on the L. of Gort, is Rhyn-difen, the Seat of Prendergast Smyth, Esq.

On the L. of Ratorp, is Ashfield, the Seat of Mr. Foster; on the R. the Seat of Mr. Foster; and about a Mile on the L. Craig, that of Mr. Butler, situated near the Ruins of a Castle.

Near a Mile beyond Ratorp, on the R. are the Ruins of a Castle.

Three Miles beyond Tubberdonny, on the R. seated near the Foot of a Hill, are the Ruins of a Castle.

A Mile beyond Crusheen, on the L. are the Ruins of a Castle, near the Side of a Lough which nearly furrounds them.

Three Miles beyond Crusheen, on the L. is Drumquin, the pleasant Seat of Mr. Crow, situated near the Ruins of a Castle; and about a Mile on the R. is Nutfield, the Seat of Mr. Crow.

On the L. of Ennis is Lifford, the Seat of Mr. England; and in the Town of Ennis is the Seat of Lord Chief Justice Paterlon.—Ennis hath a Barrack for two Companies of Foot.

DUBLIN to Athenry, by Loughrea.

|                       |   |                 |                  |
|-----------------------|---|-----------------|------------------|
| Loughrea, by Banagher | } | —               | 88               |
| as in p. 89           |   |                 |                  |
| Riverstown            |   | 4               | 92               |
| Athenry               |   | 5 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 97 $\frac{1}{4}$ |

N. B. This Road to Galway is two Miles longer than the direct Road if you go into the Town of Athenry; but by leaving it on your Right, and going by Newford, it is only a Mile longer than by Craghwell.

One Mile from Loughrea, on the R. is Rathruddy Castle, the Seat of Mr. Kelly; and near it are the Ruins of a Castle.

Near 3 Miles beyond Loughrea, on the L. are the Ruins of a Church; and a Mile to the R. is Dunandle, the magnificent and beautiful Seat of the Right Hon. Dennis Daly, Esq; near which are the Ruins of a Castle, finely situated amidst a Plantation of Trees.

Opposite to Dunandle is Isserclaran, the Seat of Mr. Burke; and near it, both on the R. and L. are Ruins of Castles.

Three Miles beyond Riverstown, and a Mile to the R. is Eskar Houle, situated on a lofty Hill, the fine Seat of Mr. Daly.

Within half a Mile of Athenry, on the L. is Newford, the fine Seat of Mr. Browne.

Athenry hath a Barrack for 3 Companies of Foot.—See a further Account of it, p. 78.

DUBLIN to Birr and Portumna.

|                        |   |                  |                  |
|------------------------|---|------------------|------------------|
| Frankford, as in p. 89 | } | —                | 55 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Eglisli                |   |                  |                  |
| Birr                   |   |                  |                  |
| Ferry, near Portumna   |   |                  |                  |
|                        |   | 4 $\frac{3}{4}$  | 60 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
|                        |   | 3 $\frac{1}{4}$  | 63 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
|                        |   | 10 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 74 $\frac{1}{2}$ |

One Mile from Frankford, on the L. is Curraghmore, the Seat of Mr. Robinson; and about half a Mile from it, on the R. David's-Town, the Seat of Mr. Nugent.

Two Miles from Frankford, on the L. is Dog-Hill, the Seat of Mr. Molloy; and about a Mile further to the L. Rath, the Seat of Mr. Clarke.

At Eglisli, on the R. is the Seat of Mr. Berry, near the Church.

On the R. of Birr, is Woodfield, the fine Seat of Sir William Parsons, Bart. and on the L. of the Town is the Seat of the Rev. Edward Synge.

Two Miles beyond Birr, on the R. is Straduff, the Seat of Mr. Antifel; and about a Mile on the L. Derry-laghan, the Seat of Mr. Walsh.

Near 3 Miles beyond Birr, on the R. is Sherra, the Seat of Mr. Talbot; and 3 Miles further, on the L. is Orange, the Seat of Mr. Palmer.—A little farther to the L. are the Ruins of two Castles.

Within a Mile of Portumna Ferry, on the R. is Portland, pleasantly situated on the Shannon, the Seat of Mr. Stoney; and about a Mile and a half from it, on the L. situated in like Manner, is Belle-isle, the Seat of Mr. Yelverton.

At Portumna, on the L. is the Castle, the Seat of the Earl of Clanricarde; and near it are the Ruins of an ancient Castle.—There was formerly a wooden Bridge at Portumna; but being broke down in the Time of War, it hath never been rebuilt.

DUBLIN to Birr, by Killeagh and Ballyboy.

|                          |   |                 |                  |
|--------------------------|---|-----------------|------------------|
| Philipstown, as in p. 89 | } | —               | 38 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Ballinagar               |   |                 |                  |
| Killeigh*                |   |                 |                  |
| Mountbolus               |   |                 |                  |
| Ballyboy†                |   |                 |                  |
| Eglisli                  |   |                 |                  |
| Birr                     |   |                 |                  |
|                          |   | 2 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 41               |
|                          |   | 5 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 46 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
|                          |   | 6 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 53 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
|                          |   | 2 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 56               |
|                          |   | 5 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 61 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
|                          |   | 3 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 65               |

* See another Road to Killeigh, p. 97.

† See another Road to Ballyboy and Frankford hereafter.

On the L. of Philipstown are the Ruins of a Castle.

Two Miles to the L. of Ballinagar, is Geashill, the Seat of the Rev. Dean Digby.

On the L. of Killeigh, is Millbrook, the Seat of Mr. Cooke, who has very good Flour Mills there.

Beyond Killeigh, on the R. are the Ruins of an Abbey.

Within half a Mile of Mountbolus, on the L. are the Ruins of a Castle; and half a Mile beyond, on the R. are more Ruins.

Within half a Mile of Ballyboy, on the L. is Song's-Town, the fine Seat of Mr. Drought.

A Mile beyond Ballyboy, on the L. is Derrinboy, the Seat of Mr. Clarke.

Two Miles and a half from Ballyboy, on the R. is Curraghmore, the Seat of Mr. Robinson; and David's-Town, that of Mr. Nugent.

Three Miles and a half beyond Ballyboy, on the R. is Doghill, the Seat of Mr. Molloy; about a Mile and a half to the L. is Droughtville, the Seat of Thomas Drought, Esq; a Mile from which, to the R. is Rath, the Seat of Mr. Clarke.

At Eglish is the Seat of Mr. Berry.

Birr is a good Post and Market Town, and adorned with a fine Castle of the Family of Parsons, and a Statue of his late Royal Highness the Duke of Cumberland, erected on a Column fifty Feet high.

DUBLIN to Portarlinton and Killeigh, by Celbridge.

|                                               |                 |                  |
|-----------------------------------------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Palmerstown, Dublin                           | —               | 3 $\frac{3}{4}$  |
| Lucan                                         | 2 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 6 $\frac{1}{2}$  |
| Celbridge, Kildare                            | 3 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 9 $\frac{3}{4}$  |
| Clain                                         | 6               | 15 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Or by Straffan $\frac{1}{4}$ of a Mile longer |                 |                  |
| Kilmeague                                     | 6 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 22 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Rathangan                                     | 6               | 28 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Portarlinton, * Queen's Co.                   | 3 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 36 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Clonegowan, King's Co.                        | 3 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 40 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Killeigh                                      | 6 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 46 $\frac{1}{2}$ |

* See another Road to Portarlinton some Pages forward.

Within a Mile of Lucan, on the opposite Side of the Liffey, is Luttrell's Town, the fine Seat of Lord Carhampton. Its Domain is upwards of four hundred Acres within the Wall. In the Front of the House is a fine Lawn, bounded by rich Woods, through which are many Ridings, four Miles in Extent. From the Road towards the House, they lead through a very fine Glen, by the Side of a Stream falling over a rocky Bed, through the dark Woods, with great Variety on the Sides of steep Slopes, at the Bottom of which the Liffey is either heard or seen indistinctly.—These Woods are of great Extent, and so near the Capital, form a Retirement exceedingly beautiful.

At Lucan, on the Banks of the Liffey, is the fine Seat of the Right Hon. Agmondisham Vesey. The House has been lately rebuilt, and is very handsome. The Wood on the River, with Walks through it, is an excellent Place for Contemplation. The Character of this Seat is that of a sequestered Shade. Distant Views are every where shut out, and the Objects all perfectly correspond with the Impression they were designed to raise. It is a Walk on the Banks of a River, chiefly under the Variety of fine Wood, which rises on various Slopes, in some Parts gently, in others steep; spreading here and there into cool Meadows; on the opposite Shore, rich Banks of Wood, or shrubby Ground. The River is of a Character suited to the rest of the Scenery, in some Places breaking over Rocks, in others silent, under the thick Shade of spreading Wood.

Two Miles beyond Lucan, on the L. is Stacumnie, the Seat of Sir Michael Cromie, Bart. and on the R. is St. Woolstan's, a Seat of the Bishop of Killaloe.

Within a Mile of Celbridge, on the R. is Castle-Town, a most magnificent Edifice, with very extensive and beautiful Parks, Demesnes and Plantations, the Seat of the Right Hon. Thomas Conolly.

Celbridge is a very handsome Town, situated on the Banks of the Liffey, over which is a fine Stone Bridge. The Church is a very neat Structure, adorned with a very noble Monument belonging to the Conolly Family. In the Neighbourhood are several handsome Seats and fine Improvements, among which the Liffey meanders in a beautiful Manner, giving an Air of Sprightliness to the whole.

On the R. of Celbridge is the Seat of Colonel Marlay; and near a Mile beyond the Town, on the L. Killadown, the Seat of Lord Leitrim, Esq. The House has been built but a few Years, and is extremely handsome. His Plantations near it are also in excellent Order.

Three Miles beyond Celbridge, is Barber's-Town, the Seat of Mr. Carnarvon; and opposite to it, close to the River Liffey, is Lodge-Park, the Seat of Mr. Henry.

One Mile beyond Lodge Park, on the L. is Straffan, the very fine and improved Seat of Joseph Henry, Esq; near it is Irish-Town, the Seat of Mr. Sherlock; and a Mile, on the R. are the Ruins of Richardstown Castle.

Within a Mile of Clain, on the R. is Castle-Browne, the fine Seat of Mr. Browne; and near Clain, on the L. is Vicar-Hall, the Seat of the Rev. Mr. Dilney.

Half a Mile beyond Clain, on the L. is Strawberry-Lodge, the Seat of Mr. Eustace; and about a Mile further to the L. Millecent, the Seat of Mr. Keating.

A Mile beyond Clain, on the L. is Fairmount, the Seat of Mr. Shaw; and near it Killybeg, that of R. Brook, Esq.

On the R. is Prosperous, a Village built in 1780 by Captain Brooke, who hath established here a Cotton Manufactory, which proves fair to be of the greatest national Importance; as it gives Bread to hundreds of poor industrious Families, and hath superseded the Necessity of sending large Sums of Money out of the Kingdom, for Goods we can now manufacture ourselves equally well.

To the L. of Killybegs is Landen's-

Town, the Seat of Mr. Digby; about a Mile from which, is Donore, the Seat of the late Right Honourable Walter Burgh.

Three Miles beyond Clain, on the R. is Downings, the Seat of Mr. Kemey. Within 3 Miles of Kilmeague Church, on the R. is Blackwood, the Seat of Dr. Milton.

One Mile beyond this you cross the Grand Canal.

A Mile beyond the Church at Kilmeague is Allen, from which the famous Bog takes its Name.—From the Tops of Allen and Kildare Hills, large Tracts of the Bog may be discerned. It extends through the King's and Queen's Counties, the Counties of Kildare, Westmeath, Meath, Longford, Roscommon, Galway, and Tipperary.

A Mile beyond Allen, on the L. is Mayfield, the Seat of Mr. Aylmer, situated at the Foot of a high Hill.

Two Miles beyond Allen, on the L. is Wheelam, the Seat of Mr. Clibborn; and near it, is Punch's-Grange, that of Mr. Fitzgerald.

At Rathangan are Flour Mills belonging to Mr. Montgomery; and on the L. of the Town, is the Seat of Samuel Spencer, Esq.

Two Miles beyond Rathangan, on the R. is Keil, the Seat of Mr. Aims; and a Mile further, are the Ruins of a Church.

About four Miles from Rathangan, on the R. is Mill-Grove, the Seat of Mr. Berkley.

A Mile beyond Portarlington, on the L. is Lawnsdown, the Seat of Mr. Gore.

At Clonegowan, on the L. is the fine Seat of Mr. Meredith.

Two Miles beyond Clonegowan, is Ards, the pleasant Seat of Mr. Bagot; a Mile and a half from which is Ballyevil, that of Mr. Cooke; on the L. of which, are the Ruins of a Castle.

DUBLIN to Kildare.

|                        |   |     |
|------------------------|---|-----|
| Kilmeague, as in p. 97 | — | 22½ |
| Rathbride              | 4 | 26½ |
| Kildare*               | 2 | 28½ |

* The direct Road to Kildare is in p. 102.

Four Miles beyond Kilmacague, on the L. is Rathbride, the beautiful Seat of Mr. Steele.

DUBLIN to Kilfenora.

|                       |                  |                   |
|-----------------------|------------------|-------------------|
| Tubberdonny, as in p. | —                | 102 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| 94                    |                  |                   |
| Corrofin              | 1 $\frac{1}{4}$  | 109 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Kilfenora             | 16 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 116               |

Beyond Corrofin on the L. about a Mile, is Inchiquin Lough and Castle, from whence the Earl of Inchiquin derives his Title.

Half a Mile beyond Inchiquin, on the R. is the Church; and on the L. are the Ruins of a Castle.

One Mile from Inchiquin, on the L. is Croft, the Seat of Mr. Lyfaght; and 2 Miles beyond that, on the R. Lemnagh Castle, a Seat of Sir Lucius O'Brien, Bart, situated on a Hill.

DUBLIN to Innistymond and Kilrush.

|                    |                 |                   |
|--------------------|-----------------|-------------------|
| Corrofin, as above | —               | 109 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Innistymond*       | 8 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 118 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Caghryariff        | 6 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 125               |
| Kilmurry-ibrican   | 3 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 128 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Coulyclare         | 8               | 136 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Ballyket           | 4 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 141               |
| Kilrush            | 1               | 142               |

* See another Road to Innistymond p. 112.

A Mile and a half from Corrofin, on the R. is Clifton, the Seat of the Rev. Dr. Columbine.

Two Miles from Corrofin, on the L. is Rock's-Town, the fine Seat of W. Blood, Esq.—On the L. about a Mile, are the Ruins of a Castle, and a Church.

On the R. of Innistymond is the Seat of Edward O'Brien, Esq; and about half a Mile beyond Innistymond, on the L. is Wood-Mount, the Seat of Mr. Lyfaght.

Three Miles beyond Innistymond, on the L. are the Ruins of Moyvora Castle, situated near a fine Plantation belonging to Mr. Fitzgerald.

Two Miles farther, on the L. are the Ruins of a Church; and near a Mile beyond is the Seat of Mr. Cornyn.

One Mile and a half beyond Caghryariff, on the L. is Anagh, the Seat of Mr. Stackpole.

Within a Mile and a half of Coulyclare, on the R. are the Ruins of a Church.

A Mile beyond Coulyclare, on the R. is Gower, the Seat of Mr. Ames, situated on a Hill.

Within half a Mile of Ballyket, on the R. is Elm-Green, the fine Seat of Mr. Hickman.

At Kilrush is the Seat of Crofton Vandeleur, Esq.

DUBLIN to Tralee and Dingle.

|                           |                 |                  |
|---------------------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Racool                    | —               | 7 $\frac{3}{4}$  |
| Croft Keys, Kildare       | 2 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 10 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Kill                      | 2 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 12 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Johnstown                 | 1               | 13 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Nqas                      | 2               | 15 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Newbridge                 | 5 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 20 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Kildare                   | 4               | 24 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Monasterevan              | 5 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 30               |
| Ballybrittas, Queen's Co. | 3               | 33               |
| Emo Inn                   | 1 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 34 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Maryborough               | 5 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 40               |
| Montrath                  | 6 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 46 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Castletown                | 1 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 48 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Burros in Offory          | 5               | 53 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Roscrea, Tipperary        | 6               | 59 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Dunkerrin, King's Co.     | 4 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 63 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Moneygall                 | 2 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 66 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Toomavara, Tipperary      | 3 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 69 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Silvermines               | 7 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 77               |
| Shallee Turnpike          | 1 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 78 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Newport                   | 7 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 86               |
| Annacotty, Limerick       | 5               | 91               |
| LIMERICK                  | 3               | 94               |
| Loughmore                 | 3               | 97               |
| Patrick's-Well            | 2               | 99               |
| Adair                     | 3               | 102              |
| Rathkeale                 | 6               | 108              |

|                  |                  |                   |
|------------------|------------------|-------------------|
| Newcastle        | 6 $\frac{1}{2}$  | 114 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Cloonakenny      | 4                | 118 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Abbyfeale        | 5                | 123 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Liffowell, Kerry | 7 $\frac{1}{2}$  | 131 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Kilfin           | 7 $\frac{1}{2}$  | 138 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Tralee*          | 5 $\frac{1}{4}$  | 144 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Bracklown Inn    | 13 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 158 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Lispole          | 4 $\frac{1}{4}$  | 162 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Dingle           | 3 $\frac{1}{2}$  | 166               |

* See another Road to Tralee, a few Pages forward.

Two Miles and a half from Dublin, on the L. are the Ruins of Drumnough Castle; and a Mile further, on the L. of the Turnpike, are Ballymount Ruins.

Near 5 Miles from Dublin, and half a Mile to the R. is Clondalkin, a small Place, of little Importance in itself, but remarkable for one of those round Towers, so common in the Kingdom, the Use of which has so much puzzled our Antiquaries. It is 84 Feet in Height, and built of Stones, each about a Foot square, forming a Circle of 15 Feet in Diameter; the Walls, are upwards of a Yard thick, and about 15 Feet above the Ground is a Door, without any Steps to ascend to it. The Base is solid; towards the Top are four small oblong Holes which admit the Light, and it is terminated by a conic Covering. There are no Steps in the Inside, and whether there ever were any admits a doubt. If there were, they must have been formed of some perishable Material.—In the Church-Yard near this Tower is a plain Cross, of a Species of white Granite, unpolished. It consists of a single Stone, and it is nine Feet in Height.

Near a Mile from it, on the L. is Newlands, the Seat of Mr. Byrne; and Beilgard, that of Mr. Dillon.

At Corkagh, on the R. is the Seat of Mr. Finlay; and a little farther to the R. are the Powder Mills; nearly opposite to which, on the L. are Chevertstown Ruins.

A Mile and a half beyond Racoole, on the R. is Athgoe, the Seat of Mr. Locke; and near it are the Ruins of a Castle, and Lyons, the beautiful Seat of Michael Aylmer, Esq; situated near the Canal.

Two Miles and a half beyond Racoole, on the L. is Castle-Warden, the Seat of Mr. Wolfe.

A Mile beyond the Cross Key, on the R. is Bishop's-Court, the fine Seat of the Right Hon. John Penlonby.

On the R. of Kill is the Seat of Mr. Sullivan.

On the R. of Johnstown, is Palmerstown, a very superb Edifice, with fine Demesnes the Seat of Lord Mayo.

On the L. is Furnace, the Seat of Richard Neville, Esq; and near it, Forenights, that of J. Wolfe, Esq.

Within half a Mile of Naas, on the R. is Old-Town, the Seat of Thomas Burgh, Esq; and near it are the Flour Mills of Mr. Montgomery.

On the L. of Naas is Craddock's Town, the Seat of Colonel Lufface.

At Naas, on the R. are the Ruins of a Castle; and half a Mile beyond the Town, on the L. are Jigginstown Ruins.

Two Miles and a half beyond Naas, on the L. is Lady-Town, the Seat of Lord Allen; and on the R. are the Seats of Mr. Fitzgerald, Mr. Lawton, and Mrs. Kennedy.

On the L. of Newbridge, near the Seat of Mrs. Poole Eyre, are the Ruins of Great Connell Abbey; formerly one of the most magnificent Buildings of that Kind in this Kingdom.

On the L. of Great Connell Abbey is Role-Town, the Seat of the Right Hon. Theophilus Jones.

One Mile from Newbridge, on the L. is Moorfield, the Seat of the Hon. Ponsonby Moore.

Beyond this the Road runs above two Miles on the Curragh of Kildare, esteemed as fine a Common as any in Europe. It contains near five thousand English Acres, forming one of the most beautiful Lawns imaginable. Nothing can exceed the fatness of the Turf, which is of fine Verdure, and set off by the gentle Swells and Inequalities of its Surface. It lies high; and the Soil is a fine dry Loam, on a gravelly Bottom. It is covered with Flocks of Sheep put on it by the Occupiers of the adjoining Lands, who possess that exclusive Right. There is a Ranger appointed by the King.

At Kildare are the Ruins of two Abbeys, and a Church. A high round Tower is still standing entire.

At Tully, on the L. of Kildare, are the Ruins of an Abbey.

A Mile and a half beyond Kildare, on the L. is Moore-Town, the Seat of Mr. Medlicot; and on the R. are the Ruins of Lackey Castle.

Within 2 Miles of Monasterevan, and about a Mile, on the R. is Mount-Rice, the Seat of Mr. Rice.

On the L. of Monasterevan, is Moore-Abbey, a very superb Edifice and fine Park of the Earl of Drogheda.

Near two Miles beyond Monasterevan, on the L. is Jamestown, the Seat of Mr. Rochfort.

On the R. of Ballybrittas are the Ruins of a Castle; and on the L. is Bell-Grove, the Seat of Mr. Fitzgerald.

At Emo, on the R. is Dawson's Court, the magnificent and fine Seat of Lord Carlow. The principal Beauties of the Place are the well grown and extensive Plantations, which form a most agreeable and pleasing Shade.—There is on the Back-Ground, a Lake well accompanied with Wood, broken by several Islands that are covered with Underwood, and an ornamented Walk on the Banks, which leads from the House. This Lake is in the Season perfectly alive with wild Fowl. Near it is a very beautiful Spot, which commands a View of both Woods and Water, a situation either for a House or a Temple.

A Mile beyond Emo, on the L. is Morrett, the Seat of Mr. Fitzgerald; a Mile further is Rathen Common, that of Mr. Burdit; and on the R. is Shean Castle, that of the Revd. Dean Coote.

On the L. about a Mile, is the Rock of Dunamace, on which are the Ruins of a large Fortification, battered down by Cromwell.

Within a Mile and a Quarter of Maryborough, on the R. is Kilminchy, the Seat of Mr. Fitzgerald; and a little from it, on the L. Summer-Hill, the Seat of Mr. Baldwin.

At Maryborough are the Remains of a Castle, of which there is still a Constable.

Maryborough is so called in Honour of Mary, Queen of England, who reduced this Part of the Country to Shire Ground, by Act of Parliament, 6th and 7th of Philip and Mary. It is governed by a Burgomaster and Bailiff, and hath a Barrack for a Troop of Horse.

Within 2 Miles of Montrath, on the L. is Clonenagh Church.

Within a Mile of Montrath, on the R. is Red Castle, the Seat of Mr. Broom.

One Mile beyond Castletown, on the L. is New-Town, the Seat of Mr. Palmer; and a Mile further, on the R. are the Ruins of a Castle.

At Burros is the Seat of Mr. Stevens; and near a Mile from it, on the R. Spring-Hill, that of Mr. Short.

Near two Miles beyond Burros, on the R. is Raheen, the Seat of Mr. White; and about a Mile further, are the Ruins of Ballaghmore Castle.

Within two Miles of Roscrea, on the L. is Mount-Butler, the Seat of Mr. Cox; within a Mile of Roscrea is Cerville, the Seat of Mr. Mauteil; and nearly opposite to it, about a Mile distant, is Ashberry, the Seat of Mr. Bridge.

Near a Mile beyond Roscrea, on the R. is Golden-Grove, the Seat of Mr. Vaughan; and a little further Inane, that of the Revd. Mr. Curtin.

Within a Mile and a half of Dunkerrin, on the L. is Clashagad, the Seat of Mr. Lloyd; and near it are the Ruins of Rahanvegue Castle.

On the R. of Dunkerrin is Frankfort, the Seat of J. F. Rolliston, Esq;

One Mile and a half beyond Dunkerrin, on the L. is Bush's-Town, the Seat of Mr. Minchin; and half a Mile farther on the R. is Green-Hill, that of Mr. Minchin.

Near a Mile beyond Moneygal, on the

L. is Laughton, the Seat of Thomas Pepper, Esq.

Within half a Mile of Toomavara, on the R. are the Ruins of Knockane-Castle; and on the L. thole of Blane Castle, at the Foot of a high Hill.

Two Miles beyond Toomavara, on the R. is Grenan's-Town, the Seat of Mr. Dalton; and about a Mile further, on the L. is Millbrook, the Seat of Mr. Hawkshaw.

A Mile beyond Millbrook, on the L. is Moneyquill, the Seat of P. Going, Esq; and near a Mile further, Trevor's-Town, that of R. Going, Esq; —Opposite Trevor's-Town, but a little further, on the R. is Debborough, the Seat of John Bailey, Esq.

Within a Mile of Silver-Mines, on the R. is Killiboy, the fine Seat of Henry Prittie, Esq.

At Silver-Mines are Lead-Mines belonging to Henry Prittie, Esq; they are the only ones wrought in the Kingdom to any Extent.

Half a Mile beyond Silver-Mines, on the L. are the Ruins of Dunally-Castle.

About two Miles beyond Shallee Turnpike, on the R. is Bushfield, the Seat of Mr. Cashell; and a Mile from it, Green-Hall, the Seat of Mr. White.

Within a Mile and a half of Newport, on the L. on the opposite side of the River, is New-Rols, the Seat of Mr. White; and near it Oakhampton, that of Joseph Phelps, Esq.

Within a Mile of Newport, on the R. is Mount-Philips, the Seat of Counsellor Philips; and Killean, that of Mr. Philips.

At Newport on the L. is a good Charter School for forty boys; and near it are the Ruins of Derryliagh-Castle. — Newport gives the Title of Baron to the noble Family of Jocelyn.

On the R. of Newport, is the Seat of Sir Robert Waller, Bart. and on the L. Bloomfield-Lodge, that of Mr. Bloomfield.

Near a Mile beyond the Town, on the L. is Fox-Hall, the Seat of Mr. Anderson; and near it Ballymackeogh, that of Mr. Ryan.

Three Miles beyond Newport, on the R. is Castle-Connel Spa; and near it are the Ruins of the old Castle.

A Mile beyond the Spa, situated by the River Side, is New-Garden, the Seat of Simon Pardon, Esq; and near it is Prospect, that of Mr. Powell; and Ballingown, the Seat of John Fitzgibbon, Esq.

At Annacotty, on the L. is Gran, the Seat of Mr. Gough; and on the R. Rivers, the Seat of Brooke Brasier, Esq.

A Mile and a half beyond Annacotty, on the R. is Millford, the Seat of the Revd. Mr. Widenham; and half a Mile from it on the L. are the Ruins of Newcastle, which was King William's Quarters, while he was carrying on the Siege of Limerick.

On the L. of Limerick, before entering the Suburbs, is Singland, the Seat of Mr. Dwyer; and on the R. at near a Mile's Distance, pleasantly situated on an Island, formed by a Canal and the River Shannon, is Park the Seat of Dr. Tunnadine.

Limerick is situated on the River Shannon, and is the strongest Fortrels in the Kingdom. It was besieged by King William III. in 1690, when the Garrison forced the King to raise the Siege, though there was no army to relieve it. It was again invested in September; and when the Town capitulated on the 13th of October following, the Garrison obtained very honourable Terms, being allowed to retire wherever they pleased; and were tolerated in the free Exercise of their Religion. It hath a military Governor, and Town Major on the Establishment, and the Garrison consists generally of twenty-two Companies of Foot. The Houses are mostly new, of Brick, large, and in right Lines. Here are Docks, Quays, and a Custom-House, which is a good Building, faces the River, and on the opposite Bank is a large quadrangular one, the House of Industry. The Number of People are computed at 32,000. There are many Sedan-Chairs, and some Hackney Chaises. Assemblies are held all the Year round in an Assembly House, built for the Purpole, and Plays and Concerts are common. From Clonmelly-Hill, near this Town, the Prospect is very noble. There is a View of the Shannon from Limerick to Foynes Island, which is thirty Miles, with all its Bays, Bends, Islands, and fertile Shores. It is from one to three Miles broad, a most noble River, deserving regal Navies for its Ornament, or what are better, Fleets of Merchantmen, the cheerful Signs of far extended Trade; but the want of Commerce heretofore in her Ports, so well adapted for it, was the Misfortune, not the Fault of Ireland.

One Mile from Limerick, on the L. is Rosbrine, the fine Seat of Mr. Quin.

Near a Mile on the R. of Loughmore, is the Seat of Mr. Bendon; and near it are the Ruins of Mongret Abbey.

Within half a Mile of Patrick's-Well, on the L. is Craig, the Seat of Mr. Greene; and near it, Ballenroft, that of Mr. Hewson; and Faha, Mr. Tut-hill's Seat.

Opposite Patrick's-Well, on the L. is Athyflin, the Seat of Mr. Wettropp; and half a Mile further, Ballyburnoga, that of Mr. Dickson.

On the L. of Adair, on the opposite Side of the River, is a very noble Structure, with fine and extensive Demesnes, the beautiful Seat of William Quin, Esq. The Deer-Park contains four hundred Acres of good Land, and is almost full of old Oak and very fine Thorns, of a great Size; and about the House the Plantations are very extensive, of Elm and other Wood. There is a fine River runs under the House.

At Adair, are three fine Ruins of Franciscan Friars. One of them is almost entire, except the Roof. They are well worth the Attention of the curious and philosophic Traveller.

Two Miles beyond Adair, on the R. are the Ruins of Graanabuc Castle.

Three Miles from Adair, on the L. is Kiltannan, the fine Seat of Mr. Connell; and a Mile and a half further, are the Ruins of Amigan-Castle.

On the R. of Rathkeale, is Stoneville,

the Seat of H. Ingoldby-Massey, Esq.

On the L. of Rathkeale, is the Seat of Mr. Pigott; and a little beyond the Town are the Seats of Lord Southwell, and Mr. Hewson.

Two Miles beyond Rathkeale, and a Mile on the L. are the Ruins of Ballyalenan-Castle; and a Mile further, on the R. is Reens, the Seat of Mr. Creaghe.

Within 2 Miles of Newcastle on the L. at the Foot of a high Hill, is Knockaderry, the Seat of Mr. Darcy.

One Mile beyond Abbyfeale, on the L. are the Ruins of Part-Castle.

Four Miles and a half beyond Abbyfeale on the L. is Killmeny, the Seat of Mr. Gunn; and 2 Miles further, on the opposite Side of the River Feale, is Woodford, the fine Seat of Robert Fitzgerald Esq; with ample Demesne. Close to the House is a fine winding River, under a Bank of thick Wood, with the View of an old Castle hanging over it. From this Place to Listowell is a very fine Vale, the Lands are high, and on the left Hand Side is a very extensive hanging Wood.

Within a Mile of Listowell, on the R. is Dromin, the Seat of Mr. Raymond.

On the R. of Listowell, are the Ruins of a Castle.

Within two Miles and a half of Kilfin, on the R. are the Ruins of a Church; and about a Mile on the R. Lixnaw, the fine Seat of the Earl of Kerry.

About a Mile to the R. of Kilfin, is Crotto, the Seat of Mr. Pontonby.

Within a Mile of Tralee, on the L. is Oak-Park, the Seat of Rowland Bateman, Esq;

At Tralee are the Ruins of a Castle, formerly the Seat of the Earls of Desmond.

A Mile beyond Tralee, on the R. is Lohercannon, the Seat of the Revd. Mr. Day. Below that, by the Sea Side, is a famous chalybeate Spa.

Two Miles beyond Tralee, on the R. are the Ruins of Annagh Church; and five Miles and a half further, and near a Mile to the R. is Kilgobbin Church; and near it is the Seat of the Revd. Mr. Hewson.

Near three Miles beyond Bracklown-Inn, and about a Mile on the L. are the Ruins of Minard Castle.

On the L. of Li. pole, is Clouncura, the Seat of Mr. Hufsey.

Dingle stands in a Bay of its own Name, is governed by a Sovereign, hath a Barrack for one Company of Foot, and is the most Westerly Town in Europe. Queen Elizabeth incorporated it in 1585, and granted to it the same Privileges which the Town of Drogheda enjoyed, with a Superiority over the Harbours of Ventry and Smerwick; and allowed three hundred Pounds to the Inhabitants to wall the Place. King James I. renewed its Privileges, and granted it a Charter bearing Date March 2d, in the fourth Year of his Reign, at Westminster. The Irish formerly called it Daingean in Cushy, that is, the Fortrefs or Castle of Hufsey, an old English Family, to whom one of the Fitzgeralds, Earls of Desmond, had formerly granted a considerable Tract of Land, from Castle-Drum to Dingle. Hufsey built a Castle here, the Vaults of which are now used as the Town Goal. It was forfeited by the Earl of Desmond, and granted to the Earl of Ormond, with other Lands contiguous to it, from whom Fitzgerald, Knight of Kerry, bought it, who had also a large old Castle in this Town. The best modern Edifice in the Town belongs to the Knt. of Kerry; at the Back of which are large Gardens, regularly disposed, and kept in good Order.

A Mile and a half beyond Dingle, is Burnham, the Seat of Samuel Mullens, Esq; This Place was formerly called Ballingolin. It is pleasantly situated on the South-West Side o. Dingle Harbour, of which it commands an agreeable Prospect.

About 5 Miles North of Dingle is Brandon-Hill, one of the highest in the Country; and is the first Land made by Seamen coming from the Westward into the Mouth of the Shannon.

Seven or eight Miles West of Dingle, is the most westerly Land in Ireland, or even in Europe, if we except the Islands of Iceland and West-Green-Land.

DUBLIN to Ennis, and Innistymond, by Killaloe.

|                        |                  |                   |
|------------------------|------------------|-------------------|
| Toomavara as in p. 102 | —                | 69 $\frac{1}{2}$  |
| Nenagh                 | 5 $\frac{1}{2}$  | 75                |
| Killaloe, Clare | 11 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 86 $\frac{1}{2}$  |
| Bridgetown             | 4                | 90 $\frac{1}{2}$  |
| Ballymalony            | 2                | 92 $\frac{1}{2}$  |
| Broadford              | 3                | 95 $\frac{1}{2}$  |
| Callaghan's Mills      | 3                | 98 $\frac{1}{2}$  |
| Tullo                  | 3 $\frac{1}{2}$  | 102               |
| Spancell-Hill          | 5 $\frac{1}{2}$  | 107 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Ennis *         | 3 $\frac{1}{2}$  | 111               |
| Innistymond            | 12 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 123 $\frac{3}{4}$ |

* See another Road to Ennis.

Page 94.

One Mile and a half from Toomavara, on the R. is Grenan's-Town, the Seat of Mr. Dalton; and a Mile further, is Ballymakey, the Seat of M. O'Meara, Esq.

Within two Miles of Nenagh, on the L. are the Ruins of a Castle; and near them, is Knockalton, the Seat of Mr. Pepper.

A Mile beyond Nenagh, on the L. is Sallborough, the Seat of Mr. Poe; and a Mile further Kilcolman, that of Mr. Finch.

Four Miles beyond Nenagh, on the R. are the Ruins of a Castle; and near them the Ruins of a Church and another Castle.

Six Miles from Nenagh, on the R. is Garry-Kennedy, the Seat of Mr. Wation, situated by the Shannon Side; and a Mile further is Castle-Lough, and Castle-Town, the Seats of A. and — Parker, Esqrs. similarly situated.

About a Mile further, on the same Side, is Land's-Town, the Seat of Mr. Rolliston; and near it Derry, that of Michael Head, Esq.

Near to Derry there are some fine Views. From one Hill the Road commands the Bay of Skeriff, Lough-Derg, Back to Johnstown; and the River turning under the Hills of Achnis, a Promontory of Wood, which separates them, is fully seen. There are also many Hedges, so well grown with scattered Trees on the higher Side, as to have a pleasing Effect.— Mr. Head's House has been but lately built. It is situated on the Slope of a Hill rising from the Shannon, and backed by some fine Woods, which unite with many old Hedges well planted to form a Woodland Scene, beautiful in its Contrast to the ample Expanse of the noble River below. The Declivity on which these Woods are finishes in a Mountain, which rises above the whole. The Shannon gives a Bend around the adjoining Lands, so as to be seen from the House both to the West and North, the Lawn falling gradually to a Margin of Wood on the Shore, which varies the Outline. The River is two Miles broad; and on the opposite Shore cultivated Inclosures rise in some Places almost to the Mountain Top, which is very bold.

Within two Miles of Killaloe, on the R. are the Ruins of Derry-Castle; and a little farther, on the L. is a Slate Quarry.

At Killaloe are the Remains of some very ancient Building. There is a considerable Eel Fishery here, which belongs to the Bishop; whose Seat is to the L. of the Town.

Two Miles beyond Killaloe, on the L. is Rosr, the Seat of Mr. Pearce.

One Mile and a half beyond Bridgetown, on the L. is Ballyquin, the fine Seat of Mr. Arthur.

At Broadford, on the L. is the Seat of Mr. Bentley; and near a Mile beyond Broadford, on the L. is Doon, the fine Seat of Hugh D. Maffey, Esq; and half a Mile to the L. Woodfield, the Seat of the Rev. Mr. Locke.

About a Mile beyond Callaghan's Mills, on the R. is Killygoury, the Seat of Mr. Callaghan; and near it are Fort Ann, and Lisneaghan, the Seats of Messrs. Westropp; and about a Mile further is Garuragh, the Seat of Mr. Harrison.

On the R. of Tullo are Cregane, and Kiltannan, the Seats of Messrs. Malony.

A Mile and a half beyond Tullo, on the R. are the Ruins of a Castle; and near a Mile further is New-Grove, the fine Seat of Mr. Browne.

Within a Mile and a half of Spancell-Hill, on the L. near Clowny Church, is the Seat of Mr. Bindon.

On the L. of Spancell-Hill, are the Ruins of a Castle; and near them is Castletown, the Seat of Mr. Macnamara.

A Mile beyond Spancell-Hill, is Turin, the Seat of A. Fitzgerald, Esq.

Within a Mile of Ennis, on the L. and situated on the Banks of the River, is Cappaghard, the Seat of Mr. Lecky.

Two Miles beyond Ennis, on the L. is Craigliagh, the Seat of Mr. Mahon; and near it, Bushy-Park, that of Mr. Macnamara.

Three Miles beyond Ennis, on the L. and seated at the Foot of a high Hill, are the Ruins of a Castle; and about the Third of a Mile on the R. are more Ruins of a Castle.

At Innistymond, on the L. is Woodmount, the Seat of Mr. Lyfaght; and on the R. a little beyond the Town, that of Mr. O'Brien.

DUBLIN to Limerick, by Nenagh.

Nenagh, as in p. 112.

Shallee Turnpike

LIMERICK

|                                 |
|---------------------------------|
| 75                              |
| $4\frac{3}{4}$ 79 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| $15\frac{1}{4}$ 95              |

One Mile and a half from Nenagh, on the L. is Ballinlogher, the Seat of Mr. Strafford; and about half a Mile further, on the R. Liffen-Hall, that of Mr. Otway.

For Remarks on the Road from Shallee Turnpike to Limerick, see Pages 107 and 108.

To Limerick, by O'Brien's Bridge and Nenagh.

Shallee Turnpike, as above

O'Brien's Bridge

Parteen

LIMERICK

|                                 |
|---------------------------------|
| 79 $\frac{3}{4}$                |
| $18\frac{1}{4}$ 88              |
| $5\frac{3}{4}$ 93 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| $2\frac{1}{4}$ 96               |

N. B. From O'Brien's Bridge to Limerick, by Castle-Connell, is only a Quarter of a Mile longer. There is a Road making from Nenagh to O'Brien's Bridge, shorter than the present; and, when completed, will be preferable to the Newport Road, which by running over Mountains, of a soft, loamy Soil, causes it to be very deep in Winter.

One Mile and a half from Shallee Turnpike and a Mile to the R. is Bush-Field, the Seat of Mr. Cathell. Two Miles beyond Shallee Turnpike, on the R. is Green-Hall, the Seat of Mr. White, situated on the Banks of a River.

At O'Brien's Bridge is Muntpelier, the Seat of Mr. Bourke.

Two Miles and a half beyond O'Brien's Bridge, on the L. are the Ruins of Coolastigue Castle; and near a Mile farther, on the L. seated near the Shannon, is Doona's, the Seat of H. D. Massey, Esq.

Three Miles and a half beyond O'Brien's Bridge, on the L. are the Ruins of Rhinrow Castle; and near them is Newtown, the Seat of Mr. Massey.

About a Mile from Newtown, on the L. are the Ruins of Castle-Troy, situated on an Island in the Middle of the Shannon.

On the L. of Parteen, pleasantly situated by the Side of the Shannon, is Aluncart, the Seat of Mr. Appleyard; and on the opposite Sides of the Blackwater River and the Canal close to it, are the Ruins of a Castle.

A Quarter of a Mile beyond Parteen, on the R. is Quinsborough, the Seat of Mr. Quin; and near it, Quin's-Pool, that of Mr. White.

A Mile beyond Parteen, on the R. is Smithfield, the Seat of Mr. Smith.

To Limerick, by Killaloe.

|                           |                 |                  |
|---------------------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Killaloe, as in page 112. | —               | 86 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Bridgetown                | 4               | 90 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Parteen                   | 4 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 95               |
| LIMERICK                  | 2 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 97 $\frac{1}{4}$ |

On the R. of Killaloe, is Clarisford, a very fine Seat, with beautiful Demaines, of the Bishop of Killaloe.

About a Mile, on the R. of Bridge-Town, is Ballyquin, the fine Seat of Mr. Arthur.

A Quarter of a Mile beyond Parteen, on the R. is Quinsborough, the Seat of Mr. Quin; and near it is Quin's-Pool, that of Mr. White.

From Limerick to Broadford } — 8 $\frac{1}{2}$

Between four and five Miles from Limerick, on the L. are the Ruins of a Church and Castle, within a Quarter of a Mile of each other; and near a Mile further, is Cloughry, the pleasant Seat of Mr. Franks.

Within a Quarter of a Mile of Broadford, on the L. is the Seat of Mr. Bentley.

DUBLIN to Ennis, by Limerick.

|                         |                 |                   |
|-------------------------|-----------------|-------------------|
| LIMERICK, as in p. 102. | —               | 94                |
| Meelick, Clare          | 3 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 97 $\frac{1}{4}$  |
| Six-Mile Bridge         | 5 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 102 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Coach and Horses Inn    | 3               | 105 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Ardfallas               | 2 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 108 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Clare                   | 4               | 112 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Ennis                   | 2               | 114 $\frac{1}{2}$ |

One Mile and a half from Limerick, on the R. is the Seat of Mr. Mahon; and near it, Oakfield, that of Mr. Waller.

Two Miles beyond Limerick, on the L. is Pass, the Seat of Mr. Peacock; and nearly opposite to it, is the Seat of Mr. Smyth.

At Meelick, on the L. is the Seat of the Revd. Dr. Shearer; and one Mile further, are the Ruins of a Church.

From the Heights beyond Meelick may be seen Bunratty Castle, the antient Seat of the Earls of Thomond, situated near the Side of the Shannon.

Two Miles beyond Meelick, on the L. is Cratlagh-Hall, the Seat of Mr. O'Brien.

Within two Miles of Six-Miles Bridge, on the R. are the Ruins of a Castle; on the L. are those of a Church; and near Bunratty Castle, a Mile further to the L. is the Seat of Mr. Studert. On the R. of Six-Mile Bridge is Mount-Jevers, the fine Seat of J. A. Jevers, Esq; and near two Miles beyond Six-Mile Bridge, is Tenagh, the Seat of Mr. Willon.

Within a Mile of the Coach and Horses, is Rahelene, the fine Seat of Crofton Vandeleur, Esq.

About half a Mile beyond the Coach and Horses, on the L. is Ballycar, the Seat of Mr. Colpoys.

Two Miles from the Coach and Horses, on the L. is Dromoland, the noble and beautiful Seat of Sir Lucius O'Brien, Bart. near which, at the Foot of a high Hill, are the Ruins of a Castle.

Near a Mile, on the R. of Ardfallas, is Ballykelty, the Seat of Mr. McMahon.

Beyond Ardfallas, on the L. are the Ruins of a Castle; and near them is Ballyhenan, the Seat of Mr. Hart.

Within a Mile of Clare, on the L. situated on the Summit of a Hill, is Carnelly, the Seat of William Stamer, Esq.

At Clare, on an Island in the River Fergus, is Clare-Castle, used as a Barrack.

A Mile beyond Clare, on the R. are large Ruins of a once noble and venerable Abbey; and a Mile further to the R. on the opposite Banks of the Fergus, is Cappaghard, the Seat of Mr. Lecky.

and near it is Buneraigy, the noble Seat of Lord Conyngham.

Three Miles beyond Clare, on the R. is Craighbryne, the beautiful Seat of Mr. Stackpole, most pleasantly situated at the Foot of a lofty Hill.

Within a Mile of Redgate Inn, on the L. is Ballagherig, the Seat of Mr. O'Brien; and near a Mile further to the L. is Port-Fergus, that of J. R. Lewen, Esq.

On the R. of Redgate Inn, are the Ruins of a Castle; and a little farther on the R. those of a Church.

A Mile and a half beyond Redgate Inn, on the L. and finely situated on the Side of a high Hill is Paradise, the delightful Seat of Mr. Henin.

A Mile beyond Paradise, on the L. are the Ruins of a Castle; a Mile farther, more Ruins; and on the L. of Kildysart, the Ruins of Kildysart Castle.

Within two Miles of Kilmurry Church, on the R. seated at the Foot of a Hill, are the Ruins of a Castle.

Within a Mile and a half of Kilmurry Church, lying a Mile from the Road, on the L. is Ballyartrey, the Seat of Mr. Barclay; and near it, Clanderlaw, that of Mr. Studert.

Two Miles beyond Kilmurry Church, on the L. is Kilmore, the Seat of Mr. Hickman; two Miles further, is Burrane, the Seat of Mr. Maunsel; and about a Mile, on the R. are the Ruins of a Church and a Castle.

At Kilrush is a Seat of Crofton Vandeleur, Esq.

To Kilrush by Limerick.

|                        |                 |                   |
|------------------------|-----------------|-------------------|
| Clare, as in page 116. | —               | 112 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Redgate Inn            | 6 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 118 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Kildysart              | 3 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 122 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Kilmurry Church        | 6 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 129 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Kilrush                | 8 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 137 $\frac{1}{2}$ |

One Mile from Clare, on the R. is New-Hall, the superb and beautiful Seat of Mr. McDonnell; and near it are the Ruins of a Castle.

Near two Miles beyond Clare, on the L. is Barn tick, the Seat of Mr. Peacock;

To Tralee, by Glynn and Tarbert.

|                      |                  |                   |
|----------------------|------------------|-------------------|
| Adair, as in p. 102. | —                | 102               |
| Newbridge            | 7 $\frac{1}{2}$  | 109 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Shanagolden          | 4 $\frac{1}{2}$  | 114               |
| Loghill              | 3 $\frac{1}{4}$  | 117 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Glynn                | 3 $\frac{1}{4}$  | 121               |
| Tarbert, Kerry       | 3                | 124               |
| Ballylongford        | 4                | 128               |
| Listowell            | 6 $\frac{1}{2}$  | 134 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Tralee               | 13 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 147 $\frac{3}{4}$ |

On the L. of Adair is the beautiful Seat of Mr. Quin; and on the R. are the Ruins of three Franciscan Friaries; one of which is almost entire. See P. 109.

Within a Mile and a half of Newbridge, on the R. is Nansenan, the Seat of Mr. Royle; on the L. Stoneville, that of H. J. Massey, Esq; and within half a Mile of Newbridge, on the R. is Alta Villa, the noble and beautiful Seat of John Bateman, Esq.

A Mile to the L. of Newbridge, is Riddlestown, the Seat of Mr. Blennerhasset; and within a Mile of Shanagolden, on the L. is Abbey, the fine Seat of J. Greene, Esq.

Two Miles beyond Shanagolden, on the R. is Cappo, the Seat of Mr. Rice; and within a Quarter of a Mile of Loghill, on the R. are the Ruins of a Castle.

At Glynn, on the L. is the Glynn House, the pleasant Seat of Mr. Fitzgerald, Knight of the Glynn.

From this Road there is a fine Prospect of the Rivers Shannon and Fergus, with the Islands and Ruins of Scattery, Holy Island, &c.

On the R. of Tarbert is Tarbert House, situated at the Foot of a high Hill, the superb and delightful Seat of Mr. Leslie. The House is finely situated, commanding an extensive View of the River Shannon, where it is rendered above one half narrower, being confined by a Point of Land, that stretches itself from the North, or County of Clare Side of that River, towards Tarbert, the East and West Sides of which open into two capacious Bays. It has likewise a Prospect up the River towards Limerick, and a deep Bay on the South-side, where stand the Ruins of the Castle of Glynn, the ancient Seat of the Knights of the Glynn.

Within half a Mile of Ballylongford, on the R. are noble Ruins of a once magnificent Abbey; and on the opposite Side of the River, is Rosheen, the Seat of Mr. Crosbie.—A little lower down are the Ruins of Carrickastol Castle, formerly a Place of great Strength and Importance; and near it is the Seat of William Sandes, Esq.

Within two Miles and a half of Liffowell, on the L. of Tullamore, is the Seat of the Revd. Mr. Julian; and within a Mile of Liffowell, on the L. is Dromin, the Seat of Mr. Raymond.

At Liffowell, on the R. are the Ruins of a Castle, pleasantly situated on the River Feale. This Castle was taken in November 1600, by Sir Charles Wilmot, being then held out for the Lord Kerry against Queen Elizabeth.

Five Miles and a half beyond Liffowell, on the L. are the Ruins of a Church.

Seven Miles beyond Liffowell, on the L. is Lixnaw, the Seat of the Earl of Kerry. It stands agreeably on the River Brick, which is here cut into several pleasant Canals, that adorn its Plantations and Gardens. The Improvements are very extensive, most of the Vistas and Avenues terminating by different Buildings, Seats and Farm-houses. The Tide flows up to the Gardens, whereby Boats of a considerable Burthen may bring up Goods to the Bridge near the House. Here are two Stone Bridges over the Brick, the oldest of which was built by Nicholas, the third Baron of Lixnaw, who was the first Person that made a Causeway to this Place, the Land being naturally wet and marshy. The House consists of a large Building, with Wings on each Side, and private Offices that inclose an handsome Area. In one of these Wings is a Chapel, the Walls of which were painted in Fresco by a Foreigner, called John Souillard, being Copies of the celebrated Cartons of Raphael, at Hampton Court.—Of late Years this beautiful Place hath been suffered to go to Decay.—Mr. Young relates a curious Anecdote of this Estate, which shews wonderfully the Improvement of Ireland. The present Earl of Kerry's Grandfather, Thomas, agreed to lease the whole Estate for 1500l. a Year to a Mr. Colles, for ever, but the Bargain went off upon a Dispute, whether the Money should be paid at Cork or Dublin. Those very Lands are now lett at 20,000l. a Year.

One Mile beyond Lixnaw, on the L. is Croto, the Seat of James Carrigue Ponlonby, Esq; a Mile from which, on the L. is Kilfin Church.
Near Tralee is Oak Park, the fine Seat of Rowland Bateman, Esq.

DUBLIN to Ardfer.

|                          |                 |                   |
|--------------------------|-----------------|-------------------|
| Liflowell, as in p. 103. | —               | 131 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Crotto                   | 7               | 138 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Abbydorney               | 2 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 140 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Ardfer                   | 3 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 144 $\frac{1}{2}$ |

Crotto, very pleasantly situated, and adorned with good Plantations, is the Seat of James Carrigue Ponlonby, Esq; 2 Miles beyond which, on the R. is Ballyhenry, the Seat of Mr. Hartnet.
Lixnaw, the Seat of the Earl of Kerry, is about a Mile from Crotto; for an Account of which see Page 120.

At Abbydorney are the Ruins of a Monastery.

Within a Mile and a half of Ardfer, on the L. is Tobrid, the beautiful Seat of Mr. Crosbie.—This Place takes its Name from a celebrated Well in its Neighbourhood, which is much frequented by Roman Catholics.

At Ardfer, on the L. is a noble Seat of the Earl of Glandore. There are about the House extensive Plantations exceedingly flourishing.—On the R. are the Ruins of a Cistercian Abbey.—Ardfer is a Bishop's See, and Borough by antient Prescription. It has been held in Commendam with the Bishopric of Limerick ever since the Restoration. The Bishops were antiently called Bishops of Kerry. St. Brandon, to whom the Cathedral is dedicated, had his first Education in this County, under Bishop Ert; but he finished his Studies in Connaught, St. Jarlath, Bishop of Tuam, being his Preceptor, under whom he read Divinity with great Diligence.

East from the Town are very fine Ruins of an Abbey; and ten Miles from Ardfer, between Tralee Bay and the Shannon Mouth, is Kerry Head; from which there is a noble View of the Shannon. Here are found a great Quantity of Amethyst, commonly called Kerry Stones.

They are of a Chrystalliform Figure, and are found adhering by their Bales to stony Matter, crusting over the perpendicular Fissures in Rocks of ferruginous Stones. Their Colours are various Degrees and Shades of Purple; some approach to a Violet, and others are of a pale Rose Colour. Some Parts of different Specimens of these Gems are often found as colourless as Chrystal.

At Ballengary, near Ardfer, is the Mouth of the River Shannon. Ballengary is the Scite of an old Fort, separated from the Country by a Chasim of a prodigious Depth, through which the Waves drive. The Rocks of the Coast here are in the boldest Style, and hollowed by the furious Atlantic Waves into Caverns in which they roar. The Waves here roll and break upon the Rocks with such Violence as to raise an immense Foam. The View of the Shannon hence is exceedingly noble. It is eight Miles over, the Mouth formed by two Headlands of very high and bold Cliffs, and the Reach of the River in View very extensive.

DUBLIN to Frankford, by Mountmellick.

|                             |                 |                  |
|-----------------------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Monasterevan, as in p. 102. | —               | 30               |
| Lea, Queen's County  | 3 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 33 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Portarlington               | 1 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 35 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Mountmellick                | 6 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 42               |

Or by Ballibrissas and Dawson's Court, a Mile less.

|                                  |                 |                  |
|----------------------------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Mountmellick                     | —               | 41               |
| Rosenellis                       | 3               | 44               |
| Clononaslee                      | 4               | 48               |
| Ballyboy, * King's County | 7 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 55 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Frankford                        | 1               | 56 $\frac{1}{2}$ |

* A Mile before you come to Balliboy, you may turn to the Left to Frankford, and save near half a Mile.

At Lea, on the R. situated on the Banks of the Barrow River, are the Ruins of a Castle. There is also an Ash-tree of an uncommon Size there. On the L. of Portarlinton, on a Hill, is a very lofty Spire, and a Lodge built by Lord Carlow; from which there is an extensive Prospect over the Country.

Near a Mile beyond Portarlinton, on the L. is David's-Town, the Seat of Mr. Clarke; and about a Mile, on the R. Lawndown, that of George Gore, Esq.

Two Miles beyond Ballybrittas, on the R. is Ireland's Grove, the Seat of Mr. Montgomery; and near it is Dawson's-Court, the superb Seat of Lord Carlow.

Two Miles and a half from Portarlinton, on the R. is Woodbrook, the Seat of Mr. Chetwood; and two Miles further, on the L. Knight's-Town, that of Mr. Hetherington.

Near two Miles beyond Mountmellick, on the L. is Summer-Grove, the Seat of Mr. Sabatier; and on the R. Camira, that of Mr. Pilkerton.

Three Miles beyond Rosellenis, on the L. are the Ruins of a Castle.

Half a Mile beyond Clononaflee, on the L. is Brittas, the Seat of Mr. Dunn; and a Mile beyond, on the R. are the Ruins of a Church.

Two Miles beyond Clononaflee, and about a Mile on the L. are the Ruins of Castle Cuffe, pleasantly situated in the Midst of a fine Plantation of Trees, belonging to the Earl of Montrath.

Opposite Castle Cuffe, and near a Mile from the Road, is Annaghbrack, the Seat of the Revd. Dean Coote; and a Mile further, close to the Road, on the L. are the Ruins of a Castle.

Within two Miles of Ballyboy, on the R. are more Ruins of a Castle; and within half a Mile of Ballyboy, situated on the Banks of a River, is Song's-Town, the Seat of Mr. Drought.

On the R. of Stone-Hall, is Holy-Park, the Seat of Richard Taylor, Esq; It is very commodious and well-situated, having convenient Offices, and extensive Demesnes. There is a fine Lake near the House, which was formerly a fortified Place. Hollies have here a most luxuriant Growth out of the Rocks, which form some very romantic and agreeable Views.

Two Miles and a half from Holy-Park, on the R. is Ballynort, the pleasant Seat of Mr. Massey.

On the L. of Askeyton is Inchrouk, the Seat of Mr. Hunt.

To Court Ferry.

LIMERICK, as in p. } | 94
102. } | 64 | 100 1/4
Court Ferry

One Mile and a half from Limerick, on the L. is Rosbrine, the beautiful Seat of Mr. Quin.

Two Miles and a half from Limerick, on the R. is the Seat of Mr. Bendon; and nearly opposite are the large and noble Ruins of Mongret Abbey.

Three Miles and a half from Limerick, on the R. and finely situated near the River Shannon, is Connigar, the superb and beautiful Seat, with very extensive Domains and Plantations, of the Bishop of Limerick.

About a Mile from the Bishop's Seat, to the R. is Tirroe, the pleasant Seat of W. T. Maubell, Esq; near which is a very remarkable Ruin, called Carrigoguinell Castle, situated on the Summit of a lofty Hill.

Near five Miles from Limerick, and close by the Road Side, is Elm, the Seat of the Revd. Dr. Massey; and three Quarters of a Mile further is Craigbeg, the Seat of Mr. Vokes.

On the R. of Court-Ferry are the Ruins of a Castle; and a little beyond is Court, the very pleasant Seat of Sir Harry Hartstonge, Bart.

DUBLIN to Askeyton.

Adair, as in page 102. | 102
Stone-Hall | 4 1/4 | 106 1/4
Askeyton | 4 1/4 | 110 1/2

DUBLIN to Tralee, by Castle-Island.

Abbyfcale, as in page | 123 1/2
103.

|                      |                 |                  |
|----------------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Castle-Island, Kerry | $10\frac{1}{4}$ | $133\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Arbella              | $4\frac{3}{4}$  | $135\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Tralee               | 4               | $142\frac{1}{2}$ |

Castle-Island was formerly called the Cattle of the Island of Kerry. This Castle is said to have been erected by Geoffrey Maurice, or de Marileis, Lord Justice of Ireland, in 1226, the Ruins of which are still remaining. Round the Wall, the River Mang, being here but an inconsiderable Stream, flowed in a kind of Ditch, over which were formerly Draw-Bridges, Portcullises, &c. This Place gave the Title of Baron to the Family of Herbert; and now gives that of Viscount to Sir W. Hall Crag. In Castle-Island are a decent Parish Church, a good Parsonage House, a Foot Barrack, a Session and Market House, with a handsome Assembly Room.

A Mile from Castle-Island, on the L. close to the Road Side, is Menus, the Seat of Dr. Drew.

Three Miles from Castle-Island, on the R. is Maglask, the Seat of William Sealy, Esq; and near a Mile further, on the L. is Maugh, that of Mr. Sealy.

Within a Mile of Arbella, on the R. is Ratanny, the Seat of Mr. Rowan; and opposite to Ratanny is the Seat of R. Blenerhasset, Esq.

A Mile beyond Arbella, on the L. close to the Road Side, are large Ruins of Ballycarthy Castle, seated in the Midst of a fine Plantation of Trees, the Property of Mr. Nash; about half a Mile from which, situated on the Banks of a River, is Elm-Grove, the Seat of William Blenerhasset, Esq; and about a Mile on the R. is Chute-Hall, the fine Seat of Francis Chute, Esq.

Within two Miles of Tralee, on the L. is Ballyteedy, the Seat of Mr. Blenerhasset; and on the R. Ballengown, that of Mr. Cross.

Within a Mile of Tralee, on the R. is Littleton, the Seat of Mr. Morres; and a Mile from it, on the R. of Tralee, is Oak-Park, the Seat of Rowland Bateman, Esq.

To Castle-Island by Liffowell.

|                     |   |                 |                  |
|---------------------|---|-----------------|------------------|
| Liffowell, as in p. | } | —               | $131\frac{1}{4}$ |
| 103.                |   |                 |                  |
| Castle-Island       |   | $12\frac{1}{2}$ | $143\frac{3}{4}$ |

N. B. The Road from Liffowell to Castle-Island is entirely over the Mountains; not having any Gentlemen's Seats, or other remarkable Things by the Way.—There is a Turnpike two Miles and a half from Liffowell; and another, within three Quarters of a Mile of Castle-Island.

DUBLIN to Killarney and Kenmare-Town.

|                         |                |                  |                  |
|-------------------------|----------------|------------------|------------------|
| Castle-Island, as above | }              | —                | $133\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Killarney               |                |                  |                  |
| Mucrus                  | $10$           | $143\frac{3}{4}$ |                  |
| Kenmare Town            | $2\frac{1}{2}$ | $146\frac{1}{4}$ |                  |
|                         | $9\frac{1}{4}$ | $155\frac{1}{2}$ |                  |

One Mile and a Quarter from Castle-Island, on the L. are Dyfart Church Ruins, near a small Plantation of Trees; and near two Miles further, the Ruins of a Church; nearly opposite to which is Dick's Grove, the Seat of Mr. Meredith.

Within two Miles of Killarney, on the L. is Duncen, the Seat of the Revd. Dr. Bland; and a Mile further, on the R. is Mount Meredith, the fine Seat of Mr. O'Donohue.

At Killarney are the House and beautiful Gardens of Lord Kenmare; and on a Point of Land jutting into the Lake, stands Rosa Castle, used as a Barrack for many Years past.

DESCRIPTION of the LAKE of KILLARNEY.

THE Lake of Killarney has employed the united Labours of the most eminent Writers and Painters, whose Pens and Pencils have been equally deficient in describing Scenes that mock their utmost Art. We shall, however, attempt to convey some Idea of this enchanting Place.

The Lakes cover above six thousand Irish Acres, and are divided into two great Branches, or rather, there are two distinct Lakes, connected by a winding River. The Northern Lake, called also Loch-Lein, is much the largest; being divided into two Branches, the one distinguished by the Name of the Great Lake, and the other, the Turk Lake. The Southern Shores of both are formed by high Mountains; those of the Great Lake being covered with Wood. The Land which bounds them to the North, the East, and the West, is either a Flat, or only raised from the Water by gentle Swellings, and diversified by Plantations.

The Mountain Glynnau, or Glanna, stands on the South Side of the Lake, and has two Sides washed by it. This Mountain is very beautiful, and covered for a great Part of the Ascent with Oak, Ash, Pine, Alder and Birch Trees, intermixed with Hazel, White-Thorn, Yew, Holly, and Arbutus, all perfectly wild. The Sides of the Mountain rise with a gentle Declivity; and the Shores are all along indented.

Toomish, or Tómer, stands to the Westward of Glynnan, from which it is separated by a Torrent called Schreech-Stream. The finest Cascade in the Neighbourhood of Killarney, falls from this Mountain, and is called O'Sullivan's Cascade. The Water is so agitated in its Course, that from the Instant it breaks upon the Eye, it is one entire Sheet of Foam.

The Eastern Boundary of the Great Lake is every where rich in wild Beauties; the Northern Part of it is called Mucrus; as it stretches southerly, it obtains the Name of Camillan, and round the Extremity of Camillan is the Passage of Turk Lake. No Scene can be more charming than the shady Bays, Creeks, and Recesses, which the Lake here forms.

Mucrus Abbey, which was founded in 1440, for Mendicants, is situated upon an Eminence, rising over the Lake.

It is in tolerable Preservation, and serves as a Burying-Place to the Inhabitants of the Neighbourhood.—The greatest Curiosity here is a Yew planted in the Centre of the Building. Its Trunk is between seven and eight Feet in Circumference, and its Boughs form a compleat Covering to the Cloister, which is a Square of 12 Yards.

From the House at Mucrus to the extreme Point of Camillan, there runs a winding Road of near two Miles in Length, very well calculated to unfold the interior Beauties of the Peninsula, for so it may be called.—Here there is a vast Number of Rocks and Craggs, vegetating from every Pore, and differing in Shape and Situation, and thrown without Order into irregular Groups, which afford new Landscapes as you advance, and every Instant present different Combinations and Figures. They generally lie at a considerable Distance from each other, and are separated by low, marshy Swamps, which produce nothing but Heath, and the common aquatic Shrubs; by which Means they have much the Appearance of Islands.

The Eastern Shore of Turk Lake is formed by the bleak Side of Mangerton, and separated from Turk, the Mountain which confines the Lake to the South by the Devil's Stream. This Stream has its Source near the Top of Mangerton, the Height of which has been ascertained by the Quadrant to be 2511 Feet above the Surface of the Sea, and 2466 above the Surface of the Lake. Its Source is a vast Cavity in the Mountain, fed by the Discharge of the Clouds, which are daily bursting over it. The Natives style it the Pit of Hell; but it is more commonly called the Devil's Punch-Bowl. —A much greater Chasm, however, than this is to be seen in Mangerton, and which is called Poul na Coppol. It is Eastward of the Devil's Punch-Bowl; and though very well worth seeing, has been generally overlooked by Travellers, owing, apparently, to the Difficulty of getting to it.

Turk, though not so lofty as Mangerton, is a much nobler Object. The Side towards the Lake is inaccessible. It is entirely without Trees, affording a striking Contrast to the shady Banks of Mucrus. The River Lein rises near the Summit, and is seen throughout its Course, which is a very direct one. It gives its Name to the whole Lake, antiently called Loch Lein.

Between the Peninsula and the low Land which stretches from Turk, lie the Islands Brickeen and Dinifh. Both these are richly wooded, and abound with luxuriant Arbutus.— They serve as resting Places to the Deer which descend from Glená, to feed in the Plains and Meadows of Mucrus.

Dinifh has lately been considerably improved by Mr. Herbert; and Brickeen has been connected to the Peninsula by a very handsome Bridge of a single Arch, and to Dinifh by a small Bridge.

The Rock called the Eagles Nest, presents its principal Front to the North, and the River passes directly under it. The Report of a Musket or Peterara discharged against this Mountain is prodigious great, and reverberating from the neighbouring and more distant Mountains, imperceptibly dying away, again reviving, and finally expiring in hollow, interrupted Murmurs, bears a near Resemblance to Bursts of Thunder.

The Southern Lake stretches East and West for above a League, but no where exceeds three Quarters of a Mile in Breadth. It has a different Aspect from the others, being encompassed on all Sides by high Grounds and Mountains.

McGilly Cuddy's Ricks take their Rise from Ghirneon, a lofty Mountain, which forms a right Angle with the great Range, and bounds the Lake to the North. These Mountains encircle a Valley of pretty large Compass to the West of the Lake, and form an extensive Amphitheatre. They are very numerous, and broken into the most irregular, fantastic Shapes. They are plentifully stocked with Grouse, notwithstanding the Depredations of their joint Commoners the Eagles.

The Southern Boundary of the Lake is formed by a Range of high Mountains. Cahirnee, which joins the Ricks, is the largest of them, and distinguished by a Water-fall. Towards the Eastern Angle this Range terminates in a sloping Bank, which forms one Side of the Glynn of Derry-Cannihy. This Glynn, gradually contracting as it retires from the Lake, loses itself in another, still more extensive, about a Mile distant. Its Sides are covered with stately Timber, particularly Oaks. The Kavoge rolls a considerable Stream through the Centre, which tumbling down a rocky Channel, where it forms a Variety of less Falls, makes the Woods and Caverns vocal.

Crom-a-glaun confines the Lake to the East. It extends from Derry-Cannihy to within a Mile of Turk. Its Sides are covered with a luxuriant Copse, which reaches down to the Water's Edge.

The Purple Mountain rises from behind the great Range, in a conical Shape. It abounds with a Kind of Heath, found in no other Part of the Country, which produces purple Berries; but receives its prevailing Tinct from another Herb, used by the Natives in Dyeing.

The Islands on the lower Lake exceed thirty. They are disposed without Order along the level Shores to the East and North; for to the South and West, there is one unbroken Sheet of Water. We shall not attempt to describe all these; as, however worthy Notice, they would take up more Room than we can spare in this slight Sketch, or than the Plan of our Work would admit of. We shall therefore only give an Account of some of the most remarkable.

Ross is the largest Island in the Lake, and lies to the East of Reen Point, about a Mile from the Town of Killarney. A narrow Cut, scarcely navigable for Boats, separates it from the Shore; and over this there is a Bridge for the Convenience of the Castle. This Castle stands on the Land Side of the Island, and was formerly a royal Residence, being the Seat of the Lords of the Lake, who assumed the Title of Kings. The Family of O'Donahue was the last that bore this Title. The many Tales told, and Stories recorded, of the great O'Donahue, the Hero of this ancient Race, we pass over, as the Reveries of disturbed Brains, and idle Visionaries. They may amuse the Ignorant, and even glide into the Regions of Poetry; but will not stand the Test of sever EXAMINATION, that, with more than magic Power, drives far away the Spectres of FANCY, and founds Opinion, or Faith, on the Basis of REASON alone.

Innisfallen is above eighteen Irish Acres, and lies at a small Distance to the Westward. Its Shape is triangular, and its Sides are hollowed into Bays. The Soil is rich, and the Verdure perpetual. Near the North-East Promontory are the Ruins of an Abbey, which was formerly a rich House of Benedictines, and one of the oldest religious Foundations in Ireland.

Rabbit Island lies to the Westward.— There are no Trees upon it, and its only Covering is Fern. Friars Island is contiguous to the Abbey of Mucrus. Oak Island is more distant, and another, which produces Junipers, still farther to the South. Cannon Island, a white Rock of Camillan, is remarkably well situated, for shewing the Power of Echoes. Arbutus Island is pyramidal, and its rocky Sides are covered with Strawberry Trees.

The most magnificent View of the Great Lake and its Environs is from the Yellow Mountain, Knock-buy, about two Miles to the Northward. The Eye, passing over a rich Valley, meets the Lake in the Centre, with the Eagles Nest, and the other Mountains which stretch to the upper Lake, behind it. On one Side are Glenà, Tomè, and M'Gilly Cuddy's Ricks, which lose themselves to the Westward; on the other, Turk, Mangerton, Glanfesk, and the Paps, in the opposite Direction; all together forming a Range of more than twenty Miles. The waving Outline of these Mountains is uncommonly beautiful; The Lake is happily placed in the Centre; and there is a Degree of unstudied Regularity in the whole, which, added to the Majesty of the single Parts, make a noble, regular, and striking Picture.

Aghadoe was of old an episcopal Seat, and a Place of some Consequence: A ruined Turret, and the shattered Walls of a Cathedral are the only Vestiges of it remaining. It stands on an Eminence to the North of the Lake, near the Western Extremity, and commands a most extensive Prospect of its Borders and Islands. Innisfallen, and the Western Cluster appear hence in perfect Beauty. The shaggy Sides of Glenà and Tomè are finely opposed to the level Shore; the distant Islands, referred to their contiguous Banks, have the Appearance of so many Promontories; and the lofty Mountains, Turk and Mangerton, rising from behind the Peninsula of Mucrus, complete one of the most beautiful Scenes of Nature.

Dunlough Castle, the Seat of Major Dumas, is the best Station for viewing the Lake from the West. It stands on a perpendicular Cliff over the River-Lein, about a Mile from its Source, and with the surrounding Scenery is a very fine Object.

The Views from the East are numerous and beautiful. There is scarce a Break, or Height, along the Peninsula, that does not present a new Face of Things, or a different Arrangement of them. The Eminence near the Abbey, the Meadows and Gardens at Mucrus, and the Point of Camillan, where Turk, Glenà, and the Eagles Nest, meet the Eye at once, must be noted by the most careless Observers.

To those who would have a perfect Knowledge of the Lakes, the Top of Turk is the best Station. Thence they appear as distinctly as if delineated on Canvas; but the minute Beauties are lost by the Height of the Mountain.

From the Side of Mangerton, about a Fourth of the common Ascent, there is a very commanding Prospect of the Great Lake, and the adjacent Country, which shews the Objects more in the Light of Perspective than that from Turk, at the same Time that it preserves the natural Arrangement of the Islands, and the Windings of the Bay. Here the Peninsula seems to float on the Surface of the Water like a vast Serpent, and when illuminated by the Rays of the Sun, displays its green spiry Length, every where distinct with shining Beauties.

From the Top of this Mountain the Prospect is wild, commanding, and in a Manner unbounded. On all sides but one, the Country is mountainous: To the East the Mountains trend away in an irregular Ridge, till obscured and lost in the opaque Vapours; to the West, and indeed, in every other Direction, they are thrown together in as tumultuous and wild an Assemblage, as if Chaos had been here arrested in his billowy Career, and chained to Stability by the supreme Fiat.

The most desirable View of the upper Lake is from the East, on the Cliffs of Crom-a-glaun, or Bolinendra. The Islands and Mountains are seen hence in a very happy Arrangement; and there is a certain Air of Wildness in the Prospect, which borders on the romantic.

These are some of the Views from the Banks and Eminences, in the Vicinity of the Lakes, that appear most pleasing. Those from the Lake itself, though not so extensive, are no less beautiful; but they are so numerous, and it is so difficult to convey an adequate Idea of their nice Varieties and Differences, that we shall barely hint at one or two in the most distinguished Classes.

Turk, when viewed from the Lake below, has some Pretensions to Grandeur. It rises to a respectable Height, fills the Eye with an unbroken Surface of two Miles in Extent, and is one great and uniform Object. From the River beneath the rugged Appearance of the Eagles Nest inspires Surprise and Awe; but these Feelings never border on that anxious Uneasiness which attends the Contemplation of Objects, properly speaking, terrible.

From the Upper Lake, between Arbutea and Roispurkree, the Western Isles are seen at a due Distance, and appear to great Advantage. The Eye is confined on each Side by two uniform Risings, and the Back Ground of the Picture is occupied by the Amphitheatre of Mountains which encompass the Western Valley. There is a Beauty in the Islands, a Wiliness in the Mountains, and a Magnificence in the whole Prospect, which not only amuses the Mind, but seems to exalt and expand it, and awakens such Sentiments as one feels from a sublime Passage in Shakespeare or Milton.

The Effect of many of these Views is much heightened by the hourly Revolutions in the Face of the Heavens. The vast Volumes of Clouds, which are rolled together from the Atlantic, and rest on the Summits of the Mountains, cloath them with Majesty. The different Masses of Light and Shade, traversing the Lakes in Succession, as the shining Bodies above float across them, exhibit all the Varieties of Night and Day, almost at the same Instant: The Mists interposing their dull yet transparent Coverings to the View, raise new Desires of a fuller and clearer Prospect; and the wandering Vapours flitting from Cliff to Cliff, as if in Search of the Clouds from which they had been separated, amuse the Eye with their Varieties and irregular Motions.

Such is the Outline we venture to draw of the Lake of Killarney; a Lake worthy the closest Attention of the Philosopher, the Naturalist, the Bard, in short, every Description of Men. For what can be more beautiful, than the several Views of a fine Piece of Water, studded with Islands, encompassed by Mountains, re sounding with Water-Falls, and reflecting on all Sides the umbrageous Trees, and Evergreens that adorn its Banks? What can be more surprizing than the Fertility of the Rocks, where the Trees too ponderous for their feeble Roots, are often bent towards the Earth, and flourish thus distorted? What more curious than distant Species of Shrubs springing from the same decayed Stock; which, no longer able to push forth Leaves itself, serves as a Nidus to others? And is there any thing more wonderful than the Power of the Echoes; which not only multiplies and reiterates the most ordinary Sounds, but swells them to the Pitch of natural Thunder?

To conclude: The prevailing Character of Killarney is Variety; the second Beauty; Magnificence is subordinate. Here Beauty, by her magic and diffusive Influence, gives a Grace to Variety; whilst Variety furnishes her Benefactress with flattering Contrasts: United, they present the Fancy with the most delightful Images, of Repose, Tranquility, unstudied Order, natural Wildness, and rural Magnificence.

The Road from Killarney, to the Earl of Shelburne's Seat at Kenmare Town is nearly serpentine.—You leave Lord Kenmare's Seat at Killarney, on the R. proceeding 2 Miles till you come to Cloughgreen Church, on the L.—Half a Mile to the R. is Mucrus, the delightful Seat of Thomas Herbert, Esq; situated on the Side of the Lake.—2 Miles farther, on your L. is the Devil's Punch-Bowl, on Mangerton-Mountain; and on your R. are Turk, and Glenave Mountains.—Two Miles beyond this is the Upper Lake, on your right Hand.

DUBLIN, to Castlemain.

|                                 |                |                  |
|---------------------------------|----------------|------------------|
| Tralee , as in Page 103. | 144            | $\frac{1}{2}$    |
| Castlemain                      | 3              | $152\frac{1}{2}$ |
| By the Mountain Road            | $6\frac{1}{4}$ | $158\frac{3}{4}$ |

Half a Mile from Tralee, on the L. is Ballymullin, the Seat of Mr. Morres; and opposite to it is Cloughers, that of Richard Yielding, Esq;
A Mile and a half from Tralee, on the L. is Ballyfeedy, the pleasant Seat of Mr. Blenerhasset.

The common Road from Tralee to Castlemain is extremely winding, and inclining to the L. that over the Mountains, though nearer, very disagreeable.

Within half a Mile of Castlemain, on the R. is the Seat of Mr. Godfrey; and on the L. that of the Revd. Dr. Day.

Castlemain gives the Title of Earl and Viscount to the noble Family of Child. It is but a mean Village, and hath nothing in it remarkable. The Banks of the River Mang, which wind lence in a serpentine Manner to the Sea, are composed of a rich Clay, and the same unctuous Soil lies at the Bottom of the River, which is deep enough for Vessels of fifty Tons and upwards, to sail up to the Bridge at high Water, where they may lie in soft oozy Ground to discharge. Some Vessels are unloaded here on the Bank Side, which serves as a Wharf. They are generally freighted with Rock Salt from England, considerable Quantities of which are refined in this Neighbourhood; and others are laden with Iron Ore, which is carried on Horses to the Iron Foundry near Mucrus.

DUBLIN to Charleville, by Newport.

|                     |   |                |                  |
|---------------------|---|----------------|------------------|
| Newport, Tipperary, | } | —              | 86               |
| as in Page 102.     |   |                |                  |
| Abington, Limerick  |   | 5              | 91               |
| Eruff               |   | 12             | 103              |
| Kilmallock          |   | $4\frac{1}{2}$ | $107\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Charleville, Cork   |   | $4\frac{3}{4}$ | $112\frac{1}{4}$ |

Half a Mile from Newport, on the R. is Bloomfield Lodge, the Seat of Mr. Bloomfield; and half a Mile from it is Ballymackeogh, that of Mr. Ryan.

A Mile from Newport, on the R. is Fox-Hall, the Seat of Mr. Anderson; and near it Mount-Rivers, the Seat of Mr. Philips.

Two Miles from Newport, is Ashroe, the Seat of Mr. Evans; and a Mile further is Capercullen, that of Mr. Grady; and Wilton-Hall, that of Mr. Percival.

At Abington, is a very pleasant Seat of Sir Nicholas Lawless, Bart. and a Mile further, on the L. are the Ruins of a Church.

Five Miles beyond Abington, on the R. are the Ruins of a Church.

Within four Miles of Bruff, on the R. is Carrickony, the Seat of Mr. White; near it is Rawlin's-Town, that of Mr. Croker; and about a Mile from it, Lough-Gur, the Seat of Henry Baylee, Esq.—Here are the Remains of a Druidical Temple.

Within a Mile of Bruff, on the L. is Kilballyowen, the Seat of Mr. Grady; and half a Mile beyond Bruff, on the L. are the Ruins of a Castle.

Kilmallock, is a Place of high Antiquity, and hath been strongly fortified. Some of the Walls and Castles are still remaining, and merit the Inspection of the Curious.

On the R. of Kilmallock, is Ash-Hill, the Seat of Charles Coote, Esq; and about a Mile further, is Ballymacanna, that of Mr. Heerman; and a Mile beyond that, is Mount Blakeney, the Seat of Mr. Blakeney.—A Mile on the R. are the Ruins of Cragane Castle.

Within a Mile of Charleville, on the L. is Maiden-Hall, the Seat of Mr. Boucher.

On the L. of Charleville, are the Ruins of a Castle.—Charleville was built by Roger the first Earl of Orrery, after the Restoration of King Charles II. from whom it derives its Name, and by whom it was incorporated. It hath a Barrack for one Troop of Horse.

To Charleville, by Tipperary.

|                     |                 |                  |
|---------------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Emo Inn, as in Page | 102.            | 34 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Maryborough         | 5 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 40               |
| Ballyroan           | 4 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 44 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Durrow, Kilkenny    | 7 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 51 $\frac{1}{4}$ |

Or by Ballynakill, which lies to the Left, half a Mile longer.

|              |                 |                  |
|--------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Beggar's Inn | 6 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 58               |
| Johnstown    | 1 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 59 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Urlingford   | 1 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 61 $\frac{1}{2}$ |

|                               |                 |                   |
|-------------------------------|-----------------|-------------------|
| Longford Pats, Tippe-rary | 2               | 63 $\frac{1}{2}$  |
| Ballynmoreen                  | 5 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 68 $\frac{3}{4}$  |
| Cashell                       | 5               | 76 $\frac{1}{4}$  |
| Goolden                       | 3 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 80 $\frac{1}{4}$  |
| Thomastown                    | 1 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 81 $\frac{1}{4}$  |
| Tipperary                     | 4 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 86 $\frac{1}{4}$  |
| Ballymanlagh                  | 5 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 91 $\frac{1}{2}$  |
| Knocklong, Limerick           | 5 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 97 $\frac{1}{4}$  |
| Kilmallock                    | 6               | 103 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Charleville, Cork             | 4 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 108               |

One Mile from Emo Inn, on the L. is Morett, the Seat of Mr. Fitzgerald; near the Ruins of a Castle and a Mile further is Ratheen, that of Mr. Burditt.

Two Miles from Emo Inn on the R. is Shean Castle, the Seat of the Rev. Dean Coote; and a little further, is Dylart, that of Mr. Baldwin.

Within a Mile of Maryborough, on the R. is Kilminchy, the Seat of Mr. Fitzgerald; and within half a Mile of it, on the L. is Summer-Hill, the Seat of Mr. Baldwin.

Half a Mile beyond Maryborough, on the L. is Rathleague, the superb and beautiful Seat of Sir John Parnell, Bart. and near it is Sheffield, that of Mr. Cassan, near some Castle Ruins.

Two Miles beyond Maryborough, and near a Mile from the Road, on the L. is Cullinagh, the Seat of Mr. Barrington.

A Mile to the R. of Ballyroan, is Mount Eagle, a Seat of the Bishop of Waterford; and at Ballyroan, on the L. is Rockbrook, that of Mr. Gray.

About a Mile and a half to the L. of Ballyroan, is Bland's Fort, the Seat of Mr. Bland; and a Mile further, Barnet's-Crove, that of Mr. Barnet.

Within a Mile of Ballynakill, on the L. is Heywood, the Seat of Mr. Trench.

Four Miles beyond Ballyroan, on the R. is Abbey-Leix, a noble and delightful Seat of Lord Viscount De Vesci; a Mile and a half beyond which is Lisbigney, the Seat of Mr. Horan.

Within a Mile and a half of Durrow, on the R. is Dunmore, the fine Seat of Sir Robert Staples, Bart. and within a Mile of Durrow, on the L. is Castle-Wood, the Seat of the Revd. Dr. Candler, situated near the River Norc.

At Durrow, on the R. is Castle-Durrow, the magnificent Seat of Lord Viscount Ashbrooke.

A Mile from Durrow, on the L. is Capan Island, the Seat of Mr. Lawrence; and on the R. are Derrin and Edmondbury, the Seats of Mr. Palmer, and Mr. Butler.

Two Miles and a Quarter from Durrow, on the R. are the Ruins of a Castle; and near a Mile farther, on the L. more Ruins.

Within half a Mile of Beggar's Inn, on the L. is Ralogan, the Seat of Mr. Vickers; and a little beyond, is Ballypeilán Spa, famous for its chalybeate and mineral Waters.

A Mile to the R. of Johnstown is Fox-Court, the noble Seat, with ample Demesnes, of Mr. Hely.

Within a Mile of Urlingford, on the L. is Mary-Mount, the Seat of Mr. Neville; and a Mile beyond Urlingford, are the Ruins of two Castles, situated near the Summit of a lofty Hill.

On the R. of Longford Pass, are the Ruins of a Castle; and two Miles farther, on the L. are those of a Church.

At Ballymoreen, on the L. is the Seat of Mr. Baker, near the Ruins of a Castle.

A Mile beyond Ballymoreen, on the L. is Parke's-Town, the Seat of Mr. Lanphier; and near it, on either Side, are Ruins of Castles.

Within three Miles of Cashell, on the L. is New-Park, the very superb Seat of Mr. Pennefather; and on the R. is Grange, the Seat of Mr. Alleyne.

At Cashell, on the R. are the Ruins of the famous Rock of Cashell; and half a Mile beyond, on the R. is the Seat of Mr. Judkin.

Within a Mile of Goolden, on the R. is Ballygriffin, a fine Seat of the Earl Clanwilliam; and a Mile and a half to the L. is Suire Castle, that of Lord Massey, with large and beautiful Demesnes.

At Thomas-Town, on the L. is a most magnificent and beautiful Edifice, with very extensive Parks and Plantations the Seat of Lord Landaff.

On the L. of Tipperary, is the Seat of the Revd. Dr. Baker.

Three Miles beyond Tipperary, on the R. is Damer's-Court, the very noble and beautiful Seat of Lord Milton; and near two Miles beyond is Moore's-Fort, the Seat of Mr. Moore.

Near Ballymanlagh, on the R. is the Seat of Mr. Wheeler; and on the L. are the Seats of Mr. Brasier and Mr. Bennet.

Within a Mile of Knocklong, on the L. is Castle-Jane, the fine Seat of Mr. Ryves.

Half a Mile beyond Knocklong, on the R. is Elton, the Seat of Mr. Grady; and within two Miles of Kilmallock, on the L. are the Ruins of a Castle; and near them is Mount-Coote, the pleasant Seat of Mr. Coote.

A little beyond Kilmallock, on the R. is Ash-Hill, the Seat of Mr. Coote; and about a Mile further, Ballymacana, that of Mr. Hefernan.

Two Miles and a half beyond Kilmallock, on the R. is Mount-Blakeney, the Seat of Mr. Blakeney; and a Mile further are the Ruins of Cragane-Castle.

Within a Mile of Charleville, on the L. is Maiden-Hall, the Seat of Mr. Boucher; and on the L. of Charleville are the Ruins of a Castle.

To Tipperary, by Thurles.

|                                   |                  |                  |
|-----------------------------------|------------------|------------------|
| Longford Pass, as in }p. 138. | —                | 63 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Thurles                           | 7                | 70 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Dundrum                           | 10 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 81 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Tipperary                         | 6 $\frac{1}{2}$  | 87 $\frac{3}{4}$ |

On the R. of Thurles is the fine Seat of Mr. Matthew.

Three Miles beyond Thurles, on the L. are large Ruins of a Castle; and three Miles and a half further, on the L. is Lanesborough, the Seat of Mr. Lane.

Dundrum is the superb and elegant Seat of Sir Cornw. Maude, Bart.

One Mile beyond Dundrum, on the L. close to the Road Side, is Dundrum Church; and near a Mile further, and a Mile on the R. are the Ruins of a Castle; and at half a Mile Distance more Ruins.

Three Miles and a half beyond Dundrum, and half a Mile on the L. is Mount-William, the Seat of Mr. Bunbury.

Within two Miles of Tipperary, on the R. is Greenane, the Seat of Nicholas S. Mansergh, Esq.

To Kilworth, by Tipperary.

|                            |                 |                   |                  |
|----------------------------|-----------------|-------------------|------------------|
| Tipperary, by Ca/b- | }               | —                 | 86 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| ell , as in p. 113, |                 |                   |                  |
| Mitchell's Town            | 16              | 102 $\frac{1}{4}$ |                  |
| Kilworth                   | 5 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 107 $\frac{3}{4}$ |                  |

Two Miles from Tipperary, on the R. is Roesborough, the Seat of Mr. Sadler; and a Mile further, is Damer's-Court, the magnificent Seat of Lord Milton.—Nearly opposite to it is Mount Brui, the Seat of Mr. Dogherty.

Seven Miles from Tipperary, close to Galbally-Bridge, on the L. are the Ruins of a Castle.

From this Bridge to Mitchell's-Town, great Part of the Country is a rich grazing Tract; but from near Galbally to the Galty Mountain, there are large Spaces of flat Lands, covered with Heath and Furze. The Road leads immediately at the Foot of the Galties, which form the most romantic Boundary imaginable: The Sides are almost perpendicular, and reach a Height, which, piercing the Clouds, seem formed rather for the Boundaries of two conflicting Empires, than the Property of private Person. The Variety of the Scenery exhibited by these Mountains is great. The Road, after passing some Miles parallel with them, turns over a Hill, a Continuation of their Chain, and commands an oblique View of their Southern Side, which has much more Variety than the Northern: It looks down at the same Time upon a long Plain, bounded by these and other Mountains, several Rivers winding through it, which join in the Centre near Mitchell's Town.

Within four Miles of Mitchell's Town, on the L. is Paradise Lodge, the Seat of Mr. Mansergh.

At Mitchell's Town, on the R. is the very magnificent Seat of Lord Kingsborough, with noble and fine Domains. It is a very large Edifice, beautifully situated on a bold Rock, the Edge of a Declivity, at the Bottom of which is a River, and commanding a large Tract of Country, with a fine Boundary of Mountain, a Quadrangle of Offices, a Garden of five English Acres, surrounded with a Wall, Hot-Houses, &c.

There is a Cave at Skeheewrinky, on Lord Kingsborough's Estate, on the Road between Mitchell's Town and Cahier, that merits Notice. The Opening to it is a Cleft of Rock in a Limestone Hill, so narrow that it is difficult to get into it. You descend by a Ladder of about twenty Steps, and are then in a Vault of a hundred Feet long, and fifty or sixty high. A small Hole on the left leads from this a winding Course of not less than half a Mile, exhibiting a Variety equally pleasing and astonishing. In some Places the Cavity in the Rock is so large, that when well lighted up by Candles, it takes the Appearance of a vaulted Cathedral, supported by massy Columns. The Walls, Cieling, Floor, and Pillars are by Turns composed of every fantastic Form; and often, of very curious Incrustations of Spar, some of which glitters so much, that it seems powdered with Diamonds, and in others the Cieling is formed of that Sort which has so near a Resemblance to a Cauliflower. The Spar, formed into Columns by the Dropping of Water, has taken some very regular Forms; but others are different, folded in Plaits of light Drapery, which hang from their Support in a very pleasing Manner. The Angles of the Walls seem fringed with Icicles. One very long Branch of the Cave, which turns to the North, is in some Places so narrow and low, that one crawls into it, when it suddenly breaks into large vaulted Spaces, in a thousand Forms. The Spar in all this Cave is very brilliant, and almost equal to Bristol Stone. For several hundred Yards in the larger Branch, there is a deep Water at the Bottom of the Declivity to the Right, which the common People call the River. A Part of the Way is over a Sort of Potter's Clay, which may be moulded into any Form, and is of a brown Colour; a very different Soil from any in the neighbouring Country.—See an Account of the famous Cave of Dunmore some Pages forwards.

Two Miles beyond Mitchell's Town, on the R. is Ballybeg, the Seat of Mr. Spratt, pleasantly situated at the Foot of a lofty Mountain; and about a Mile beyond, on the R. are the Ruins of a Castle.

At Kilworth is Moore-Park, the superb and noble Seat of Lord Viscount Mount-Cashell.

DUBLIN to Clogheen, by Cashell.

|                                  |                 |                  |
|----------------------------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Cashell , as in Page 138. | —               | 76 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| New Inn                          | 4 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 81               |
| Cahier                           | 4 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 85 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Clogheen                         | 6 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 91 $\frac{3}{4}$ |

* See another Road to Clogheen, Page 147.

Three Miles from Cashell, on the R. is Rockwell, the Seat of Andrew Roe, Esq; and a Mile farther, on the L. are the Ruins of two Castles.

A Mile and a half beyond the New Inn, on the L. close to the Road, are the Ruins of a Church; and three Quarters of a Mile further, on the R. is Kedragh, the Seat of Mr. Robins.

Within a Mile and a half of Cahier, on the L. near the Foot of a high Hill, is Keyling, the Seat of Mr. Butler; and near Cahier, on the R. on the opposite Banks of the River Suire, are the Ruins of a Castle.

Cahier is a small, but neat Town, the Property of Lord Cahier, who has a very fine Seat in it, on the Banks of the River Suire. The Demesne belonging to his Lordship is very extensive, and extremely well cultivated. The Author of "Travels through Europe, Asia, and Africa," a perfect Stranger to Ireland, that had lately returned from the East-Indies, having landed at Crook-Haven, was travelling to Dublin, in his Road to London, and expressed himself greatly surprized at the uncultivated and desert State of the Country he was passing through; but coming within a few Miles of Cahier, and observing the Scene totally changed, he observed, that from the Character he had heard of Lord Cahier, he should imagine those highly improved and fertile Lands he then beheld, belonged to his Lordship. On Enquiry, he found this Conjecture, so honourable to the noble Peer, and so expressive of his own Discernment, perfectly just.

A Mile and a half beyond Cahier, on the L. is Kilcommon, the Seat of Mr. Keating.

Three Miles beyond Cahier, and about a Mile to the L. are the Ruins of a Castle.

Within three Miles of Clogheen, on the L. is Ballyoughan, a Seat of Sir Henry Cavendish, Bart. and on the R. Burgels, that of Mr. Allop.

Nearly opposite to Mr. Allop's Seat, is Tubred Church; a Mile beyond which, on the R. is Ballymasny, the Seat of Mr. Prendergast.

DUBLIN to Clonmell, by Urlingford.

|                           |                 |                  |
|---------------------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Urlingford, as in p. 137. | —               | 61 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Killynaule                | 11              | 72 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Fethard, Tipperary        | 5 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 77 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Clonmell *                | 6 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 83               |

* The direct Road to Clonmell is in Page 147.

Two Miles from Urlingford, on the R. is Liberty Green, the Seat of Mr. Carney; and near a Mile further, on the L. is Kilcooly, a very fine Seat of Sir William Barker, Bart.

Near Kilcooly, situated at the Foot of a Hill, are the Ruins of an Abbey; and a Mile beyond, on the R. the Ruins of a Castle.

One Mile on the R. of these Ruins, is Ulick, the Seat of Mr. Morres; and near to the Road, on the R. is Littlefield, the seat of Mr. Cooke.

A Mile beyond Littlefield, on the L. are the Ruins of a Castle; and a Mile further, is Point's-Town, the Seat of William Cooke, Esq;

Within three Miles of Killynaule, on the L. are the Ruins of a Church; on the R. is Glengowle, the Seat of Mr. Hunt; and about half a Mile further, Lane-Park, that of I. Hamilton Lane, Esq;

A Mile and a half beyond Killynaule, on the L. is Upham, the Seat of the Rev. Samuel Ryall; near which are the Ruins of a Castle.

Two Miles and a half from Killynaule, and about half a Mile on the L. to which there is a Road, is St. Johnstown, the Seat of Mr. Jacob; and a Mile beyond, on the R. is Coolmore, that of Mr. Sankey.

A Mile from Coolmore, on the L. close to the Road, are the Ruins of a Castle; and a Mile distant, on the L. are Ruins of another Castle.

On the L. of Fethard, about a Mile, is the Seat of William Barton, Esq; and a Mile beyond Fethard, on the L. is Knockbrack, that of Mr. Letham.

Near two Miles beyond Fethard, on the L. is the Seat of Mr. Hacket; and a Mile and a half further, on the R. are the Ruins of a Castle, amidst a fine Plantation of Trees.

Within three Miles of Clonmell, and a Mile to the L. of the Road, is Kilmore, the Seat of John Bagwell, Esq.

On the Right of the Turnpike, within two Miles of Clonmell, are the Ruins of two Castles, a Quarter of a Mile distant from each other.

Clonmell is situated on the River Suir, is the Affize Town of the County, hath a Barrack for two Troops of Horse, and is governed by a Mayor, Recorder, Bailiffs, and Town-Clerk.

DUBLIN to Cork and Baltimore.

|                    |                 |                  |
|--------------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Racool             |                 | 7 $\frac{3}{4}$  |
| Johnstown, Kildare | 5 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 13 $\frac{1}{2}$ |

|                               |                  |                  |
|-------------------------------|------------------|------------------|
| Naas                          | 2                | 15 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Nineteen-Mile House           | 4 $\frac{1}{2}$  | 20               |
| Kilcullen-Bridge              | 1                | 21               |
| Timolin                       | 8 $\frac{3}{4}$  | 29 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Castledermot                  | 4                | 33 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Carlow, Co. Carlow            | 5 $\frac{1}{4}$  | 39               |
| Leighlin-Bridge               | 6                | 45               |
| Royal Oak                     | 2                | 47               |
| KILKENNY, * Co. }Kilkenny | 10 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 57 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Callen                        | 8                | 65 $\frac{1}{2}$ |

Or by Gowran and Bennet's Bridge, a Mile shorter.

|                                 |                  |                   |
|---------------------------------|------------------|-------------------|
| Nine-Mile House, }Tipperary | 5 $\frac{1}{4}$  | 70 $\frac{3}{4}$  |
| Clonmell                        | 11               | 81 $\frac{3}{4}$  |
| Clogheen                        | 11 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 93 $\frac{3}{4}$  |
| Kilworth, Cork                  | 11 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 105 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Rathcormuck                     | 6 $\frac{1}{4}$  | 111               |
| CORK †                          | 13 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 124 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Bandon                          | 13 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 137 $\frac{1}{2}$ |

Or by Innishonan, a Quarter of a Mile longer.

|              |                 |                   |
|--------------|-----------------|-------------------|
| Clonekilty   | 9               | 146 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Ros          | 6               | 152 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Skibbereen † | 9 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 161 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Baltimore    | 6 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 168               |

* See another Road to Kilkenny, Page 159.

† See another Road to Cork, hereafter.

‡ See another Road to Skibbereen, hereafter.

For Remarks on the Road from Dublin to Naas, see Page 103.

One Mile from Naas on the L. is the Seat of Mr. Graydon; and on the R. Lady-Town, the Seat of Lord Viscount Allen.—On the L. of Lady-Town is Killyshee Church.

Within a Mile and a half of Kilcullen-Bridge, on the L. is Sallad-Hill, the Seat of Mr. Gaffiny.

At Kilculen-Bridge, on the R. is Castle-Martin, the Seat of Captain Carter; and near it are the Ruins of a Castle. On the L. of the Bridge, is New-Abbey, the Seat of Mr. Hobson.

At Old Kilcullen there is a pretty Church, on the L. of the Road, on a Hill, with a Round Tower; half its original Height. This Town, though now mean, was formerly very large, and surrounded with a Wall.

On the R. of Old Kilcullen, is Ballysax, the Seat of Mr. Annesley; and a Mile to the L. Giltown, the noble and beautiful Seat of Sir Kildare Dixon Burrowes, Bart.

A Mile beyond Old Kilcullen, on the L. is Castlefish, the Seat of Mr. Croiton; and 2 Miles from Castlefish, on the R. is Ballyshannon, the Seat of Sir Roger Palmer, Bart. and Calverstown, that of Mr. Cuffe.

Near a Mile from Calverstown, on the R. are the Ruins of Black-Hall Castle.

Within 3 Miles of Timolin, on the R. is Narraghmore, the magnificent Seat of Mr. Keating. The House is a spacious, lofty Building, seated on an Eminence, which commands an extensive and beautiful Prospect of Mountains, Hills, and Vallies, diversified with several Rivulets.

From Narraghmore you descend to a Vale; when within a Mile of Timolin, you come to a Variety of neat Houses, through a Road that looks like a fine Terrace-Walk. This Place is called Ballytore, and lies a little to the R. The River Griffe winds its Stream very near the Houses; and the Buildings, Orchards, and Gardens shew an elegant Simplicity that characterises its Owners, who are Quakers. Their Burying-Ground near the Road, is surrounded with different Trees. The Hedges that inclose their Meadows and Fields are Quickset, kept of an equal Height, and at the Distance of every ten Yards Trees regularly pierce through them, forming beautiful Groves of a large Extent.

Timolin has little to recommend it, except its Situation, a neat Church upon a rising Ground, and a very good Inn.

A little beyond Timolin, on the R. is Moone, the Seat of Mr. Yeates.

Two Miles beyond Timolin, on the R. is Belan, a beautiful Seat of the Earl of Aldborough, with very fine and extensive Demelnes and Plantations; and on the L. at the Foot of the Hill, is Boulton, the Seat of Mr. Higginbotham.

Three Miles from Timolin, on the R. is Ballyvas, the Seat of Mr. Lewis.

At Castle-Dermot, on the R. are the Ruins of a Castle; and on the L. a little beyond the Town is the Charter School.

Castle-Dermot was formerly a large fortified Town, and the Residence of the Kings who bore the name of Dermot. It was sacked and plundered by Bruce, in 1316. The Town is situated on a Flat, and surrounded with a fine level Country for several Miles. There are here the Ruins of a fine Franciscan Abbey, founded by Gerald, Earl of Kildare, about the Middle of the thirteenth Century. It is large and spacious, and the Remains shew it to have been magnificent, particularly one of its Windows, two of the Ailes, and some of the octagon Pillars, which still preserve the Outlines of ancient Grandeur and Elegance. In the Year 1377 a Parliament was held here, and there was a Mint to coin Money. The Inn is part of the Parliament-House. The Body of the Church is now turned into a Five's-Court.—How changeable are all sublunary Things! Where Orators hurled the Thunders of Eloquence, blasting the Sons of Corruption, or Senators strewed choice Flowers of Rhetoric, to feast the Senses of their Hearers; now noisy Landlords usurp Dominion, or as noisy and hungry Travellers feast their Appetites on more substantial Food than Tropes and Metaphors: And where Priests preached, or People prayed, now idle Fellows play at ball.

Near a Mile beyond Castle-Dermot, on the L. is Barnhill, the Seat of Mr. Thornburn; and half a Mile further, on the R. is Prumple's-Town, that of the Revd. Mr. Hill.

Three Miles from Castle-Dermot, and three Quarters of a Mile to the R. is Burton-Hall, the fine Seat of William Burton, Esq. The Avenue that leads to this beautiful House is at least an English Mile long, and the Breadth large. On each Side is a far extended Wood, cut out with Variety of Vistas. The House is built on an Eminence, which has a gradual Ascent.—The Gardens are spacious, and well planted. Behind lies a beautiful Park of near two hundred Acres, circled with a Stone Wall nine Feet high, and well stocked. The fine Villa here is terminated by a Statue of a Gladiator. The Wood in this spacious Park upon any memorable Occasion is illuminated. The beautiful Cascade is adorned with elegant Statues, some of which are Originals, brought from Italy.—The Hall is spacious, and built on a little River that divides the Counties of Carlow and Kildare, so that the Table stands in thole two Counties.

Half a Mile from Burton-Hall, on the R. near the Road, is Paine's-Town, the fine Seat of Mr. Cooke.

One Mile further, on the L. is Pollerton, the Seat of Sir Charles Burton, Bart. and half a Mile further to the L. Browne's-Hill, the Seat of Robert Browne, Esq.

Carlow is pleasantly situated on the River Barrow. It hath a Horse-Barrack, and gives now the Title of Baron to the noble Family of Fane, Earl of Westmoreland, as it gave that of Marquis to the Duke of Wharton. It makes a very chearful Appearance at a Distance, from the Number of white Houses scattered up and down in its Neighbourhood; nor is the Traveller disappointed when he enters it, there being a Cleanliness and Neatness in the Streets, superior to most Towns in the Kingdom. They have a Manufacture here of a coarse Kind of Woollen Cloth, and are concerned in supplying the adjacent Parts with Coals from Kilkenny. On an Eminence, overhanging the River, stands an old Castle, of an oblong square Area, with large round Towers at each of its Angles. There are also in Carlow the Ruins of a very fine Abbey, built about 634, whose Founder was buried there, and gave Name to the Structure. Near it is a small Protestant Church, but full large for its Congregation.

Up the River from Carlow the Landscape is highly picturesque; and downward for eight Miles along its Banks, to Leighlin Bridge, the Ride is delightful. At a due Distance the Grounds swell gradually into Mountains, which from their Feet to their Mid-sides, are covered with Woods; and to enliven the Prospect, the interjacent Tract is sprinkled with several little, white Villas, neatly planted around.

A Mile beyond Carlow, on the R. is Spring-Hill, the Seat of Mr. Cramer; and a Mile further, on the L. Bellmont, the Seat of Nicholas Gordon, Esq; situated on the Banks of the Barrow.

Four Miles and a Quarter beyond Carlow, on the R. is Clogrennan-Lodge, a Seat of John Rochfort, Esq; and a Mile further, Fonthill, that of Colonel Tucker.

At Leighlin Bridge, on the L. is the Seat of Mr. Stewart.

At the East End of the Church of Old Leighlin, there is a famous Well, covered with many great Ash Trees, dedicated to St. Lafarien. It is much frequented by the Natives, who come from all Parts of the Kingdom to it; and the Water is held so sacred, that none dare be so bold as to drink of it in asserting a Lie for a Truth. It is believed by the common People, that if taken in a Falshood, it will gush out of the Navel, and the Party will waste away to Death; but superstitious Credulity like this need only be mentioned to judicious People to be exposed.

A Mile beyond Leighlin Bridge, on the L. is Killanane, the Seat of Mr. Mercer. On the L. of the Royal Oak is Moneybeg, the Seat of Mr. Mercer.—The Flour Mill is near his House.

Near two Miles from the Royal Oak, on the R. is Shanakill, the Seat of Mr.

Aldward; Kelly-Mount, the Seat of Mils Kelly; and Mount Roth, that of Mrs. Roth.

Near three Miles from the Royal Oak, on the L. is Paul's-Town, the Seat of Mr. Flood; and a Mile further Butler's-Grove, that of Mr. Roth.

At Gowran, on the R. is the Seat of Clayton Bayley, Esq; and on the L. a beautiful Seat of Lord Clifden, with ample and beautiful Demaines.

Two Miles beyond Gowran, on the R. is Clashwilliam, the Seat of Mr. Blunt; and within three Miles of Kilkenny, on the R. is Temple-Martin, that of Wheeler Cuffe, Esq;

Within one Mile of Kilkenny, on the L. are the Seats of Mr. Blunt, Mr. Cooke, Mr. Hunt, and the Rev. Mr. Candler.

Not far from Kilkenny, on the Estate of Mr. Butler, is the famous Cave of Dunmore, near the Ruins of Dunmore House, which House was formerly the Habitation of the Duke of Ormond.—The Passage into it is down a square Hole, or rather Precipice, upwards of sixty Feet deep by twelve wide; at the Bottom thereof is the Mouth of the Cave, which is but low, arched with Rocks, seemingly dropping on one's Head, where from a Number of Petrifications, like Icicles, there falls a vast Quantity of Drops of limpid Water, which also petrify into clear chrystal Lumps upon the Rocks whereon they fall; they are white, and nearly transparent. From this Entrance, by the Help of Flambeaux, you turn to the Left, and descend over a Multitude of Rocks. Here you behold a broken and interrupted Scene, made up of an infinite Variety of Inequalities, or Rocks over Head, some threatening Desolation on the Spot, whilst others seem to be more fixed and secure. This amazing and difficult Meander over Rocks and Precipices, leads you on for about a Quarter of a Mile, when you are agreeably entertained by the Murmurings of a subterraneous River, which rolling over rumbling Stones, and falling over Rocks, forms a strange Kind of Noise in that hollow Cavern; but how far it extends, none has been so bold as to attempt discovering. See an Account of the Cave at Skehecwrinky, Page 142.

Kilkenny is one of the most elegant Towns, or Cities, in the Kingdom. It is the Seat of the Bishop of Ossory; and the adjacent Territory is a County in itself. The Cathedral is a fine old Gothic Structure. The Castle, formerly the chief Seat of the Duke of Ormond, is a large and noble Pile, standing on the Bank of the River Barrow; which Family built and endowed a free School in this City, and a noble Structure called the College, for the Education of Youth. Here are Barracks for a Troop of Horse, and four Companies of Foot. The Inhabitants boast that they have Fire without Smoak, Earth without Bog, Water without Mud, and Air without Fog; and that their Streets are paved with Marble. There are the Ruins of three old Monasteries here, called St. John's, St. Francis's, and the Black Abbey. St. John's has great Elegance, and amazing Lightness in the Style of the Building. Belonging to this Abbey are the Remains of several old Monuments, almost buried in the Ruins. St. Francis's has little remaining, except the Tower. But the Black Abbey is a magnificent Remain; the Windows are exquisitely curious; and the Architraves in the outside Cornice under the Parapet, are very expressive of their Origin. Of this spacious Ruin, two of the Steeples are almost entire.—One of the old Churches is converted into a Malt House, as the Courts of two of the Abbeys are changed into Barracks, St. Francis's for Horse, and St. John's for Foot. How different are the Establishments of different Potentates at different Periods! The Pope's Barracks in Ireland were once filled with old Fellows, with shaven Crowns, and without Shirts, but clothed in long sweaty Gowns, of black, and white, and grey. The King now fills his Convents with young Fellows, wearing long Hair, fine Linen Shirts, and Scarlet Jackets, lined with all the Colours of the Rainbow.

A little beyond Kilkenny, on the R. is Kilcreen, the Seat of Sir William Morres, Bart. and Castle-Blunden, the Seat of Sir John Blunden, Bart.

Near two Miles beyond Kilkenny, on the L. is Goffin's-Town, the Seat of Mr. Burton; and on the R. Teina-Park, that of Mr. Heron.—Half a Mile further, on the R. are the Ruins of Castle-Inch.

Three Miles from Kilkenny, on the R. is Grange, the Seat of Mr. Shearman; also Grange, that of Mr. Purcel.

Four Miles and a half from Kilkenny, on the L. is Farmlly, the fine Seat of Henry Flood, Esquire; and near it are the Ruins of Burnchurch.

Within two Miles and a half of Callen, on the L. is Ballymack, the Seat of Mr. Flood; and a Mile from it, on the R. is Defart, the superb Seat of Lord Defart, with fine Demesnes.

Within a Mile and a half of Callen, on the L. are the Ruins of Eve Castle; and on the R. of Callen, is West-Court, the Seat of Mr. Galway.

Three Miles beyond Callen, on the L. is Garryricken, a noble and beautiful Seat of Walter and John Butler, Esq.

Half a Mile beyond the Nine-Mile House, on the L. are the Ruins of a Church.

Four Miles beyond the Nine-Mile House, on the L. is Kilcashi, the fine Seat of Mr. Butler; and two Miles and a half further, on the R. are the Ruins of Ballyglashin Castle.

Within three Miles of Clonmell, on the R. is Kilmore, the Seat of John Bagwell, Esq; and near it is Newtown, a Seat of Sir Thomas Osborne, Bart. and Redmond's-Town, that of Mr. Magrath.

Within a Mile of Clonmell, on the R. is the Charter-School.

Clonmell hath a manufacture of Woollens carried on in it, but not very considerable. This Town is noted for being the Birth-place of the inimitable Sterne. See a further Account, Page 145.

About a Mile on the R. of Clonmell, is Chancellor's-Town, the Seat of Mr.

Moore; and near it Barn, that of Thomas Moore, Esq.

Two Miles beyond Clonmell, on the R. are the great Flour-Mills, built by the late Stephen Moore, Esq; near them is New-Abbey, the Seat of Mr. Markham; and on the L. on the opposite Side of the River Suire, is Kilnamack, the Seat of Mr. Greene.

Three Miles from Clonmell, on the L. situated on the Banks of the Suire, is Knocklotty, a Seat of the Right Honourable John Hely Hutchinson; and near it, on the other Side of the River, is Kilmanahan, the Seat of Mr. Greene.

Near two Miles from Knocklotty, on the R. are the Ruins of Ballindinny Castle. There are also Ruins of two Castles at Ardennan, two Miles further; and a Mile beyond the, on the L. are the Ruins of Ladies Abbey.

Within three Miles and a Quarter of Clogheen, on the L. is Kaldunoge, the Seat of Mr. Tilton; and near it, is Kilgrouge, that of Mr. Clutterbuck.

Near a Mile beyond Clogheen, on the L. close to the Road, is Shanrahan Church; and a Mile to the R. is Shanbally, the fine Seat of Cornelius O'Callaghan, Esq.

At Kilworth, on the L. situated near the River Blackwater, is Moor-Park, the beautiful Seat of the Earl of Mount-Cashell.

At Fermoy (which is two Miles and a half from Kilworth) is Rath-bely, the Seat of Mr. Bryan.

On the R. of Rathcormuck, is the fine Seat of Lord Riverdale; and on the L. Kilshanick, that of Abraham Devonther, Esq.

Three Miles beyond Rathcormuck, on the R. are the Ruins of Mount-Catharine; and two Miles beyond, is Bishops Island, the Seat of Mr. Mitchell; and a Mile further, on the L. is Mitchell's Fort, the Seat of Mr. Mitchell.

Cork is a Port Town, situated on the River Lee, and is looked on as the second City in Ireland. It is the See of a Bishop, and governed by a Mayor, Recorder, and Sheriffs; its Harbour is one of the finest in Europe. It hath the largest Export in the Kingdom, particularly of Beef, Hides, Tallow, Butter, Fish, and other Provisions. It is partly situated on several Islands, formed by the River Lee, which are banked and quayed in, somewhat like the Towns in Holland; and partly on rising Grounds, on the North and South Sides of the River. The Earl of Marlborough besieged and took it from King James's Army, in 1690; when the Duke of Grafton, who served as a Volunteer, was slain in an Attack. It contains about 8,600 Houses, and upwards of 70,000 Inhabitants. It hath twelve Companies of Foot quartered in the Barracks.—In the Reign of Edward IV. there were eleven Churches in Cork; now there are but seven; yet it has ever since that Period, been a thriving City; and in the Memory of Man, it is said to have been doubled. The State of Population, however, cannot be ascertained from the Number of Churches. If our Ancestors had not more Religion than we have, they were certainly more addicted to building of Churches.

The Outlets of Cork are cheerful and pleasant. The Country around the City, on both Sides the River, is hilly and picturesque; and the Harbour, called the Cove, is one of the best in the World; the Entrance is safe, and the whole Navy of England might ride in it, secure from every Wind that blows. Ships of Burden, however, are obliged to unload at Passage, five Miles and a half from Cork, the Channel not admitting Vessels of above 150 Tuns.

Six Miles West of Cork, upon the E. of the River Bride, are a vast Number of subterraneous Caverns, composed of great Pillars, supporting large Arches of Limestone Rocks. The first Entrance appears as if it was the Work of Art; but upon serious Consideration, it is found to be all natural. It is reported, that they lead from one Chamber to another, to Kellygraham Castle; but how agreeable that is to Truth, I pretend not to determine. In some Places the Entrance is so low, as to oblige one to creep upon the Belly, but the Arch suddenly rises from six to ten Feet high; the Tops and Sides of which are smooth, as if polished by the Hands of Workmen. What is more surprising, the Limestone Rocks emit great Cakes of natural Lime, easily to be taken from the Stones.

One Mile beyond Cork, on the L. is Glasheen, the Seat of Mr. Cusford; and on the L. Summer's-Town, that of Mr. Parks: And near it, on the L. is Willtown, the Seat of Mr. Izod; Doughtone, the Seat of Dr. Sarfield; and Graan darough, that of the Revd. Mr. Carey.

Two Miles and a half from Cork, on the R. is Ballynalpeg, a fine Seat of the Bishop of Cork and Ross; and on the L. Chetwynd, the Seat of Mr. Pigot.

Three Miles from Cork, on the L. is Rochford's Town, the Seat of Mr. Whyte; and a Mile further, Waterfall, that of Mr. Austin.

Five Miles from Cork, on the R. are the Ruins of a once noble and magnificent Abbey, seated near a fine Plantation of Trees.

Within five Miles of Bandon, on the L. is Anagh, the Seat of Mr. Barter; and two Miles further is Brinie, that of Mr. Nash.

At Innishonan, on the R. is the Seat of Mr. Travers; and near it, that of Thomas Adderley, Esq.

Bandon was built in 1610, by Richard Boyle, the first Earl of Cork, with Walls and Fortifications, two Churches, and two Market-Houses. The Irish demolished the Walls in 1689; for which, by a standing Bye-Law of the Corporation, no Papist can dwell in the Town.

A Mile beyond Bandon, on the L. is Roundhill, the Seat of Mr. Travers; and opposite to it, Castle-Bernard, that of Mr. Bernard.

Two Miles and a half from Bandon, on the R. is Knocknaville, the Seat of Mr. Poole.

Within two Miles of Clonekilty, on the L. is Knocknafoney, the Seat of Mr. Stole; and half a Mile further, on the R. Coalwood, that of Mr. Harris.

Within half a Mile of Clonekilty, on the L. is Mount-Shannon, the Seat of Dr. Calnan.

Clonekilty is situated near the Sea, which affords it more Pleasure than Profit; the Mouth of the Harbour being choaked with Sand, prevents Vessels of Burthen from coming up to the Town. It is built in the Form of a Cross; and here is a tolerable good Church, situated on a rising Ground. Before the Wars of 1641, it was a flourishing Place; but being then burnt down, it has never thoroughly recovered itself.

Within a Mile of Rois, on the R. is Cahirmore, the Seat of Mr. Hungerford.

Rois is a small Town, and together with Cork forms the See of a Bishop. The Cathedral is a small neat Gothic Structure, the Choir of which is more modern; the Stalls are newly erected, and neat and well disposed. In the South Wing is a handsome Chapter Room. Here is a small square Steeple, battlemented on the Top. The Church-yard is washed by an Arm of the Sea, that flows up to the Town, and is prettily planted with Trees. The Harbour was formerly, according to Camden, navigable for Ships, but it was in his Time quite choaked up with Sand; and it is now so shallow, that no Vessel can come up to the Town, in which is a good Foot Barrack, and a small Market-House. Near the Cathedral, a few Years since were discovered several subterraneous Chambers.

About a Mile West of Rois are two remarkable great Holes in the Earth, eighty Yards deep, and each about three hundred Yards from the Cliffs, in both which the Sea flows by subterraneous Passages.

A little beyond Rois, on the R. is Derry, the Seat of Mr. Townsend; and near it, Castle-Sally, that of Mr. Morris.

A Mile and a half beyond Rois, on the L. are the Ruins of Ballyvorcen Castle; and about half a Mile on the R. is O'Barley-Hill, the Seat of Mr. Morris.

Three Miles from Rois, on the L. is Selmount, the Seat of Mr. Morris.

Within three Miles of Castle-Townsend, on the L. are the Ruins of a Castle: On the R. is Braad, the Seat of Mr. Jervis; and about half a Mile from it, on the L. is Baanlaghan, the Seat of Mr. O'Donovan.

At Castle-Townsend, is the Seat of Richard Townsend, Esq; most beautifully situated by Glandore Harbour.

Skibbereen is a small Market-Town, where the Collector, Surveyor, and other Officers of the Port of Baltimore reside. On the West Side of the River, is a new-erected Church, and in the Town a decent Market-House. The River Hen runs through the Place, over which there is a Stone Bridge, but so low, as to be sometimes overflowed with Floods. The Cloathing Trade is followed in this Place. They have also some Share of the Linen Manufactory, particularly for striped Linens, and Handkerchiefs.

Near half a Mile beyond Skibbereen, on the L. is Coronea, the Seat of Mr. Townsend; and two Miles further, on the R. is New-Court, that of Lord Riversdale.

Half a Mile beyond New-Court, on the R. is Cree, the Seat of John Becher, Esq; and near it, that of the Revd. Mr. Will.

Opposite to these Gentlemens Seats, on the Western Side of the Bay, is Aughadown, the Seat of Benjamin Boufield, Esq.

At Baltimore, are some Ruins of ancient Castles, that were once esteemed Proof against the strongest Shocks; but which now serve only as Monuments, to shew how weak, how feeble are all human Edifices, against the Teeth of all-devouring Time.

Baltimore was formerly called Dunashad. It has an excellent Harbour. It is now a poor decayed Fishing-Town, with not a good House in it. The Officers belonging to the Port residing at Skibbereen. The Church is small, and situated low, at a small Distance from the Town.

DUBLIN to Kilkenny, by Athy.

Kilcullen Bridge, as } — 21
in Page 146.

Athy } 11  $\frac{1}{2}$  32  $\frac{1}{2}$
Castlecomer, Kilkenny } 12  $\frac{1}{4}$  45  $\frac{1}{4}$
KILKENNY } 9  $\frac{1}{4}$  55

On the L. of Kilcullen Bridge, is New-Abbey, the Seat of Mr. Hoblon; and on the R. Castle Martin, that of Captain Carter; both Seats being situated on the Banks of the Liffey.

Two Miles beyond Kilcullen Bridge, and a Mile on the R. is Ballylax, the Seat of Mr. Annesley; and half a Mile further, near the Road, are the Ruins of a Castle.

Near four Miles from Kilcullen Bridge, on the R. is Ballythannon, the Seat of Sir Roger Palmer, Bart.—very near the Church; and on the L. Calverstown, the Seat of Mr. Cuffe.

A Mile further, and about a Mile on the R. is Eagle-Hill, the pleasant Seat of the Rev. Dr. Tilton; and a Mile South of it, near the Road, are the Ruins of a Castle.

Within five Miles of Athy, on the L. close to the Road, is Rosilla, the Seat of Mr. Wall; and near it, Fountstown, that of Mr. Browne, directly opposite to the Church.

One Mile further, on the R. is Young's Town, the Seat of Mr. Medlicott; and on the L. Kilmeed, that of Mr. Fitzgerald.

Within three Miles of Athy, on the L. at the Foot of a high Hill, is Ardskull, the Seat of Mr. Medlicott; and a Mile and a half further, on the L. is Fox-Hill, that of Mr. Hoystead.

At Athy, on the R. on the Banks of the Barrow, are the Ruins of Woodstock Castle.—Athy is, alternately with Naas, the Affizes Town.

Three Miles beyond Athy, and a Mile on the R. is Bally-Adams, the Seat of Mr. Butler; and near it, Rahin, that of S. Weldon, Esq.

A Quarter of a Mile from Rahin, close to the Road, is Ballylinan Church; and a Mile from it, on the R. Corbally, the Seat of Mr. Stratford.

Two Miles from Ballylinan Church, on the L. is Maidenhead, the Seat of Mr. Barnbrick; and on the R. Gracefield, that of Mr. Grace; a Mile beyond which, on the L. are the Ruins of New-Castle.

Three Miles beyond these Ruins, on the R. on both Sides the Road, are Doonane Coal Pits; whence the famous Kilkenny Coals, which burn without emitting Smoke, are dug.

Within a Mile and a half of Castlecomer, on the R. are the Ruins of a Castle, on the Banks of the Dynan.

Castlecomer is much celebrated for its Coal Pits, which produce what is commonly called Kilkenny Coal. The Pits are the Estate of John Butler, Esq; who has a very fine Seat in the Town, with extensive and beautiful Demaines.

Three Miles beyond Castlecomer, on the R. is Lillaninch, the Seat of Mr. Colles; and near it, on the opposite Side of the River Dynan, is Webbborough, that of Mr. Webb.

Five Miles and a Quarter from Castlecomer, on the R. is Jenkin's-Town, the Seat of Mr. Bryan; and two Miles beyond it are the Ruins of Dunmore Castle, situated near a large and fine Plantation of Trees, which extend two Miles, the Property of Mr. Butler. See Page 151.

For an Account of Kilkenny, see Page 152.

To Ballyragget.

Castlecomer, as in P. 159 } — 45  $\frac{1}{4}$
Ballyragget } 42  $\frac{1}{2}$  49  $\frac{3}{4}$

At Ballyragget is a Barrack, and the fine Seat of Robert Butler, Esq; with very ample and beautiful Demaines.

DUBLIN to Killarney, by Mal-low.

Clogheen, as in Page } — 93  $\frac{1}{4}$
146. } 32  $\frac{1}{2}$  96  $\frac{3}{4}$
Ballypooren } 6  $\frac{1}{4}$  103
Mitchell's-Town } 107
Kildorery }

|                           |                  |                   |
|---------------------------|------------------|-------------------|
| Doneraile          | 6                | 113               |
| Mallow             | 5 $\frac{1}{2}$  | 118 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Vill-street        | 17 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 136 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Shane's Inn, Kerry | 5 $\frac{1}{2}$  | 139 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Killarney          | 11 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 151               |

Two Miles from Clogheen, on the R. is Shanbally, the Seat of Cornelius O'Callaghan, Esq.

A Mile and a half beyond Ballypooren, on the R. are the Ruins of a Church.

Within a Mile of Mitchell's-Town, on the R. is Killshenan, the Seat of Captain King; and on the R. are the Ruins of a Castle.

At Mitchell's-Town is a most magnificent and beautiful Seat of Lord Kingsborough; and a Mile beyond this Town, and about a Mile on the L. are the Ruins of Cardringa Castle.

Two Miles from Mitchell's-Town, on the R. and seated on the Banks of the River, are the Ruins of Carriganoura Castle; and near two Miles further, is Aughacra's, the Seat of Mr. Anderson; and a Mile distant from it, on the L. is Ballyenaghan, the Seat of Mr. Walfh.

On the R. of Kildorery are the Ruins of a Castle; and a Mile beyond, is Faraghy, the Seat of Mr. Coalbowen.

Three Miles and a Quarter from Kildorery, on the L. are the Ruins of Ballynamona Castle; and half a Mile further to the L. on the opposite Side of the River, are those of Wall's-Town Castle.

Within two Miles of Doneraile, on the L. is Ballingrane, the Seat of Mr. Hennefy; and a little further, on the R. is Carker, that of Mr. Evans.

Within a Mile and a Half of Doneraile, on the L. is Larentinum, the Seat of Mr. Creagh; and on the L. of Doneraile, is the magnificent and beautiful Mansion, with extensive and noble Parks, Gardens and Demesnes, the Seat of Lord Doneraile. His House is situated on a beautiful rising Ground, which slopes down to a winding Vale, in which is a small River, accompanied by Wood: From this River, on the other Side, the Grounds, which are all Lawn, rise very boldly, and are entirely margined with Wood. From the higher Grounds the View of the House and Park is fine, especially at the Gate which opens to Kilblack; there the House is seen surrounded by very noble Woods, and a great Variety of cultivated Inclosures, intermixed with Fields and thickly-planted Hedges. Near the House is a Shrubbery, through which there are Paths that lead to different Parts of the Farm, through new Plantations, and in particular to a Cottage, whence there is a fine wooded Scene, with the Park Lawn rising above it, scattered with single Trees, and bounded by a Margin of Wood, the whole backed by distant Mountains. The Plantations and Improvements which lead to and surround this Cottage, are the Work of Lady Doneraile, and do Credit to her Taste.

Two Miles and a Half beyond Doneraile, is the Two Pot House Inn; near which, on the R. is Baltidonnell, the Seat of Mr. Foote.

Within three Miles of Mallow, on the L. is Carrig, the Seat of Mr. Frank; and about a Mile, on the L. is Rock-Forest, the fine Seat of Sir James Cotter, Bart.

On the L. of Mallow, are the Ruins of a Castle; and at Mallow is the Seat of Denham Jephson, Esq.

Mallow is situated on the River Blackwater; hath a Barrack for a Troop of Horse; and is noted for its hot Wells. There is a small Canal, with Walks on each Side, leading to the Spring, under Cover of some very noble Poplars.

On the R. of Mallow, is Annabella, the Seat of Mr. Hoare; and near it, that of Mr. Cotter.

A Mile beyond Mallow, on the R. is Quarter-Town, the Seat of Mr. Dillon; and near a Mile further, on the L. Woodfort, the Seat of Mr. Ousley; opposite to which is Kilottery, that of Mr. Macarthy.

Two Miles and a Quarter beyond Mallow, on the R. is Millfort, the Seat of Mr. Foote; near a Mile further, on the L. that of Mr. Newman; and on the R. Newberry, that of Mr. Newman.

On the North Side of the River, is Longoeville, the fine Seat of Mr. Longfield; near which are the Ruins of a Castle.

Five Miles from Mallow, and a Mile on the R. on the opposite Side of the Blackwater, is Blossom-Fort, the Seat of Mr. Wrixon; and near the Road, Lombards, the Seat of the Rev. Mr. Lombard.

Ten Miles and a Half from Mallow, on the R. is Bantyre, the Seat of Mr. Callaghan; and a Mile and a Half further, is Nashville, the Seat of Mr. Nash; near which, on the opposite Side of the Blackwater, is Knockbrack, the Seat of Mr. Gredy.

Within a Mile of Mill-Street, on the R. is Drilane, the Seat of Mr. Wallace; and a little beyond it, on the L. is Mount-Leader, the Seat of Mr. Leader.

At Mill-Street, on the R. is Coomlagane, the Seat of Mr. O'Leary.

Within a Mile of Killarney, on the R. is Park, the Seat of Mr. Cronen.

* For an Account of Killarney, see Page 126.

Another Road to Mallow.

|                           |       |                                   |
|---------------------------|-------|-----------------------------------|
| Kilworth, as in Page 146. | }   — | 104 $\frac{3}{4}$                 |
| Fermoy Bridge End *       |       | 2 $\frac{3}{4}$ 107 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Castletown Roche          |       | 7 $\frac{1}{2}$ 115               |
| Mallow                    |       | 6 $\frac{3}{4}$ 121 $\frac{3}{4}$ |

* See another Road to Fermoy, Page 170.

At Fermoy, on the R. is the Seat of Mr. Bryan.

A Mile and a Half beyond Fermoy, on the L. is Castle-Hyde, the Seat of John Hyde, Esq; and near a Mile further, is a Seat of Mr. Hyde, near the Ruins of a Castle.

Within a Mile and a Half of Castletown Roche, on the L. is Reanagh, the Seat of Mr. Neagle; and nearly opposite to it, on the R. is Killcômer, that of Mr. Groves.

On the R. of Castletown Roche, is Glenanoré, the Seat of Mr. Purcell; and a Quarter of a Mile from it, on the opposite Side of the Blackwater, are the Ruins of a Castle.

A little beyond Castletown Roche, on the R. is Ann's-Grove, the Seat of Mr. Groves.

A Mile beyond Castletown-Roche, on the L. are the Ruins of Rockwood-Castle; and half a Mile further, those of Monanamy Castle.

Half a Mile beyond these Ruins, is Ballygriffin, the Seat of Mr. Neagle; and near a Mile further, on the other Side of the Blackwater, is Ballymacmoy, the Seat of Mr. Hennefy.

DUBLIN to Macroom and Kenmare Town, formerly Nedeen.

|                       |                                    |
|-----------------------|------------------------------------|
| CORK, as in Page 146. | —   124                            |
| Oven's Inn            | 6 $\frac{1}{2}$ 130 $\frac{1}{2}$  |
| Macroom, or Macrompe  | 12 $\frac{1}{4}$ 142 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Knightbridge          | 8 $\frac{1}{4}$ 151                |
| Kilgarvan, Kerry      | 11   162                           |
| Kenmare Town          | 5 $\frac{1}{4}$ 167 $\frac{1}{4}$  |

One Mile from Cork, on the R. is Glashkeen, the Seat of Mr. Patten; and a Mile further, on the R. is Mount-Desert, the Seat of Mr. Duncombe.

Two Miles and a Quarter from Cork, on the L. is Ballynaspeg, a beautiful Seat of the Bishop of Cork and Ross; and on the R. is the Seat of Mr. Parker.

Three Miles from Cork, on the R. is Inchegaghan Church and Castle; and half a Mile further, Carrigrohan, the Seat of Mr. Colthurst.

Four Miles and a Half from Cork, on the L. near large Ruins of a Castle, is Ballincollig, the Seat of Mr. Lloyd; and near it, Greenfield, that of Mr. Carleton; and on the R. the Seat of Mr. Wetheral.

On the R. of Oven's Inn, is Surmount, the Seat of Mr. Hawks; and on the L. Grange, that of Mr. Whyte.

Two Miles beyond Oven's Inn, on the L. is Elm-Park, the Seat of the Rev. Mr. Kenney; and near it Kilcrea, that of Mr. Keefe, situated near the Ruins of a Castle and an Abbey.

Three Miles and a half beyond Oven's Inn, on the L. is Rye-Court, the Seat of Colonel Rye; and two Miles further, on the R. Forest, that of Mr. Spread.

A Mile and a half beyond Forest, on the R. is Shandingon, the Seat of Mr. Devonsher; and on the L. Kilcondie, that of Mr. Crooke.

One Mile further, on the R. is Lehenock, the Seat of Mr. Pead; and about a Mile to the L. Warren's Court, the fine Seat of Thomas Warren, Esq.

Within 2 Miles and a half of Macroom, seated on a Hill, are the Ruins of Malhangla's Castle.

One Mile beyond Macroom, on the L. is Mount-Hedges, the beautiful Seat of Colonel Eyre, pleasantly situated on the River Slaan; and near it, is Codrum, the Seat of Mr. Hutchinson.

At Knightsbridge is a Seat of Sir John Conway Colthurst, Bart.

Kilgarvan is a small, mean Place, situated in a very mountainous Country. The River Roughty hath its rise in this Parish, and runs into that of Kenmare, which is the best Land in the Barony, one Side of the Vale, through which this River glides, being a fine Lime-stone Soil, and well improved and planted.

A Mile and a Quarter beyond Kilgarvan, on the L. is Ardtully, the Seat of Mr. Orpen.

At Kenmare Town, on the R. is a House of the Earl of Shelburne, occupied by his Agent.

The Bay of Kenmare is thirty Miles long, and from nine to three broad, in which are several good Harbours.

DUBLIN to Inchegeela.

Oven's Inn, as in Page 164.

Inchegeela

|                        |
|------------------------|
| 130 $\frac{1}{2}$      |
| 17 $\frac{1}{2}$   148 |

Nine Miles and a half from Oven's Inn, on the L. is the very beautiful Seat of Thomas Warren, Esq; called Warren's Court; and four Miles further, on the L. is Cooldaniel, the Seat of Mr. Barter.—A Mile further, on the R. are the Ruins of a Castle, on a Hill.

Within two Miles of Inchegeela, on the R. is Carronageelough, the Seat of Mr. Barry, near some Ruins of a Castle; and within one Mile of Inchegeela, on the L. and on the opposite Side of the River Lee, is Carronacurragh, the Seat of Mr. Masters.

DUBLIN to Bantry.

Bandon, as in P. 146.

Inniskeane

Dunmanway

Bantry

|                  |                   |
|------------------|-------------------|
| —                | 137 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| 7                | 144 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| 6 $\frac{1}{2}$  | 151               |
| 13 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 164 $\frac{1}{4}$ |

One Mile from Bandon, on the L. pleasantly situated on the Bandon River, is Castle-Bernard, the most beautiful and delightful Seat of Mr. Bernard.

Within two Miles of Inniskeane, on the L. is the Seat of the Revd. Mr. Swan, near Desert Church; and a Mile further, on the R. close to the Road, is Palace-Ann, the Seat of Mr. Bernard.

One Mile and a half beyond Inniskeane, on the L. is Vale, the Seat of John Wade, Esq; and near a Mile further, on the R. is Connor's-Ville, that of Mr. Connor.

Two Miles and a half from Inniskeane, on the L. is Kilcockan, the Seat of George Daunt, Esq; and about a Mile and a half further are the Ruins of Ballinacurrag Castle.

Within a Mile of Dunmanway, on the R. is the Charter-School; and half a Mile from it, the fine Seat of Sir Rich. Cox, Bart.—See an Account of it hereafter.

Near a Mile beyond Dunmanway, on the R. are Ruins of a Church, situated near a fine Plantation of Trees.

Six Miles from Dunmanway, on the L. is Butler's-Gift, the Seat of Mr. O'Callaghan.

On the L. of Bantry, is Black Rack, the Seat of Mr. White; and about a Mile on the L. are the Seats of Mr. Galway, and Mr. Mellefont.

Bantry is seated at the Bottom of a very extensive Bay of the same Name, capable of containing all the Shipping in Europe. It was formerly called Ballygobbin, as also the Old Town, to distinguish it from another Settlement more to the North, called the New-Town, where Ireton, in Cromwell's Time, had a Fortification erected, with four regular Battions, which caused the Inhabitants to build near it; but when this Fort went to Decay, they returned, by Degrees, to the Old Town, called Bantry, from its being the chief Settlement of the half Barony. Some Years ago, when the Pilchards frequented this Bay, it was a thriving Town, but for Want of Employment it is greatly reduced. In many Creeks round the Bay are several Fish-Stages, (here called Palaves) for saving, preserving and salting of Pilchards, of which several Thousand Pound worth have been sent to Spain, Portugal, and Italy; but of late Years not a single Pilchard has appeared on the Coast.

Opposite to Bantry, and about two Miles distant from it, is the Island of Whidey. It is a very pleasant Spot, nearly of an oval Form, and the Soil is excellent. In it is a Deer-Park, where are both a fresh and salt Water Lake, at no great Distance from each other.

To Skibbereen, by Dunmanway.

Dunmanway, as in P. 166. } — | 151
Skibbereen } 13  $\frac{1}{4}$  | 164  $\frac{1}{4}$

Six Miles from Dunmanway, and a Mile on the R. are the Ruins of Donovan Castle.

Within a Mile and a half of Skibbereen, on the R. is Hollybrook, the Seat of John Becher, Esq; and about a Mile further to the R. is Thornhill, the Seat of Mr. Towniend.

Near Skibbereen is Coronea, the Seat of Mr. Towniend.

For an Account of Skibbereen, see Page 158.

DUBLIN to Kinfale.

CORK, as in P. 146. } — | 124  $\frac{1}{4}$
Kinfale } 11  $\frac{3}{4}$  | 136

Near two Miles from Cork, on the L. is Pouladaff, the Seat of Mr. Grey; and a little further, Ashgrove, the Seat of Mr. Williams.

Two Miles and a half from Cork, on the R. is Chetwynd, the Seat of Mr. Pigott; and near it, is Rockford-Town, that of Mr. Whyte.

Five Miles and a half from Cork, on the R. is Mount-Pleasant, the Seat of Mr. Bonwell; and two Miles further, on the L. Ballymartle, that of the Rev. Mr. Mead.

Within two Miles of Kinfale, on the R. is Ballintobber, the fine Seat of the Rev. Mr. Mead.

On the R. of Kinfale, is Balnacurragh, the Seat of Mr. Sweet.

Kinfale is seated on the River Bandon, near the Ocean, being an excellent Harbour, defended by a strong Fort, built by Charles II. The Barracks hold twelve Companies of Foot, besides a Regiment in Charles Fort.

DUBLIN to Cork, by Lillmore.

Clonmell, as in P. 146. } — | 81  $\frac{3}{4}$
Cappoquin, Waterford } 16 | 97  $\frac{3}{4}$
Lillmore } 2  $\frac{3}{4}$  | 100  $\frac{1}{2}$
Tullagh } 4 | 104  $\frac{1}{2}$
Watergrafs-Hill, Cork } 13  $\frac{1}{4}$  | 117  $\frac{3}{4}$
CORK } 8  $\frac{1}{2}$  | 126  $\frac{1}{4}$

Two Miles from Clonmell, on the R. situated on the River Suire, is Kilnamack, the Seat of Mr. Greene; and near a Mile further is Kilmanshan, that of Mr. Greene.

Three Miles and a half from Clonmell, on the L. is White's Town, the Seat of Mr. White; and a Mile and a half further, Glasna, that of Mr. Power, near the Ruins of a Castle, situated on the Four-Mile Water.

Two Miles further, on the R. are the Ruins of another Castle; and two Miles further, on the L. is Carnalega, the Seat of Mr. Power.

Within two Miles of Cappoquin, on the R. is Bettyville, the Seat of Mr. Power; and near Cappoquin, on the L. Little Bridge that of John Greene, Esq.

At Cappoquin, on the R. is Bellmont, the Seat of John Kane, Esq; and near a Mile from it Salta Bridge, that of Christopher Muirgrave, Esq.

At Lismore is the Castle belonging to the Duke of Devonshire. Here is also a fine Bridge over the Black-water River, erected by that Nobleman.

Lismore is a very antient Place, St. Carthagh, or Mochuda, having founded here an Abbey and School in the Beginning of the seventh Century, which in a short Time was much resorted to, not only by the Natives, but also by the Britons and Saxons, during the middle Ages. Lismore, we are told by an antient Writer, was in general inhabited by Monks, half of it being an Asylum into which no Woman dared enter, consisting entirely of Cells and Monasteries, the Ruin of which, with seven Churches, are yet visible. The Scite of Lismore was in the early Ages denominated Magh Sgiath, or the Chosen Field; being the Situation of a Dun or Fort of the antient Chieftains of the Decie; one of whom granted it to St. Carthagh, on his Expulsion from the Abbey of Ratheny, in Westmeath. On becoming an University, Magh Sgiath obtained the Name of Duntiginn, or the Fort of the Saxons, from the Number of Saxons that resorted thereto, but soon after that of Lios-mor, or Lismore. The Bishopric of Lismore was united to that of Waterford in 1363, seven hundred and thirty Years after its Foundation.

About two Miles from Lismore, on the R. (but not on the Road to Tallagh) is Dromana, the beautiful and superb Seat of the Earl of Grandison. It is situated on the River Blackwater, between Youghall and Cappoquin. The House is elegant, and has been lately considerably enlarged; and its Situation is one of the finest that can be imagined. It is raised on a very elevated Bank, richly furnished with large Trees, and commands a most pleasing View of the River and the extensive Woods which cloath the Side of a Mountain on its opposite Bank. The Blackwater is navigable for Brigs of 150 Tons, for a few Miles above Dromana.

About a Mile from Lismore, is Towerreen, the beautiful Seat of Sir Richard Muirgrave, Bart. situated near the River Blackwater.

Within two Miles of Tallagh, on the R. is Sapperton, the Seat of the Honourable Major Moore; near it, is Moore-Hall, that of the Honourable and Revd. Mr. Moore; and Jeanville, that of John Keily, Esq.

On the R. of Tallagh are the Ruins of Lisfinie Castle; near them is Kilma-koe, the Seat of Mr. Percival; and on the L. of Curryglash, that of Nicholas Lysaght, Esq.

A Mile beyond Curryglash, on the R. is Currygeen, the Seat of Mr. Peard; and a Mile further are the Ruins of a Castle, close to the Road.

Two Miles beyond these Ruins, on the R. is Ballyclach, the Seat of Mr. Connor; Aghern, that of Mr. Brabazon; Termore, that of Mr. Connor; and Coole, that of Mr. Peard.

Three Miles beyond Coole, on the R. is Kilshanick, the noble Seat of Abraham Devonisher, Esq.

One Mile beyond Watergrafs Hill, on the R. is Bishop's-Island, the Seat of Mr. Mitchell; and about half a Mile further, on the L. Mitchell's Fort, that of Mr. Mitchell.

For an Account of Cork, see Page 154.

DUBLIN to Fermoy, by Lismore.

Lismore, as in P. 168. | — | 100½
Fermoy, Cork | 12¾ | 113¾

Near three Miles from Lismore, on the R. is Ballengrane, the beautiful Seat of Mr. Gumbleton. The Demefne is very extensive, being along the Banks of the Blackwater.

Two Miles from Ballengrane, on the R. are the Ruins of a Castle, pleasantly situated amidst a Plantation of Trees.

Two Miles beyond these Ruins, and on the opposite Side of the Blackwater, is the Seat of Dr. Drew; and a Mile further, on the L. is Modelig, the Seat of Mr. Armistead.

Two Miles from Modelig, on the R. near the Blackwater, is Kilbarry, the pleasant Seat of the Hon. Mr. Moore.

Within two Miles and a half of Fermoy, on the R. is Carey's-Ville, the beautiful Seat, with fine and ample Demefnes, of Mr. Carey.—Half a Mile to the L. of this Seat are the Ruins of a Castle.

Within a Mile of Fermoy, on the R. is Mount Rivers, the Seat of Mr. Henley. Near it are the Ruins of two Castles: And within half a Mile of Fermoy, on the R. is Rathhely, the Seat of Mr. Bryan.

DUBLIN to Cloyne.

|                       |                 |                   |
|-----------------------|-----------------|-------------------|
| Fermoy, as in P. 162. | —               | 107 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Rathcormuck           | 3 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 111               |
| Middleton             | 11              | 122               |
| Cloyne                | 3 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 125 $\frac{1}{2}$ |

At Rathcormuck, on the R. is the fine Seat of Lord Riverdale; and near a Mile on the L. is Killhanick, that of Abraham Devonsher, Esq.

One Mile and a half from Rathcormuck, on the L. is Ballinterry, the Seat of the Revd. Mr. Davis, situated near the Church, at the Foot of a Hill.

Three Miles from Rathcormuck, on the L. is Mellefont's-Town, the Seat of Mr. Nealon; and two Miles further is Carduggan, that of Mr. Davis.

Near a Mile from Carduggan, on the L. situated at the Foot of a Hill, is Peafield, the Seat of Dr. Coppinger; and a Mile beyond it, is Leadington, that of W. Atkin, Esq.

Within a Mile and a half of Middleton, on the L. is Carrig, the Seat of Mr. Uniacke.

One Mile beyond Middleton, on the R. is the Seat of the Revd. Dr. Barclay; and on the L. Ramhill, that of Mr. Foitard.

At Cloyne, on the L. is the See House of the Bishop of Cloyne; and a Mile on the R. is Castle-Mary, the beautiful Seat of Richard Longfield, Esq.

Cloyne is an episcopal Town, but a small Place. Here a Church was erected and a Bishopric founded by St. Colman, who died on the 4th of November, 604. The Bishopric was united to that of Cork in 1430, which Union continued until the 11th of November, 1638, when Dr. George Synge was consecrated Bishop of Cloyne. From that Time Cloyne has been governed by its own Prelates.

DUBLIN to Castle-Martyr.

|                       |                  |                   |
|-----------------------|------------------|-------------------|
| Fermoy, as in P. 162. | —                | 107 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Castle-Lyons          | 3 $\frac{1}{2}$  | 111               |
| Castle-Martyr         | 12 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 123 $\frac{1}{2}$ |

At Castle-Lyons, on the R. is a fine Seat of the Earl of Barrymore; near two Miles beyond, on the L. is Kilcur, the Seat of Mr. O'Brien; and a Mile further, on the R. is Ballyolane, that of Mr. Payne.

Three Miles and a half beyond Castle-Lyons, on the L. are the Ruins of Brittwell Church.

At Castle-martyr, on the R. is a very magnificent Edifice, with extensive and beautiful Parks and Demefnes, the Seat of the Earl of Shannon. See next Page.

Castle-martyr hath a Charter-School, for forty Children; and gives the Title of Baron to a Branch of the noble Family of Boyle.

To Castle-Martyr by Tallagh.

|                          |                  |                   |
|--------------------------|------------------|-------------------|
| Tallagh, as in Page 168. | —                | 104 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Castle-Martyr            | 13 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 118               |

N. B. There is a Road from Tallagh to Castle-Martyr, entirely over the Mountains, considerably shorter than the common Road; but in bad Weather impassable, and without a single Gentleman's Seat, Church or Castle-Ruins, or any Thing remarkable intervening.

One Mile from Tallagh, on the L. is Mr. Lysaght's Seat; and near it Mr. Percival's.

Five Miles from Tallagh, on the R. is Ballyscurlogue, the Seat of Mr. Nealon.

At Castle-Martyr is a most noble and beautiful Seat of the Earl of Shannon. The House is old, but has received great Additions and Improvements from its noble Owner; who has built, besides other Rooms, a Dining-Room thirty-two Feet long by twenty-two broad, and a very handsome Drawing-Room. The Grounds about the House are very well laid out; the Woods are well grown; the Lawns considerable; a River is made to wind through them in a beautiful Manner, and an old Castle is so perfectly covered with Ivy as to be a very picturesque Object. A winding Walk leads for a considerable Distance along the Banks of the River, and presents several pleasing Landscapes.

To Youghall, by Tallagh.

Tallagh, as in Page 168. } — | 104  $\frac{1}{2}$
Youghall, Cork } 10  $\frac{1}{2}$  | 115

N. B. By the Road from Tallagh to Youghall you avoid the Ferry; but it is six Miles and a Furlong longer than by Aglish and the Ferry.

Within two Miles and a half of Youghall, on the R. are the Ruins of a Castle.

Within one Mile of Youghall, on the L. is Muckridge, the Seat of Mr. Hobson.

Youghall is a rich, populous Town, surrounded with Walls, has a very commodious Harbour, with a well-defended Bay, and is seated at the Mouth of the River Blackwater.

To Youghall, by Aglish.

Clonmell, as in Page 146. } — | 81  $\frac{3}{4}$
Aglish, Waterford } 9  $\frac{1}{4}$  | 101
Youghall } 8 | 109
Or by Cappoquin } — | 112  $\frac{3}{4}$

Within three Miles and a half of Aglish, on the L. is Rockville, the Seat of Mr. Hely; and within one Mile of Aglish, on the R. are the Ruins of an Abbey.

Three Miles and a Quarter beyond Aglish, on the R. is Clashmore, the Seat of Mr. Power; and near a Mile further are the Ruins of a Castle.

Within half a Mile of Youghall, near the Ferry, is Prospect-Hall, the Seat of Mr. Barnet; and near it Snugborough, that of Mr. Smith.

DUBLIN to Dungarvan.

Clonmell, as in Page 146. } — | 81  $\frac{3}{4}$
Dungarvan, Waterford } 18  $\frac{1}{4}$  | 100

Three Miles and a Half from Clonmell, on the R. is White's-Town, the Seat of Mr. White; and two Miles further, on the L. Glasha, that of Mr. Power.

Six Miles from Clonmell, and about half a Mile from Mr. Power's Seat, you come to a Bridge over the River called Four Mile Water. Near half a Mile on the L. of this Bridge are the Ruins of a Castle; and a Mile and a Half beyond the Bridge, on the R. are the Ruins of another Castle.

Two Miles beyond these Ruins you come to a small Village, called Ballynamult; half a Mile from which, on your left Hand, is Carnalega, the Seat of Mr. Power.

Within two Miles of Dungarvan, on the R. is Grey Rock, the Seat of Mr. Coughlan.

Dungarvan is one of the greatest Fishing Towns in Ireland, and is situated on a Bay of the same Name.—It hath a Barrack for two Companies of Foot. Its Castle was vested in the Crown by Act of Parliament in the Reign of Henry VIII. About Dungarvan there are many Potatoes planted, which are sent to Dublin in Boats, with large Quantities of Birch Brooms. This Cargo is jocosely called Fruit and Timber.

DUBLIN to Carrick-on-Suir.

Leighlin Bridge, as in Page 146. } — | 45

|                                 |                 |                  |
|---------------------------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Gowran                   | 7               | 52               |
| Bennet's-Bridge                 | 5               | 57               |
| Kilmagany                       | 10              | 67               |
| Carrick-on-Suir, Tipper. | 7 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 74 $\frac{1}{2}$ |

On the L. of Leighlin Bridge is the Seat of Mr. Stewart; and a Mile beyond, is Killanane, that of Mr. Mercer.

Two Miles from Leighlin Bridge, on the L. is Moneybeg, the Seat of Mr. Mercer; and two Miles further, on the R. is Shanakill, the Seat of Mr. Aldward; and Kelly-mount, that of Miss Kelly.

Near Kelly-mount is Mount-Roth, the Seat of Mr. Roth; and on the L. Paul's-Town, that of Mr. Flood.

Within a Mile and a Half of Gowran, on the L. is Butler's Grove, the Seat of Mr. Roth.

At Gowran, on the L. is a very fine Seat of Lord Clifden; and on the R. that of Mr. Bayly.

Near two Miles beyond Gowran, on the R. is Clashwilliam, the Seat of Mr. Blunt; and a little further to the R. Clifden, a Seat of Lord Clifden.

Three Miles beyond Gowran, on the L. are the Ruins of Ballinabola Castle.

Half a Mile beyond Bennet's Bridge, on the R. is Maiden-Hall, the Seat of Mr. Flood; and near a Mile further are the Ruins of Anmault Castle.

Three Miles beyond Bennet's Bridge, on the R. are the Ruins of Ennismag Castle; and about a Mile on the L. is Mount-Juliet, a very magnificent Seat of the Earl of Carrick, with extensive Demesnes. It is beautifully situated on a fine Declivity on the Banks of the Nore, commanding some extensive Plantations that spread over the Hills, which rise in a various Manner on the other Side of the River. A Knowl of Lawn rises among them, with artificial Ruins on it; but the Situation is not in unison with the Idea of a Ruin, very rarely placed to effect, unless in retired and melancholy Spots. The River is a very fine one, and has a good Accompaniment of well-grown Wood. From the Cottage a more varied Scene is viewed, cheerful and pleasing; and from the Tent, in the farther Plantation, a yet gayer one, which looks down on several Bends of the River. And on the opposite Side of the River Nore, are the Ruins of a Castle.

Near six Miles from Bennet's Bridge, on the R. is the Seat of Mr. Wray; and near it, Chapel-Izod, that of William Izod, Esq.

Within three Quarters of a Mile of Kilmagany, on the L. is Snugborough, the Seat of Mr. Shepherd.

Three Miles beyond Kilmagany, on the R. is Kilmacollaver, the Seat of Mr. Osborne; and a Mile and a Half further, on the L. is Annborough, that of Mr. Osborne.

Within two Miles of Carrick, on the L. is Castle-Town, the most superb and beautiful Seat of Richard Cox, Esq; with ample and fine Demesnes.

Within one Mile of Carrick, on the R. is Wilmar, the Seat of Mr. Nicholson; and about three Quarters of a Mile from it, on the L. Tinvoan, that of Mr. Briscow.

Carrick-on-Suir is a walled Town, and much noted for its Manufacture of Ratteens. It hath a Barrack for two Troops of Horse, and gives the Title of Earl to a Branch of the Butler Family.

DUBLIN to Waterford and Tramore.

|                                   |                 |                  |
|-----------------------------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Gowran , as in Page } 175. | —               | 52               |
| Thomastown                 | 6 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 58 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Jerpoint                          | 1 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 60               |
| Mullinavat                        | 8               | 68               |
| Ferrybank                         | 6 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 74 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| WATERFORD, Co. } Waterford | 1 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 74 $\frac{1}{2}$ |

Or by Knocktopher, which is three Miles from Jerpoint.

|                    |                 |                  |
|--------------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Knocktopher | —               | 63               |
| Mullinavat         | 6 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 69 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| WATERFORD          | 6 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 76 $\frac{1}{4}$ |

Three Miles from Gowran, on the L. close to the Road, are the Ruins of Dungarvan Church; and a Mile and a Half further, on the R. are the Ruins of a Castle.

Within two Miles of Thomastown, on the L. is Kilfane, the beautiful Seat of Gervas Parker Bulhe, Esq; and a little to the R. of it, is Kilmurry, that of Charles Agar, Esq.

On the L. of Thomastown is Dangan, the Seat of Miss Hewetson; and on the opposite Side of the River, Grenan Castle, that of John Hobson, Esq.

About a Mile beyond Thomastown, on the L. are the Ruins of Jerpoint Abbey; and two Miles further, on the R. is Derrynahinch, the fine Seat of the Hon. P. Butler.

Four Miles and three Quarters from Thomastown, on the R. are large Ruins of Castle Bangan, situated on the Side of a high Hill; and two Miles further, on the R. are the Ruins of another Castle.

Within three Miles and a Half of Waterford, on the R. is Greenville, the noble and beautiful Seat of John Greene, Esq; and on the L. is Bishop's Hall, that of Thomas Boyse, Esq.

Within one Mile and a Half of Waterford, on the R. is Mullinabro, the Seat of John Jones, Esq.

Waterford is one of the largest Cities in the Kingdom, and has a good foreign Trade. It is the See of a Bishop, united to Lismore; and was antiently the Seat of King John, who granted it divers Privileges; as did also Henry VII. for its Allegiance to him against Perkin Warbeck. It is governed by a Mayor, Sheriffs and Recorder. It was besieged and taken by Oliver Cromwell, and afterwards by King William. It is well built, and hath about 2450 Houses. The Quay is esteemed one of the finest in Europe; and many of the public Buildings are very elegant. They have the largest Export of Pork, and the best Butter in Ireland. The Garrison consists of a Regiment of Foot. It gives the Title of Earl to the illustrious Family of Talbot; and that of Viscount to the noble Family of Lumley.

To Waterford, by Innistioge.

|                     |   |                  |                  |
|---------------------|---|------------------|------------------|
| Royal Oak, as in    | } | —                | 47               |
| Page 146.           |   |                  |                  |
| Gore's Bridge, Kil- | } | 4 $\frac{1}{4}$  | 51 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| kenny               |   |                  |                  |
| Graigenamanagh      |   | 6 $\frac{1}{2}$  | 57 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Innistioge          |   | 5 $\frac{1}{4}$  | 63               |
| WATERFORD           |   | 13 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 76 $\frac{1}{2}$ |

On the L. of Gore's Bridge, on the opposite Side of the River Barrow, are the Ruins of Ballyellan Castle; and about a Mile further is Barrow-Mount, the Seat of Mr. Gore; and beyond that Mount Loftus, that of Sir Edward Loftus, Bart.

At Graigenamanagh, on the R. close to the River Barrow, are the Ruins of a Castle.—You have now the lofty Brandon Hill, for several Miles, on your Left.

At Graigenamanagh is a good Bridge over the River Barrow, where the Tide flows up, notwithstanding it is twenty Miles from the Sea. Here are the Ruins of a fine Abbey, the octagon Tower of which fell down in 1774. The Embellishments of this Abbey are curious, and the Building was formerly of large Extent.

A little beyond Innistioge, on the L. is Woodstock, a very superb and beautiful Structure, with extensive and delightful Parks and Demesnes, the Seat of Mr. Tighe. The House is in the Centre of a sloping Wood of five hundred English Acres, and hanging in one noble Shade to the River Nore, which flows at the Bottom of a winding Glen. From a Hill in Front it is seen in a winding Course for many Miles through a great Extent of Inclosures, bounded by Mountains.

From Innistioge to Waterford the Road is wholly impassable by Carriages. It has been repaired about two Miles; and if completed throughout, would certainly prove a public Benefit.

DUBLIN to New-Kofs and Fethard.

|                         |   |   |                  |
|-------------------------|---|---|------------------|
| Gore's Bridge, as above | } | — | 51 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
|                         |   |   |                  |

|                          |                  |                  |
|--------------------------|------------------|------------------|
| Burris, Carlow    | 3 $\frac{1}{4}$  | 54 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| New-Rofs, Wexford | 12 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 67 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Fethard           | 13 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 61               |

About half a Mile from Gore's Bridge, on the R. is Low-Grange, the Seat of Mr. Greene.

At Burris, on the R. is the Seat of Mr. Kavenagh.

Eight Miles beyond Burris, on the R. and on the opposite Side of the River Barrow, are the Ruins of a Castle; and three Miles further, on the L. are more Ruins of a Castle.

Within a Mile and a half of New-Rofs, on the R. is Mount Elliott, the Seat of Mr. Elliot.

New Rofs is seated near the Confluence of the Rivers Nore and Barrow. It hath a Barrack for a Company of Foot; and gives the Title of Earl to the noble Family of Parsons.

Half a Mile beyond New Rofs, on the R. is Summer Hill, the Seat of Mr. Sankey; and on the L. Crecan, that of Mr. Pickering.

Near two Miles from New Rofs, on the R. is Camlin, the Seat of John Drake, Esq.

A Quarter of a Mile beyond White Church (which is four Miles and a Half from New-Rofs) is Aldertown, the Seat of John Glascock, Esq.

Near two Miles beyond White Church, on the R. is Kilmanick, the fine Seat of Mr. Houghton; and opposite to it, Porto-Bello, that of Adam Rogers, Esq.

Near a Mile to the R. of Porto-Bello are large Ruins of Dunbrody Abbey; and a Mile further, on the L. is Boderan, the fine Seat of Mr. Rogers.

At Fethard are the Ruins of three Castles.

Another Road to Rofs.

|                                |                                  |
|--------------------------------|----------------------------------|
| Carlow, as in Page 146. | 39                               |
| Clonmulsh Church               | 4 43                             |
| Dunleckney                     | 3 $\frac{1}{2}$ 46 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Bagnell's Bridge               | 4 47 $\frac{1}{4}$               |
| Burris                         | 7 54 $\frac{1}{4}$               |
| New Rofs, Wexford       | 12 $\frac{3}{4}$ 67              |

Three Miles from Carlow, on the L. is Ballybar, the Seat of W. P. Butler, Esq; and a Mile further, Garryhendon, the Seat of Sir Rd. Butler, Bart. A Mile and half beyond Clonmulsh Church, on the L. is Old Town, the Seat of Mr. Perkins; and a Mile and a half further, Rathedew, that of Mr. Humphreys.

At Dunleckney, on the L. is the Seat of Mr. Bagnell; and near a Mile further, Kilcarrick, that of Mr. Humphreys.

Half a Mile beyond Bagnell's Bridge, on the R. is the Seat of Mr. Mercer, pleasantly situated on the River Barrow.

Within two Miles of Burris, on the R. is Burrow-Mount, the Seat of Mr. Gore.

To Rofs, by Graigenamanagh.

|                          |                                  |
|--------------------------|----------------------------------|
| Graigenamanagh, as in    | 57 $\frac{3}{4}$                 |
| Page 178.                |                                  |
| Mountgarret Ferry        | 7 $\frac{3}{4}$ 65 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| New Rofs, Wexford | 2 67 $\frac{1}{2}$               |

A little beyond Graigenamanagh, on the L. close to the River Barrow, are the Ruins of a Castle; and four Miles further, and about half a Mile on the L. are more Ruins of a Castle.

On the R. of Mountgarret Ferry is Ringwood, the fine Seat of George Agar, Esq; and near the Ferry, is Mount Elliott, the Seat of Mr. Elliot.

DUBLIN to Leighlin Bridge, by Tullow.

|                                     |                                  |
|-------------------------------------|----------------------------------|
| Cromlin, County Dublin              | 2 $\frac{1}{2}$                  |
| Tallagh                             | 2 $\frac{1}{2}$ 5                |
| Ten Mile House, Wicklow      | 6 $\frac{1}{2}$ 11 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Blessington                  | 2 $\frac{1}{2}$ 14               |
| Ballymore-Eustace, }Dublin      | 3 $\frac{1}{2}$ 17 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Stratford upon Slaney, }Wicklow | 8 $\frac{3}{4}$ 26 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Baltinglass                  | 3 29 $\frac{1}{4}$               |
| Tullow, * Carlow             | 8 $\frac{3}{4}$ 38               |
| Leighlin Bridge                     | 9 $\frac{1}{4}$ 47 $\frac{3}{4}$ |

* See another Road to Tullow, Page 183.

Two Miles and a half from Dublin, at Cromlin, on the L. is the Seat of Mr. Purcell; and a Mile further to the L. Temple Oge, that of Charles Donville, Esq.

At Tallagh, on the R. is a fine Seat of the Archbishop of Dublin. It is very antient, and stands low; but the Gardens are handsome, and a little River that runs through Part of it forms several pleasant Canals; and about a Mile on the L. is Tubber, the beautiful Seat of Sir J. S. Tynte, Bart.

Two Miles beyond Tallagh, on the R. is Williamsburgh, the Seat of Mr. Toole; and two Miles further, on the L. is Affarrel, that of Mr. Allen.

Within two Miles of Blessington, on the R. is Punch's Town, a Seat of Lord Viscount Allen.

Blessington is a pleasant, but small Place, situated on rising Ground. The Church is very neat, and has a good Ring of Bells. The Earl of Hillsborough, who is the Proprietor of this Town, has a fine Seat at the End of an Avenue to the R. of the Road. Behind the House is a beautiful Park, skirted with Hills.

A Mile and a half from Blessington, on the L. is Baltiboy's, the Seat of Mr. Smith; and a Mile further, Rushborough, a noble Seat of the Earl of Miltown.

Ballymore-Eustace is a small Place, pleasantly situated on the Liffey, and has a handsome Bridge over that River. It was formerly of much larger Extent. Its Decay chiefly arose from the turning the great Southern Road from this Town to Kilcullen Bridge, which has enriched that Place, and nearly starved this. Near this Town is a beautiful natural Cascade, formed by a River that rises from the Wicklow Mountains, and falls into the Liffey.

On the R. of Ballymore-Eustace is Broomfield, a Seat of Lord Viscount Mount Cashel; a Mile beyond which is Ardnawd, the Seat of Mr. Burrowes.

Three Miles beyond Ballymore-Eustace, on the L. is Rahatan, a Seat of the Earl of Tyrone.

Within two Miles of Stratford upon Slaney, on the L. is Donard, the Seat of Mr. Humphreys; and a Mile further Whites-Town, that of Mr. Reeves.

A Mile from Stratford upon Slaney, on the L. is Ballintruer, the Seat of Francis Hutchinson, Esq; and on the R. Saunders Grove, that of Mr. Saunders.

At Baltinglafs is the Castle belonging to the Earl of Aldborough; and on the R. a little beyond it, is Rathmoone, the Seat of Mr. Kilpatrick.

Baltinglafs is a very antient Town, where Fires were lighted on the 1st of May, and 1st of August, every Year, in Honour of the Sun, by the Druids. There are still remaining in its Neighbourhood a Number of Druidic Altars, and other Monuments of Heathen Superstition.

About a Mile on the left of Baltinglafs, is New-Town, the Seat of Mr. Saunders; and near it is Crosby-Park, the fine Seat of Sir Maurice Crosby, Bart. and High-Park, that of Nicholas Westby, Esq.

Two Miles and a half beyond Baltinglafs, on the L. is Mount-Neale, a most noble and beautiful Seat of the Honourable John Stratford; and two Miles further, on the R. is Bettyfield, that of Mr. Bazlee.

Four Miles beyond Baltinglafs, on the L. is Boagh, the Seat of Mr. Minchin; and about half a Mile further, on the R. Rathdonnel, that of Lord Newhaven.

Within three Miles and a half of Tullow, on the L. is Rathmore, the Seat of Mr. Bunbury; and near a Mile further, on the R. is Keele, Mr. Bunbury's Seat.

A little beyond Tullow, on the L. is Ardristan, the Seat of Mr. Finlay; Mount Woliely, that of Sir William Woliely, Bart. and on the R. Castle-more, that of Henry Eustace, Esq.

Three Miles from Tullow, on the L. is Rathrush, the Seat of Mr. Morres; a Mile further Ballinunnery, that of Mr. Swift; and about three Quarters of a Mile, on the L. Kilnock, that of Mr. Eustace.

Five Miles from Tullow, on the L. are the Ruins of a Church; and near it, Ballitrain, the Seat of Mr. Perkins; and a Mile further, on the L. Kilgar-ron, the Seat of James Garret, Esq.

Within two Miles of Leighlin Bridge, on the R. are the Ruins of a Church;
and near it, Old Town, the Seat of Mr. Perkins.
At Leighlin Bridge, on the L. is the Seat of Mr. Stewart.

DUBLIN to Tullow, by Rathdrum.

|                     |                  |                  |
|---------------------|------------------|------------------|
| Miltown, Dublin     | —                | 2 $\frac{1}{4}$  |
| Church-Town         | 1                | 3 $\frac{1}{4}$  |
| Kilternan           | 3 $\frac{1}{2}$  | 6 $\frac{3}{4}$  |
| Enniskerry, Wicklow | 3                | 9 $\frac{1}{4}$  |
| Powercourt          | 3 $\frac{1}{4}$  | 10 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Rathdrum*           | 15 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 25 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Aghrim              | 6 $\frac{1}{4}$  | 32               |
| Hacketstown, Carlow | 9 $\frac{1}{2}$  | 41 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Tullow              | 8                | 49 $\frac{1}{2}$ |

* See another Road to Rathdrum, hereafter.

Five Miles and a half from Dublin, on the L. is Murphy's Town, the Seat of John Davis, Esq; and near it is Kilgobbin, that of Mr. Fitzgerald.

A Mile further, on the L. is Biddyfield, the Seat of Mr. Goggin; and on the
R. Kilternan, that of Mr. Anderson.

At Powercourt, on the R. is the delightful and elegant Seat of Lord Viscount Powercourt.—The House is in a very beautiful Situation, on a Side of a Mountain, half-way between its bare Top, and an irriguous Vale at its Foot. In Front, and spreading among Woods on either Side, is a Lawn, whose Surface is beautifully varied in gentle Declivities, hanging to a winding River.

DESCRIPTION of the DARGLE and
WATER-FALL.

Near Powercourt are the Dargle and Water-Fall, which have been so often the Subjects of the most celebrated
Pens. The Park is prodigiously fine.
You enter it between two vast Masses of Mountains covered with Wood, forming a Vale scattered with Trees,

through which flows a River on a broken, rocky Channel. You follow this
Vale till it is lost in a most uncommon
Manner, the Ridges of Mountains closing, from one great Amphitheatre of Wood, from the Top of which,
at the Height of many hundred Feet,
the Water bursts from a Rock, and tumbling down the Side of a very large one, forms a Scene singularly beautiful. At the Bottom is a Spot of Velvet Turf, from which rises a Clump of Oak, and through their Stems, Branches, and Leaves, the falling Water is seen as a Back Ground, with an Effect more picturesque than can be well imagined: These few Trees, and this little Lawn give the finishing to the Scene. The Water falls behind some large Fragments of Rock, and turns to the Left, down a stony Channel, under the Shade of a
Wood.—The Dargle is a narrow Glen or Vale formed by the Sides of two opposite Mountains; the whole thickly spread with Oak. At the Bottom it is narrowed to the Channel of the River, which rather tumbles from Rock to Rock than runs. The Extent of Wood that hangs to the Eye in every Direction is great, the Depth of the Precipice on which you stand is immense, which, with the Roar of the Water at Bottom, forms a Scene truly interesting. In less than a Quarter of a Mile, the Road passing through the Wood leads to another Point of View to the Right. It is the Crown of a vast projecting Rock, from which you look down a Precipice absolutely perpendicular, and many hundred Feet deep upon the Torrent at the Bottom, which finds its noisy Way over large Fragments of Rock. The Point of View is a great Projection of the Mountain on this Side, answered by a Concave of the opposite, so that you command the Glen both to the Right and Left. It exhibits on both immense Sheets of Forest, which have a most magnificent Appearance. Beyond the Wood, to the Right, are some Inclosures hanging on the Side of a Hill, crowned by a Mountain. The Solemnity of such an Extent of Wood, unbroken by any intervening Objects, and the whole hanging over Declivities, is alone great; but to this the Addition of a constant Roar of falling Water, either quite hid, or so far below as to be seen obscurely, unite to make those Impressions stronger. Following the Road a little further, there is another bold rocky Projection, from which also there is a double View to the Right and Left. In Front is immanent a Sweep of hanging Wood, that a nobler Scene can hardly be imagined: The River, as before, at the Bottom of the Precipice, which is so steep, and the Depth so great, as makes one quite fearful to look down. This horrid Precipice, the pointed bleak Mountains in View, with the Roar of the Water, all conspire to raise one great Emotion of the Sublime. You advance scarcely twenty yards before a pretty Scene opens to the Left, a distant Landscape of Inclosures, with a River winding between the Hills to the Sea. Passing to the Right, fresh Scenes of Wood appear; half-way to the Bottom, one different from the preceding is seen: You are almost enclosed in Wood, and look to the Right through some low Oaks on the opposite Bank of Wood, with an Edging of Trees through which the Sky is seen, which added to an uncommon Elegance in the Outline of the Hill, has a most pleasing Effect. Winding down to a thatched Bench on a rocky Point, you look upon an uncommon Scene. Immediately beneath is a vast Chasm in the Rock, which seems torn asunder, to let the Torrent through that comes tumbling over a rocky Bed far sunk in a Channel embosomed in Wood. Above is a Range of gloomy obscure Woods, which half overshadow it, and rising to a vast Height, exclude every Object. To the Left the Water rolls away over broken Rocks; a Scene truly romantic. The Path leads to the Water's Edge, at the Bottom of the Glen, where is a new Scene, in which not a single Circumstance hurts the principal Character. In a Hollow, formed of Rock and Wood, every Object excluded but those of Water, the Torrent breaks forth from Fragments of Rock, and tumbles through the Chasm, Rock bulging over it, as if ready to fall into the Channel, and stop the impetuous Water. The Shade is so thick as to exclude the Heavens; all is retired and gloomy, a brown Horror breathing over the whole. It is a Spot for Melancholy to muse in.

A little beyond Powercourt, on the R. is Charleville, the Seat of Mr. Monk; and on the L. Bushy Park, that of Colonel Mason.

Three Miles and a Quarter beyond Powercourt, on the R. is Whitehall, the Seat of Mr. Whitmore; two Miles and a half further, Fairview, that of A. Price, Esq; and a Mile and a half further, on the R. is Roundwood, the Seat of Mr. Hatch.

Within six Miles of Rathdrum, on the R. is Willmount, the Seat of William Thomas Ayres, Esq; and within one Mile of Rathdrum, on the R. are the Ruins of a Castle.

Near a Mile beyond Rathdrum, on the L. is Avondale, the fine Seat of Samuel Hayes, Esq; Casina, that of Mrs. Hayes; and King's-Town, that of T. King, Esq.

Two Miles and a Half from Rathdrum, on the L. is Whaley-Abbey, the Seat of Mr. Cottingham.

One Mile on the L. of Aghrim, is Clone, the Seat of Mr. Byrne; and at the same Distance, on the R. is Ballymanus, that of Mr. Byrne.

Four Miles beyond Aghrim, on the R. close to the Road, is Ballybeg, the Seat of the Revd. Mr. Symes.

Two Miles and a Half beyond Hacketstown, on the L. close to the Road, and situated in the midst of Trees, are the Ruins of Clonmore Castle; and two Miles further on the R. is Liffnavaugh, the Seat of Mr. Bunbury; and about a Mile further, Paulville, the Seat of Mr. Paul.

Tullow is situated on the River Slaney, and has a Bridge with six Arches, at the Foot of which are the Ruins of an Augustine Monastery. Here is a small Church, and a pretty Market-House. It was in Oliver Cromwell's Time a strong Place, commanded by Colonel Butler; but Oliver took it, with great Slaughter of the Irish.

DUBLIN to Rathfarnham |—| 2  $\frac{3}{4}$

At Rathfarnham, on the L. is the Castle, the noble Mansion, with fine and extensive Demesnes, the Seat of the late Earl of Ely.—There is here a remarkable fine Green House for exotic Plants, and an Aviary, containing a prodigious Variety of curious Buds. The Revd. Dr. Palliser has also a fine Seat, near the Fish Ponds, at Rathfarnham.

DUBLIN to Enniscorthy and Taghmon, by Kathbarum.

|                          |                  |                  |
|--------------------------|------------------|------------------|
| Aghrim, as above         | —                | 32               |
| Tinehaly                 | 6                | 48               |
| Clonegal, Wexford | 9 $\frac{1}{2}$  | 47 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Enniscorthy *     | 12               | 59 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Taghmon           | 11 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 70 $\frac{1}{4}$ |

* See other Roads to Enniscorthy hereafter.

Near a Mile on the R. of Aghrim, is Ballymanus, the Seat of Mr. Byrne; and three Miles further, close to the Road, is Ballybeg, that of the Reverend Mr. Symes.

Three Miles beyond Tinehaly, on the L. is Malton, a Seat of the late Marquis of Rockingham.

Within a Mile of Clonegal, on the R. is Sandhill, the Seat of Captain Cuffe; and on the R. of Clonegal, is Huntingtown, the Seat of Mr. Leslie; and Johnstown, that of Mr. Tottenham.

Two Miles beyond Clonegal, on the R. is Ballna-Park, the Seat of Mr. Humphreys; and a Mile and a Half further, are the Ruins of Castle Ryland, and Clohaman Castle.

Five Miles and a Half from Clonegal, on the R. are the Ruins of a Castle; and near them, pleasantly situated on the River Slaney, is Rookley Lodge, the Seat of Thomas Derezzy, Esq; and Munfin, that of Mr. Bridge.

Within two Miles of Enniscorthy, on the L. is Ballnahallen, the Seat of Mr. Newton; and on the opposite Side of the Slaney, Solisbury, the Seat of Mr. Richards.

Within a Quarter of a Mile of Enniscorthy, on the L. is the Seat of the Reverend Joshua Nunn; a magnificent and beautiful House, lately built by Mr. Nunn, with extensive Offices and fine Gardens, on the Glebe Lands belonging to the Parish of Enniscorthy.

A Mile beyond Enniscorthy, on the L. close to the Road, is St. John's, the Seat of Mr. Hill; and a Mile and a Half from it, Birr-mount, a fine Seat of the Earl of Miltown.

Three Miles from Enniscorthy, on the R. is Gore, the Seat of Mr. Phaire; and about a Quarter of a Mile from it, is Wilton, the Seat of Henry Alcock, Esq; and two Miles further, Clonmore, that of Mr. Donovan.

A little beyond Taghmon is Harper's-Town, the fine Seat of Mr. Hoare.

To Carnew.

|                           |   |    |
|---------------------------|---|----|
| Tinehaly, as in Pag. 187. | — | 38 |
| Carnew                    | 6 | 44 |

Two Miles from Tinehaly, on the L. is Hillbrook, the Seat of the Revd. Dr. Symes; and about a Mile further, on the R. is Malton, a Seat of the late Marquis of Rockingham.

At Carnew, on the R. are the Ruins of a Castle.

DUBLIN to Newtown-Barry.

|                         |                 |                  |
|-------------------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Tullow, as in Page 180. | —               | 38               |
| Newtown-Barry, by       | 9 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 47 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Clonegal                |                 |                  |
| Or by Kilbride, on the  |                 |                  |
| West Side of the        | —               | 48               |
| River                   |                 |                  |

Half a Mile from Tullow, on the L. is Mount Wolfeley, the Seat of Sir William Wolfeley, Bart. and two Miles farther is Newstone House, that of Mr. Whelan.

Four Miles and a Quarter from Tullow, on the L. is Orchard, the Seat of Mr. Wolfeley; and a Mile and a Half further, is Monochrum, that of Mr. Wall.

On the R. of Clonegal is Huntingtown, the Seat of Mr. Leslie; and Johnstown, that of Mr. Tottenham.

On the R. of Newtown-Barry, is Ballna Park, the Seat of Mr. Humphreys.

N. B. If you go to Newtown-Barry, by Kilbride, on the West Side of the Slaney, you leave Ardristan, the Seat of Mr. Finlay, on your Left Hand, near the Ruins of a Church.

Near two Miles from Ardristan, on the L. is a Church; and on the R. is Castle-Grace, the Seat of Miss Echlin.

One Mile further, on the L. is Carrick-Slaney, the Seat of Mr. Brereton; and half a Mile further, Soho, that of Mr. Doyne. On the R. is Sherwood, the Seat of Mr. Bayly; and on the L. Kilbride, a Seat of Sir Nicholas Lawless, Bart.

Within half of Mile of Newtown-Barry, on the R. is Carrickduff, a very fine Seat of Lord Viscount Farnham.

DUBLIN to Black-rock, Dunleary, Bullock, Dalkey, and Bray.

To Black-rock.

|             |               |                |
|-------------|---------------|----------------|
| Old Merion  | —             | $2\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Butterstown | $\frac{3}{4}$ | $3\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Black-rock  | $\frac{1}{4}$ | 4              |

To Dunleary.

|            |               |                |
|------------|---------------|----------------|
| Black-rock | —             | 4              |
| Dunleary   | $\frac{1}{4}$ | $5\frac{1}{4}$ |

To Bullock.

|            |               |                |
|------------|---------------|----------------|
| Black-rock | —             | 4              |
| Monkstown  | $\frac{1}{4}$ | $5\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Bullock    | $\frac{1}{2}$ | $6\frac{3}{4}$ |

To Dalkey.

|           |   |                |
|-----------|---|----------------|
| Monkstown | — | $5\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Dalkey    | 2 | $7\frac{1}{4}$ |

To Bray, by Monkstown.

|            |                |                |
|------------|----------------|----------------|
| Monkstown  | —              | $5\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Killeney   | $2\frac{3}{4}$ | 8              |
| Shangenagh | 1              | 9              |
| Bray       | 2              | 11             |

To Bray, by Rochestown.

|            |   |   |
|------------|---|---|
| Black-rock | — | 4 |
| Kill       | 1 | 5 |

Rochestown

2 7

Killeney

1 8

Shangenagh

1 9

Bray

2 11

Half a Mile from Stephen's-Green, on the L. are the Ruins of Baggatrot-Castle.

At Ball's-Bridge, on the R. is a Manufactory for printing Linens and Cottons.

At Symond's-Court, on the R. are the Seats of Counsellor Whittingham, and Mr. Truelock, an eminent Gunsmith.

At Summerfield, on the R. is the Seat of Mr. Gorman.

At Old Merion, on the R. is Merion-Castle. There are also the Remains of an old Church.

At Butterstown, on the R. is the Seat of Mr. D'Olier; and a little farther, are the Seats of Mr. Deey, and the Hon. J. M. Dawson.

At Black-rock, on the L. are the Seats of Lady Arbella Denny, and the late Lord Lisle; and on the R. are those of the Dutchess Dowager of Leinster, and the Revd. Dr. Burroughs.

Newton is on the L. and is the Seat of Mr. Lees.

Neptune, on the same Side, is the Seat of the late Lord Tracton; and on the R. is the Seat of Mr. Thornhill.

On the L. are the Seats of Archdeacon Wight, Mr. Read, and Mr. Bride.

At Kill, on the R. is the Seat of John Epinasse, Esq. There are here the Ruins of an old Church.

Between Kill and Rochestown, on the R. are the Seats of Mr. Macartney, and Mr. Brooke; and on the L. those of Mr. Maunfell, Mr. Heron, Mr. Clarke, and Mr. Chartres.

At Rochestown, on the L. is the Seat of John Malpas, Esq; and on the R. that of the late Mr. Justice Liff.

At Monkstown, about half a Mile to the L. are the Seats of Lord Ranelagh and Countess O'Neill; the latter an antient Convent of Monks, whence it, probably, derived the Name of Monkstown. — Also, a Church, belonging to the united Parishes of Monkstown, Dalkey, and Killeney.

At Bullock, about one Mile to the L. is the Seat of Mr. Watton; also, a fine Gothic Castle; and near it, a singular Piece of Druidical Antiquity, called a Rocking Stone.

At Dalkey, about the same Distance, on the L. are the Seats of Mr. Eyre, Mr. Malony, and Sir John Hasler; also, the Remains of seven Castles, and an old Church.

Dalkey Island is situated on the South Side of Dublin-bay. It contains about nine Acres, is fertile in Grats, and esteemed a most excellent Salt Marsh for all Kinds of Cattle. Sheep, in particular, soon grow fat; and the Flesh of them acquires a peculiarly fine Flavour. With plenty of Herbage, the Island produces some medicinal Plants; and, under a Rock, a Spring of fresh Water, said to be good for the Scurvy, Eruptions in the Skin, Pains in the Limbs, and other Disorders. The only Building on the Island, is the Ruin of an old Church. In Summer, the Air is remarkably cool; in Winter, approaches to a Degree of Warmth. Wild Duck, Teal, Widgeon, and other Fowls, resort hither in the Season; and various Kinds of Fish are taken on the Coast. The Fee Simple belongs to the See of Dublin; under which it is held by Mr. Watton, of Bullock. When the City of Dublin was antiently visited by the Plague, traditi- onary Accounts say, the Citizens retired to this Island, in order to escape that dreadful Calamity.

At Cabinteely, about half a Mile from Rochestown, on the R. is the Seat of Robert Byrne, Esq.

At Brenanstown, about a Mile on the R. is the Seat of Mr. Purdon; and, in a Glen adjoining, is a superb Crom- leach, supposed to be a Druidical Al- tar.

On Loftus-Hill, half a Mile beyond Rochestown, on the L. is the Seat of Mr. Medlicot; also, a lofty Obe- lisk, on the Summit of the Hill.

At Mount-Druid, on the R. of Killeny- Hill, is the Seat of Mr. Wilton; also, a Druid's Temple, or Place of Worship, a curious Piece of Antiquity; and a Banqueting-Room, in the Gothic Style, not unfrequently mistaken for an old Castle.

On the L. of Mount-Druid, are the Ruins of Killeny Church; and a Bay, seldom, if ever, surpassed in Beauty.

At Laughlinstown, on the R. is the Seat of Mrs. Donville.

At Shangenagh, on the R. is an old Castle; and on the L. is the Seat of Mr. O'Reilly.

On Shankill-Hill, about half a Mile from Shangenagh, on the R. is the Seat of John Lawless, Esq; with an old Castle.

On the L. at a small Distance beyond Shangenagh, are the Ruins of an old Church.

At Clinkin, on the R. is the Seat of Counsellor Norton; and on the L. is that of Mr. Roth.

On Old Connaught-Hill, about a Mile on the R. is the Seat of Counsellor Roberts; and near that, the Village of Old Connaught, with the Seats of Mrs. Walcott, and the Bishop of Limerick, and the Ruins of an old Church.

At Cork, near Bray, on the L. are the Seats of Mr. Garden, and Sir William Hawkins.

About one Mile, on the R. of Bray, is Thornhill, the Seat of Monk Malon, Esq.

Bray is a small Post and Market Town, standing on the Verge of the Counties of Dublin and Wicklow; which, and the Town, are divided by a River, abounding with excellent Trout.—

Besides, a decent Church, a new Romish Chapel, and a good Barrack, the Town contains several Lodging- Houses, and is surrounded by some Gentlemens Seats, not unworthy of Notice. Here are held two annual Fairs; at which are sold large Quan- tities of Frize and Flannel; together with some Black Cattle and Sheep. Its Vicinity to the Sea, to the Moun- tains, and to the most agreeable Parts of the County of Wicklow, renders it a desirable Situation during the Seasons for Goat's-whey and Sea-bath- ing. The Fee Simple of the Town, or at least the greater Part of it, is vested in the Earl of Meath.

Road from Dublin to Wexford, Taghmon, and Enniscorthy.

|                           |                  |                  |
|---------------------------|------------------|------------------|
| Donnybrook, Dublin | —                | 2                |
| Stillorgan                | 2 $\frac{1}{4}$  | 4 $\frac{1}{4}$  |
| Bray, Wicklow      | 5 $\frac{1}{4}$  | 10               |
| Wicklow ,          | 14               | 24               |
| Arklow                    | 12               | 36               |
| Gorey, or Newborough,     |                  |                  |
| Wexford                   | 9 $\frac{1}{2}$  | 45 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Enniscorthy               | 8 $\frac{1}{2}$  | 54               |
| Ferns                     | 6                | 60               |
| Wexford, by Ferry         | 11 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 71 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Carrick                   |                  |                  |
| Do. by the Broad          | —                | 66 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Ferry from Gorey          |                  |                  |
| Enniscorthy, as above     | —                | 60               |
| Taghmon                   | —                | 71 $\frac{1}{4}$ |

At Donnybrook, on the R. is the pleasant Seat of Councillor Frazier.

One Mile beyond Donnybrook, on the R. is Merville, a very large and beautiful brick House, with pleasant Demaines, the Seat of the Right Honourable John Foster.

Near a Mile beyond Merville, is Mount Merrion, the fine Seat of Lord Viscount Fitzwilliam.

At Stillorgan, on the L. is the Seat of Lord Carysfort;—and the Grove, that of Mr. Jenkin.

Two Miles and a Half beyond Stillorgan, on the R. is Clarchill, a beautiful Seat of Robert Byne, Esq; and a little further is Brennan's Town, the Seat of Mr. Mercer.

A Mile from Brennan's Town, is Loughlin's Town, the fine Seat of Mrs. Domville and opposite to it is Shankill, that of John Lawless, Esq.

One Mile from Shankill, on the L. is Crinkin, the Seat of Mr. Snow; and nearly opposite to it is that of Mr. Roberts.

Just before you come to the Bridge at Bray, on the L. is Bolton Hill, the fine Seat of Mr. Hawkins; and about half a Mile on the R. is Thornhill, the Seat of Sir John Monck Mason, Bart.

When you are at Bray, you have your choice of either of two Roads to Wicklow, equally pleasing, one on the Right Hand, the other on the Left. That on the Right Hand leads to Delgenny. About a Mile before you come to this Place, you enter the Glen of the Downs; for a Character of which, see the fourth Paragraph forwards.

Half a Mile beyond Bray, on the L. is New-court, the Seat of Mr. Putland; and near it, on the same Side, that of Mr. Gibton.

A Mile beyond Bray, on the L. is Killruddery, a very fine Seat, with spacious Demaines, belonging to the Earl of Meath.

Two Miles and three Quarters from Bray, on the L. is Rathdown, the Seat of Captain Tarrant; and near it, that of Miss Morres.

DESCRIPTION of the GLEN of the DOWNS.

FROM Rathdown a Road on the Right Hand leads to Delgenny, a small Village that has nothing remarkable in it. But near this Place is an Object that is worthy the Attention of every Person that has a Taste for the Beauties of Nature: This is the Glen of the Downs. This Glen is a Pass between two vast Ridges of Mountains covered with Wood, which have a very noble Effect. The Vale is no wider than to admit the Road, a small gurgling River almost by its Side, and narrow slips of rocky and shrubby Ground which part them. In the front all escape seems denied by an immense conical Mountain, which rises out of the Glen, and seems to fill it up. The Scenery is of a most magnificent Character. On the Top of the Ridge to the R. as you go from Delgenny towards Bray, D. Latouche, sen. Esq. has a Banqueting Room, called Belle-Vue. Passing from this sublime Scene the Road leads through cheerful Grounds, chiefly under Corn, and then to a Vale of charming Verdure broken into Inclosures, and bounded by two rocky Mountains, distant darker Mountains filling up the Scene in Front.—This whole ride is interesting, for within a Mile and a Half of Tinnihinch, you come to a fine View on the Right; a small Vale opening to the Sea, bounded by Mountains, whose dark Shade forms a perfect contrast to the extreme Beauty, and lively verdure of the lower Scene, consisting of gently-frelling Lawns rising from each other, with groupes of Trees between, and the whole so prettily scattered with white Farms, as to add every Idea of cheerfulness.

Near five Miles beyond Bray, on the L. is Charles-Land, the Seat of Mr. Edwards; and near it, Ballygannon, that of Sir H. Scott; and Kilcool, that of Mr. Crossie.

Six Miles and a Half beyond Bray, on the R. is Woodstock, the beautiful and delightful Seat of Mr. Knox.

Half a Mile from Woodstock, is Newtown Mount-Kennedy, the Seat of General Cuninghame, who has ten thousand Acres of Land hereabouts. His Demelne, and the Lands about it, are very beautiful; not a level can be seen, every Spot has a Variety of Hill and Dale. In the Middle of the Lawn is one of the greatest natural Curiosities in the Kingdom, an immense Arbutus Tree, unfortunately blown down, but yet vegetating; one Branch, which is parted from the Body near the Ground, and afterwards is divided into many large Branches, is six Feet two Inches in Circumference. The General buried Part of the Stem as it laid, and it is from several Branches throwing out fine young Shoots.---Dunran, on the General's Estate, is a large Extent of Mountains and Wood. It is a very noble Scenery, a vast rocky Glen; one Side bare Rocks to an immense Height, hanging in a thousand whimsical, yet frightful Forms, with vast Fragments tumbled from them, and lying in romantic Confusion; the other a fine Mountain Side, covered with shrubby Wood. This wild Path leads to the Bottom of an Amphitheatre of Mountain completely wooded. Taken as a single Object, it is a most magnificent one, but its Forms are picturesque in the highest Degree: great Projections of Hills with Glens behind, all wooded, have a noble Effect. Every feature of the whole View is great, and unites to form a Scene of natural Magnificence. Hence a Riding is cut through the hanging Wood, which rises to a central Spot, where the General has cleared away the rubbish from under the Wood, and made a beautiful waving Lawn, with many Oaks and Hollies scattered about it.—Here he has built a Cottage, a pretty whimsical oval Room, from the Windows of which are three Views, one of distant rich Lands opening to the Sea, one upon a great Mountain, and a third upon a Part of the Lawn. It is well placed, and forms upon the whole a most agreeable retreat.

Three Miles from Woodstock, on the L. is Grange, the Seat of Mr. Pidgeon. Within two Miles and a half of Wicklow, on the L. are the Seats of Mr. Foulkes and Mr. Radcliffe; and about a Mile from them Clermont, the Seat of General Stopford.

Three Miles beyond Wicklow, on the L. is Sea-Park, the fine Seat of Mr. Ball; and a Mile and a half beyond it, Ballynacarrig, that of Mr. Eccles.—A Mile and a half from Ballynacarrig, on the R. situated on a rising Ground, is Dungan's Town, the Seat of Robert Hoey, Esq.

Within six Miles and a half of Arklow, on the R. is Brittas, the Seat of Mr. Penrose; and two Miles beyond Brittas, on the L. is Ardinairey, the Seat of Mr. Fitzsimons; and on the R. is Sallymount, that of Mr. Whyte.

Near a Mile from Arklow, on the R. is Lamberton, the pleasant Seat of the Revd. Mr. Bayly; and opposite to it, is the Charter-School.

Three Miles and a half beyond Arklow, on the L. is Ballylarkan, the Seat of Mr. Gettins; and on the R. are Coolgreney and Ballyad, the Seats of Messrs. Forde.

Within two Miles and a half of Gorey, on the R. is Ballynastra, the Seat of Sir Thomas Esmond, Bart.

At Gorey, is Rame-Fort and Clanatlin, the Seats of Andrew and Stephen Ram, Esqrs.

A Mile on the R. of Camolin, is Camolin-Park, a very superb and beautiful Seat with fine Demesnes, of Lord Viscount Valentia.

Within two Miles of Enniscorthy, on the L. most pleasantly situated on the River Slaney, half a Mile beyond Scarewalsh Bridge, is Balnahatten, the Seat of Mr. Newton; and three Quarters of a Mile from it, on the opposite Side of the Slaney, is Solborough, the Seat of Mr. Richards.

When you are at Enniscorthy, observe that there are two Roads from it to Wexford, one on the Right, and the other on the Left of the River. That on the left Hand is the nearer by a Mile. That Road therefore we describe.--The other leads to Birrmount, a Seat of the Earl of Milltown, two Miles and a half from Enniscorthy; Macmines, the Seat of Mr. King, one Mile and a half from Birrmount;—Bellvue, the fine Seat of the Right Honourable George Ogle, two Miles further; Killurin Church, two Miles from Bellvue; the Seat of Mr. Keefe, half a Mile further; half a Mile from that Carrickmannan, the Seat of Mr. Devereux; and within a Mile of Wexford, Bettyfield, the Seat of Ebenezer Jacob, Esq.

Three Miles beyond Enniscorthy, is Edermine, the Seat of William Toole, Esq; and about half a Mile further, Riverview, that of Mr. Lehunte.

Four Miles beyond Enniscorthy, on the L. is Coolnaboy, the Seat of Fuller Sandwith, Esq; and a Mile and half beyond it, is White-Fort, that of Mr. Gray; and on the R. Ballynacarrick, the Seat of Mr. Radford; and Temple-Hill, that of the Revd. Mr. Harvey.

Within three Miles of Wexford, on the R. are the Ruins of New-Castle; Merreville, the Seat of Sir John Freke, Bart. and Killown, that of Mr. Brown. And on the L. is Saunders Court, a very fine Seat of the Earl of Arran.

Wexford is built near the Sea, upon the River Slane, that empties itself into the Ocean here. It was called by the Danes that built it Wessford, and was formerly a Place of much better Trade than at present, as well as strength. Several Parts of the Walls are yet standing, which are very thick. The Gates yet remain, and it contains some handsome Buildings. Near one of the Gates is a small Structure that covers a mineral Well. At the End of the Town are Barracks for Soldiers, torned out of the old Castle, which yielded a fine Prospect of the Harbour.—The Church is in the main Street, of a modern Taste, though partly built on the old Foundation. There are several Ruins of ancient Abbeys and religious Houses interspersed. The Market House is a very neat Building of modern Structure. The Custom-House too, is of modern date, but small. The chief Trade is in Corn, and that mostly Barley.

From DUBLIN to Wexford, by Wells.

|                        |                  |                  |
|------------------------|------------------|------------------|
| Gorey, as in Page 193. | —                | 45 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Ballycahoë             | 4                | 49 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Wells                  | 5                | 54 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Kyle                   | 1 $\frac{1}{2}$  | 56               |
| Wexford         | 10 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 66 $\frac{1}{2}$ |

On the L. of Ballycanoe, is a fine Seat called Neville's Court; and near a Mile from it, further to the L. is Tom-Duff, the Seat of Mr. Lyndon.

Two Miles beyond Ballycanoe, and a Mile on the R. is Mount Howard, a fine Seat of the Bishop of Waterford.

At Wells, on the L. is the fine Seat of Mr. Doyne; and a Mile further, Ballynahone, that of the Revd. Mr. Tottenham.

A Mile to the L. of Kyle, is the fine Seat of Mr. Bolton, called the Island; and near it, Killygoun, that of Mr. Redmond.

Within four Miles and a half of Wexford, on the R. are the Ruins of Garrylough-Castle; and at a Mile and a half Distance, on the L. is Ballymartin, the Seat of Colonel Hatton.

Within two Miles of the Ferry at Wexford, on the L. is Castle-Bridge Church; and near half a Mile from it, on the R. is Ballytramont, the very fine Seat of Mr. Percival, delightfully situated on the River Slaney.

Road from Mount Charles to Shallogan Bridge. Referred to in the Road from Dublin to Killybegs and Dunfanaghy, Page 42.

|                                      |                  |                   |
|--------------------------------------|------------------|-------------------|
| Mount Charles Donnegal        | —                | 114               |
| Shallogan Bridge                     | 12 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 126 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Ditto, by Strabaneand Ballyhofey | }                | 130 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Ditto, by Ardra andNaren         |                  |                   |
|                                      | —                | 142               |

At Mount Charles, is a very fine Seat of the Rt. Hon. William Burton Conyngham, with large and beautiful demesnes.

Four Miles and a Quarter from Mount Charles, on the L. close to the Road, is Killiene Lough; and a Mile and a Quarter further, on the R. is St. Albert's Well; and near a Quarter of a Mile beyond that, Sir Albert's Bridge.

Near a Mile beyond Sir Albert's Bridge, you come to Drientalin Bridge; and two Miles beyond that, is another Bridge over the River Onea; half a Mile to the L. of which is Glenties Mill.

About a Mile and a Quarter beyond this, on the R. is Drumna'allagh-Hill, at the Foot of which runs the small River Aondraie, which falls into the Onea, near the Road to Ardra.

Road from DUBLIN to Howth.

|                                      |   |                 |                 |
|--------------------------------------|---|-----------------|-----------------|
| Raheny, County ofDublin   | } | —               | 4               |
| Howth                                |   |                 |                 |
|                                      |   | 3 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 7 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| From Dublin to Bull-doyle | } | —               | 6 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
|                                      |   |                 |                 |

One Mile and a half from Dublin, on the L. is Marino, the new-built and very elegant Seat of the Earl of Charlemont, having very beautiful and spacious Gardens, and Demesnes belonging to it: And about half a Mile from the Mansion House, pleasantly situated in the Park, is a superb Edifice, constructed with the most elegant Taste, called the Casino.

A Mile beyond Lord Charlemont's, on the L. are the Seats of Mr. Cooke, and Sir William Glendowe Newcomen, Bart.

Nearly opposite to the last-mentioned Seats, is Furry-Park, a delightful Seat of the Earl of Shannon, he purchased in 1781, of Gorges Edmond Howard, Esq.—On the L. a little beyond it, is the Seat of Sir Patrick King; and beyond that, on the R. are the Seats of the Revd. Dr. Hamilton, and Lodge Morres, Esq.

Opposite Mr. Morres's, are the Seats of Mrs. Hamilton, and Mr. Dick.

About three Quarters of a Mile, on the R. of Raheny, near the Strand, is a fine Seat of the Bishop of Down; and near it, that of Mr. Eustace.

A little beyond Raheny, on the R. is the Seat of Lord St. Laurence.

Howth gives the Title of Earl to the antient and noble Family of St. Laurence, so called from their having gained a Victory over the Irish, on their first landing hereabouts, in 1177, on St. Laurence's Day, their former Name being Tristram. The same Estate has continued ever since in the Family, without Increase or Diminution. The present Earl of Howth is the twenty-seventh Baron of the Family, in lineal Descent. The Mansion House is built in the Form of a Castle, and is very magnificent.

At the Distance of two Miles N. from the Hill of Howth, is Ireland's Eye, composed of a high Rock on the North Side, and what is called the Stags on the East; this latter is very dangerous to Shipping, being a perpendicular Rock of a vast height, and ascent. This small Island is blessed with a fertile Soil, producing curious medicinal Plants; which, in May and June, strike a Person with the most odorous Effluvia. But what renders it disagreeable, 'tis infested with Rats. This Island, in former Times, was joined to the Hill of Howth; but by the violence of the currents was disjoined from it. There are on the S. W. Side, the Ruins of a small Chapel, of a very antient Structure.

Lambay, more northerly of Howth, distant about three Leagues, is a large Island, remarkable for breeding vast Quantities of Rabbits. On Trinity Sunday, every Year, there is a great Concourse of People from the adjacent Shores, where they visit a curious Well and Spring of fine Water, dedicated to the Holy Trinity; here Devotees pay their Orations, while another Party divert themselves with shooting Sea Fowl and Dancing; where there is not any want of Music, as piping, fiddling, drumming, &c. There is noble fishing about this Island for Crabs, Lobsters, Oysters, &c. Great Quantities of Kelp are made annually here.

The Skerries Rocks or Islands, in Number three, at a small Distance from the Town of Skerries, are only remarkable for making great Quantities of Kelp. That called Holm Patrick, is famous for having been the Residence of the Irish Apostle, St. Patrick, where are still to be seen the venerable Relicks and Remains of a Church dedicated to that Saint. There is good Fishing about these Islands for Crabs and Lobsters.

Road from DUBLIN to St. Doulough's.

|                                |               |                 |
|--------------------------------|---------------|-----------------|
| Billybough Bridge, Dub. | —             | 1 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Fair-View                      | $\frac{1}{4}$ | 1 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Donnycarney                    | $\frac{1}{4}$ | 2               |
| Artane                         | $\frac{1}{2}$ | 2 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Coolock                        | $\frac{1}{2}$ | 3               |
| Belcamp                        | 1             | 4               |
| Belgriffin                     | $\frac{1}{4}$ | 4 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| St. Doulough's                 | $\frac{1}{4}$ | 4 $\frac{1}{2}$ |

Near Donnycarney, on the L. is Marino, an elegant Building, in the true Italian Style, lately erected of Portland Stone, a Seat of Lord Charlemont. But the Inside by no Means corresponds with the Elegance of the Outside, the Rooms being very small. Lord Charlemont does not reside at this Seat, but at a neat and well contrived Family House near it, where taste and conveniency are united.

The Stables and other Offices are at a considerable Distance from the Dwelling House. The Lawn is one of the finest and well laid down in the Kingdom, new Beauties and Prospects arising continually to View.

At Artane, on the L. is the pleasant Seat of the late Mr. Donnellan.

Belcamp is the Seat of Sir Edward Newenham, and lies about a Quarter of a Mile from the high Road, on the L. The House is very large and handsome, and has been but lately erected. The Offices belonging to it are very commodious, and the Gardens laid out in a fine Taste. There is a small Tower near the House, built in the Year 1778, dedicated to General George Washington; Part of the Inscription on which, in the true prophetic Style, thus apostrophizes: "Oh! ill-fated Britain! the Folly of Lexington and Concord will sever America for ever from your Empire."

Nearly opposite Belcamp is the agreeable Seat of Mr. Darley; and a little further, that of Counsellor Annesley. This latter Gentleman's House is low, consisting only of a Ground Floor, but is extremely neat and elegant, and has beautiful Gardens and fine Demesnes belonging to it.

At Belgriffin is the Seat of the late Mason Gerrard, Esq. The House is large, and agreeably situated in a Demesne of ninety-nine Acres walled in. The Ground is remarkably good, but the Gardens are indifferent. There are several fine Pieces of Water, well stored with Carp and Tench. The Grape House is large and well contrived.

St. Doulough's Church is well worthy the attention of the Antiquarian and the Man of Taste. It is one of those few Structures in this Kingdom, erected from the beginning of the eighth to the close of the eleventh Century, and in a different style of Architecture from any at this Day to be found either in Britain or the Western Parts of Europe; being evidently built in imitation of the original Christian Churches in the Southern Countries, taken from the ancient Heathen Temples of the Greeks and Romans; and which probably were introduced into this Island by the Greek and Roman Clergy, who retired from their native Countries, on the Arrival of the Goths and Vandals into the Roman Empire. These Churches now remaining in Ireland are all remarkably small, seldom exceeding forty Feet in Length, and twenty in Breadth, being covered with circular Stone Arches under Stone Pediment Roofs in the true Gothic Manner; and the Walls and Arches frequently ornamented with Columns and Pilasters in rude Imitation of the Corinthian and Doric Orders. They are, however, in respect to Taste, far superior to any erected during the beginning of the latter Age, when the Gothic method of Building was introduced from Britain.

St. Doulough's has also been long noted for a Well dedicated to the Virgin Mary, and adjoining it, a small Place called St. Catherine's Pond. The Water is extremely pure; and the Building that incloses the salutary Spring made a good appearance some Years since, but has been lately suffered to go to decay.

At St. Doulough's, on the R. is the fine Seat of Mr. Percival; and near it that of George Purdon Drew, Esq.

A Mile and a Half from St. Doulough's is Feltrum Hill, at the Foot of which is the pleasant and beautiful Seat of Sir Annesley Stewart, Bart.

The Town of Swords is only three Miles from St. Doulough's, lying a little on the L.

END OF THE DIRECT ROADS.

C R O S S R O A D S.

Road from Wexford to New Ross and Waterford, by Passage.

|                                         |                 |                 |
|-----------------------------------------|-----------------|-----------------|
| Taghmon, Wexford                 | —               | 7               |
| Fook's-Mill                      | $3\frac{1}{2}$  | $10\frac{1}{2}$ |
| New-Ross                         | $8\frac{3}{4}$  | $19\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Or by Old Ross from }Taghmon | $12\frac{1}{2}$ | $19\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Fook's-Mill , as before          | —               | $10\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Ballyhack Ferry ,                | $9\frac{1}{4}$  | $19\frac{3}{4}$ |
| WATERFORD                        | $5\frac{1}{2}$  | $25\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Fook's-Mill , as above           | —               | $10\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Duncannon Fort                   | 10              | $20\frac{1}{2}$ |

One Mile from Wexford, on the L. is Bettyfield, the Seat of Ebenezer Jacob, Esq; and about half a Mile further, Newbay, that of Mr. Scott; and on the R. Newtown, that of Mr. Redmond.

Two Miles and a half from Wexford, on the L. are the Ruins of Barntown Castle; and three Miles further, on the R. the Ruins of a Church.

About half a Mile to the L. of Taghmon, is Harper's Town, the fine Seat of Mr. Hoare.

Two Miles beyond Taghmon, on the R. is Tottenham Green, the fine Seat, with very extensive Demesnes, of Sir Charles Tottenham, Bart. and half a Mile from it is Hoare's-Town, that of Mr. Caff.

A Mile beyond Fook's-Mill, on the R. are the Ruins of Rathgowrey Castle; and a Mile on the L. is Bryan's Town, the Seat of Mr. Tench.

Three Miles from Fook's-Mill, on the L. is Killicanlin, the Seat of Mr. Bowes, situated at the Foot of a high Hill.

Within a Mile of New-Ross, on the L. is Corbett-Hill, the Seat of Mr. Corbett, and near it, Redhouse, that of Mr. Tottenham.

On the R. of New-Ross is the Charter School.

New Ross lies in a bottom, with high Hills behind it. The Church, which is a large old Building, is situated on one of them. This Place is one of the Staple Ports for exporting Wool, but it has little Trade; and though it has the Name of New Ross, its Countenance has the Look of venerable Age. It lies along the River Barrow, which is here so deep, that Ships of Burthen may lie close to the Quay, even when the Tide is out. The Custom-House is small, but large enough for its Trade.—See Page 179.

From Wexford to Tintern, by the Scare.

|                                |                |                 |
|--------------------------------|----------------|-----------------|
| Baldwin's Town, Wexford | —              | $7\frac{1}{2}$  |
| Duncormack              | $2\frac{3}{4}$ | $10\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Tintern                 | $7\frac{1}{4}$ | $17\frac{1}{2}$ |

Two Miles from Wexford, on the L. is Johnstown, the fine Seat of Mr. Grogan; and near it are the Ruins of two Castles.

Five Miles from Wexford, on the R. is Newcastle, the Seat of Mr. Lett; and a Mile further, on the L. is Bride's-Well, the Seat of Mr. Rowe.

A Mile beyond Baldwin's Town, on the L. is Birchfield, a pleasant Seat of the late Earl of Ely.

At Duncormack, on the L. and a Mile beyond it, are Castle Ruins.

Near the Scare (which is fordable at low Water—there is no Ferry Boat) is Barristown, the Seat of Mr. Ogle.

Just before you enter the Town of Tintern, on the R. is the fine Seat of Sir Vesey Colclough, Bart.

From Enniscorthy to New-Ross.

|                          |   |    |
|--------------------------|---|----|
| Clonroch, Wexford | — | 6  |
| New-Ross          | 9 | 15 |

Two Miles from Enniscorthy, and about half a Mile on the R. is the Forge, the fine Seat of Mr. Rogers.

Four Miles from Enniscorthy, on the L. close to the Road, are the Ruins of a Church.

Five Miles beyond Clonroch, on the L. is a fine Seat called Robin's-Town.

Within a Quarter of a Mile of New-Ross, on the R. is Bawnmore, the Seat of Mr. Napper; and almost opposite to it, Red-House, that of Mr. Tottenham.

For an Account of New-Ross, see Pages 179, and 206.

From Enniscorthy to Burris.

|                              |                 |                  |
|------------------------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Duffrey Hall, Wexford | —               | 6 $\frac{1}{4}$  |
| Burris, Carlow        | 8 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 14 $\frac{3}{4}$ |

Near two Miles from Enniscorthy, and half a Mile to the L. is the Forge, Mr. Rogers's Seat, with very ample Demesnes and Plantations adjacent.

Duffrey Hall is the fine Seat of Mr. Colclough, and near a Mile on the L. of it is the beautiful Seat of the Rev. Mr. Jacob.

About a Mile from Duffrey Hall, on the R. is Ballychristal, the Seat of Mr. James; and a Mile from the Road, on the L. is Erskinvilla, the Seat of Mr. Richards.

On the L. of Burris, situated near the River Barrow, is the Seat of Mr. Kavanagh.

From Carlow to Enniscorthy, by Tullow and Newtown Barry.

|                               |                 |                 |
|-------------------------------|-----------------|-----------------|
| Tullow, Carlow         | —               | 7 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Newtown Barry, Wexford | 8 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 16              |
| Enniscorthy                   | 10              | 26              |

One Mile and three Quarters from Carlow, on the L. is Browne's-Town, the Seat of Mr. Browne; and a Mile further, about half a Mile from the Road, is Johnstown, that of Mr. Tighe.

Within a Mile of Tullow, on the R. is Castlemore, the Seat of Mr. Eustace.

[For Remarks on the Road from Tullow to Newtown Barry, see Page 188, and from Newtown Barry to Enniscorthy, see Page 187.]

From Leighlin-Bridge to Hacket's-Town.

|                        |                 |                  |
|------------------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Newtown, Carlow | —               | 3 $\frac{1}{2}$  |
| Tullow                 | 6 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 9 $\frac{3}{4}$  |
| Paulville              | 2               | 11 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Hacket's Town          | 6               | 17 $\frac{3}{4}$ |

On the R. of Leighlin Bridge is the fine Seat of Mr. Stewart, pleasantly situated on the River Barrow.

About a Mile and a half from Leighlin Bridge, on the L. is Old Town, the Seat of Mr. Perkins; and about half a Mile further, close to the Road, are the Ruins of a Church.

A little beyond Newtown, on the L. are the Ruins of a Castle; and a Mile further, on the R. those of a Church, near which is Ballitrain, the Seat of Mr. Perkins.

Two Miles beyond Newtown, on the R. is Ballinunery, the beautiful Seat of Mr. Swift; a Mile beyond which, is Rathrush, that of Mr. Morris.

Within a Mile of Tullow, on the L. is Castlemore, the fine Seat of Mr. Eustace; and near a Mile, on the R. Ardristan, that of Mr. Finlay.

Two Miles beyond Tullow, on the L. is Paulville, the pleasant Seat of Joseph Paul, Esq; and a Mile and a Half further, is Lisnavagh, that of Mr. Bunbury.

Within two Miles and a half of Hacket's Town, are the Ruins of Clonmore Castle, seated in the Midst of a Plantation of Trees.

From Tullow to Shilelah.

|                               |   |                 |
|-------------------------------|---|-----------------|
| Coolkenno Inn, Wicklow | — | 4 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Shilelah                      | 3 | 7 $\frac{1}{2}$ |

Near two Miles from Tullow, on the L. is Knocklow, the Seat of Mr. Chamney; and about half a Mile further, on the L. Nakeen, that of Mr. Paterfon.

On the R. of Coolkenno Inn, near the Church, and situated at the Foot of a Hill, is the fine Seat of Mr. Nickfon.

From Kildare to Athy.

|                            |   |    |
|----------------------------|---|----|
| Rathconnel, Kildare | — | 6  |
| Athy                | 5 | 11 |

Three Miles and a Half from Athy, on the L. is Nurney, the Seat of Mr. Baggot; and a Mile and a half further, Gorteen, that of Mr. Fitzgerald.

A Mile beyond Rathconnel, on the R. is Ardillas, the Seat of Mr. Mills; and half a Mile further, on the L. is Young's Town, the Seat of Mr. Medicot.

Within three Miles of Athy, about half a Mile from the Road, on the L. is Ardskull, the Seat of Mr. Medicot.

Within a Mile and a half of Athy, and near a Mile to the L. of the Road, is Fox-Hill, the Seat of Mr. Hoystead.

From Athy to Carlow.

|                               |                |                |
|-------------------------------|----------------|----------------|
| Ardrie, Queen's County | —              | 1              |
| Orange-mellon, Kildare | $\frac{1}{2}$  | $2\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Carlow                 | $6\frac{1}{2}$ | 9              |

One Mile from Athy, and about a Mile to the L. is Bray, the fine Seat of Lord Viscount De Vesci; and a Mile further, is Leinster Lodge, a magnificent Seat of the Duke of Leinster.

Two Miles from Athy, on the R. is Barrow-House, the Seat of Mrs. Fennel; and near it, is Orange-mellon, the Seat of Mr. St. Leger; and Sportland, that of Mr. Weldon.

Within three Miles and a half of Carlow, on the R. close to the River Barrow, are the Ruins of a Castle; and near a Mile on the L. those of a Church.

Within two Miles and a half of Carlow, on the R. is Schroul, the Seat of Mr. Harpole; and New-Garden, that of Mr. Carpenter.

Within two Miles of Carlow, on the R. is Barrow-ville, the Seat of Mr. Pleasant; Best-Field, that of Mr. Best; and on the L. is that of Mr. Dillon.

Within a Mile and a half of Carlow, on the L. is Payne's Town, a beautiful Edifice, with ample Demesnes, the Seat of Mr. Cooke.—For a Description of Carlow, see Page 149.

From Athy to Maryborough.

|                                   |     |                 |
|-----------------------------------|-----|-----------------|
| Stradbally, Queen's County | } — | $6\frac{1}{2}$  |
| Maryborough                | 6   | $12\frac{1}{2}$ |

On the R. of Athy, is the Castle, belonging to the Duke of Leinster; and near it, Cardenton, the Seat of Mr. Beaver.

Three Miles from Athy, on the L. is Castle-Mitchell, the Seat of Mr. Chapman; and two Miles and a Quarter further, on the R. is Ballykincavan, the fine Seat of General Walshe.

Within half a Mile of Stradbally, on the R. is Brockley-Park, the superb and beautiful Seat, with fine and extensive Parks, Demesnes, and Plantations, of the Earl of Roden.

On the L. of Stradbally, is Stradbally-Hall, the beautiful and elegant Seat of Mr. Cosby; and a Mile further, is Rahinduff, that of Mr. Pitman.

Within two Miles and a half of Maryborough, on the L. near Dysart-Church, are the Seats of Mr. Sherlock, and Mr. Baldwin; and within half a Mile of Maryborough, is Summer-Hill, the Seat of Mr. Baldwin.

From Maryborough to Philipstown.

|                                  |                |                |
|----------------------------------|----------------|----------------|
| Clonegowan, King's County | } —            | $9\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Geashill                         | $3\frac{1}{2}$ | 13             |
| Philipstown               | 4              | 17             |

Six Miles from Maryborough, on the R. are the Ruins of a Castle; and a Mile further, is Garabinch, the Seat of Mr. Warburton.

Within a Mile and a half of Clonegowan, on the L. are the Ruins of a Castle; and at Clonegowan, is the Seat of Mr. Meredyth.

A Mile and a half beyond Clonegowan, on the L. is Rahein, the Seat of the Revd. Mr. Harper.

At Geashill, on the R. is a Seat of Lord Digby; and about Half a Mile on the L. is that of the Reverend Dean Digby.

From Maryborough to Tullamore.

|                                          |                 |                  |
|------------------------------------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Mountmellick, Queen's }County | —               | 5 $\frac{3}{4}$  |
| Rosenellis                               | 2 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 8 $\frac{1}{2}$  |
| Killeigh, King's County           | 5               | 13 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Tullamore                                | 4 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 18 $\frac{3}{4}$ |

Within two Miles of Rosenellis, on the L. is Summer-grove, the fine Seat of Mr. Sabatier.

About half a Mile on the R. of Rosenellis, is Camira, the Seat of Mr. Pilkerton; and half a Mile from it is Ryne, that of Mr. Croisdale.

Within a Mile and a Half of Killeigh, on the R. is Quarry-mount, the Seat of Mr. Johnston.

From Athy to Monasterevan.

|                                |   |   |
|--------------------------------|---|---|
| Kilberry Ruins, Kildare | — | 3 |
| Monasterevan                   | 6 | 9 |

One Mile from Athy, on the L. is Biddeford, the Seat of Mr. Higginson; and a little further, Shrowland, that of Mr. Meredyth.

Two Miles from Athy, on the L. is Bert House, the Seat of Mr. Burgh; and a Mile further, on the L. are the Ruins of three Castles.

A Mile and a Half from Kilberry Ruins, and near a Mile from the Road, on the L. is Clonee, the Seat of Mr. Browne.

Within two Miles of Monasterevan on the R. is the Seat of the Reverend Mr. Preston.

On the L. of Monasterevan, just before you enter the Town; is Moore Abbey, the magnificent and beautiful Seat of the Earl of Drogheda, pleasantly situated at the Foot of a lofty Hill, on the Banks of the Barrow.

From Ballynakill to Athy.

|                                |                 |                  |
|--------------------------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Timahoe, Queen's County | —               | 6 $\frac{1}{4}$  |
| Stradbally                     | 3 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 10               |
| Athy, Kildare           | 6 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 16 $\frac{3}{4}$ |

N. B. From Timahoe you may go a nearer Road to Athy than by Stradbally, by keeping to the right Hand, and going by Tully Church.

One Mile from Ballynakill, on the R. is the Seat of Mr. Trench; and a Mile further, on the L. is Barnet's Grove, that of Mr. Barnet.

Two Miles and a Half from Ballynakill, on the R. is Derrytoyle, the Seat of Mr. Vickers; and half a Mile further, on the L. Bland's Fort, that of Mr. Bland.

On the R. of Timahoe are the Ruins of a Church.

Two Miles beyond Timahoe, on the R. near Timoge Church, is the Seat of Mr. Purcell.

On the L. just before you enter Stradbally, is the fine Seat of Mr. Cosby; and on the R. the Charter School.

Near a Mile beyond Stradbally, on the L. is Brockley Park, a very superb Edifice, with extensive Domains and rich Plantations, the Seat of the Earl of Roden.

From Kilkenny to Ballynakill.

|                                 |                 |                  |
|---------------------------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Ballyragget, Kilkenny    | —               | 9 $\frac{1}{2}$  |
| Ballynakill, Queen's-Co. | 5 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 14 $\frac{3}{4}$ |

Three Miles from Kilkenny, on the L. are Dunmore Ruins, pleasantly situated in the midst of a very large and fine Plantation of Trees, the Estate of Mr. Butler.

Five Miles from Kilkenny, on the R. is Jenkin's Town, the Seat of Mr. O'Brien; and near it is Springhill, that of Mr. Strangeways.

A Mile and a Half further is Swift's Seat, the Residence of Mr. Swift; and half a Mile beyond it are the Ruins of a Castle.

Within a Mile and a Half of Ballyragget, on the R. are the Ruins of a Castle; and near a Mile from them those of a Church.

Within about a Mile and a Half of Ballyragget, on the L. situated on the W. Side of the River Nore, is the fine Seat of Eland Mossom, Esq; and on the L. of Ballyragget, just before you enter the Town, is that of Mr. Butler.

Near a Mile beyond Ballyragget, on the L. is Ballycondra, a very fine Seat of Lord Viscount Mountgarret.

From Kilkenny to Roscrea.

|                           |                 |                  |
|---------------------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Ballyragget, Kilkenny     | —               | 9 $\frac{1}{2}$  |
| Durrow                    | 4               | 13 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Rathdowny, Queen's County | 7 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 21               |
| Shirk                     | 5 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 26 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Roscrea, Tipperary        | 5 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 32 $\frac{1}{4}$ |

At Durrow on the L. is Castle Durrow, the fine Seat of Lord Viscount Ashbrook.

Three Miles beyond Durrow, and near a Mile on the R. is Tentower, a fine Seat, with very extensive and beautiful Demesnes, of the Earl of Upper Ossory.

Four Miles from Durrow, on the L. is Old Glas, the Seat of Mr. Drought.

Within Two Miles of Rathdowny, on the R. is Middlemount, the Seat of Mr. Flood; and about half a Mile opposite to it, Knockfin, that of Mr. Palmer.

One Mile beyond Rathdowny, on the L. is Mount Oliver, the Seat of Mr. O'Flaherty; and on the R. are Donaghmore Barracks.

Two Miles and a Half from Rathdowny, on the L. is Grogan, the Seat of Mr. Fisher.

Half a Mile from Shirk Church, on the L. are the Ruins of a Castle; and near two Miles further on the R. is Knockbally, the Seat of Mr. Hutchinson; and a Mile on the L. Timoney, that of Mr. Hutchinson.

From Kilkenny to Thomastown.

|                           |                 |                 |
|---------------------------|-----------------|-----------------|
| Bennet's Bridge, Kilkenny | —               | 4 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Thomastown                | 4 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 8 $\frac{1}{2}$ |

A Mile from Kilkenny on the L. is Archer's Grove, the Seat of Mr. Blunt; and a Mile further, is Kilfaira, that of Mr. Ryan; and half a Mile further, Schee's Town, that of Mr. Schee.

From Kilkenny to Burros in Ossory.

|                         |                 |                  |
|-------------------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Durrow, Kilkenny        | —               | 13 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Aghaboe, Queen's County | 6 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 19 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Burros in Ossory        | 4 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 24               |

One Mile and a Half from Durrow, on the R. is Moyne, the Seat of Mr. Stubber.

Near five Miles from Durrow, on the L. is Cuffborough, the Seat of Mr. Cuffe.

At Aghaboe, on the R. is the Seat of the Reverend Dr. Edward Ledwich, near the Church.

Two Miles beyond Aghaboe, on the L. at the Foot of a Hill, is Lillimore, the pleasant Seat of Mr. Carden.

Near Burros in Ossory, on the R. is the Seat of Mr. Stevens; and half a Mile beyond it, situated on the River Nore, is Springhill, that of Mr. Short.

From Kilkenny to Urlingford.

|                     |                 |                  |
|---------------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Freshford, Kilkenny | —               | 7                |
| Urlingford          | 7 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 14 $\frac{1}{2}$ |

Two Miles and a Quarter from Kilkenny, on the R. are the Ruins of a Church; and a Mile and a Half further, on the L. is the Seat of Mr. Ball.

Five Miles from Kilkenny, on the L. is the Seat of Mr. Lewis; and a Mile and a Half further, is Clahaghrow, that of the Reverend Dr. Hewetson.

At Freshford, on the R. is the Seat of Mr. Warren; and on the L. is Upper Court, that of Sir William Morris, Bart. near which, on the L. is that of Sir Cornwallis Maude, Bart.

A Mile beyond Freshford, on the L. is Kilrush, the Seat of Mr. St. George; near which are the Ruins of Ballylarkin Castle.

Two Miles from Freshford, on the L. is Kyle, the Seat of Mr. Tassel; and a little farther are the Ruins of four Castles, all within the Distance of a Mile.

Within three Miles of Urlingford, on the L. is Woodgift, the fine Seat, with large and beautiful Demesnes, of Sir Richard St. George, Bart.

From Kilkenny to Carrick-on-Suir.

|                           |                 |                  |
|---------------------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Kells, Kilkenny    | —               | 6 $\frac{1}{2}$  |
| Kilmagany                 | 5 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 12               |
| Carrick, Tipperary | 7 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 19 $\frac{1}{4}$ |

About a Mile from Kilkenny, on the L. is the Seat of the Reverend Dr. Broderick; and a Mile further, on the R. Birchfield, that of the Reverend Mr. Madden.

Two Miles and a Half beyond Kells, on the R. is Ballytoban, the Seat of Mr. Baker.

Within a Mile of Kilmagany, on the L. is Rosinara, the Seat of Mr. Flood.

Three Miles beyond Kilmagany, on the R. is Kilmacollaver, the Seat of Mr. Osborne; and a Mile and a Half further, on the L. is Annborough, the Seat of Mr. Osborne; near a Mile from which is Castle-Town, the magnificent and beautiful Seat of Richard Cox, Esq; and late of the Archbishop of Cashel.

Within a Mile of Carrick, on the L. is Tinvoan, the Seat of Mr. Briscoe; and nearly opposite to it, on the R. Wilmar, that of Mr. Nicholson.

From Knocktopher to Kilmagany.

|                            |                 |                  |
|----------------------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Newmarket, Kilkenny | —               | 2                |
| Kilmagany                  | 2 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 14 $\frac{1}{4}$ |

At Knocktopher, on the L. is the very fine Seat of Sir Hercules Langrishe, Bart. with ample and beautiful Demefnes appertaining to it.

Near a Mile beyond Newmarket, on the L. is Castle Morres, a most superb Seat, with noble Domains and fine Plantations, of Lord Viscount Mountmorre.

Within a Mile of Kilmagany, on the L. is Castle Hail, the Seat of Mr. Reid; and about half a Mile further is Saugborough, the fine Seat of Mr. Shepherd.

From Waterford to Carrick-on-Suir.

|                       |                  |
|-----------------------|------------------|
| To Carrick by Portlaw | 14 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| by Curraghmore        | 14 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| by Grany Ferry        | 13 $\frac{1}{4}$ |

A Mile and a Half from Waterford, on the R. is Grace Dieu, the Seat of Mr. Morres; and half a Mile from it, Upper Grace Dieu, that of Mr. Anderson.

Near three Miles from Waterford, on the L. is Butterstown, the Seat of Mr. Sherlock; and on the R. is a Charter School.

Killottery Church is three Miles and a Quarter from Waterford, on the R. close to the Road; and near a Mile beyond it, on the L. is Whitfield, the Seat of William Christmas, Esq.

Near Mr. Christmas's Seat on the R. between the Road and the River Suire, is Mount Congreve, the pleasant Seat of Mr. Congreve; and half a Mile further, situated in like Manner, are the Ruins of a Castle.

Kilmaiden Church is half a Mile from these Ruins, near the Road on the R.

About a Mile from Portlaw, on the R. situated on the Banks of the Suir, is Mayfield, the noble and delightful Seat, with very extensive and beautiful Demefnes and Plantations, of Sir James May, Bart.

One Mile from Mayfield, on the R. is Mount Bolton, the fine Seat of Mr. Bolton.

Curraghmore lies two Miles to the L. of Mayfield, and is a very magnificent and handsome Edifice, with ample Domains, Parks, Gardens, & Plantations, a Seat of the Earl of Tyrone. The House, which is very large, is situated upon a rising Ground, in a Vale surrounded by very bold Hills, which rise in a Variety of Forms, and offer to the Eye, in riding through the Grounds, very noble and striking Scenes. These Hills are exceedingly varied, so that the Detour of the Place is very pleasing. To see it to Advantage, you should pass through the Deer Park Wood of old Oaks, spread over the Side of a bold Hill. Here the Scene is a truly Forest one, without any other Boundary in View than what the Stems of Trees offer from mere Extent, retiring one behind another till they thicken so much to the Eye, under the shade of their spreading Tops, as to form a distant Wall of Wood. From this Hill you enter an Evergreen Plantation, a Scene which winds up the Deer Park Hill, and opens on the Brow of it, which commands a most noble View indeed. The Lawns around the House appear at one's Feet, at the Bottom of a great Declivity of Wood, almost every where surrounded by Plantations. The Hills on the opposite Side of the Vale against the House, consist of a large Lawn in the centre of the two Woods, that to the Right of an immense Extent, which waves over a Mountain's Side, in the finest Manner imaginable, and lead the Eye to the Scenery on the Left, which is a beautiful Vale of rich Inclosures, of several Miles extent, with the Suir making one great Reach through it, and a bold Bend just before it enters a Gap in the Hill, towards Waterford, and winds behind them; to the right you look over a large Plain, backed by the great Cummeragh Mountains. For a distinct Extent of View, the Parts of which are all of a commanding Magnitude, and a Variety equal to the Number, very few Prospects are finer than this. Hence the Boundary Plantation extends some Miles to the West and North West of the Domain, forming a Margin to the whole of different Growths, having been planted, by Degrees, from three to fifteen Years.

* * * The above mentioned Remarks are adapted to the Road to Carrick, either by Portlaw or Curraghmore, which is exactly similar, with this only Difference, that when at Portlaw, if you intend going to Curraghmore, you strike a little to the Left. The Roads again meet within two Miles Distance of Carrick.

If you go by Grany Ferry, which is not quite two Miles from Waterford, you will observe,

Four Miles from Waterford, on the L. is Aglish Church, a very handsome Structure; one Mile beyond which, on the R. is Ash-Grove, the fine Seat, with large Demesnes, of Mr. George Ponsonby; and near a Mile from it, on the L. is Rathcain, the pleasant Seat of Mr. Drew.

Three Miles from Aglish Church, on the R. is Clonmore, the Seat of Mr. Elliot; and about a Quarter of a Mile further, are the Ruins of a Castle, nearly opposite to Sir James May's elegant Seat; the River Suir, which is here very broad, running between them.

A Mile and a Half further, on the R. is Fiddown, the Seat of the Reverend Mr. Watts, near the Ruins of a Church; and a Mile and a Half on the R. is Beshborough, the superb Seat of the Earl of Beshborough.

Within three Miles of Carrick is Piltown; one Mile from which, on the L. are the Ruins of Tybroghny Castle; and on the R. is Ganaree, the Seat of Mr. Briscoe.

From Waterford to New Ross.

|                    |                |                 |
|--------------------|----------------|-----------------|
| Glanmore, Kilkenny | —              | 6               |
| New-Ross, Wexford  | $4\frac{1}{4}$ | $10\frac{1}{4}$ |

About half a Mile from Waterford, on the R. is the Seat of Mr. Edwards; and near it, Mount Vernon, that of Mr. Congreve.

Three Quarters of a Mile from Waterford, on the L. is Mount Hulins, the Seat of Mr. Hughes.

Within half a Mile of Glanmore, on the R. are the Ruins of a Church; and a Mile and a Quarter beyond Glanmore, on the L. are those of a Castle.

For an Account of New Ross, see Pages 179 and 206.

From Waterford to Tramore.

|                        |   |   |
|------------------------|---|---|
| Drumcannon Church Wat. | — | 4 |
| Tramore                | 2 | 6 |

Two Miles and a Half from Waterford, on the L. is Ballynamoona, the beautiful Seat, with large Demesnes, of Mr. Carew.

Drumcannon Church stands at the Foot of a high Hill, about a Quarter of a Mile from the Road, on the L. within two Miles of Tramore.

From Waterford to Dungarvan and Cappoquin.

To Dungarvan.

|                                 |   |   |                                    |
|---------------------------------|---|---|------------------------------------|
| Kilmac-Thomas, Waterford | } | — | 11 $\frac{3}{4}$                   |
| Dungarvan                |   |   |                                    |
|                                 |   |   | 9 $\frac{3}{4}$   21 $\frac{1}{2}$ |

To Cappoquin.

|                  |   |   |                                     |
|------------------|---|---|-------------------------------------|
| Kilmac-Thomas    | } | — | 11 $\frac{3}{4}$                    |
| Cappoquin |   |   |                                     |
|                  |   |   | 17 $\frac{3}{4}$   29 $\frac{1}{2}$ |

Three Miles from Waterford, on the L. is Butler's Town, the Seat of Thomas Sherlock, Esq; and nearly opposite to it is the Charter School, and Killottery Church.

Near four Miles from Waterford, on the L. is Whitfield, the Seat of William Christmas, Esq; and about half a Mile from it, on the R. Mount Congreve, that of Mr. Congreve.

Near six Miles from Waterford, on the R. is Amber-hill, the Seat of Stephen Worthevale, Esq; and two Miles further, on the L. are the Ruins of Newcastle Church.

Within a Mile and a Half of Kilmac-Thomas, on the L. near Newtown Inn, are the Ruins of a Church.

Two Miles and a Half beyond Kilmac-Thomas on the R. is Fagha, the Seat of Mr. Barron; a Mile and a Half further, on the L. are the Ruins of Fox's Castle; and a Mile and a Half from these are the Ruins of Ballycheroge Castle.

Within two Miles and a Half of Dungarvan, is Clonkaskron, the Seat of Charles Humble, Esq.

Within a Mile and a Half of Dungarvan, on the R. is Duck's Pool, the Seat of Mr. Boate; and near it are magnificent Remains of an antient and venerable Structure, called Abbey-side.—For an Account of Dungarvan, see Page 174.

Within four Miles and a Half of Cappoquin, on the L. are the Ruins of Capuck Castle; and a Mile further, on the L. of a Bridge over the River Finish, is Rockville, the Seat of Mr. Hely.

Within a Mile and a Quarter of Cappoquin, on the R. is Bettyville, the Seat of Richard Power, Esq; and at Cappoquin, on the R. is Bellmont, that of Mr. Keene.

From Dungarvan to Cappoquin.

|                                |   |   |                                   |
|--------------------------------|---|---|-----------------------------------|
| White Church, Waterford | } | — | 4 $\frac{3}{4}$                   |
| Cappoquin               |   |   |                                   |
|                                |   |   | 4 $\frac{3}{4}$   9 $\frac{1}{2}$ |

Two Miles and a Quarter from Dungarven, on the L. is Grey Rock, the Seat of John Coghlan, Esq; and a Mile further, is Mount Odel, that of Mr. Odel.

At White Church the Traveller may go to Cappoquin either by the direct Road, or striking to the Left, leading to Dromana, the superb Seat of the Earl of Granditon, which is about two Miles on the L. of Cappoquin, situated on the Blackwater River. See Page 169.

From Carrick to Kilmac-Thomas.

|                                 |   |   |                                   |
|---------------------------------|---|---|-----------------------------------|
| Muthel Church, Waterford | } | — | 3                                 |
| Kilmac-Thomas            |   |   |                                   |
|                                 |   |   | 5 $\frac{1}{4}$   8 $\frac{1}{4}$ |

A Mile and a Half from Muthel Church, on the L. is White's Town, the Seat of Mr. Duckett; and on the R. are the Ruins of Cloncee Castle.

From Cork to Youghall and Cloyne.

|                        |   |   |                                    |
|------------------------|---|---|------------------------------------|
| Millett's, Cork | } | — | 11 $\frac{3}{4}$                   |
| Castle-Martyr   |   |   |                                    |
| Killeagh        |   |   |                                    |
| Youghall        |   |   |                                    |
|                        |   |   | 5   16 $\frac{3}{4}$               |
|                        |   |   | 2 $\frac{3}{4}$   19 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
|                        |   |   | 5 $\frac{1}{2}$   25               |

N. B. From Church-Town, by Killeagh, is three Furlongs shorter.

One Mile and a Half from Cork, on the R. are the Seat of Mr. Lombard.

Two Miles and a Half from Cork, on the L. is Howard's Hill, the Seat of Mr. St. Leger.

Three Miles from Cork, on the L. is Lota, the Seat of Mr. Rogers. The View of this Place from the Water is charming; a fine rising Lawn, with noble spreading Wood reaching on each Side; the House a very pleasing Front, with Lawn shooting into the Woods. The River forms a Creek, between two Hills. As the Boat leaves the Shore, nothing can be finer than the View behind; the Back-Woods of Lota, the House and Lawn, and the high bold Inclosures towards Cork, form the finest Shore imaginable.

Half a Mile from Lota, on the opposite Side of the Water, is Dunkettle, the Seat of Dominick Trant, Esq. It lies on a Hill of some hundred Acres, broken into a great Variety of Ground, by gentle Declivities, with every where an undulating Outline, and the whole varied by a considerable Quantity of Wood, which in some Places is thick enough to take the Appearance of close Groves; in others spreads into scattered Thickets, and a Variety of single Groupes. This Hill, or rather Cluster of Hills, is surrounded on one Side by a Reach of Cork Harbour, over which it look in the most advantageous Manner; and on the other, by an irriguous Vale, through which the River Glanmire flows.—The opposite Shore of that River has every Variety that can unite to form pleasing Landscapes for the Views from Dunkettle Grounds; in some Places narrow Glens, the Bottoms of which are quite filled with Water, and the steep Banks covered with thick Woods that spread a deep Shade; in others the Vale opens to form the Scite of a pretty cheerful Village, overhung by Hill and Wood. Here the Shore rises gradually into large Inclosures, which spread over the Hills, stretching beyond each other; and there the Vale meets again into a milder Variety of Fields. In a Word, it is one of the finest Prospects to be seen in the Kingdom.

Five Miles from Cork, on the R. is the fine Seat of Mr. Hoare, most delightfully situated near Little Island.—On this Island, which lies about half a Mile from the Road, on the R. are the Seats of Mr. Beaury, and Mr. Forrest.

Six Miles from Cork, on the L. is Anne-Mount, the Seat of Sir Riggs Falkiner, Bart. and half a Mile further, Johnstown, that of Mr. Sarsfield.

One Mile beyond Johnstown, on the L. is Killycloyne, the Seat of Mr. Martin; on the L. of it Springhill, that of Mr. Wakeham; and half a Mile further, Ann-Grove, the Seat of Robert Dobson, Esq.

At Carrigtwehill, on the Right, is Barry's-Court, the Seat of Mr. Copping.

Within a Mile of Middleton, on the R. is Ballyanan, the beautiful Seat of Lord Viscount Middleton, with very noble and extensive Gardens, Parks, and Demesnes appertaining to it.

A Mile beyond Middleton, on the L. is Ram-Hill, the Seat of Mr. Foilard; and a little further is Cahirmoan, the Seat of Mr. Chinnery; Knockborough, that of Mr. Ball; and Bilberry-Hill, that of Mr. Drury.

At Castle-Martyr is a most noble and superb Edifice, with very ample and beautiful Parks and Plantations, the Seat of the Earl of Shannon.

Within a Mile of Killeagh, on the L. is Mount-Bell, the Seat of Mr. Guard; and about half a Mile to the R. of Killeagh, is Ballynegan, that of Mr. Giles. The Ruins of a Castle lie about half a Mile to the R.

Within two Miles of Youghall, on the R. is Ballyvergin, the Seat of Richd. Uniacke, Esq.

From Cork to Cloyne.

|                |                 |                  |
|----------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Midleton, Cork | —               | 11 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Cloyne         | 3 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 15 $\frac{1}{4}$ |

One Mile from Middleton, on the R. is the Seat of the Revd. Doctor Barclay.

At Cloyne, is the Seat of the Bishop; and half a Mile from it, on the R. are the Ruins of a Castle.

From Cork to Cove.

|               |                 |                 |
|---------------|-----------------|-----------------|
| Passage, Cork | —               | 5 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Cove          | 2 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 7 $\frac{3}{4}$ |

Two Miles from Cork, on the R. is Montpelier, the Seat of Mr. Douglas; and opposite to it, Hettyfield, that of Mr. Davis.

Two Miles and a half from Cork, on the R. is Newberry, the Seat of Mr. Newman; and half a Mile further, is Mounthovel, that of Mr. Farmer.

Four Miles from Cork, on the L. nearly encircled by Water, is Red Island, the Seat of Mr. Lane.

Near Passage, on the R. is Pembroke's Town, the Seat of Mr. Parsons; and opposite to it, on the Great Island, is the Seat of M. D. T. French, Esq.

Road from Cork to Kinsale.

CORK, Page 146.

Kinsale

— | 124
11  $\frac{3}{4}$  | 135  $\frac{3}{4}$

Near two Miles from Cork, on the L. is Pouladuff, the Seat of Mr. Grey; and a little further, Ashgrove, that of Mr. Williams.

Two Miles and a half from Cork, on the R. is Chetwynd, the Seat of Mr. Pigott; and half a Mile further, is Rochford's Town, that of Mr. Whyte.

At Ballyhaffick, five Miles and a half from Cork, on the R. is Mount-Pleasant, the Seat of Mr. Bonwell.

Two Miles and a half beyond Ballyhaffick, on the L. is Ballymartle, the Seat of the Revd. Mr. Mead.

Within two Miles of Kinsale, on the R. is Ballintobber, the fine Seat of the Revd. Mr. Mead.

From Kinsale to Inishonan, 6

One Mile from Kinsale, on the L. is Balnacurragh, the Seat of Mr. Sweet. Three Miles and a half from Kinsale, on the L. are the Ruins of a Church; and half a Mile further, is Ship-Pool, the Seat of Mr. Herrick.

Within a Mile and a half of Inishonan, on the R. is Golden-Bush, the Seat of Mr. Wilmot.

From Clonkilty to Dunman- } 11 $\frac{1}{4}$ way,

Two Miles from Clonkilty, on the L. is Ballyvackie, the Seat of Mr. Allen; and a Mile and a half further, is Baillad, that of Mr. Wardner.

Five Miles from Clonkilty, on the R. are the Ruins of Ballyward Castle; and about a Mile on the L. a pleasant Seat, called Pearlachan.

Dunmanway is a cheerful, thriving little Town, where the late Sir Richard Cox established the Linen Manufacture, which is now in a prosperous State. The House wherein Sir Richard resided, is on the R. of the Town, and pleasantly adorned with handsome Avenues and good Plantations of Fir, Elm, Lime, Chestnut, and some Beach. The Town is seated in the Centre of a small Valley, surrounded with Hills to the West, North, and South. Those to the North are rough, and rocky; but thence to Bandon, along the River of that Name, is a fine well-improved Vale, consisting of a light gravelly Soil.—The Country to the North of Dunmanway, is very rocky. Within a Mile of the Town, there is a perfect Wall, or Mound of Rocks, running a considerable Way: A Yew Tree shoots out of the Crevices of these Rocks, the Body of which is seventeen Feet in Circumference, and grows in a reclining Manner.

From Skibbereen to Ban- } 11 $\frac{1}{4}$ try,

A Mile and a Quarter from Skibbereen, on the R. is Thornhill, the fine Seat of Mr. Townsend.

About half a Mile from Bantry, on the L. is Black Rock, the Seat of Mr. White.

Bantry is seated at the Bottom of a very extensive Bay of the same Name, capable of containing all the Shipping in Europe. It was formerly called Ballygobbin, as also the Old Town, to distinguish it from another Settlement more to the North, called the New Town, where Ireton, in Cromwell's Time had a Fortification erected, with four regular Bastions, which caused the Inhabitants to build near it; but when this Fort went to decay, they returned by Degrees to the Old Town, called Bantry, from its being the chief Settlement of the hali Barony. Some Years ago, when the Pilchards frequented this Bay, it was a thriving Town, but for Want of Employment it is greatly reduced. In many Creeks round the Bay are several Fish-Stages (here called Pollices) for laying, preserving and salting of Pilchards, of which several thousand Pounds worth have been sent to Spain, Portugal, and Italy; but of late Years not a single Pilchard has appeared on the Coast.

Opposite to Bantry, and about two Miles distant from it, is the Island of Whidey. It is a very pleasant Spot, nearly of an oval Form, and the Soil is excellent. In it is a Deer-Park, where are both a fresh and salt Water Lake, at no great Distance from each other.

From Macroom to Inchegeela.

|                       |                 |                 |
|-----------------------|-----------------|-----------------|
| Carronageelough, Cork | —               | 4 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Inchegeela            | 2 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 7               |

Near a Mile from Macroom, on the R. pleasantly situated on the River Slaan, is Mount-Hedges, the fine Seat of Mr. Eyre.

Two Miles from Macroom, and situated in like manner, on the R. is Ash-Grove, the Seat of Mr. Ash; near which are the Ruins of Dundurck Castle. These Ruins are located on a Hill, which commands a vast extended View to the West, as far as the Bounds of Kerry; to the East, almost to Cork; and a great Tract to the South. It is an high square Building, having 70 stone Steps to the Battlements; adjoining it stood some modern Buildings, now in Ruins.

Near five Miles from Macroom, on the R. near the Ruins of a Castle, is Carronageelough, the Seat of Mr. Barry.

* * There is a Road making from Inchegeela to Bantry, which is said to be shorter from Cork to Bantry, than by Dunmanway.

From Mill-Street to Bandon.

|               |                 |                  |
|---------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Macroom, Cork | —               | 10               |
| Kilmory       | 5 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 15 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Bandon        | 7 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 22 $\frac{1}{2}$ |

On the L. of Mill-street, is Mount-Leader, the Seat of Mr. Leader; and about a Mile and a half from it are the Ruins of Killmeedy Castle.

Within a Mile of Macroom, on the L. is Mount-Maissy, the noble and beautiful Seat of Mr. Hutchinson; and about a Mile on the R. on the opposite Side of the River Slaan, is Mount-Hedges, the fine Seat of Mr. Eyre.

A Mile beyond Macroom, on the R. is Coolcour, the Seat of Mr. Browne; and three Miles further, is Warren's Court, the superb Seat, with ample and fine Demelnes, of Mr. Warren.

At Kilmory, on the L. are the Ruins of a Castle.

Four Miles and a Half from Kilmory, on the L. is Curravordie, the fine Seat of Walter Baldwin, Esq; a Mile beyond which, on the R. is Ballygarvy, the Seat of Mr. Alcock; and Gurteen, that of Mr. Gilman.

Road from Cork to Tralee.

|                      |                  |                  |
|----------------------|------------------|------------------|
| Mill-Street, Cork    | —                | 22 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Shane's Inn          | 3 $\frac{1}{2}$  | 26 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Castle Island, Kerry | 13 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 40               |
| Tralee               | 8 $\frac{3}{4}$  | 48 $\frac{3}{4}$ |

Two Miles from Cork, on the L. is Mount-Deiart, the Seat of Mr. Duncombe; and a Mile further, on the R. Ballycannon, that of Mr. Spread.

Four Miles from Cork, on the R. is Blarney, the beautiful Seat of Mr. Jefferys. From Cork to this Place, the Eye is delighted with Variety of beautiful Prospects, of gentle-riding Hill, Woods, Groves, Meadows, and Corn Fields, with several good Seats.

Near four Miles from Cork, on the L. is Wood-Side, the Seat of Mr. Carleton; and two Miles further, Cloghroe, that of Mr. Capel.

Seven Miles from Cork, near the Turnpike, on the R. are the Ruins of a Church; and three Miles and a half further, on the L. is Derry, the Seat of Mr. Gibbs.

Thirteen Miles from Cork, on the L. is Mountrours, the Seat of Mr. Phelan.

At Mill-street, on the R. is Coomlagane, the Seat of Mr. O'Leary; and near a Mile on the L. is Mount Leader, that of Mr. Leader.

Within three Miles of Castle-Island, on the R. are the Ruins of a Church; about half a Mile further, those of Kilmurry Castle; and a Mile from these, the Ruins of Kilcushnen Castle.

Within a Mile and a Half of Castle-Island, on the R. is Ballymacadam, a Seat of the Earl of Glandore; and about half a Mile from it, on the L. is Tullig, that of Mr. Sandes.

At Castle-Island, (formerly called the Castle of the Island of Kerry) on the L. is the Charter-School. The Castle is said to have been erected by Geoffry Maurice, Lord Justice of Ireland, in 1226, the Ruins of which are still remaining.—See Page 125.

A Mile and a Quarter beyond Castle-Island, on the L. close to the Road, is Menu, the Seat of Doctor Drew; two Miles further, on the R. is Maglafs, that of Mr. Sealy; and on the L. Maugh, Mr. Sealy's Seat.

Near five Miles beyond Castle-Island, on the R. is Ratanny, the Seat of Mr. Rowan; and on the L. Arbela, that of Mr. Blenerhasset.

Within three Miles of Tralee, on the L. is Ballycarthy, the Seat of Mr. Nash; Elm-Grove, that of Mr. Blenerhasset; Ballyfeedy, Mr. Blenerhasset's; and on the R. Ballengown, that of Mr. Cref.

Near a Mile to the R. of Tralee, is Oak-Park, the Seat of Rowland Bateman, Esq.

From Cork to Blarney.

| 4

At Blarney, on the L. is the very fine Seat, with ample and beautiful Demefines, of Mr. Jefferys.

From Cork to Killarney.

Mill-Street, Cork

Killarney

|    |               |                   |
|----|---------------|-------------------|
| —  | 22            | $\frac{3}{4}$     |
| 14 | $\frac{3}{4}$ | 137 $\frac{1}{2}$ |

Three Miles and a Quarter from Mill-Street, is Shane's Inn.

Within a Mile of Killarney, on the R. is Park, the very fine Seat, with extensive Demefines and Plantations, of Mr. Cronen.

For an Account of Killarney, see P. 126.

N. B. The Killarney Road, turns to the Left, at the 27th Mile from Cork. The Right leads to Castle-Island and Tralee.

From Mallow to Mill-street.

Glannton, Cork

Newbridge

Mill-street

|    |    |               |
|----|----|---------------|
| —  | 4  | $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| 3  | 7  | $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| 10 | 17 | $\frac{3}{4}$ |

On the R. of Mallow, is the Seat of Mr. Cotter, pleasantly situated on the River Blackwater; and half a Mile from it is Quarter-Town, the Seat of Mr. Dillon.

Near two Miles from Mallow, on the R. is Woodfort, the Seat of Mr. Ousley; and half a Mile from it Millfort, that of Mr. Foote.

Within two Miles of Glannton, on the R. is Newberry, the fine Seat of Mr. Newman; and a Mile beyond Glannton, on the R. is Lombards, the Seat of the Revd. Mr. Lombard.

Near two Miles beyond Newbridge, on the R. is a fine Seat called Clonmeen; and a Mile further, Bantyre, that of Mr. Callaghan.

Two Miles beyond Bantry, is Nashville, the Seat of Mr. Nash; and a Mile further, Knockbrack, that of Mr. Gredy.

Within a Mile of Mill-street, on the R. near the Church, is Drylane, the fine Seat of James Wallace, Esq.

Road from Cork to Limerick.

Whitechurch, Cork,

Ballynamona

Mallow

|   |               |                  |
|---|---------------|------------------|
| — | 5             | $\frac{1}{4}$    |
| 7 | $\frac{1}{2}$ | 12 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| 2 | $\frac{1}{2}$ | 15 $\frac{1}{2}$ |

|                      |                 |                  |
|----------------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Two Pot House        | 3               | 18 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Buttevant            | 2 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 21               |
| Rathclare Inn        | 1               | 22               |
| Velvet's Town        | 1               | 23               |
| Charleville          | 5 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 28 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Kilmallock, Limerick | 4 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 33               |
| Bruff                | 4 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 37 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Six-Mile Bridge      | 3 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 41 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Ballyneety           | 3 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 44 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Borheen              | 2 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 47 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| LIMERICK             | 2               | 49 $\frac{1}{2}$ |

A Mile and a Half from Cork, on the L. is Fair-Hill, the Seat of Mr. Longfield; and near a Mile on the R. is Kilcoola, the Seat of Mr. Baker.

Three Miles from Cork, on the L. is Spring-Fort, the Seat of Mr. Miller; and on the R. are the Ruins of Rahanisky Castle.

Near three Miles beyond Whitechurch, on the L. is New-Grove, the fine Seat of Robert Gordon, Esq.

Near Ballynamona, on the R. are the Ruins of an Abbey; and on the L. is Dromore, the fine and elegant Seat of Lord Muskerry.

Within half a Mile from Mallow, on the R. is Summer-Hill, the Seat of Mr. Stowell; and nearly opposite to it, is Fort-Monfell, that of Mr. Montell.

A little beyond Mallow, on the L. is Annabella, the Seat of Mr. Hoare.

On the Left of the Two-Pot House Inn, is Baldidonnell, the Seat of Mr. Foote.

Within three Quarters of a Mile of Buttevant, on the L. are the Ruins of Ballybeg Castle; and on the R. is Springfield, the Seat of Mr. Norcott.

Near Velvet's Town, on the L. is Castle Cor, the fine Seat of Mr. Deane.

Within two Miles and a Half of Charleville, on the R. is Newtown, the Seat of Mr. Knight; and near it, is Castle Harrilon, that of Mr. Harrilon.

A Mile beyond Charleville, on the R. is Maiden-Hall, the Seat of Mr. Boucher; and a Mile further, on the L. is Mount-Elkeney, the Seat of Mr. Ekeney.

Within a Mile and a Half of Kilmallock, and half a Mile to the L. of the Road, is Ballymacana, the Seat of Mr. Hiffernan; and half a Mile from Kilmallock, on the L. is Ash Hill, that of Mr. Coote.

Three Miles beyond Kilmallock, on the L. is Ureagare, the Seat of General Gabbet; and on the R. are the Ruins of a Church.

Within a Mile of Bruff, on the R. are the Ruins of Ballygrenan Castle; and a Mile on the R. of Bruff, is Kilmallyowen, the Seat of Mr. Grady.

Within a Mile of Six-Mile Bridge, and a Mile on the R. is Rawlen's Town, the Seat of Mr. Croker.

A Mile beyond Six-Mile Bridge, on the L. are the Ruins of Scule Castle; and about a Mile further, situated on a Hill, are large Ruins of Rock's Town Castle.

A Mile beyond these Ruins, and near a Mile on the L. is Ballynagard, the Seat of Mr. Croker; and on the R. near Ballyneety, is Ballymacrile, that of Mr. Greene.

A Mile and a Quarter beyond Ballyneety, on the L. near the Church, is Cahinary, the Seat of Mr. Crips; and a Mile further, are the Ruins of a Church.

Within two Miles of Limerick, and about a Mile on the L. is Ballysheedy, the fine Seat of the Right Hon. John Fitzgibbon.

Road from Cork to Doneraile.

|                         |                 |                  |
|-------------------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Mallow, as in Page 228, | —               | 15 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Doneraile               | 5 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 21               |

At Doneraile, on the R. is the fine and beautiful Seat of Lord Doneraile.— See Pages 161 and 162.

From Doneraile to Buttevant.

|                |                 |                  |
|----------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Cahirmee, Cork | —               | 1 $\frac{3}{4}$  |
| Buttevant      | 1 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 13 $\frac{1}{2}$ |

Within half a Mile of Buttevant, on the R. is Springfield, the Seat of Mr. Norcott; and near it, on the

L. are the Ruins of Ballybeg Castle.

Road from Mallow to Newcastle.

|                                |                 |                  |
|--------------------------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Liscarrol, Cork         | 1—              | 8 $\frac{3}{4}$  |
| Drumcullachar, Limerick | 5 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 14 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Newcastle                      | 7 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 22 $\frac{1}{4}$ |

On the L. of Mallow, is Annabella, the Seat of Mr. Hoare.

Two Miles and a half from Mallow, on the R. is Baldonnel, the Seat of Mr. Foote; and on the L. about a Mile from the Road, is Mount North, the fine and magnificent Seat of Lord Lisle, with ample Demesnes.

Within four Miles of Liscarrol, on the R. are the Ruins of a Church.

Within three Miles of Liscarrol, on the R. is Temple-Mary, the fine Seat of Mr. Purcell; and on the L. close to the Road, are the large Ruins of Liffgriffin Castle.

Within a Mile and a Half of Liscarrol, on the R. is Egmont, a Seat of the Earl of Egmont.

At Liscarrol, on the R. are the Ruins of a Castle; and about half a Mile further, is Glenfield, the Seat of Mr. Wrixon.

Two Miles and a Half beyond Liscarrol, on the L. is Mount Wrixon, the Seat of Mr. Wrixon.

A Mile and a half beyond Drumcullachar, on the L. is Springfield, a very fine Seat, with extensive Demesnes, of Lord Muskerry; and two Miles further is Appletown, the Seat of Mr. Sheehy.

Within two Miles of Newcastle, on the R. are the magnificent Ruins of Castle-maghan, pleasantly situated in the Midst of a Grove of Trees, near the Banks of a River.

Road from Tralee to Killarney 14

From Tralee to Castlemain, } 6 $\frac{1}{4}$
the Mountain Road

By the Carriage Road 8

Half a Mile from Tralee, on the R. is Cloughers, the Seat of Mr. Yielding; on the L. is Ballymullin, that of Mr. Morres; and about half a Mile further, Ballyfeedy, the Seat of Mr. Blenchasset. From a Mount above this Gentleman's House is a fine Prospect of the adjacent Country, and several Gentlemen's Houses; and here are considerable Improvements and good Plantations; as also at Elm Grove, Part of this Gentleman's Estate, which is very well watered and wooded.

Within half a Mile of Castlemain, on the R. is Anna, the Seat of Mr. Godfrey; and on the L. near Kiltalla Church, is that of the Reverend Dr. Day.

Six Miles and a Half from Tralee, on the L. is Scartowen, the Seat of Mr. Mahony; and on the R. are the Ruins of Clounmelane Castle.

Near seven Miles from Tralee, on the L. are the Ruins of Molahiffe Castle; and near them is Rockborough, the Seat of Francis Chute, Esq.

Seven Miles and a Half from Tralee, on the L. are the Ruins of Firies Castle; and near them is Batterfield, the Seat of Mr. Mahony.

Within four Miles of Killarney, on the R. are the Ruins of Aglish Church; and about a Mile from them, is Ballyharr, the Seat of Mr. Eager.

Within a Mile and a Half of Killarney, on the R. are Aghadoe Ruins; and on the L. is Mount Meredith, the fine Seat of Mr. O'Donohue.

Road from Killarney to Dingle.

|                        |                  |                  |
|------------------------|------------------|------------------|
| Milltown, Kerry | —                | 8 $\frac{3}{4}$  |
| Castlemain             | 1 $\frac{1}{2}$  | 10 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Bracklounne Inn        | 12 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 22 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Dingle                 | 7 $\frac{1}{2}$  | 30               |

One Mile from Killarney, on the L. is Prospect, the Seat of Mr. Supple; and a Mile further, on the R. are Aghadoe Ruins.

Two Miles and a Half from Killarney, on the L. is Mceniffy, the Seat of Mr. Murphy; and a Mile and a Half further on the L. is Dunloe Castle, the Seat of Gustavus Crosbie, Esq. Near this is Beaufort, the Seat of the Honourable Dean Crosbie; a Mile to the R. of which is a fine and large Edifice called the Castle of Palace.

Five Miles from Killarney, on the R. is Fagha, the Seat of Mr. Falvey.

At Milltown, on the L. is Bushfield, the very fine Seat of Mr. Godfrey. It is situated in a pleasant, agreeable Country, and good Soil. The House is surrounded with Plantations of Fruit and Timber Trees. Mr. Godfrey's Estate extends along the Banks of the Rivers Mang and Lane for near six Miles. It was well planted on the Restoration by a considerable Number of English Families, who have continued to thrive and encrease ever since to such a Degree, that no Estate in the Country of the same Extent can excel it.

Three Miles beyond Castlemain on the L. is Keel, the fine Seat of Mr. Langford, near the Ruins of Castle Drum.

Three Miles beyond Bracklounne Inn, on the L. are the Ruins of Minard Castle; and Two Miles further, is Clouncura, the Seat of Mr. Hussey, situated at the Foot of a high Hill.

At Dingle, on the R. is the Seat of Fitzgerald, Knight of Kerry. — Dingle stands at the Bottom of a small but safe Harbour, at the Mouth of which large Vessels may ride secure. The Channel lies on the West Side, and Ships of an hundred Tons Burthen may come up to the Town. The Entrance of the Harbour was formerly defended by a small Fort or Block-House, which has been many Years demolished. Here is a Barrack for a Company of Foot. There was formerly an ancient Monastery in this Town, which was a Cell of the Abbey of Killagh, near Castlemain. See further Account, Page 111.

From Limerick to Clonmell.

|                                |                 |                  |
|--------------------------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Cahirconcliff, Limerick | —               | 6 $\frac{3}{4}$  |
| Pallis                         | 5 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 12 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Tipperary, Tipperary    | 9 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 21 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Cahier                         | 12              | 33 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Clonmell                       | 8 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 42               |

Two Miles from Limerick, on the R. are the Ruins of a Church; and two Miles further, on the L. are more Ruins of a Church.

At Cahirconcliff, on the R. is the Seat of Mr. Wilton; a Mile and a Half further, on the R. is Deerstown, the Seat of General Gabbet.

Three Miles beyond Cahirconcliff, on the R. is Cloverfield, the Seat of Mr. Lloyd.

Two Miles beyond Pallis, on the R. is Newtown, the Seat of Mr. Elvord; and near it, Prospect Hill, that of Mr. Bradshaw.

A Mile further on the L. is Castle Lloyd, the Seat of the Reverend Mr. Lloyd.

Within two Miles and a Half of Tipperary, on the R. is Pegborough, a Seat of the Earl of Derby; and about a Mile from it, Springfield, the Seat of Mr. English.

Four Miles beyond Tipperary, on the L. close to the Road, is Spring-House, the Seat of Mr. McCarthy. This Gentleman has, it is supposed, the most considerable Farm in the World.

Four Miles and a Half from Tipperary, on the R. is Bansha, the Seat of Mr. O'Brien; and a Mile from it, on the L. Lismacue, that of Mr. Baker.

Opposite Lismacue is Ashgrove, the Seat of Mr. Ash; and Ballydavid, that of Mr. Baker.

Within four Miles of Cahier, on the R. is Cappagh, the Seat of Mr. Massey; and on the L. is Ballymorres, the Seat of Mr. Magher.

At Cahier is the Seat of Lord Cahier; and two Miles beyond, on the L. is Loughcoghry, the Seat of Mr. Dougherty.

Three Miles from Cahier, on the L. is Clover-Hill, the Seat of Mr. Ryall; and a Mile further, on the R. are the Ruins of a Castle.

Within two Miles of Clonmell, on the L. is Barn, the Seat of Mr. Moore.

From Limerick to Cashell.

|                              |                  |                  |
|------------------------------|------------------|------------------|
| Pallis, Limerick      | —                | 12 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Thomastown, Tipperary | 13 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 26               |
| Cashell                      | 4 $\frac{3}{4}$  | 30 $\frac{1}{2}$ |

At Thomastown, on the R. is the elegant and noble Seat, with ample and beautiful Demaines, Parks and Plantation, of Lord Landaff.

A Mile and a Half from Thomastown is the Town of Goolden; on the R. of which is Saine Castle, a beautiful Seat of Lord Malley; and on the L. is Ballygriffin, that of Earl Clanwilliam.

Two Miles from Goolden, on the L. is Castle Lake, a fine Seat of Mr. Burke.

At Cashel is the famous Rock of Cashel, which has been so often the Subject of the Poet and Painter's Pencil. This Rock was originally a Dun or Castle of the ancient Chiefs of Eoganacht-Cashel, or Magh-Feimen, called from their Habitation on this isolated Rock, Ey Dun na moi, or Chief of the Hill of the Plain, by Corruption O'Donohue. In latter Ages they were distinguished by the Name of Carthigh, or Inhabitants of the Rock, whence descended the MacCarthies, hereditary Chiefs of this District. However, some years before the Establishment of Christianity in this Country, Cashel became the royal Seat of the Monarchs of Munster, in which State it appears to have continued until the Commencement of the tenth Century; when Cormac MacCulinan, being King of Cashel and Bishop of Emly, erected on the Site of the old Palace an elegant Chapel, and removed thither the Episcopal See from Emly, making it the metropolitan See of all Munster; which Chapel of Cormac was repaired, and a Synod held in it in 1134. But Donald O'Brien, in the Reign of Henry II. built a new Church from the Foundation, and converted Cormac's Chapel into a Chapter-House, and made considerable Grants of Land to the See; which his Son Donat augmented with other Benefactions; King John also adding something to the Revenue, confirmed the Donations of Donat in 1215. About the Year 1215, the Church built by Cormac and Donald O'Brien, and dedicated to St. Patrick, being through Age, in a ruinous State, was repaired by Richard O'Hedian, Archbishop of Cashel, who also built a Hall for the Vicar Choral, and endowed it with Lands. From this Time the Cathedral of Cashel was made Use of as the metropolitan Church of Munster, until about the Year 1750, when it was shamefully given up to Ruins; and in which State it now lies.

From Clonmell to Thurles.

|                        |     |     |
|------------------------|-----|-----|
| Cashel, Tipperary      | —   | 11½ |
| Thurles, by Holy Cross | 12½ | 22  |

Two Miles from Clonmell, on the L. is Chancellor's Town, the Seat of Mr. Moore.

Three Miles and a Half from Clonmell, on the L. is Darling-Hill, the Seat of Mr. Carleton; and about a Mile on the L. are the Ruins of a Castle.

Six Miles from Clonmell, on the L. is Ballattin, the Seat of Mr. Parsons; a Mile further, on the R. is Castle Blake, the fine Seat of Mr. Barret; and two Miles beyond that is Lowes Green, the beautiful Seat, with ample Demaines, of Butler Hamilton Lowe, Esq.

At Thurles, on the L. is the Seat of Mr. Matthew.

From Clonmell to Birr.

|                     |     |     |
|---------------------|-----|-----|
| Cashel, Tipperary   | —   | 11½ |
| Burrofsaleigh       | 14½ | 26  |
| Nenagh              | 10½ | 36½ |
| Birr, King's County | 16½ | 53½ |

Within two Miles and a Quarter of Burrofsaleigh, on the L. is Inch, the Seat of Mr. Ryan.

Within half a Mile of Burrofsaleigh, on the R. is Fishmoynae, the Seat of Mr. Carden.

Four Miles beyond Burrofsaleigh, on the R. are the Ruins of Latragh Castle; and two Miles and a Half further, is Grenan's-Town, the Seat of Mr. Dalton.

Two Miles beyond Nenagh, on the L. is Rapia, the Seat of Mr. Willington, situated on the Summit of a Hill; and a Mile and a Half further is Beech-Wood, the fine Seat of Daniel Toler, Esq; half a Mile from which, on the L. is Ballyrighy, that of Mr. Leger.

Seven Miles from Nenagh, on the R. is Moderenny, the Seat of Sir ——— Darter, Bart.

Two Miles beyond Moderenny, on the L. is Sopwell Hall, the Seat of Mr. Sadlier; and about Half a Mile further, Castle-Shepherd, that of Mr. Shepherd.

From Clonmell to Templemore.

|                           |                  |                  |
|---------------------------|------------------|------------------|
| Casbell, Tipperary | —                | 11 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Templemore                | 18 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 30               |

Within a Mile of Templemore, on the L. is Lloydborough, the Seat of Mr. Carden.

From Tourles to Nenagh.

|              |                  |                  |
|--------------|------------------|------------------|
| Burrosaleigh | —                | 8                |
| Nenagh       | 10 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 18 $\frac{3}{4}$ |

From Birr to Burrisakane.

|                               |   |    |
|-------------------------------|---|----|
| Ballingarry, Tipperary | — | 7  |
| Burrisakane                   | 4 | 11 |

Four Miles and a Quarter from Birr, on the R. are the Ruins of a Castle.

Half a Mile from Ballingarry, on the R. is Rahanane, the Seat of Mr. Abbot; near it is Lisbrien, the Seat of Mr. Faulkner; and about a Mile, on the L. is Castle Shepherd, that of Mr. Shepherd.

A Mile and a Half beyond Ballingarry, on the L. is Sopwell-Hall, the Seat of Mr. Sadlier; half a Mile further, are the Ruins of a Castle; and a Mile, on the R. is Is cane, the Seat of Mr. Carrol.

Within half a Mile of Burrisakane, on the L. is Grey-Fort, the Seat of Mr. Stoney.

From Casbell to Callen.

|                              |                  |                  |
|------------------------------|------------------|------------------|
| Killenaule, Tipperary | —                | 8 $\frac{1}{2}$  |
| Callen, Kilkenny      | 10 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 18 $\frac{3}{4}$ |

A Mile and a Half from Casbell, on the R. is Boskobell, the fine Seat of Mr. Ryves; and on the L. near the Ruins of a Castle, is Ballyshechan, that of Mr. Letham.

Two Miles and a Half from Casbell, on the R. is Meldrum, the Seat of Mr. Letham; and about a Mile, on the L. New-Park, that of Mr. Pennefather.

Four Miles and a Half from Casbell, on the L. is the Seat of Mr. Lane; and about half a Mile further, on the R. is Noan, the Seat of Godfrey Taylor, Esq; with fine Demelnes.

Within Two Miles of Killenaule, on the R. are the Ruins of Gray's Town Castle; and three quarters of a Mile further, are the Ruins of another Castle.

Two Miles beyond Killenaule, on the L. is Coolquill, the Seat of Mr. Gahan; and a Mile from it, Lismarock; that of Mr. Langley; opposite to which, near the Road, are the Ruins of two Castles.

Four Miles from Killenaule, on the L. is Willford, the Seat of Mr. Butler; and about half a Mile from it, on the R. are the Ruins of Lis-mullin Castle, near those of a Church.

Within four Miles of Callen, on the L. is Mohaber, the Seat of Mr. Scott; and near the Road, on the R. are the Ruins of a Church.

Within half a Mile from Callen, on the L. is West-Court, the Seat of Mr. Galway.

From Callen to Fethard.

|                              |                  |                  |
|------------------------------|------------------|------------------|
| Mullinhone, Tipperary | —                | 5 $\frac{1}{2}$  |
| Cloneen                      | 4                | 9 $\frac{1}{2}$  |
| Fethard                      | 32 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 12 $\frac{3}{4}$ |

Three Miles from Callen, on the R. is Mohaber, the Seat of Mr. Scott; and on the L. close to the Road, are the Ruins of a Church.

At Mullinhone, on the R. is Killaghy, the fine Seat of Green Despard, Esq.

A Mile beyond Cloneen, on the R. is Ballynard Castle, seated in the midst of a large and beautiful Plantation of Trees.

A Mile and a Half beyond Cloneen, on L. is Banicstown, the Seat of Mr. Clutterbuck; and a Mile further, on the R. is Brookhill, the Seat of Mr. Lowe; and on the L. that of Mr. Barton.

Within half a Mile of Fethard, on the R. are the Ruins of a Castle; and on the L. is Knockbrack, the Seat of Mr. Letham.

From Fethard to Cappell.

About a Mile from Fethard, on the L. is Barret's-Town, the Seat of Mr. Power; and on the R. Rockowe, that of Mr. Lowe; and Racool, that of Mr. Blake.

Near two Miles from Fethard, on the L. is Derrilusk, the Seat of Wray Talbot, Esq; and near it the Seat of Mr. Chelmer.

About three Miles from Fethard, on the R. is Mobarnan, the Seat of Mr. Jacob, near large Ruins of a Castle; and about a Mile, on the L. is Coolmoyne, the Seat of Mr. Taylor.

Within three Miles and a Half of Castle, on the L. are the Ruins of Kilmallock Castle.

From Charleville to Rathkeale.

Ballingarry, Limerick  $\left| \begin{array}{r} - \\ 4\frac{1}{2} \end{array} \right| \begin{array}{r} 10\frac{1}{2} \\ 15 \end{array}$
Rathkeale

Two Miles and a half from Charleville, on the L. are the Ruins of a Church; and a Mile and a half further, are Drew's-Court, and Drew's-Lodge, the Seats of Messrs. Drew.

Within four Miles of Ballingarry, on the L. is Castletown, the Seat of Mr. Conyers; and within two Miles of Ballingarry, on the L. is Ballyanlin, the Seat of Mr. Nash; and Ballynoe, that of Mr. Cox.

At Ballingarry, on the R. is the Seat of Mr. Odell; and half a Mile from it, is Fort William, the Seat of Mr. Odell.

A Mile and a half beyond Ballingarry, on the R. is Lismota, the fine Seat of Mr. Cornwall; and a Mile further Mount-Browne, that of Mr. Browne.

Within two Miles of Rathkeale, on the R. are the Ruins of a Castle.

On the L. of Rathkeale, is a fine Seat of Lord Viscount Southwell.

From Tipperary to Kilmallock.

Knocklong, Limerick  $\left| \begin{array}{r} - \\ 6\frac{1}{4} \end{array} \right| \begin{array}{r} 10\frac{1}{2} \\ 17 \end{array}$
Kilmallock

Two Miles from Tipperary, on the R. is Rock-Borough, the Seat of Mr. Sadler; and half a Mile further, is Damer's-Court, the magnificent and beautiful Seat of Lord Milton.

On the L. of Damer's-Court, near the Road, is Mount Brui, the pleasant Seat of Mr. Dogherty.

Four Miles and a half from Tipperary, on the R. is Moore's-Fort, the Seat of Mr. Moore; and about a Mile and a Half further, on the R. is the Seat of Mr. Wheeler; and on the L. Ballyvoir, that of Mr. Brasier; and Castletreca, that of Mr. Bennet.

Within a Mile of Knocklong, on the L. is Castle Jane, the fine Seat of Mr. Ryves; and about a Mile further to the L. Duntrileague, a Seat of Ld. Maffey.

Half a Mile beyond Knocklong, on the R. is Elton, the Seat of Mr. Grady.

Within two Miles and a Half of Kilmallock, on the L. are the Ruins of a Castle; and three Quarters of a Mile further, is Mount-Coote, the fine Seat of Mr. Coote.

From Nenagh to Portumna.

Burrifakane, Tipperary  $\left| \begin{array}{r} - \\ 10\frac{1}{4} \end{array} \right| \begin{array}{r} 8 \\ 18\frac{1}{4} \end{array}$
Portumna, Galway

A Mile from Nenagh, on the L. is Killoshalloo, the Seat of Richard Gaslon, Esq; and a Mile further, on the R. are the Ruins of a Castle.

Three Miles from Nenagh, on the L. are the Ruins of Nic-Castle; and four Miles from Nenagh, on the R. is Ballynighy, the Seat of Mr. Leeger.

Within two Miles of Burrifakane, on the L. is Ballinderry, the Seat of Mr. Saunders; and on the R. Lerryville, that of Mr. Greener.

Within a Mile of Burrifakane, on the R. is Mount-Faulkner, the Seat of Mr. Faulkner; and about half a Mile on the R. of Burrilakane, is Greyfort, the Seat of Mr. Stoney.

Within six Miles of Portumna, on the L. situated on the River Shannon, is Fir-Mount, the Seat of Mr. Firman.

Within a Mile and a Half of Portumna, on the L. is Belleisle, the the Seat of Mr. Yelverton; and about a Mile, on the R. Portland, that of Mr. Stoney.

At Portumna, is the Castle, a fine Edifice, the Seat of the Earl of Clanricarde.

From Birr to Loughrea.

|                         |                 |                  |
|-------------------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Portumna, Galway | —               | 11 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Tynagh                  | 6 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 18 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Loughrea                | 7 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 26               |

Three Miles from Birr, on the R. is Straduff, the Seat of Mr. Antifell; and about a Mile further, on the L. is Derrylaghan, that of Mr. Walth.

Five Miles from Birr, on the R. is Sherra, the Seat of Mr. Talbot; and three Miles further, on the L. Orange, that of Mr. Palmer.

On the L. of the Ferry at Portumna, is Belleisle, the pleasant Seat of Mr. Yelverton.

Four Miles beyond Portumna, and a Mile on the R. is Flower-Hill, a very elegant Seat of Lord Riverstown; and about a Mile and a Half further, is Nut-Grove, the Seat of Mr. Donnellan.

Within a Mile of Tynagh, and about three quarters of a Mile to the L. of the Road, are Palace-Castle Ruins, seated in the midst of a fine Grove of Trees; whose venerable Appearance infuses a religious Awe; awakens the Attention of Levity; and makes an Impression even on the Breast of Insensibility.

At Tynagh, on the L. is Spring-Garden, the Seat of Mr. Pearce; delightfully situated on a Hill.

About a Mile from Tynagh, on the L. is Castle Burke, the Seat of Richard Frederick Burke, Esq. The Castle, which is now in Ruins, was built by one of his Ancestors, Tibot Burke, Esq; Grandson to John Burke, of Ayle-Castle, in the County of Galway, Esq. The House is antient, but commodious and well situated.

Two Miles beyond Tynagh, on the L. is Stream's Town, beautifully situated on the side of a Hill, the Seat of Mr. Lambert; and nearly opposite are the Ruins of a Castle.

Within four Miles of Loughrea, near a Mile on the L. of the Road, are the Ruins of a Castle; and near them is Daly's Town, the Seat of Mr. Daly.

Within three Miles of Loughrea, on the R. is Ballydugan, the Seat of Mr. Burke; and within half a Mile of Loughrea, on the L. is Mount Pleasant, the Seat of Mr. Daly; and on the R. that of Mr. Perffe.

From Philipstown to Naas, by Kildare, and through the Curragh.

By Kildare.

|                                 |                 |                  |
|---------------------------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Edenderry, King's-County | —               | 9 $\frac{1}{2}$  |
| Clonbullock                     | 1 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 10 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Rathangan, Kildare       | 3 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 14 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Kildare                  | 5               | 19 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| New Bridge Inn                  | 3               | 22 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Naas                     | 5               | 27 $\frac{1}{2}$ |

Through the Curragh.

|             |    |                  |
|-------------|----|------------------|
| Rathangan   | —  | 14 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Naas | 13 | 27 $\frac{1}{2}$ |

Two Miles and a Half from Philipstown, on the R. is Mount Lucas, the Seat Mr. Lucas; and a Mile further, on the L. is Spring-field, the Seat of Mr. Lucas.

Seven Miles from Philipstown, on the L. is Lumville, the Seat of Mr. Cane; and nearly opposite to it, situated on a Hill, is Ballylaken, that of Mr. Payne.

At Rathangan, on the L. are Flour-Mills belonging to Mr. Spencer; and on the R. is the Seat of Mr. Tyrrel.

Three Miles beyond Rathangan, on the L. is Donmurry, the Seat of Mr. Medlicot.

Within two Miles of Kildare, on the L.

is Rathbride, the fine Seat of Mr. Steele.

Kildare is governed by a Sovereign, Recorder, and two Portreeves, and gave the Title of Earl to the noble Family of Fitzgerald, till 1766, when the then Earl was created Duke of Leinster.—Kildare, or Chille-dair, signifies the Wood of Oaks, and was a large ancient Forest, comprehending the middle Part of the present County of Kildare.—In the Centre of this Wood was a large Plain, sacred to heathen Superstition, and now called the Currágh of Kildare. At the Extremity of this Plain, about the commencement of the sixth Century, St. Brigid, one of the heathen Vestals, on her Conversion to the Christian Faith, founded, with the Assistance of St. Conlath, a Church and Monastery; near which, after the Manner of the Pagans, St. Brigid kept the sacred Fire in a Cell, the Ruins of which are still visible. The Church of Kildare was in a short Time erected into a Cathedral with episcopal Jurisdiction, which Dignity it retains to this Day: The Cathedral, however, has been for several Years neglected, and at present lies in Ruins, little remaining besides the Walls and a round Tower.

Within two Miles of Newbridge Inn, on the R. is Moor-Field, the Seat of the Hon. Ponsonby Moore.

On the R. of Newbridge Inn, beautifully situated on the Liffey, are the Ruins of Great Connel Abbey; and near them is the magnificent Seat of Mrs. Poole Eyre; also Rosetown, the Seat of the Right Honourable Theophilus Jones.

Within three Miles of Naas, on the L. are the Seats of Mrs. Kennedy, and Mrs. Lawton; and near a Mile distant, on the R. is Lady-Town, the Seat of Lord Allen; nearly opposite to which, at about a Mile's Distance, is Gammon's-Town, the Seat of Mr. Fitzgerald.

Within half a Mile of Naas, on the R. are the Ruins of Jigginstown Castle.

From Naas to Maynooth.

Clain, Kildare

| — | 4 $\frac{1}{4}$

Barberstown

3 $\frac{1}{2}$  | 7 $\frac{1}{2}$

Maynooth

3 $\frac{1}{2}$  | 11

Three Quarters of a Mile from Naas, on the L. is Old-Town, the Seat of Thomas Burgh, Esq.; and about a Mile from it, Osbor's-Town, that of Mr. Carrol.

Three Miles from Naas, on the L. is Millicent, the Seat of Mr. Keating; and a Mile on the R. Sherlock's-Town, that of Mr. Sherlock.

Within a Mile of Clain, on the R. is Blake-Hall, the Seat of Mr. Wolfe; and on the L. Strawberry Lodge, that of Mr. Eustace.

On the R. of Clain, near the Church, is Vicar Hall, the Seat of the Revd. Mr. Diney.

A Mile and a Half beyond Clain, on the L. is Castle-Browne, the Seat of Mr. Browne; and half a Mile from it are the Ruins of a Castle.

Two Miles from Clain, on the R. is Irishtown, the Seat of Mr. Sherlock; and near it Straffan, that of Joseph Henry, Esq.

At Barberstown, is the Seat of Mr. Cairncross; and near two Miles further, on the R. is Corbally, that of Mr. Kathrens; from which is distant about a Mile, on the R. Castle-Town, the magnificent Seat of the Right Hon. Thomas Conolly.—See P. 62.

Within a Mile and a Quarter of Maynooth, on the L. is Dowd's-Town, the Seat of Colonel Cane.

A Mile from Maynooth, on the R. is Carton, the superb Seat, with ample and beautiful Domains, of the Duke of Leinster. The Park ranks among the finest in the Kingdom. It is a vast Lawn, which waves over gentle Hills, surrounded by Plantations of great Extent, and which break and divide in Places, so as to give much Variety. A large but gentle Vale, winds through the whole; in the Bottom of which, a small Stream has been enlarged into a fine River, which throws a Cheerfulness through most of the Scene. Over it is a handsome Stone Bridge.—There is a great Variety on the Banks of this Vale. Part of it consists of mild and gentle Slopes, Part steep Banks of thick Wood: In another Place they are formed into a large Shrubbery, very elegantly laid out, and dressed in the highest Order, with a Cottage, the Scenery about which is uncommonly pleasing. Farther on, this Vale takes a stronger Character, having a rocky Bank on one Side, and steep Slopes scattered irregularly, with Wood on the other. On one of the most rising Grounds in the Park is a Tower, from the Top of which the whole Scenery is beheld. The Park spreads on every Side in fine Sheets of Lawn, kept in the highest Order, by eleven hundred Sheep, scattered over with rich Plantations, and bounded by a large Margin of Wood, through which is a Riding.—From this Building his Grace has another Sort of View. He looks over great Part of sixty thousand Acres, which lie around him.—At a small Distance from the Park is Maynooth, which the Duke has built. It is regularly laid out, and consists of good Houses.

From Limerick to Galway.

|                                    |                 |                  |
|------------------------------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Six Mile Bridge, }Clare | —               | 8 $\frac{1}{4}$  |
| Spancell-Hill                      | 9 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 18 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Crusheen                           | 4 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 23               |
| Tubberdony, Galway          | 3 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 26 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Gort                               | 4 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 31               |
| Oranmore                           | 13              | 44               |
| Galway                      | 4 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 48 $\frac{3}{4}$ |

A Mile and a Half from Limerick, on the R. are the Seats of Mr. Mahon, and Mr. Waller; and half a Mile further, on the R. is the Seat of Mr. Smyth; and on the L. Pass, that of Mr. Peacock.

Three Miles and a half from Limerick, on the L. is Meelick, the Seat of the Revd. Dr. Shearer; and a Mile further are the Ruins of a Church.

Within four Miles of Six-Mile Bridge, on the L. is Cratlaph Hall, the Seat of Mr. O'Brien.

Half a Mile on the R. of Six-Mile Bridge, is Mount Jevers, the Seat of Mr. Jevers; and about a Mile and a Half from it, on the L. is Fenagh, the Seat of Mr. Wilton.

Two Miles and a Half from Six-Mile Bridge, on the L. close to the Road, is Rahelene, the Seat of Crolton Vandeleur, Esq; and a Mile and a Half further, is Ballycar, that of George Colpoys, Esq; and on the R. Fenloe, that of Mr. Hickman.

A Mile and a Half to the L. of Ballycar, is Dromoland, the fine Seat of Sir Lucius O'Brien, Bart.—For an Account of this Seat see the next Page.

Within four Miles and a Half of Spancell Hill, on the R. is Snugborough, the Seat of Mr. Hewitt, near the Ruins of a Castle, and a Church on either Side, and those of an Abbey, and a Church at a Mile's Distance on the R. near the Road.

Within two Miles of Spancell Hill, on the R. is Mooreask, the fine Seat of Mr. Mc. Namara; and on the L. within half a Mile of Spancell Hill, is Castletown, the Seat of Mr. Mc. Namara.

A Mile and a Half beyond Spancell Hill, on the R. is Durrugh, the Seat of Mr. O'Brien; and half a Mile further, are the Ruins of a Castle.

A Mile and a Half beyond Tubberdony, on the R. is Ashfield, the Seat of Mr. Foster; and on the L. Ratorp, that of Mr. Foster.

Two Miles beyond Gort, and about half a Mile to the L. of the Road, is Cool Lodge, the Seat of Mr. Gregory; and a Mile further, on the R. is Rahleen, that of Mr. Kilkelly.—Opposite about half a Mile, are the Seats of Messrs. Taylor.

Within three Miles of Oranmore, on the R. is Kilcornan, the Seat of Mr. Redington; and a Mile and a Half further, on the L. are the Ruins of a Church and a Castle.

At Oranmore, on the L. is the Seat of Xaverius Blake, Esq.

Within two Miles of Galway, on the R. are the Ruins of a Castle.

Near Galway, on the R. is the Seat of Dr. Joice; and Lynche's Folly, that of Mr. D'Arcy.

From Six-Mile Bridge to Ennis.
Ardfallas, Clare | — | 52 $\frac{1}{2}$

Clare

Ennis

$$\begin{array}{r|l} 4\frac{1}{4} & 9\frac{3}{4} \\ 2 & 11\frac{3}{4} \end{array}$$

Half a Mile to the R. of Six-Mile Bridge is Mount Jevers, the fine Seat of Mr. Jevers.

Near a Mile from Six-Mile Bridge, on the R. are the Ruins of a Church.

A Mile and a Half from Six-Mile Bridge on the L. is Fenagh, the Seat of Mr. Willon; and two Miles and a half further is Ballycar, the Seat of Mr. Colpoys, situated near a small Lake.

A Mile to the L. of Ardsallas, is Dromoland, the fine Seat of Sir Lucius O'Brien, Bart. It stands on a Hill gently rising from a Lake of twenty-four Acres, in the Middle of a noble Wood of Oak, Ash, Poplar, &c.—Three beautiful Hills rise above it, over which the Plantations spread in a varied manner; and these Hills command very fine Views of the great Rivers Fergus and Shannon at their Junction, being each of them a League wide.

About a Mile to the R. of Ardsallas, is Ballykelly, the Seat of Mr. Mc. Mahon; and half a Mile beyond Ardsallas, on the L. is Ballyhenan, that of Mr. Hart.

Within two Miles of Clare, on the L. situated on a Hill, is Carnelly, the Seat of Mr. Stamer.

Half Way from Clare to Ennis, on the R. are the Ruins of an Abbey.

From Ennis to Innistymond  $12\frac{3}{4}$

One Mile from Ennis, on the L. is Liford, the Seat of Mr. England.

Two Miles from Ennis, on the L. is Craiglish, the Seat of Mr. Mahon; and near it Bushy-Park, that of Mr. Mc. Namara.

Half a Mile further, both on the R. and L. are the Ruins of Castles.

Within half a Mile of Innistymond, on the L. and on the opposite side of the River Oyna, is Wood-Mount, the Seat of Mr. Lysaght.

From Corrofin to Innistymond  $8\frac{3}{4}$

Near two Miles from Corrofin, on the R. is Clifton, the Seat of the Revd.

Doctor Columbine; and on the L. Rock's-Town, the fine Seat of Wm. Blood, Esq.

Five Miles and a Half from Corrofin, on the R. close to the Road, are the Ruins of a Church.

From Ennis to Kilfenora.

Corrofin, Clare

Kilfenora

$$\begin{array}{r|l} - & 7\frac{1}{2} \\ 6\frac{1}{2} & 14 \end{array}$$

Two Miles and a half from Ennis, on the R. is Fountain, the Seat of Mr. Dax-on; and a Mile further on a Hill, are the Ruins of a Castle.

Within two Miles of Corrofin, on the R. are the Ruins of Dysart Castle; and half a Mile further, on the R. are those of a Castle; and on the L. those of a Church.

A Mile beyond Corrofin, on the L. is Inchiquin Castle, a very noble and beautiful Seat of the Earl of Inchiquin, situated on the side of a very pleasant Lake.

Half a Mile beyond Inchiquin Castle, on the R. is a Church; on the L. are Ruins of a Castle; and Half a Mile further is Cross, the Seat of Mr. Lysaght.

Four Miles from Corrofin, on the R. is Lemenagh-Castle, a very fine Seat of Sir Lucius O'Brien, Bart. situated near the Foot of a high Hill.

For the Road from Clare to Kilrush, See Page 117.

From Kilfenora to Kilrush.

Innistymond, Clare

Caghryariff

Kilmurrybrickan

Coulyclare

Kilrush

$$\begin{array}{r|l} - & 6 \\ 6\frac{3}{4} & 12\frac{3}{4} \\ 3\frac{3}{4} & 16\frac{1}{2} \\ 8 & 24\frac{1}{2} \\ 5\frac{1}{4} & 29\frac{3}{4} \end{array}$$

Two Miles from Kilfenora, on the L. is Smith's-Town, a Seat of Lord Viscount Powerscourt; and near a Mile further, on the L. are the Ruins of a Church.

At Innistymond, on the R. is the Castle, the Seat of Mr. O'Brien; and on the L. Wood-Mount, that of Mr. Lysaght.

Three Miles beyond Innistymond, on the L. are Moy Castle Ruins, most delightfully situated in the midst of a Grove of Trees, on the Estate of Mr. Fitzgerald.

Within two Miles of Caghryariff, on the L. close to the Road, are the Ruins of a Church; and near a Mile further, is the Seat of Mr. Comyn.

A Mile and a Half beyond Caghryariff, on the R. is Anagh, the fine Seat of Mr. Stackpole.

Within two Miles of Coulyclare, on the R. are the Ruins of a Church; and a Mile beyond Coulyclare, on the R. is Gower, the Seat of Mr. Ames.

Within a Mile and a Half of Kilrush, on the R. is Elm-Green, the fine Seat of Mr. Hickman, pleasantly situated at the Foot of a lofty Hill; and near it is Ballyket, the Seat of Mr. Monfell.

From Portumna to Gort.

|                   |                 |                  |
|-------------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Balinagar, Galway | —               | 7 $\frac{1}{2}$  |
| Derrybryan        | 5 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 13 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Gort              | 8 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 22               |

Three Miles and a Half from Portumna, on the R. is Cullen, the Seat of Mr. Kelly; and a Mile and a Half further is Reaghan, that of Mr. Burke.

Within a Mile and a Half of Balinagar, on the R. are the Ruins of an antient Abbey.

Within a Mile of Balinagar, on the R. is Lisdurra, the Seat of Mr. Aylward; and on the L. is Mr. Aylward's Seat.

Within two Miles of Gort, on the R. is Annagh, the Seat of Mr. Burke; and on the L. close to the Road, are the Ruins of a Castle.

Within a Mile of Gort, on the L. is Ryndyfen, the magnificent and delightful Seat of Mr. Prendergast.

From Birr to Killenaule.

|                    |                  |                  |
|--------------------|------------------|------------------|
| Roscrea, Tipperary | —                | 9 $\frac{1}{4}$  |
| Clonakinny         | 5                | 14 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Templemore         | 5                | 19 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Thurles            | 8                | 27 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Killenaule         | 19 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 36 $\frac{3}{4}$ |

A Mile and a Half from Birr, on the R. is Loretto, the Seat of Sir William Parsons, Bart.

Five Miles and a Half from Birr, on the L. is Gloucester, the Seat of John Lloyd, Esq; two Miles beyond which is Golden Grove, that of Mr. Vaughan.

Roscrea is a very antient Town, and in the Year 620 was erected into a Bishopric by St. Cronen; but in the twelfth Century was united to Killaloe. Some Remains of the Cathedral may still be seen in the present Parish Church, particularly in the Western Door, executed in the beautiful antique Style of the ninth Century; also a round Tower of nearly the same date.

Three Miles and a Half beyond Roscrea, on the R. are the Ruins of a Church.

At Clonakinny, on the L. are the Ruins of a Castle.

Within two Miles of Templemore, on the R. is Ash-Park, the Seat of Mr. Butler; and just before you enter Templemore, on the R. is the fine Seat of Mr. Carden.

A Mile and a Half beyond Templemore, on the L. are the Ruins of a Castle; and about a Mile farther to the L. is Castle Oyne, a fine Seat of the Earl of Shelburne.

Three Miles beyond Templemore, on either Side, are the Ruins of two Castles; a Mile and a Half further, on the R. are the Ruins of a Castle; and a Mile further, the Ruins of a Church.

At Thurles, on the R. is the fine Seat of Mr. Matthew; and a Mile and a Half beyond, on the L. is Turklow, the Seat of Mr. Blunden.

Near three Miles beyond Thurles, on the R. is Shanbally, the Seat of Mr. Sloper; and half a Mile further are the Ruins of a Castle.

Four Miles and a Half beyond Thurles, on the L. is Ballymoreen, the Seat of Mr. Baker; and Half a Mile further, are the Ruins of a Castle.

Within two Miles and a Half of Killenaule, on the L. is Lane-Park, the fine Seat of Mr. Lane.

From Birr to Roscrea, by Leap,
&c.

|                            |                 |                  |
|----------------------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Leap, King's County | —               | 5 $\frac{1}{2}$  |
| Roscrea, Tipperary  | 4 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 10 $\frac{1}{4}$ |

Two Miles from Birr, on the R. is Cree, the Seat of Mr. Talbot; and two Miles further, on the L. is Drum-mile, that of Mr. Vaughan.

Five Miles and a Half from Birr is Leap, a most beautiful Seat, with noble and extensive Demefnes, Plantations and Walks, belonging to Mr. Derby.

Within two Miles of Roscrea, on the L. is Fancraic, the fine Seat of Mr. Vaughan.

From Loughrea to Bruff, by Newport.

|                           |                  |                  |
|---------------------------|------------------|------------------|
| Woodford, Galway   | —                | 10 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Mount-Shannon,     | 8 $\frac{1}{4}$  | 19               |
| Killaloe, Clare    | 11 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 30 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Newport, Tipperary | 7 $\frac{1}{2}$  | 38               |
| Bruff, Limerick    | 16 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 54 $\frac{3}{4}$ |

On the L. of Loughrea, are the Seats of Mr. Daly, and Mr. Perffe.

Three Miles from Loughrea, on the R. are the Ruins of a Castle; and a Mile further is Daly's-Town, the Seat of Mr. Daly.

Seven Miles from Loughrea, on the L. is Castle Burke, the Seat of Richard Frederick Burke, Esq; and near it is Reaghan, the Seat of Mr. Burke, near the Ruins of an Abbey; and a Mile further is Abbey-Ville, the Seat of Mr. Burke; and near it Balinagar, that of Mr. Aylward.

At Woodford, on the L. is the Seat of Mr. Crofdale.

Five Miles beyond Woodford, on the L. is Tentrim, the Seat of Mr. Burke; and a Mile and a Half further is Mee-lick, the Seat of Mr. Burke.

Five Miles beyond Mount Shannon, on the R. is Drughborough, the Seat of Mr. Drues; and on the L. Rahines, that of Mr. Brady.

Within a Mile of Killaloe, on the R. is Ballyvalla, the Seat of Mr. Carr; and near a Mile beyond Killaloe is Clarie- ford, the Seat of the Bishop of Killaloe.

Three Miles beyond Killaloe, on the R. is Bird-Hill, the Seat of Mr. Goung; and two Miles further, Killeen, that of Mr. Philips.

Within a Mile of Newport, on the R. is Barna, the Seat of Mr. Lee; and near it, on the L. are the Ruins of a Castle.

At Newport, on the R. is the Seat of the late Sir ——— Waller, Bart.

Half a Mile beyond Newport, on the R. is Bloomfield Lodge, the Seat of Mr. Bloomfield; and near it are the Seats of Mr. Ryan, Mr. Philips, Mr. Anderson, and Mr. Evans.

Three Miles beyond Newport, on the L. is Capercullen, the Seat of Mr. Grady; and near it is Wilton-Hall, the Seat of Mr. Percivall.

Five Miles beyond Newport, on the R. is Abington, the Seat of Sir Nicholas Lawless, Bart. and a Mile further, on the L. are the Ruins of a Church.

Within four Miles of Bruff, on the R. is Carrickorny, the Seat of Mr. White; Rawlen's Town, that of Mr. Croker; and Loughgur, that of Mr. Baylee.

Within a Mile and a Half of Bruff, and near a Mile on the L. is Kilballyowen, the Seat of Mr. Grady.

From Galway to Tuam and Dunmore.

|                     |                  |                 |
|---------------------|------------------|-----------------|
| Tuam, Galway | —                | 16              |
| Dunmore      | 17 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 2 $\frac{1}{4}$ |

Two Miles from Galway, on the L. about a Quarter of a Mile from the Road, are the Ruins of a Castle; and within the Distance of a Mile and a Half further, are the Ruins of four more Castles,—two on either Side of the Road.

Five Miles from Galway, on the L. is Summerville, the Seat of Mr. Blake, near the Ruins of an Abbey, that are on the L. Side of the Bridge.

Eight miles from Galway, on the R. is Knockdo, the Seat of Mr. Kirwan, near the Ruins of a Castle; and a Mile and a quarter from Knockdo, pleasantly situated on the Banks of a River, that is there very broad, is Corbally, the Seat of Mr. Darcy.

A Mile and a Half beyond Tuam, on the R. is Birmingham, a Seat of the Earl of Louth; and two Miles and a Half further, on the L. is Joice-Grove, the Seat of Mr. Joyce.

Within a Mile and a quarter of Dunmore, on the R. is Carrowparden, the Seat of Mr. Higgins; and near it Kefontryly, that of Mr. Henry.

At Dunmore, on the R. is a very pleasant Seat of the Earl of Rois.

From Tuam to Sligo.

|                          |                  |                  |
|--------------------------|------------------|------------------|
| Clare, Mayo              | —                | 13 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Ballaghy, Mayo and Sligo | 16 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 30 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Tobercorry, Sligo        | 5 $\frac{3}{4}$  | 36               |
| Balcarrá                 | 7 $\frac{3}{4}$  | 43 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Sligo                    | 8 $\frac{1}{2}$  | 52 $\frac{1}{4}$ |

A Mile and a quarter from Tuam, on the R. is Ballygaddy, the Seat of Mr. Kirwan, and near it Friendly Quarters, that of Mr. Kirwan.

Two Miles from Tuam, on the L. close to the Road, are the Ruins of a Church; and two Miles further, on R. is Castle-Grove, the Seat of Mr. Blake, near the Ruins of a Castle.

A Mile beyond Castle-Grove, on the L. is Newborough, the Seat of Mr. Lynch; and two Miles and a Half further, and near a Mile on the L. is Culleen, the Seat of Mr. Blake.

Within four Miles and a Half of Clare, on the R. is Cranna, the Seat of Mr. Boyne; and two Miles from Cranna, is Castle Mc.Garret, the Seat of Mr. Brown.

Within a Mile of Clare, on the L. is Brook-Hill, the Seat of Mr. Kirwan.

Near a Mile beyond Clare, on the L. is Claremont, the Seat of Mr. Browne; and a Mile further, on the R. are the Ruins of an Abbey.

Four Miles from Clare, on the L. are the Ruins of a Castle; and a Mile further, on the R. are those of a Church.

At Ballaghy, on the R. are the Ruins of a Castle; and two Miles and a Half beyond, on the L. is Banada, the Seat of Mr. Jones; and on the R. are the Ruins of a Castle, near Mr. Jones's Seat.

Within a Mile of Tobercorry, on the L. are the Ruins of a Church, and a Castle.

Near three Miles beyond Tobercorry, on the L. is Stream's-Town, the Seat of Mr. Irvine. Opposite to it on the R. is Achonry Church; and about a Mile further, at the Foot of a Hill, on the L. are the Ruins of an Abbey.

Two Miles beyond these Ruins, on the R. is Temple-House, the Seat of Mr. Percival.

About a Mile beyond Balcarrá, on the L. seated on the Summit of a Hill, are the Ruins of a Castle; and half a Mile further, is Nymphfield, the pleasant Seat of Mr. O'Hara.

Within three Miles and a Half of Sligo, on the L. are the Ruins of an Abbey; and a Mile and a Half further, is Clover-Hill, the Seat of Mr. Chalmers.

Within a Mile of Sligo, on the L. is the Seat of Mr. Debootes; and a Mile further to the L. is Cuming House, the magnificent and beautiful Seat of Mr. Ormsby.

From Westport to Ballinrobe.

|               |   |                  |
|---------------|---|------------------|
| Partree, Mayo | — | 10 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Ballinrobe    | 5 | 15 $\frac{1}{2}$ |

Two Miles and a Half from Westport, on the R. is Mount Browne, the fine Seat of Mr. Browne.

Within a Mile and a Half of Partree, on the R. are the Ruins of a Castle.

At Partree, on the L. is Port Royal, the Seat of Mr. Gildea; and near it are the Ruins of a Church.

Two Miles beyond Partree, on the L. near Lough Carra, is Cloonlagheen, the Seat of Mr. Lynch; and a Mile further, on the R. are the Ruins of a Castle, on the Side of Lough Mask.

Within a Mile of Ballinrobe, on the R. is Creagh, the Seat of Mr. Cuffe; and at Ballinrobe, on the L. are the Ruins of a Castle, and an Abbey.

From Headfort to Tuam. 10

A Mile from Headfort, on the L. is Lodge, the fine Seat of Mr. Shaw.

Five Miles and a half from Headfort, on the L. is Castle-Hacket, the Seat of Mr. Kirwan; and on the R. are the Ruins of a Castle.

From Castlebar to Galway, by Shrule.

|                            |                 |                 |
|----------------------------|-----------------|-----------------|
| Partree, Mayo       | —               | 9               |
| Ballinrobe                 | 5               | 14              |
| Kilmain                    | 4               | 18              |
| Shrule                     | $3\frac{3}{4}$  | $21\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Cahirmorres, Galway | $6\frac{1}{4}$  | 28              |
| Galway              | $10\frac{3}{4}$ | $38\frac{3}{4}$ |

On the L. of Castlebar, is a fine Seat of Lord Lucan; and three Miles from it on the L. is Kilboyne, that of Mr. Chalmers; and near a Mile further, Kinturk, that of Mr. Burke.

Within two Miles of Partree, and near a Mile on the L. are the Ruins of Castle Burke.

Two Miles beyond Partree, on the L. is Cloonlagheen, the Seat of Mr. Lynch; and within a Mile of Ballinrobe, is Creagh, that of Mr. Cuffe.

Two Miles and a Quarter beyond Ballinrobe, on the R. are the Ruins of a Church; and a Mile further, on the L. is Ellis-Town, the Seat of Mr. Browne.

Near Kilmain, on the L. are the Ruins of a Church; and half a Mile beyond it, on the R. are the Ruins of a Castle.

A Mile and a Half beyond Kilmain, on the L. is Turin, the pleasant Seat of Mr. Kirwan.

Within a Mile and a Half of Shrule, on the R. are the Ruins of an Abbey; and about half a Mile, on the R. those of a Castle; both situated at the Side of a Lake.

On either Side of Shrule are more Ruins of Castles; and on the L. is the Seat of Mr. Blake.

A Mile and a Half beyond Shrule, on the R. near the Road, are Abbey-Town Ruins.

A Mile and a Half beyond Cahirmorres, on the R. is Carindulla, the fine Seat of Sir Henry Lynch Blosse, Bart.

Three Miles beyond Cahirmorres, on the R. is Cregg, the Seat of Mr. Kirwan; and a Mile further, Watterdale, that of Mr. Stanton.

Within three Miles and a Half of Galway, on either Side the Road, are the Ruins of five Castles; and within a Mile and a Half of Galway, on the L. is Ballyboghnan, the Seat of Dr. Joice.

* For an Account of Galway, see P. 78.

From Castlebar to Galway, by Headfort.

|                         |                 |                 |
|-------------------------|-----------------|-----------------|
| Ballinrobe, Mayo | —               | 14              |
| Headfort, Galway | 11              | 25              |
| Cahirmorres             | 4               | 29              |
| Galway           | $10\frac{3}{4}$ | $39\frac{3}{4}$ |

Two Miles from Ballinrobe, on the R. are the Ruins of a Castle; and further a Mile, on the L. is the Neale, the most superb and delightful Seat of Sir John Browne, Bart.

Four Miles from Ballinrobe, on the L. is Gerrachloon, the fine Seat of Mr. Blake; and a Mile and three Quarters further is Houndiwood, the Seat of John Darcy, Esq.

[There is such a prodigious Number of ruined Castles, Abbeys and Churches hereabouts, that the Description of them would be tiresome to the Reader, and to the Remarker.—Nothing strikes a deeper Conviction to the human Heart, of the Weakness of all sublunary Things, than these silent, but speaking Monitors, that while they humble Pride, and mortify Vanity, remind with the most energetic Eloquence, the passing Traveller of the Depredations of Time, that will moulder Edifices strong as Egyptian Pyramids, and level them with that Dust himself is composed of, and to which he is daily and hourly hastening.]

—These are indeed awful but salutary Counsellors, that faithfully plead to us, and advise us to employ well our fleeting Moments; for—PEREUNT ET IMPUTANTUR; they fly away, and we are accountable for them.]

About half a Mile from Headfort, on the L. is Lodge, the beautiful Seat of Mr. Shaw.

*** For Remarks on the Road from Cahirmorres, which is four Miles distant from Headfort, see the preceding Page.

From Castlebar to Killala, and
Castle Lachen.

|               |                 |                  |
|---------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Killala, Mayo | —               | 24               |
| Castle Lachen | 5 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 29 $\frac{1}{4}$ |

Eleven Miles and a Half from Castlebar, on the R. is Castle-Hill; the Seat of Mr. Mc. Cormick; and a Mile and a Half further, is Prospect, the Seat of Mr. Jackson.

A Mile and a Quarter beyond Prospect, on the R. is Mullinmore, the Seat of Mr. Cormick, situated on the Side of Lough Conn; and three Quarters of a Mile from it, similarly situated, is Gortnar-Abbey, the Seat of Mr. Ormsby; opposite to which, on the L. of the Road, are the Ruins of a Castle, near a Church.

Sixteen Miles from Castlebar, on the L. is Newtown Gore, the Seat of Mr. Gore; and three Miles and a Quarter further, on the L. close to the Road, is Rappa, the Seat of Mr. Knox.

Two Miles beyond Rappa, on the R. is Ballibrany, the Seat of Mr. Fallon; and about three Quarters of a Mile from it, Farragh, the Seat of Mr. Palmer.

At Killala, on the R. is a Seat of the Bishop of Killala.

A Mile and a Half beyond Killala, on the L. is Castle Rea, the fine Seat of Mr. Knox; and half a Mile from it is Palmer's Town, that of Mr. Palmer.—On the R. are the Ruins of an Abbey.

Three Miles from Killala, on the R. is Summer-hill, the Seat of Mr. Palmer; and about a Mile, on the L. are the Ruins of a Castle.

Four Miles and a Half from Killala, on the L. is Carrowmore, the Seat of Mr. Palmer.

At Castle Lachen, on the R. is the fine Seat of Sir — Palmer, Bart. and on the L. the Glebe House of the Revd. Mr. Little.

From Ballinrobe to Sligo, by Ball.

|                 |                  |                  |
|-----------------|------------------|------------------|
| Ball, Mayo      | —                | 12               |
| Swineford       | 11 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 23 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Ballaghy, Sligo | 5 $\frac{1}{2}$  | 28 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Tobercorry      | 5 $\frac{3}{4}$  | 34 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Sligo           | 16 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 51               |

Two Miles and a Half from Ballinrobe, on the R. close to the Road, are the Ruins of a Castle; and a Mile further to the L. are more Ruins, and Cornfield, the Seat of Mr. Rutledge.

Six Miles and a Half from Ballinrobe, on the L. near the Road, is Newbrook, the Seat of Mr. Bingham; and three Miles further, on the R. are the Ruins of a Castle.

Within a Mile of Ball, on the L. three Quarters of a Mile from the Road, is Browne Hall, the Seat of Mr. Browne. At Ball is the Seat of Sir H. L. Bloffe, Bart.

Near four Miles beyond Ball, on the R. is Ballinamore, the Seat of Mr. Ormsby.

Near a Mile further, on the L. is Oxford, that of Mr. Joice; and near half a Mile further, are the Ruins of a Church. There are the Ruins of another Church two Miles further, situated on the Banks of a River, on the L. of the Road.

Near Swineford, on the R. is New Park, the fine Seat of Mr. Brabazon.

Half a Mile beyond Swineford, on the L. are the Ruins of a Church; and within a Mile of Tobercorry, on the L. are the Ruins of a Church, and a Castle.

Three Miles and a Quarter beyond Tobercorry, on the Left, is Stream's-Town, the Seat of — Irvine, Esq; and on the R. at about a Mile distance, is Achonry Church.

Three Miles from Stream's-Town, on the R. is Temple-House, the Seat of Mr. Percival.

Within seven Miles of Sligo, on the L. is Nymphfield, the Seat of Mr. O'Hara, near the Ruins of a Castle, situated on the Summit of a Hill.

Within three Miles and a Half of Sligo, on the L. are the Ruins of an Abbey, awfully magnificent; a Mile and a Half further, is Clover-hill, the Seat of Mr. Chalmers; and within a Mile of Sligo, is the Seat of Mr. De-bootes.

On the L. of Sligo, and distant from it about a Mile, is Cuming House, a very noble Edifice, with beautiful and extensive Parks, Gardens and Demesnes, the Seat of Mr. Ormsby.

From Sligo to Castlebar, by Foxford.

|                                |                  |                  |
|--------------------------------|------------------|------------------|
| Tobbercorry, Sligo      | —                | 16 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Kilmatague                     | 7 $\frac{1}{4}$  | 23 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Foxford                        | 8                | 31 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Castlebar , Mayo | 11 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 42 $\frac{1}{4}$ |

* * For Remarks from Sligo to Tobbercorry, see the above.

Three Miles from Tobbercorry, on the R. is the Seat of Mr. Jones, near some Ruins of a Castle.

Two Miles beyond Kilmatague, on the L. are the Ruins of a Church; and two Miles further, more Church Ruins.

Three Miles and Half beyond Foxford, on the L. is Ashbrook, the Seat of Mr. Moore; and half a Mile further are the Ruins of an Abbey near a Church.

Within three Miles of Castlebar, on the L. is Turlogh, the Seat of George Robert Fitzgerald, Esq; and three Quarters of a Mile from it, on the R. is Rockfield Lodge, that of the same Gentleman.

One Mile from Rockfield Lodge, on the L. is Brendrum, the Seat of Mr. McDonnell.

Within a Mile of Castlebar, on the L. is Soho, the Seat of Mr. Ellison; and near Castlebar is the fine Seat of Lord Lucan.

From Sligo to Castlebar, by Swineford.

|                  |                  |                  |
|------------------|------------------|------------------|
| Tobbertorrey     | —                | 16 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Swineford        | 11 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 27 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Castlebar | 13 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 41 $\frac{1}{4}$ |

On the L. of Swineford is New-Park, the delightful Seat of Mr. Brabazon.

Three Miles from Swineford, on the R. is Newcastle, the Seat of General O'Donnel, about half a Mile from some Church Ruins.

From Miles from Swineford, on the R. is Barley-Hill, the Seat of Mr. Mc-Manus; and near a Mile further are the Ruins of a Castle.

From Castlebar to Westport | 8 $\frac{1}{2}$

Half a Mile from Castlebar, on the R. are the Ruins of a Church; and near them those of a Castle. Opposite and near to these latter, but intersected by a Stream from a Lake, is Mount-Gordon, the Seat of Mr. Garden.

Two Miles and a Half from Castlebar, on the R. is Dan, the Seat of Mr. Sheridan; and about a Mile and a Half further, situated in a small Island in a Lake, are the Ruins of a Church. [It may not be unnecessary here to observe, that it is a probable Presumption, this Lake, or Lough, was not near so big formerly as at present, or perhaps did not at all exist some Centuries ago; as it is not to be supposed, that our Ancestors would build a Church on an Island, not thrice as big as itself, and to which no one could gain access but by Means of a Ferry Boat.]

Within four Miles of Westport, on the L. are the Ruins of a Castle.

About half a Mile from Westport, is the magnificent House of the Earl of Altamont, standing upon a rising Ground in a Vale, whose Hills on either Side, for a considerable Extent to the East and West of the House, are richly clothed with Woods; whilst a fine River, running from the

Eastward along the Vale, and passing the Houle, discharges itself Westward into a vast Bay, crowded with a multitude of small Islands, and terminated and protected (at a Distance of twenty Miles Westward from the Houle) from the Rage of the Rage of the Atlantic Ocean, by the huge mountainous Island of Clare Road from Sligo to Esly Bridge, Belleek, and Killala.

|                            |                  |                  |
|----------------------------|------------------|------------------|
| Ballisfadere, Sligo | —                | 3 $\frac{3}{4}$  |
| Strandhouse Inn            | 4                | 7 $\frac{3}{4}$  |
| Esly Bridge                | 12 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 20 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Orange Inn                 | $\frac{3}{4}$    | 21 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Enniscrone Church          | 5 $\frac{3}{4}$  | 27               |
| Belleek, or Ballina        | 8 $\frac{1}{2}$  | 35 $\frac{1}{2}$ |

Near two Miles from Sligo, on the R. is Clover-Hill, the Seat of Mr. Chalmers.

At Ballisfadere, on the R. are the Ruins of a Church and an Abbey, very near each other.

Here are also very pretty Water-falls. The River breaks over the Rocks in a most romantic Manner, from Edge to Edge, in many falls, before it comes to the principal one, which is about fourteen Feet perpendicular. The Scenery about it is bold, the Feature of the Mountains are great, and Knocknaree in full relief. If the Falls were through a dark wood, the Scenery would be among the finest in the World.

On the R. of Strandhouse Inn, is the Seat of Mr. Irvine; and near it is Tauregoe, that of Mr. Dodswell.

Two Miles and a Half beyond Strandhouse Inn, on the R. are the Ruins of a Castle; and a Mile and a Half, on the L. is Longford, a very fine Seat of Mr. Crofton.

Three Miles and a Half from Strandhouse Inn, on the R. is Tobberpatrick, the Seat of Mr. Jones; about half a Mile further, on the L. near the Road, are the Ruins of a Castle; and Half a Mile beyond, on the R. is Ardnaglass, the Seat of Mr. Jones.

Directly opposite Ardnaglass, at the Distance of a Mile, on the L. is Screen Church, at the Foot of a high Hill; and near it the Glebe-House of Archdeacon Hawkes.

Grange, the fine Seat of Mr. Jones, is on the L. a Mile and a Half further; and on the R. on the Summit of a Hill, is Garadoc, a fine Seat of the Right Hon. Owen Wynne.

Near two Miles from Garadoc on the L. near the Road, are the Ruins of a Castle; and a Mile further, more to the L. are Kirkard Ruins.

At Esly Bridge, on the L. pleasantly situated on the Banks of the River Esly, is Portland, the Seat of Mr. Browne; and on the R. are the Ruins of a Castle.

Within a Mile and a Half of Enniscrone Church, on the R. are the Ruins of a Castle; and close to the Church are more Castle Ruins.

On Enniscrone-Hill you have a most delightful Prospect of the Barony of Tyrawly, bounded by Mount Ne-phin the hilly country, and the Sea on your R. the River Moy just before you, and at every reach exhibiting new Beauties. The late Mr. Gore's Plantations on the opposite Side, and Mr. Lindsey's Improvements on the hither, with old Castles and Ruins, until you approach Belleek, where the Right Hon. Henry King's spacious House and sloping Lawn down to the Water's-edge, a stately Bridge of 16 Arches, the Water-fall, Church and Town of Ardnaree, with Mr. Jones's charming Demeline on this Side of the Bridge, render the entire Scene one of the finest Landscapes that can be conceived.

A Mile and a Half beyond Enniscrone Church, on the R. is Scurmore, the Seat of Mr. Nisbett; and a Mile and a Half further, situated on rising Ground, is Bunro, the Seat of Mr. Leech: Half a Mile from which, on the L. close to the Road, are Church Ruins; and on the R. on the opposite side of the Water, are the Ruins of Rosferk Abbey.

Within two Miles and a Half of Belleek, formerly called Ballina, on the L. is Iceford, the Seat of Mr. Walton; and within one Mile of that Place, on either Side of the Road, are the Ruins of three Castles, and a Church.

Near Belleek (formerly called Ballina) the Views of the distant Mountains are very fine; the Country being almost encompassed by them. Those of Donnegal are on the R. a great Ridge, which separates Tyreragh, on the L. Nephin-noble in the Front, and Knockaree behind.——See an Account of Belleek, P. 69.

This being a good Circuit Road when the Judges come North about, you have cheap and good Accommodations at Ballina.

At the first Mile Stone on the Foxford Road, you pass through the Demesne of Charles Atkinson, Esq. Two Miles farther, a Road on the R. which leads to Caramore, the Seat of M. Vaughan, Esq; and to Castle-Grove, a noble Mansion, and one of the Family Seats of the Earl of Arran; four Miles distant from Castle-Gore, there is a new Road by Major Jackson's to Castlebar and Newport.

From Sligo to Lifford.

|                       |                 |                  |
|-----------------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Half-Way House, Sligo | —               | 11               |
| Ballyshannon, Donegal | 9 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 20 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Ballintra             | 5               | 25 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Townavilly            | 9               | 34 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Ballybofey            | 9               | 43 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Castletin             | 6               | 49 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Lifford               | 4 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 54 $\frac{1}{4}$ |

Two Miles and a Half from Sligo, on the L. are the Ruins of a Castle; and near them, the Seats of Mr. Byrne, and Mr. Griffith.

Three Miles and a Half from Sligo, on the R. close to the Road, is Drumcliffe-Church; and near a Mile further, on the L. are the Ruins of a Castle.

Four Miles and three-quarters from Sligo, and near a Mile, on the L. is Liffadil, the fine Seat of Sir Booth Gore, Bart. and three Miles further, is Grange, the Seat of the Revd. Mr. Cullen.

Four Miles and a Half beyond the Half-Way House, on the R. close to the Road, are the Ruins of a Castle; and a Mile and a Half further is Bundoran Lodge, a Seat of Lord Viscount Enniskillen.

Within a Mile and a Half of Ballyshannon, on the L. is Wardton, the fine Seat of Mr. Folliott; and near it are the Ruins of an Abbey.

At Ballyshannon there is a Salmon Leap, which is left at 400l. a Year. The Scenery of it is very beautiful. It is a fine Fall, and the Coast of the River very bold, consisting of perpendicular Rocks, with Grass of a beautiful Verdure to the very Edge. It projects in little Promontories, which grow longer as they approach the Sea, and open to given a fine View of it. Before the Fall in the Middle of the River, is a rocky Island, on which is a curing House. The Town is prettily situated on the rising Ground on each Side the River.

A Mile beyond Ballyshannon, on the L. is Park-Hill, the Seat of the Revd. Mr. Neil; and near it Covent-Garden, that of Mr. Atkison.

On the L. of Ballintra, is Moneymore, the Seat of Mr. Knox; and a Mile on the R. Browne-Hall, that of Mr. Hamilton.

Four Miles beyond Ballintra, on the L. is Brookfield, the Seat of Mr. O'Hara.——The Traveller is now about a Mile from Donegal. Half a Mile beyond Brookfield, the Road on the L. leads to Donegal, which is not quite half a Mile distant; and that on the R. leads to Townavilly.

Within a Mile and a Half of Townavilly, on the L. is Lough Esk, a most beautiful Seat of Mr. Young.

[From Townavilly to Ballybofey, are Barnmore Mountains, without any remarkable object intervening, to awake Attention or gratify Curiosity, except Lough-Mourn, which is a Mile and a Half long, and half a Mile broad, and lies close to the Road, beginning just four Miles beyond Townavilly.]

At Ballybofey, on the L. is Drumboe, the Seat of Mr. Bazil.

A Mile and a Half beyond Ballybofey, on the L. are the Ruins of a Castle; on the R. is Kilcaddon, the Seat of Mr. Knox; and about a Mile further, is Mount-Hall, the Seat of Mr. Young; and Killygordon, that of Mr. Mansfield.

Near Castlefin, on the L. is Donoughmore, the Seat of the Revd. Mr. Spence; and two Miles beyond, on the R. is Urney, the Glebe House of the Hon. and Revd. Mr. Beresford.

From Sligo to Londonderry.

|                          |                 |                  |
|--------------------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Ballybofey, as in P. 263 | —               | 43 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Convooy, Donegal         | 4 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 48 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Raphoe                   | 2 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 51               |
| St. Johnstown            | 5 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 56 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Carrigins                | 1 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 58 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| LONDONDERRY              | 4               | 62 $\frac{1}{2}$ |

Four Miles from Ballybofey, on the R. are the Ruins of a Castle.

A Mile and a Half from Convooy, on the R. is Green-Hill, the Seat of Mr. Nesbitt.

At Raphoe, on the R. is the fine Seat of the Bishop of Raphoe; and near a Mile beyond, on the L. is Oak-field, the Seat of the Revd. Dean King.

A Bishopric was founded at Raphoe by St. Eunan, about the Middle of the sixth Century, and a Cathedral was erected on the Ruins of the Church of St. Eunan in the eleventh. Patrick Magonail, Bishop of Raphoe, built three Episcopal Houses in 1360; and Bishop Pooley, by Will, bequeathed 200l. for repairing the Cathedral; which Money was applied by his Successor. They still shew the Bed of St. Eunan; and within a few years, a round Tower was standing on a Hill, in which the Bishops of Raphoe kept their studies. A celebrated Cross, said to have been famous for the Performance of Miracles, stood in the Cathedral; but was about the Year 1438, removed to Armagh, by Bishop O'Galchor.

Within three Miles of St. Johnstown, and a Mile, on the R. is Port-Hall, the Seat of Mrs. Sampson; and Mile further, is Magavelin, a Seat of the Earl of Abercorn; and within half a Mile of St. Johnstown, is Tullaowen, the Seat of Mr. Thomson.

Near half a Mile beyond Carrigins, on the L. are Dunmore and Prospect-Hall, the pleasant Seats of Messrs. Mc. Clintock.

From Killybegs to Dunfanaghy.

|                  |                  |                  |
|------------------|------------------|------------------|
| Ardra, Donegal   | —                | 8                |
| Enniskeel Church | 4 $\frac{1}{2}$  | 12 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Shalagan Bridge  | 7 $\frac{1}{2}$  | 20               |
| Cloghanlea       | 8 $\frac{1}{4}$  | 28 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Gortahurk        | 17 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 45 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Dunfanaghy       | 6 $\frac{3}{4}$  | 52 $\frac{1}{4}$ |

On the R. of Ardra, is Wood-Hill, the Seat of Thomas Nesbitt, Esq; and on the R. or Enniskeel is the Glebe-House of the Revd. Mr. Montgomery.

Within a Mile of Gortahurk, on the L. is Cathell, the Seat of Mr. Finlay.

A Mile and a Half beyond Gortahurk, on the L. is Ballyconnel, the Seat of Mr. Olpherts; and a Mile further is Cloghaneely Church.

Near Dunfanaghy, on the L. situated near the Foot of a lofty Hill, and almost surrounded by the Sea, is Hornhead, the Seat of Mr. Stewart.

From Ballybofey to Shalagan Bridge.

|                          |                 |                  |
|--------------------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Killyock Church, Donegal | —               | 5                |
| Fin Town                 | 7 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 12 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Shalagan Bridge          | 4 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 17               |

On the R. of Ballybofey is Drumboe, the Seat of Mr. Bazill.

Near two Miles and a Half from Ballybofey, on the L. are the Seats of the Revd Mr. Cox, and Mr. Ramsay.

On the R. of Killyock Church is Cloghan, the Seat of Mr. Knox.

The remaining Part of the Road, which is twelve Miles, is over, or between Mountains, devoid of Objects to amuse the careless or pleasure-seeking Traveller; but replete with those rude and magnificent Scenes of Nature, which to the contemplative and philosophic mind, afford a higher Entertainment than the utmost exertions of Art can possibly furnish.

From Londonderry to Dunfanaghy.

|                                    |   |                 |                  |
|------------------------------------|---|-----------------|------------------|
| Newtown Cunningham, Donegal | } | —               | 7                |
| Manor Cunningham                   |   |                 |                  |
| Letterkenny                        |   | 4 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 11 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Glen Inn                           |   | 4 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 16               |
| Ballymore Church                   |   | 11              | 27               |
| Dunfanaghy                         |   | 6               | 33               |
|                                    |   | 2 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 35 $\frac{1}{2}$ |

A Mile from Londonderry, situated near the River Foyle, is Prehen, the Seat of Mr. Knox.

Four Miles from Londonderry, on the R. at the Foot of a high Hill, is Bogay, the Seat of the Hon. Frederick Hamilton.

Within a Mile of Newtown Cunningham, on the R. is Castle Forward, the Seat of Mr. Forward; and about a Mile on the R. are the Ruins of a Castle. —Lough Swilly lies on the R. of Mrs. Forward's House, terminating at Letterkenny, being ten Miles in Length, but not more than a Mile in Breadth.

A Mile from Newtown Cunningham, on the R. is Sharan, the Seat of the Revd. Dr. Stokes; and a Mile and a Half further are the Ruins of a Church.

Near Kilmacrenan Church, which is five Miles beyond Letterkenny, on the R. are the Ruins of a Castle.

Two Miles beyond Glen Inn, and half a Mile on the R. are the magnificent Remains of a Castle; and near a Mile from them, is Ards, the Seat of Mr. Wray, situated on a Hill.

Within two Miles and a Half of Dunfanaghy, and near a Mile on the R. of Ballymore Church, is Marble-Hill, the Seat of Mr. Babington.

Half a Mile beyond Ballymore Church, on the R. are the Ruins of a Castle; and within three quarters of a Mile of Dunfanaghy, on the L. are those of a Church.

From Carrick to Killesandra, and to Swanlinbar.

To Killesandra.

|                               |  |    |                  |
|-------------------------------|--|----|------------------|
| Castle Cargan, Leitrim |  | —  | 7 $\frac{1}{4}$  |
| Ballinamore                   |  |    |                  |
| Killesandra, Cavan     |  |    |                  |
|                               |  | 6  | 13 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
|                               |  | 11 | 24 $\frac{1}{4}$ |

To Swanlinbar.

|                          |  |    |                  |
|--------------------------|--|----|------------------|
| Ballinamore              |  | —  | 13 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Swanlinbar, Cavan |  |    |                  |
|                          |  | 12 | 26               |

A Mile and a Half from Carrick, on the L. is Corisparrow, the Seat of Mr. Gallagher; and nearly opposite, is Cartown, the Seat of Mr. Cunningham.

Two Miles and a Half from Carrick on the L. near Leitrim, which lies about a quarter of a Mile from the Road, on the L. is the Seat of William Houghton, Esq.

Within a Mile and a Half of Castle Cargan, on the L. is Letterfyan, the Seat of Mr. Reynolds; and about a Mile, on the R. is Laheen, the Seat of Mr. Peyton.

On the L. of Castle Cargan, are the Ruins of a Castle; and a Mile further, are more Castle Ruins; and two Miles and a Half further, on the R. are more Ruins of a Church.

Within a Mile of Ballinamore, on the R. is Willy-field, the Seat of Mr. Shanley.

Three Miles beyond Ballinamore, on the R. is Garadise, the Seat of Mr. Percy; and near two Miles further, on the L. is Woodford; the fine Seat of William Gore, Esq.

Three Miles from Woodford, on the R. are the Ruins of a Castle; and two Miles further, more Ruins.

Near Killesandra, is Castle Hamilton, the fine Seat of Mr. Jackson.

Within four Miles of Swanlinbar, on the R. near the Road, is Baunboy, the Seat of Captain Enery.

Within a Mile of Swanlinbar, on the R. are the Ruins of a Church; and near a Mile on the R. of the Town is a celebrated Spa. —For an Account of this, and the Rules to be observed there, see P. 56.

From Granard to Ballymahon.

|                           |                 |                  |
|---------------------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Firmount, Longford | —               | 5                |
| Edgeworth's Town          | 3               | 8                |
| Ballymahon                | 9 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 17 $\frac{3}{4}$ |

Three Miles from Granard, on the R. is Spring Park, the Seat of Mr. Beatty; and near it is Clonfin, the Seat of Mr. Thomlin; and Willbrook, that of Mr. Holmes.

About a Mile to the L. of these Seats, is Tully, the Seat of Sir Annestey Stewart, Bart.

Three Miles and a Half from Granard, and a Mile on the R. is Killruly, the Seat of Mr. Edgeworth.

At Firmount, on the L. is the Seat of the Revd. Mr. Brooke.

At Edgeworth's Town, on the L. near the Church, is the fine Seat of Mr. Edgeworth; and two Miles further, and about a Mile on the L. is Fox-Hall, that of Mr. Fox.

Five Miles from Edgeworth's Town, on the L. is Lisferrick, the Seat of Mr. Leonard; and about a Mile and a Half further, on the L. is Tenelick, the fine Seat of the late Lord Annaly.

Within three Miles of Ballymahon, on the R. are the Ruins of two Castles, within half a Mile of each other; and a Mile from them is Drury, the Seat of Mr. Jessop; and Kilcurry, that of Mr. Nugent.

Within a Mile and a Half of Ballymahon, and about half a Mile from the Road, on the L. pleasantly situated on the Banks of a River, is Newcastle, the Seat of the Revd. Dean Harman; and within three Quarters of a Mile of Ballymahon, on the L. near the Road, is Ballymulvy, the Seat of the Revd. Mr. Achmuty.

From Carrick to Ballythannon.

|                              |                 |                  |
|------------------------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Leitrim                      | —               | 2 $\frac{3}{4}$  |
| Balintra, Rescommon   | 4               | 6 $\frac{1}{4}$  |
| Killargs Church              | 7               | 13 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Manor Hamilton               | 4 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 22 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Garison, Fermanagh    | 7               | 29 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Belleck Town, Donegal | 3               | 32 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Ballythannon                 | 3 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 36               |

A Mile and a Half from Carrick, on the L. is Coriparrow, the Seat of Mr. Gallagher, situated on the Banks of the River Boyle; and about half a Mile further, are the Ruins of Port Castle.

Within half a Mile of Leitrim, on the L. is the Seat of Mr. Houghton.

Three Miles and a Half beyond Balintra, on the R. close to the Road, and on the Side of Lough Allen, are the Ruins of Currag Church.

Within half a Mile of Drumkeerin Church, on the R. is Groule Lodge, the Seat of Mr. Seily.

A Mile beyond Killargs Church, on the R. is Gortermore, the Seat of Mr. Johnston.

Within two Miles of Manor Hamilton, on the L. is Larkfield, the Seat of Mr. Donnell.

A Mile beyond Manor Hamilton, on the R. is Shreeny, the Seat of Mr. Cullen.

Within a Mile and a Half of Garison, on the L. are the Ruins of a Church; and near Garison, on the R. are the Ruins of Barracks.

At Garison, on the R. is the Seat of Mr. Hamilton; and two Miles beyond it, is Farencaady, the Seat of the Revd. Mr. Johnston.

Within a Mile and a Half of Ballythannon, on the R. is Cherry-Mount, the Seat of the Revd. Mr. Cullen.

From Manor Hamilton to Colony.

|                                 |                 |                  |
|---------------------------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Killargs Church, Leitrim | —               | 4 $\frac{1}{2}$  |
| Drumahare                       | 2 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 8                |
| Ballintogher, Sligo      | 3 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 11 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Colony                          | 4 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 16               |

Two Miles from Manor Hamilton, on the R. is Larkfield, the Seat of Mr. Donnell; and two Miles further, on the L. is Gortermore, that of Mr. Johnston.

At Drumahare, on the L. close to the Road, is the Seat of the Revd. Mr. Dodd; and near it are the Ruins of a Castle, and an Abbey.

At Ballintogher, on the L. is King's Fort, the Seat of the Rev. Mr. Dodd; and a Mile further, on the R. are the Ruins of a Castle; near a Mile further, more Ruins of two Castles. Within a Mile and a Half of Coloony, on the L. is Mercra, the fine Seat of the Right Honourable Joshua Cooper.

From Roscommon to Ballinasloe Eyrecourt, and Portumna.

To Ballinasloe.

|                      |                 |                  |
|----------------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Athleague, Roscommon | —               | 4 $\frac{1}{4}$  |
| Mount Talbot         | 2 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 7                |
| Ballinamore, Galway  | 4               | 11               |
| Ahascragh            | 5               | 16               |
| Ballinasloe          | 6 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 22 $\frac{1}{2}$ |

To Eyrecourt and Portumna.

|           |                  |                  |
|-----------|------------------|------------------|
| Ahascragh | —                | 16               |
| Eyrecourt | 14 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 30 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Portumna  | 7 $\frac{1}{2}$  | 38               |

Near three Miles from Roscommon, on the L. is Rock-Savage, the Seat of Mr. Waldrum; and on the R. is Ballinturly, that of Mr. Mitchell.

On the R. of Athleague is Tobbevaddy, the Seat of Mr. Ormsby.

A Mile and a Half beyond Athleague, on the R. is Rook-Wood, the Seat of Major Waller.

At Mount-Talbot, on the R. is the fine Seat of William J. Talbot, Esq; and near it is Castle-Kelly, that of Mr. Kelly.

Two Miles from Mount-Talbot, on the R. is Clonlony, the Seat of Mr. Kelly.

Two Miles beyond Ballinamore, on the L. is Castle-French, the fine Seat of Sir — French, Bart. Two Miles further, on the R. is Clonbrock, the Seat of Mr. Dillon; and near it are Ruins of a Castle.

About half a Mile from Ahascragh, on the L. is Castlegar, the Seat of Mr. Mahon. A Mile from it, on the R. is Lowville, that of Mr. Lowe; and near a Mile further is Fairfield, that of Mr. O'Brien. Half a Mile further, on the L. are the Ruins of a Castle.

Within three Miles and a Half of Ballinasloe, on the R. is Killure, the Seat of Mr. Dillon.

About a Mile from Ballinasloe, on the R. is Garbally, the fine Seat, with very extensive Demelines and Plantations, of Mr. Trench.

Two Miles beyond Ballinasloe, on the L. is Kelly's Grove, the Seat of Mr. Kelly.

Within two Miles of Eyrecourt, above half a Mile on the R. is Belle-View, the Seat of Mr. Lawrence.

At Eyrecourt, on the L. is a fine Seat of Lord Eyre; and near two Miles beyond it, on the R. is Faughy, the Seat of Mr. Hamilton. On the L. close to the Road, are the Ruins of a Castle; and a Mile further to the L. is Derryhorn, the Seat of Mr. Hind, situated near the Foot of a lofty Hill.

Three Miles beyond Eyrecourt, on the R. are the Ruins of a Church; a Mile further is Corr, the Seat of Mr. Dolphin; and two Miles further, on the R. is Fairfield, the Seat of Mr. Hamilton; and on the L. Capwell, that of Mr. Devenish.

At Portumna, on the L. is the Castle, a Seat of the Earl of Clanricarde.

From Longford to St. Johnstown, and to Granard.

|                   |   |                 |                  |
|-------------------|---|-----------------|------------------|
| To St. Johnstown, | } | —               | 6 $\frac{3}{4}$  |
| Longford          |   |                 |                  |
| Granard           |   | 5 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 12 $\frac{1}{4}$ |

Half a Mile from Longford, on the L. close to the Road, is Temple-Michael, the Seat of Dean Ryder; and a Mile and a Half further, on the L. is Kerryglass, that of Sir William Gladowe Newcomen, Bart.

Three Miles from Longford, and above half a Mile on the L. are the Ruins of a Castle; and a Mile further are those of a Church.

Within a Mile of St. Johnstown, on the L. is Killrecarra, the Seat of Mr. Hamilton.

Two Miles beyond St. Johnstown, on the R. is Kilfruly, the Seat of Mr. Edgeworth; and near it, Willbrooke, that of Mr. Holmes; and Clonfin, that of Mr. Thomson.

Within three Miles of Granard, on the R. is Spring Park, the Seat of Mr. Beatty; and near it, Tully, that of Sir Annesly Stewart, Bart.

N. B. The direct Road to Granard from Longford, does not lead through St. Johnstown, but inclines to the Right; yet the Distances are nearly equal both ways.

From Roscommon to Castlereagh.

|                       |                |                 |
|-----------------------|----------------|-----------------|
| Cloverhill, Roscommon | —              | 3               |
| Ballintobber          | $6\frac{1}{4}$ | $9\frac{1}{2}$  |
| Castlereagh           | $4\frac{1}{4}$ | $13\frac{1}{2}$ |

Within half a Mile of Cloverhill, on the R. are the Ruins of a Church.

About a Mile on the L. of Cloverhill, is Ardmore, the Seat of Mr. Croghan; and near it Dunamon, that of Mr. Caulfield.

Two Miles beyond Cloverhill, on the R. are Runnimeade, and Highlake, the Seats of Messrs. Fallon; and on the L. is Emlough, the Seat of Thomas McDermott, Esq.

A Mile beyond Emlough, on the L. is Oran, the Seat of Richard Malone, Esq; and near a Mile more to the L. is Glink, that of Sir Rickby Burke, Bart.

Eight Miles from Roscommon, and within a Mile and a Quarter of Ballintobber, on the R. is Ash Park, the Seat of Matthew Lyfter, Esq; half a Mile from it, on the L. are the Ruins of a Castle; and a Mile more to the L. is Lebag, the Seat of Mr. Irvine; and Dundermot, that of Samuel Owens, Esq.

Half a Mile beyond Ballintobber, on the R. is Will's Grove, the Seat of Mr. Wills; and two Miles further, on the R. is South Park, the Seat of General Gisborne.

At Castlereagh, on the L. are the Seats of Mr. Magrath, and Mr. Young; and on the R. is the Seat of Mr. Sandford.

From Roscommon to Carrick.

|                   |                |                 |
|-------------------|----------------|-----------------|
| Tullsk, Roscommon | —              | 9               |
| Tunyquin          | 2              | 11              |
| Elphin            | $3\frac{3}{4}$ | $14\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Carrick           | $7\frac{1}{4}$ | 22              |

A Mile and a half from Roscommon, on the R. is Roxborough, the Seat of Mr. Irvine; and near it, is Holywell, that of Mr. Blakeney.

Within three Miles and a half of Tullsk, on the L. are the Ruins of a Church; and near them is Grange, the Seat of Gilbert Ormsby, Esq.

Within a Mile of Tullsk, on the L. is Cargans, the Seat of Mr. Keily.

A Mile and a half beyond Tullsk, on the R. is Foxborough, the Seat of Mr. French; and at Tunyquin, on the L. is a Seat of Mr. French.

About a Mile and a half to the L. of Tunyquin, is Mantua, a fine Seat of the late Richard Underwood, Esq.

Within a Mile and a half of Elphin, on the R. is Cherryfield, the fine Seat of Mr. Mills; and near it, on the L. are the Ruins of a Church.

At Elphin, on the L. is the noble and magnificent Seat, with very extensive and beautiful Demesnes, of the Bishop of Elphin.

Within a Mile and a half of Carrick, on the R. close to the Road, and seated on the Banks of a small Stream, which falls into the Shannon at Carrick, is Killucan Church.

From Castlereagh to Ballaghy.

|                                          |                 |                 |
|------------------------------------------|-----------------|-----------------|
| Lough Glin, Roscommon                    | —               | 5               |
| To the Foxford Road near Ballaghadireen, | $5\frac{3}{4}$  | $10\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Mayo                                     |                 |                 |
| Ballaghy                                 | $16\frac{1}{2}$ | $17\frac{1}{4}$ |

On the R. of Castlereagh is the Seat of Mr. Sandford; and near a Mile from it are the Ruins of a Church.

At Lough Glin, on the R. is a very fine Seat of Lord Dillon; two Miles beyond it, on the L. are the Ruins of a Church; and two Miles further, on the R. are those of a Castle.

Within three Miles of Ballaghy, on the R. is Cloon More, the Seat of Mr. Phillips; and on the L. are the Ruins of a Castle.

At Ballaghy, on the R. close to the Road, are the Ruins of a Barrack.

From Boyle to Ballaghadireen 11½

The Earl of Kingston has a very good House at Boyle, situated near the Ruins of an ancient Abbey, on the Banks of the River Boyle, which runs into Lough Key. This Lake is uncommonly beautiful, and fills the Bottom of a gentle Valley almost of a circular Form, bounded very boldly by the Mountains. Those to the Left rise in a noble Slope; they lower rather in Front, and let in a View of Strand Mountain, near Sligo, twenty Miles distant. There are eight Islands in this fine Lake, all wooded.

Near a Mile from Boyle, on the L. close to the Road, are the Ruins of a Church; and a Mile further is Carrymore, the seat of Mr. Rutledge.

Six Miles from Boyle, on the L. close to the Road, are the Ruins of a Castle.

Within two Miles of Ballaghadireen, on the R. is Edmond's Town, the fine Seat of Mr. Costello.

From Boyle to Castlereagh.

French Park, Roscommon | — | 7
Castlereagh | 7 | 14

Two Miles from Boyle, on the L. is Ballimore, the Seat of Mr. Shoulden; and a Mile further, on the R. are the Ruins of a Church.

Within a Mile of French Park, on the R. are the Ruins of a Church; and opposite to French Park are more Church Ruins; and a Mile on the L. are those of an Abbey.

French Park is the noble and delightful Seat of Arthur French, Esq; having very beautiful and ample Demelnes belonging to it.

From Athlone to Longford.

Ballymahon, Longford | — | 10¾
Longford | 10½ | 21¾

A Mile from Athlone, on the R. is Lessyvalien, the fine Seat of Mr. Cooke; and about a Mile on the L. are the Ruins of a Castle.

Four Miles and a Quarter from Athlone, on the R. is Water's Town, the Seat of Mr. Handcock; and near it is Pierion's Brook, that of Mr. Pierion.

Within four Miles of Ballymahon, on the L. is Little-Town, the Seat of General Napier; and near it is Dunny, that of Mr. Lennon. Ruins of a Castle lie a little on the R. and those of a Church half a Mile further to the R.

Within two Miles of Ballymahon, and a Mile on the L. of the Road, is Drimnacor, the beautiful Seat of Mr. Sandes.

On the L. of Ballymahon, is Ballymulvy, the pleasant Seat of the Rev. Mr. Ahmuty, situated near a River.

Two Miles beyond Ballymahon, on the L. is Tirlicken, the Seat of Mr. Gore; and a Mile and a Half further, on the R. is Lisglaffick, the Seat of Mr. Robertson; and near a Mile from it, on the L. is Glenmore, the Seat of the Revd. Mr. Palmer.

Five Miles beyond Ballymahon, on the L. are the Ruins of an Abbey, and a Mile further, on the L. is Clonker, the Seat of the Revd. Mr. Jessop.

Within four Miles and a Quarter of Longford, on the R. near the Road that leads to Edgeworth's Town, are the Ruins of a Castle. Near a Mile further, on the L. close to the Road, is a Church; and half a Mile further, on the R. are the Ruins of a Castle, pleasantly situated at the Foot of a mountain.

Near a Mile on the L. of these Ruins, is Mount-Jessop, the Seat of Mr. Jessop, situated on the Banks of a small Stream.

From Longford to Lanesborough.

|                     |                 |                 |
|---------------------|-----------------|-----------------|
| Killashee, Longford | —               | 4 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Lanesborough        | 3 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 8               |

Near two Miles from Longford, on the R. are the Ruins of a Church; and a Mile and a half further, on the L. are those of a Castle.

From Mullingar to Athlone.

|                     |                  |                  |
|---------------------|------------------|------------------|
| Racondra, Westmeath | —                | 6                |
| Ballimore           | 5 $\frac{3}{4}$  | 11 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Athlone, Roscommon  | 11 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 25               |

Two Miles and a Quarter from Mullingar, on the L. are the Ruins of a Church; and a Mile further is Tuite's Town, the Seat of Mr. Hudson.

Within a Mile and a half of Racondra, on the L. is Feeltown, the Seat of Edward Fetherston, Esq.

Half a Mile beyond Racondra, on the L. is Loughan, the Seat of Mr. Dillon; and a Mile further to the L. is Ballinacarra, that of the late John Nugent, Esq; near some Castle Ruins.

Near three Miles from Racondra, on the R. is Becksborough, the Seat of Mr. Gambel; and three Quarters of a Mile further, is Balnacor, that of Mr. Nugent, near the Ruins of a Castle.

Near a Mile on the R. of Ballimore, is Shinglafs, the Seat of Mr. Malone.

Two Miles and a half beyond Ballimore, on the L. are the Ruins of a Church; and a Mile and a half further, on the R. are those of Killenenny Castle.

Within four Miles and a half of Athlone, on the L. is Mount Velvine, the Seat of Mr. Cuppaidge; and near two Miles further, is Will's Brook, that of the Revd. Dean Handcock.

Within a Mile and a half of Athlone, on the R. directly opposite the Race Course, is Lessyvallen, the Seat of Mr. Cooke.

From Mullingar to Trim.

|                     |                  |                  |
|---------------------|------------------|------------------|
| Clonloft, Westmeath | —                | 6 $\frac{1}{2}$  |
| Trim, Meath         | 14 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 21 $\frac{1}{4}$ |

Two Miles from Mullingar, on the R. is Rathconnel, the Seat of Mr. Adam; and near it are the Ruins of a Castle.

Four Miles from Mullingar, on the R. is Cooksborough, the Seat of Mr. Cooke; and near a Mile further, on the L. Killynan, that of the Revd. Mr. Reynell.

Clonloft is the Seat of Mr. Nugent; and about a Mile from it, on the R. is Lessnabin, that of Mr. Purdon.

A Mile and a half beyond Clonloft, on the L. is Corbet's Town, the Seat of Mr. Darcy; and about a Mile and a half further, is Cradden's Town, the Seat of Mr. Cooper.

About a Mile and a half on the R. of Cradden's Town, is Beg, the Seat of Mr. Darcy; and half a Mile further, Grangemore, that of Mr. Fetherston.

Within five Miles and a half of Trim, on the L. is Port-Lester, the Seat of Mr. Walker; a Mile further, Clown, that of Mr. Dowdall; a Mile further, Kilmurry, that of Mr. Foster, a Mile further, Drinadaly, that of Mr. Woodford; and near a Mile and a half, on the L. Trimleston, the Seat of Lord Trimleston.

Within a Mile and a Quarter of Trim, on the L. are the Ruins of a Castle.

From Mullingar to Kells.

|                            |                 |                  |
|----------------------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Pafs if you can, Westmeath | —               | 2 $\frac{3}{4}$  |
| Maypole                    | 6               | 8 $\frac{3}{4}$  |
| Crofs a Keel, Meath        | 7 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 16 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Kells                      | 5               | 21 $\frac{1}{4}$ |

A Mile and a half from Mullingar, on the R. is Rathconnel, the Seat of Mr. Adam, near the Ruins of a Church.

On the L. of Pals if you can, about a Mile, is High Park, the Seat of Sir Richard Levinge, Bart. and two Miles further are the Ruins of a Church.

Within a Mile and a half of Maypole, on the R. is Kilpatrick Church. A fine Walk, with Trees on each side leads to it from the Road. About half a Mile from the Church, nearest to Maypole, is Barbavilla, the fine Seat of Mr. Smith.

Two Miles and a half beyond Maypole, on the L. is Carrick, the Seat of Mr. Tighe; and two Miles and a half further are the Ruins of a Church.

A Mile and a half beyond Cross a Keel, on the R. is New Grove, the Seat of Mr. Reilly; and half a Mile further, on the L. is Ben's Fort, that of Mr. Jones; on the R. Sylvan Park, that of Mr. Grattan; and about half a Mile from it, further to the R. is Springfield, the Seat of Mr. Kellet.

Within two Miles of Kells, on the L. close to the Road, is Drumbarra, the Seat of the Revd. Dr. Woodward; and on the R. Woodville, that of Mr. Hill; and near a Mile further, on the R. is Belrath, that Mr. of Nicholson.

From Trim to Navan

72

A Mile from Trim, on the L. are the Ruins of a Castle; and a Mile further, on the R. is Ranally, the Seat of Mr. Nicholson.

Within two Miles and a half of Navan, on the L. is Curagh Town, the Seat of Mr. Charlington.

From Abbey to Navan.

Mead Town, Meath

Navan

|    |   |
|----|---|
| —  | 4 |
| 15 | 9 |

A Mile from Athboy, on the R. are the Ruins of a Church; and on the L. are those of a Castle.

Mead Town is the fine Seat of Mr. Chivars; and very near it, on the R. are the Ruins of a Church.

From Trim to Philipstown.

|                         |    |    |
|-------------------------|----|----|
| Clonard Church, Meath   | —  | 10 |
| Philipstown, King's Co. | 15 | 25 |

A Mile from Trim, on the R. are the Ruins of a Castle; and a Mile further to the R. on the opposite Side of the Boyne River, is Trimleston, the noble and delightful Seat of Lord Trimleston.

Near two Miles from Trim, on the R. is Flora's Town, the Seat of Mr. Foller; and near it, Woodford, that of Mr. Woods.

Four Miles and a half from Trim, on the L. is Tobbertynan, the Seat of Mr. Donnellan; and on the R. Ballinmore, that of Mr. Fox.

Within four Miles of Clonard Church, on the L. is Castle-Rickart, the Seat of Mr. Dowdall; and about a Mile further, on the R. are the Ruins of Donore Castle.

Within three Miles of Clonard Church, on the R. is Killyon, the fine Seat of Mr. Loftus.

On the R. of Clonard Church is the Glebe House of the Revd. Dr. Ash.

Near two Miles beyond Clonard Church, on the R. are the Ruins of Ticroghan Castle; and a Mile further is Park, the Seat of Mr. Bor; and about half a Mile on the L. are the Ruins of Balliboghan Abbey.

Three Miles beyond these Ruins, close to the Road, is Castle-Jordan, the Seat of Sir Duke Giffard, Bart. and two Miles and a half further, on the R. are Greenhill, and Ballybury, the Seats of Mr. Dames, and Mr. Weakly.

Within five Miles of Philipstown, on the L. is Rathmile, the Seat of Mr. Dames; and a Mile and a Quarter from it, Tobberdaly, that of Mr. Nesbitt.

Within two Miles of Philipstown, on the R. is Creggan, the Seat of Mr. Dames; and within a Mile of it, on the L. is Killine, that of Mr. Brisco; and on the R. Cloncarl, that of Mr. Magan.

From Philipstown to Kilbeggan 11

Four Miles and a half from Philipstown, on the L. are the Ruins of a Church; and a Mile and a half further are those of a Castle. One Mile and a Quarter further are the Ruins of another Castle.

From Tullamore to Terril's Pass 8

Four Miles and a Quarter from Tullamore, on the R. close to the Road, are the Ruins of a Church.

Within a Mile and a half of Terril's Pass, on the L. is Newtown, the Seat of Mr. Lowe; and a little farther to the L. New Park, that of Dr. Lowe.

From Cavan to Philipstown.

|                                        |                  |                  |
|----------------------------------------|------------------|------------------|
| Ballinanaght, Cavan             | —                | 4 $\frac{1}{4}$  |
| Finac, Westmeath                | 8 $\frac{1}{2}$  | 13               |
| Castle-Pollard                         | 7 $\frac{1}{2}$  | 20 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Mullingar                       | 10 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 31 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Terril's-Pass                          | 8 $\frac{1}{4}$  | 39 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Philipstown , King's Co. | 7                | 46 $\frac{1}{2}$ |

A Mile and a Half from Cavan, on the R. close to the Road, is Doyne Hall, the Seat of Mr. Moore.

A Mile beyond Ballinanaght, on the L. is Aghawly, the Seat of the Revd. Mr. Wade; and four Miles further, on the R. is Grouse Hall, that of Mr. Pallas.

Near four Miles beyond Finac, on the R. is Carlingstown, a fine Seat of the Earl Nugent; and a Mile and a Half further, is Corry, the Seat of Mr. Webb; Tarbestown, that of Mr. Deane; and Gaulstown, Mr. Lill's.

Within a Mile of Castle-Pollard, on the R. is Pakenham-Hall, a Seat of Lord Longford; and near it is Non-such, that of Mr. Hampson.

On the R. of Castle-Pollard, is the Seat of William Pollard, Esq.

Near two Miles beyond Castle-Pollard, on the R. is Larkfield, the Seat of Mr. Ford; and about a Mile further, on the L. is Gillerstown, that of Mr. Marlee; two Miles from which, is Garthlandstown, that of Mr. Tighe.

Within four Miles of Mullingar, on the L. is High-Park, a Seat of Sir Richard Levinge, Bart. and about a Mile on the R. is Castle Reynell, the fine Seat of John Reynell, Esq.

Within a Mile and a Half of Mullingar, on the R. is Farnarustick, a Seat of Sir Richard Levinge, Bart.

Two Miles beyond Mullingar, on the R. is Lyan, the Seat of Mr. Swift; and a Mile from it, on the L. Gaybrook, that of Nicholas Gay, Esq; a Mile from this on the R. is Lady's Town, the Seat of John Lyons, Esq.

Three Miles from Mullingar, on the R. is Belvedere, a Seat of the Earl of Belvedere, near the Ruins of a Castle, which lie between that and Rochfort House, the Seat of the Honourable George Rochfort; and on the L. near a Mile from the Road, is Anneville, the Seat of Mr. Rochfort; and near a Mile from it, close to the Road, is Tallyhoe, that of the Hon. Robert Rochfort.

A Mile and a Half from Tallyhoe, on the R. near the Road, is Carrick, the Seat of Mr. Fetherston; and about half a Mile further, to the R. are the Ruins of a Castle.

Within a Mile of Terril's Pass, on the L. is Newcastle, the Seat of the late Ulysses North, Esq; and near it are the Ruins of a Castle.

Within two Miles of Philipstown, on the L. is Croghan, the Seat of Mr. Dames.

From Cavan to Granard.

|                            |                 |                  |
|----------------------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Ballinanaght, Cavan | —               | 4 $\frac{1}{4}$  |
| Granard             | 9 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 13 $\frac{1}{2}$ |

* * * The Road from Cavan to Granard, is nearly the same as that from Cavan to Philipstown; the sole Difference being, that at eight Miles and a Half from Cavan, the Road to Finac, and Philipstown turns to the L. and that to Granard to the R.—See therefore the Remarks in Page 281.

From Cavan to Ardee.

|                       |                  |                  |
|-----------------------|------------------|------------------|
| Stradon, Cavan | —                | 4 $\frac{1}{2}$  |
| Bailieborough         | 10 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 14 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Muff                  | 3 $\frac{1}{2}$  | 18 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Kingscourt            | 2 $\frac{1}{4}$  | 20 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Ardee, Louth   | 10               | 30 $\frac{1}{2}$ |

A Mile and a Half from Cavan, is Farnham Houle, the superb Seat of Lord Farnham. The Lakes near this fine Edifice are uncommonly beautiful. They are extensive, and have a Shore extremely varied. On one Side, are large thick Hedge-Row Trees, with Meadows behind them; on the other is a most noble Range of hanging Wood, which spreads on each Side to a great Distance, covering a bold Shore, and to a considerable Height, nor are they uniform in their Outline; the Hills, over which they spread, vary greatly; in some Places presenting a continued Sweep, in others, breaking the Line, and projecting into the Lake. In one Part the Shore consists of Grass Inclosures, the Hedges are scattered with Trees, and mounting upon the Slopes, form a very fine Scenery. Nothing can be more pleasing than the whole to the Right of the Lake; the Meadows are of undulating Lands that wave about in a Variety of Forms. These beautiful Fields rise above the Lake, which they command in some Places, and in others retire from.

Two Miles and a Quarter from Cavan, and a Mile on the L. is Clunervy, the Seat of Townley Blackwood, Esq.

At Stradon, on the L. is the Seat of Alexander Burrows, Esq.

Within a Mile and a Half of Bailieborough, on the R. is Bailieborough-Castle, the superb and beautiful Seat of Mr. Stewart.

On the L. of Bailieborough, is the fine Seat of Mr. Cosby.

At Muff, on the R. close to the Road, are the Ruins of a Castle.

At Kingscourt, on the L. is the magnificent Seat, with very extensive and beautiful Parks and Plantations, of Mar. Pratt, Esq.; and two Miles further, on the R. is Barley-Hill, the fine Seat of Mr. Stewart.

Two Miles from Barley-Hill, on the R. is Maid-Hill, the Seat of Mr. Singleton; and a Mile and a Half further, on the L. are the Ruins of a Church.

Within three Miles of Ardee, on the R. and adjoining Clonkeen Church, is the Seat of the Rev. Doctor Levans.

At Ardee, on the L. is the Seat of Mr. Ruxton; and on the R. that of Mr. Dawson.

From Cavan to Collon.

Kingscourt, as in Page 283. } — 20 $\frac{1}{2}$

|                   |                 |                  |
|-------------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Drumcondra | 5 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 26 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Collon     | 8 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 34 $\frac{1}{2}$ |

Within a Mile of Drumcondra, on the L. is Newstone, the Seat of Mr. Cavendish.

Two Miles and a Quarter beyond Drumcondra, on the R. is Mantren, the Seat of Mr. Sillery; and near two Miles further, are the Ruins of a Castle and a Church, nearly opposite to each other, at about a quarter of a Mile Distance; and half a Mile on the L. is Drake's-Town, the Seat of Mr. Mynning.

At Collon, on the L. opposite the Church, is the fine Seat, with very extensive Domains, Parks and Plantations, of the Right Honourable John Foster.

From Enniskillen to Belleektown, by Pettigoe.

|                                |                 |                  |
|--------------------------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Ballycassedy, Fermanagh | —               | 2 $\frac{3}{4}$  |
| Lisnarick               | 4 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 8 $\frac{1}{2}$  |
| Cash                    | 2 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 11 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Pettigoe                | 4 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 15 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Belleektown             | 9 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 25 $\frac{1}{4}$ |

A Mile from Ballycassedy, on the L. is Roslefadd, the Seat of Mr. Rich- ardson, situated on the Side of Lough Erne.—This Lake is upwards of 23 Miles long, but of unequal Breadth. It is diversified with near 400 Islands, well wooded, and abounds with great Plenty and Variety of Fish.

Two Miles beyond Ballycashedy, on the R. is Rockfield, the Seat of Mr. Irvine; and about half a Mile further are the Ruins of a Castle.

Half a Mile beyond Lisnarick, on the L. is Castle-Archdall, the Seat of Mr. Archdall.—Near it are the Ruins of a Castle.

Near a Mile and a Half on the R. of the Road, and within the same Distance of Cash, is Ardvarny, the Seat of the Revd. Mr. St. George, near the Church.

About a Mile beyond Pettigoe, on the L. is Castle-Tarmon, the Seat of the Revd. Mr. Tisdall, close to the Ruins of a Castle.

Within four Miles of Belleektown, on the L. is Castle-Caldwell, the fine Seat of Sir James Caldwell, Bart. Nothing can be more beautiful than the Approach to it. The Promontories of thick Wood, which shoot into Lough-Erne, on which Castle-Caldwell is situated, under the Shade of a great Ridge of Mountains, have the finest Effect imaginable. As soon as you are through the Gates, turn to the Left, about two hundred Yards to the Edge of the Hill, where the whole Domain lies beneath the Point of View. It is a Promontory, three Miles long, projecting into the Lake, a beautiful Assemblage of Wood and Lawn, one End a thick Shade, the other Grass, scattered with Trees and finishing with Wood. A Bay of the Lake breaks into the Eastern End, where it is perfectly wooded. There are six or seven Islands among them, (that of Bow being three Miles long, and one and a half broad) yet they leave a noble Sweep of Water, bounded by the great Range of the Turaw Mountains. To the Right, the Lake takes the Appearance of a great River, with two large Islands in it, the whole uniting to form a most glorious Scene. The Promontory in the Front of the House is called Rossa-goul, and commands a noble hanging Wood on the Banks of Ross-Moor; and the woody Necks that stretch from the Land beyond the House, with several Islands, give the greatest Variety to the Scene. On the Point Sir James has built an octagon Temple, which takes in several Views that are exceedingly pleasing. This Neck of Land is a Wood of forty Acres.

About a Mile from Castle Caldwell, is Leurae, the beautiful Seat of Mr. Johnston.

From Omagh to Enniskillen.

|                      |   |                 |                 |
|----------------------|---|-----------------|-----------------|
| Drummore Church,     | } | —               | 7 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Tyrone        |   |                 |                 |
| Trillic              | } | 3 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 11              |
| Ballymullart Church, |   |                 |                 |
| Fermanagh     |   |                 |                 |
| Enniskillen          | } | 5 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 20              |
|                      |   |                 |                 |

Three Miles from Drummore Church, on the R. is Castle Marven.

A Mile beyond Trillic, on the R. is Carron, the Seat of Mr. Barton; and a Mile further, on the L. is Kilskeery, that of the Revd. Doctor Hastings.

Near a Mile beyond Kilskeery, are the Ruins of a Church; and half a Mile further, is Maghery Cross, the Seat of Mr. Lendrum.

About half a Mile from Ballymullart Church, on the R. are the Ruins of a Castle.

Three Miles and a Half from Enniskillen, (the direct Road to which, see Page 42) is Castle-Hume, the delightful Seat of the late Earl of Ely. The Grounds here are beautifully crowned with Wood. Car and Ferry Islands are cut into Fields of Corn, and give a sweet Variety, while the Woods of Castle-Hume surround a Bay to the Right, at the Bottom of which is the Castle, half hidden with Trees. It opens, however, to the View soon after, and is accompanied on each Side by a fine Wood. The Lake then takes the Form of a Bay, between some pretty, cultivated, Slopes on one Side, and Devenish Island on the other, with its Tower full in View: Advancing, the Coast on the Right consists of beautiful, cultivated Hills, divided into Inclosures by Hedges, and the waving Hills rising one beyond another, in a various and pleasing Manner. The opposite Shore is the same, but the View more distant. When you come Abreast of Devenish round Tower, you will find the Scenery on the R. very beautiful; the Wood at the Extremity, the waving Hills under Grass and Corn, which spread over this whole Coast, form also the Scenery in Front, and unite with the Lake to make a most pleasing Landscape.

There is another Road from Omagh to Enniskillen, by Fintona and Tempo, which is of the same Length as the above, the Distance standing thus:

From Omagh to Enniskillen.

|             |   |    |
|-------------|---|----|
| Fintona     | — | 7  |
| Tempo       | 7 | 14 |
| Enniskillen | 6 | 20 |

From Omagh to Cookstown.

|                           |   |                 |                  |
|---------------------------|---|-----------------|------------------|
| Clogharney Church, Tyrone | } | —               | 5                |
| Six-Mile Cross            |   | 2 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 7 $\frac{1}{4}$  |
| Nine-Mile House           |   | 3 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 10 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Pomeroy                   |   | 5 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 14               |
| Cookstown                 |   | 8               | 22               |

About two Miles and a Half from Omagh, and a Mile on the R. is Drumconley, the Seat of Mr. Mc. Farlane.

Four Miles from Omagh, on the L. are the Ruins of a Church.

A Mile and a Half beyond Clogharney Church, on the R. is Cooley, the Seat of Mr. Lowry.

Within a Mile of Nine-Mile House, on the L. are the Ruins of a Church.

Within four Miles of Cookstown, on the R. at the Foot of a high Hill, are the Ruins of a Castle; and a Mile further, on the L. is Drum, the Seat of Mr. Richardson.—About half a Mile further, on the L. is Kildress Church.

Within a Mile of Cookstown, on the R. is the Seat of Mr. Hewitt; and near a Mile, on the R. of Cookstown, is Killymoore, the very fine Seat, with ample Demesnes, and noble Plantations of James Stewart, Esq.

From Omagh to Stewartstown.

|                   |                 |                  |
|-------------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Pomeroy, as above | —               | 14               |
| Sandholes         | 5               | 19               |
| Dunaghy           | 1 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 20 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Stewartstown      | 2               | 22 $\frac{3}{4}$ |

Three Miles and a Half from Pomeroy, on the R. is Waterards, the Seat of Mr. Williams.

Near a Mile beyond Sandholes, on the R. is Tullylaggan, the Seat of Mr. Wakefield; and on the L. is Delartcreat, that of Mr. Hamilton.

At Dunaghy, is a famous Spa.

A Mile beyond Dunaghy, on the L. is Donaghmore, the Seat of Mr. Bayley.

At Stewartstown, is the Seat of Mr. Caulfield; and about half a Mile from it, on the R. is Barrhill, the Seat of the Revd. Dr. Lill.

From Omagh to Dungannon.

|                   |                 |                  |
|-------------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Pomeroy, as above | —               | 14               |
| Donaghmore        | 5 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 19 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Dungannon         | 2 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 22               |

About half a Mile on the Right of Donaghmore, is Mulloghmore, the Seat of the Revd. Mr. Evans.

On the L. of Dungannon, are the Ruins of a Castle; and about a Mile from it, on the R. is Formhill, the most superb Seat of Lord Welles.

From Clogher to Newtown Butler.

|                        |                 |                  |
|------------------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Five-Mile Town, Tyrone | —               | 5                |
| Coltrain Church        | 3               | 8                |
| Brooksborough, Fer-    | }               | 10               |
| managh                 |                 |                  |
| Donough                | 6               | 16               |
| Newtown Butler         | 2 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 18 $\frac{1}{4}$ |

At Clogher, on the L. is the Seat of the Bishop of Clogher; and about half a Mile, on the R. is Curry-Clogher, that of the Revd. Mr. Keating; and on the L. Fordrois, that of Mr. King.

Near a Mile and a half from Clogher, on the R. is Lisbowie, the most beautiful Seat of Mr. Gledstanes.

Two Miles and a half beyond Five-Mile Town, on the R. is Colebrooke, a very fine and delightful Seat of the Rt. Hon. Sir Arthur Brooke, Bart.

About half a Mile from Coltrain Church, on the R. is Millyfield, the Seat of the Rev. Dr. Law; and near it Greenhill, that of Mr. Irvine.

About half a Mile, on the R. of Brookborough, is Littlemont, the Seat of Mr. Johnston.

A Mile beyond Brookborough, on the R. near the Road, is Aghavea Church; about three Quarters of a Mile further, on the L. is Nutfield, the Seat of Mr. Leslie; and a Mile and a half further, on the R. is Drimcrue, that of Mr. Balfour.

Within two Miles of Donough, on the L. is Glasdrummin, the Seat of Mr. Noble; and on the R. Holly-Brooke, that of Mr. Armstrong.

At Donough, on the L. are the Ruins of a Castle.

From Clogher to Magwire's Bridge.

Brookborough, as in P. 288 | 10
Magwire's Bridge * | 2 | 12

* See the direct Road from Dublin to Magwire's Bridge, P. 41, 42.

One Mile from Brookborough, and on the other side of the River, is Littlemont, the Seat of Mr. Johnston; and near it is a fine Seat called Hollymont.

Near three Miles from Magwire's Bridge, is Bellisle, the superb and beautiful Seat of the Earl of Ros. It is an Island in Lough Erne, of two hundred Acres, every Part of it Hill, Dale, and gentle Declivity. It has a great deal of Wood, much of which is old, and forms deep Shades, and open, cheerful Groves. The Trees hang on the Slope, and consequently shew themselves to the best Advantage. A Reach of the Lake passes before the House, which is situated near the Banks among some fine Woods, which give both Beauty and Shelter. This Sheet of Water, which is three Miles over, is bounded in Front by an Island of thick Wood, and by a bold circular Hill, which is his Lordship's Deer-Park; this Hill is backed by a considerable Mountain. To the Right are four or five Clumps of dark Wood; and as many Islands which rise boldly from the Lake, the Water breaking in Sheets between them, and forming a Scene extremely picturesque. On the other Side, the Lake stretches behind Wood, in a Streight, which forms Bellisle. Lord Ros has made Walls round the Island, from which there is a considerable Variety of Prospect. A Temple is built on a gentle Hill, commanding a View of the wooded Islands above-mentioned; but the most pleasing Prospect of them is coming out from the Grotto: They appear in an uncommon Beauty; two seem to join, and the Water that flows between, takes the Appearance of a fine Bay, projecting deep into a dark Wood. The Park rises above them, and the whole is backed with Mountains. The Home Scene at your Feet also is pleasing; a Lawn scattered with Trees, that forms the Margin of the Lake, closing gradually in a thick Wood of tall Trees, above the Tops of which is a distant View of Cul-teigh Mountains, which is thence seen in its proudest Solemnity.

From Newtown Stewart to Cookstown.

Gortin, Tyrone | — | 5
Downgate Rock | 9 1/4 | 14 1/4
Cookstown | 8 | 22 1/4

Near a Mile from Newtown Stewart, on the L. is Castle Moyel, the Seat of the Revd. Dr. Palliser; and about half a Mile further to the L. is the Seat of Mr. Colquhoun.

On the L. of Gortin is Beltrim, the Seat of Mr. Hamilton.

Within three Miles of Cookstown, on the L. near Kildrefs Church, is Drum, the Seat of Mr. Richardson; and about a Mile from it, on the R. is Turniskca, the Seat of Mr. Baillie.

From Monaghan to Enniskillen.

|                                |                |                 |
|--------------------------------|----------------|-----------------|
| Smithsborough, Monaghan | —              | 5               |
| Clones                         | $4\frac{3}{4}$ | $9\frac{3}{4}$  |
| Donough, Fermanagh      | $6\frac{1}{4}$ | 16              |
| Lisneskea                      | 3              | 19              |
| Magwire's Bridge               | $2\frac{1}{2}$ | $21\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Lisbellaw                      | $2\frac{1}{2}$ | 24              |
| Enniskillen                    | 4              | 28              |

A Mile and a Quarter from Monaghan, on the L. is Ballyleik, the Seat of Mr. Montgomery; about a Mile, on the R. Rolefield, the Seat of Mr. Montgomery; and about a Mile from it, on the L. is Brandrim, the Seat of Mr. Montgomery.

Three Miles from Monaghan, on the L. is Drumaconnor, the Seat of Mr. Nesbitt; a Mile further, on the R. is Tullaghan, that of Sir Foster, Bart. and on the L. Brook-Vale, the Seat of Mr. James.

A Mile beyond Clones, and near a Mile on the R. is Summer-Hill, the Seat of Mr. Noble; and a Mile further, on the L. is Knockballymore, the Seat of Lord Erne; near it, Bellmont, that of Mr. Coleston; and on the R. Jonestown, the Seat of Mr. Irvine.

Three Miles and a Quarter from Clones, and near the Road, on the L. are the Ruins of a Church.

A Mile and a Half beyond Donough, on the L. is Manor Water-House, the Seat of Mr. Madden.

Within a Mile of Lisneskea, on the R. is Glasdrummin, the Seat of Mr.

Noble; and near it, Hollybrooke, that of Mr. Armstrong.

At Lisneskea, on the L. is Balfour Castle, the fine Seat of Mr. Balfour; and a Mile beyond, on the R. is Lisnagoal, the Seat of Mr. Auchinleck.

On the L. of Magwire's Bridge, is Dromgown, the Seat of Mr. Hall; and near two Miles beyond, on the R. is Millwood, that of Mr. Crawford.

Within a Mile of Lisbellaw, on the R. is Snow-hill, the Seat of Mr. Young.

A Mile beyond Lisbellaw, on the L. is Derryvolen Church.

Within a Mile and a half of Enniskillen, on the L. is Dromcoo, the Seat of Mr. Gordon; and on the R. Cattlecoole, a fine Seat of Lord Belmore.

From Dundalk to Kells.

|                           |                |                 |
|---------------------------|----------------|-----------------|
| Ardee, Louth       | —              | $10\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Carlanstown, Meath | 12             | $22\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Kells              | $2\frac{1}{4}$ | $24\frac{3}{4}$ |

A Mile from Dundalk, on the L. is Fairhill, the Seat of Mr. Mercer; and two Miles further, and about a Mile to the L. is Clermont, the superb and beautiful Seat, with ample Demesnes, of the Earl of Clermont.

About two Miles from Clermont, on the R. is Cavan, the Seat of Mr. Byrne; Stevenstown, that of Mr. Fortescue; and Grange, that of Mr. Smith.

Five Miles and a half from Dundalk, on the R. is Killincoole, the Seat of Mr. Cobbe, situated on a Hill; and about a Mile, on the L. is Newtown Darver, that of Mr. Sheils.

Within three Miles of Ardee, on the R. close to the Road, are the Ruins of a Castle, and half a Mile further to the R. is Carbolis, the Seat of Mr. Lee.

Within two Miles of Ardee, on the R. are the Ruins of a Castle.

Near Ardee, on the R. are the Seats of Messrs. Ruxton; and on the L.

is the Castle, the fine Seat of Mr. Dawson.

Three Miles from Ardee, on the R. is Mantren, the Seat of Mr. Sillery; and a Mile further, Hoatstown, that of Mr. Adam.

A Mile beyond Hoatstown, on the L. are the Ruins of Suddon Castle, near the Church; on the R. is Benjer's Town, the Seat of Mr. Adam; and near a Mile further, are the Ruins of a Castle.

Within five Miles of Carlanstown, on the L. is Stevenstown, the Seat of Mr. Tooke; and near a Mile from it the Glebe Houſe of the Revd. Mr. Cloſe.

Within two Miles and a half of Carlanstown, and above a Mile on the R. is Screebege, the magnificent Seat of Mr. Crosby; and within two Miles of Carlanstown, on the L. is Styhalmog, the Seat of Mr. Fleming; and on the R. cloſe to the Road, is that of Mr. Fitzgerald.

Within a Mile of Kells, and near a Mile on the L. is Headfort, the very magnificent and delightful Seat, with extensive and beautiful Demefnes, Parks, and Plantations, of the Earl of Beſſive. The Grounds fall agreeably in Front of the Houſe, to a winding, narrow Vale, which is filled with Wood, where alſo is a Ruin; and on the other Side, the Lawn ſpreads over a large extent, and is every where bounded by very fine Plantations. To the Right the Town of Kells is pictureſquely ſituated among Groupes of Trees, with a fine waving Country and diſtant Mountains; to the Left is a rich Tract of Cultivation. The Plantations are numerous and thriving. Beſides theſe, and an incredible Quantity of Walling, his Lordſhip has walled in Seventy-fix Acres for a Garden and Nurſery, and built ſix or ſeven large Pineries, ninety Feet long each. He has built alſo a Farm Yard, two hundred and eighty Feet ſquare, totally ſurrounded with Offices of various Kinds.

From Kells to Athboy  $6\frac{3}{4}$

A Mile and a half from Kells, on the R. is Berford's Town, lately the Seat of Mr. Adam.

Within two Miles and a half of Athboy, on the R. is Gillstown, the Seat of Mr. Hopkins; and on the L. within a Mile and a half of Athboy, is Rathmore, the ſuperb and beautiful Seat of the Earl of Darnley.

From Athboy to Mullingar.

|                     |   |  |   |                                   |
|---------------------|---|--|---|-----------------------------------|
| Caſtle town Delvin, | } |  | — | 7                                 |
| Westmeath           |   |  |   |                                   |
| Mullingar           |   |  |   |                                   |
|                     |   |  |   | $10\frac{1}{2}$   $17\frac{1}{2}$ |

Near two Miles from Athboy, on the L. is Grenanstown, the fine Seat of Mr. Barnwall; and on the R. is the Seat of Mr. Leyburn.

Four Miles from Athboy, on the L. is Ballinlough, the fine Seat, with ample and beautiful Demefnes, of Hugh O'Reilly, Eſq.

At Caſtle town Delvin, on the R. is the magnificent and beautiful Seat of the Earl of Westmeath; and two Miles further, on the L. is Killough, the Seat of Mr. Browne; and on the R. Dyſart Lodge, that of Mr. Ogle.

A Mile and a half beyond Dyſart Lodge, on the L. is Reynela, the Seat of Mr. Reynell; and two Miles further, on the R. is Killynnan, that of the Revd. Mr. Reynell; and on the L. is Clonloſt, the Seat of Mr. Nugent.

Within four Miles of Mullingar, on the L. is Cookſborough, the Seat of Mr. Cooke; and two Miles further is Rathconnel, that of Mr. Adam.

From Dundalk to Carrick-macross }  $11\frac{1}{2}$

At Dundalk, on the R. is a Seat and Park of the Earl of Clanbraſſil.

Within three Miles and a half of Carrickmacross, on the R. is Drumurvie, the Seat of the Revd. Mr. Stopford; and a Mile and a half further, is Ballinmachney, that of Mr. Fitch.

Within two Miles of Carrickmacross, on the R. is Munchy, the Seat of Mr. Tenison; and within a Mile of the Town is Lisaneauk, that of Mr. Clements.

From Trim to Kells

11  $\frac{1}{2}$

Three Miles from Trim, and near a Mile on the R. is Phillpots, the Seat of Mr. Percival.

Six Miles from Trim, on the R. is Ardracran, a noble and beautiful Seat of the Bishop of Meath. You turn to the R. at the Distance of five Miles from Trim.

Within three Miles and a half of Kells, on the R. is Allen's Town, the Seat of Mr. Waller.

About a Mile on the R. of Kells, is Headfort, a very magnificent Seat, with extensive and fine Demaines, of the Earl of Beaufort.—See P. 293.

From Slane to Navan

6

Three Quarters of a Mile from Slane, on the L. close to the R. is Slane-Castle, the fine Seat of the Right Hon. William Conyngham. The Grounds are very bold and various, rising around the Castle in noble Hills, or beautiful Inequality of Surface, with an outline of flourishing Plantations. Under the Castle flows the Boyne in a Reach broken by Islands, with a very fine Shore of Rock on one Side, and Wood on the other. Through the lower Plantations are Ridings, which look upon several beautiful Scenes, formed by the River and Lake in the distant Country, exhibiting noble Views of waving cultivated Hills, with the Castle finely situated in the Midst of the planted Demaine, through which the Boyne winds its beautiful Course.

A Mile further, on the L. is Beau-Park, the Seat of Mr. Lambert. Under Mr. Lambert's House, on the River Boyne, is a most romantic and beautiful Spot; Rocks on one Side rising in peculiar Forms very boldly; on the other steep Wood, the River bending thole between them like a Land-locked Bason.

Two Miles and a half from Slane, on the R. is Stickallen, the noble Seat of Lord Viscount Boyne.

Three Miles and a half from Slane, and a Mile on the L. is Hay's Town, the fine Seat of the Bishop of Leighlin and Ferns, near the Ruins of a Church and Castle.

Within a Mile of Navan, on the R. are the Ruins of a Church.

From Slane to Kells

12

Near two Miles from Slane, on the R. is Grenanstown, the Seat of Mr. Forbes; and a Mile further, on the L. is Stickallen, the magnificent Seat of Lord Viscount Boyne.

Three Miles and a Half from Slane, on the L. is Christallen, the Seat of Mr. Tooke.

Near five Miles from Slane, on the R. is Kilberry Church; and a Mile and a Half beyond it, on the L. is Randlestown, the Seat of Mr. Everard; about a Mile and a Half from which, on the R. is Arch-Hall, the fine Seat of Mr. Payne.

Within two Miles and a Half of Kells on the L. of Kells, is Fyan's-Town, the Seat of Mr. Barnwall.

From Lisburn to Charlemont.

|                       |                 |                  |
|-----------------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Moir, Dowry    | —               | 6 $\frac{1}{2}$  |
| Magheralin            | 1 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 8                |
| Lurgan, Armagh | 2 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 10 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Portadown             | 5               | 15 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Loughgall             | 5 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 20 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Charlemont            | 3 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 24 $\frac{1}{2}$ |

Five Miles and a Half from Lisburn, to the R. is Trumry, the Seat of Mr. Spencer, near some Church Ruins.

Moir is a well laid out thriving Village, consisting of one broad Street, chiefly inhabited by Dealers, who carry on the Linen Manufacture very considerably. At the N. E. End of the Town is a handsome, well planted, and full grown Avenue leading to the superb and beautiful Seat of the Earl of Moira. The Demesnes, Plantations, and Gardens here are very extensive; the Walks, Vistas and Espaliers regular and grown to perfection. The Garden is adorned with a handsome Labyrinth, Ponds, Canals and Wood cut out in Vistas, at the Bottom of which is a Decoy. In a Parterre near the House is a well furnished Library; and on an Eminence in View of it a handsome Parish Church finely situated, the Front of which, and Part of the Steeple, are well executed in hewn Stone. It was built at the Expence of the late Sir John Rawdon; by whom was also founded a Charity School for cloathing and educating twenty-four poor Children. Near the School stands the Parsonage House, with a convenient Glebe laid out by Sir John Rawdon in Pursuance of a Statute of the third of George II. The Dissenters have two Meeting-Houses here. In the Parish are many Quarries of white Lime-stone.

Near Moira, and on the West of it, is the Seat of John Bateman, Esq; standing on an Eminence, and having a beautiful Prospect of Wood, and the Meanders of the River Lagan.

Magheralin is a small, well planted, and well-watered Village seated on the River Lagan, where the Bishop of Dromore has a Demesne, and a good See House, and the Incumbent of the Parish, who is Chantor of the Cathedral, a Glebe and Parsonage House. The Village is adorned with a handsome Church. Part of the Lands here, as well as those leading to the County of Antrim, abounds with a white flinty Limestone, mixed with Chalk, which renders the Springs issuing from the higher Grounds extremely soft, well tasted, and particularly noted for washing and whitening Linen. This Limestone is likely to prove an ample Manure for Wheat and Wheat Grounds; and the Grats and Herbage growing on the Places where it appears, is remarkably sweet. Marie Pits have been opened in the neighbourhood; and near it are several Manufactures and Bleach-Yards, there being scarce a Farmer hereabouts but what carries on some Branch of the Linen Business.

At Lurgan, on the R. is the magnificent Seat, with ample Demesnes, of the Right Hon. William Brownlow; and around are three Walks at a Distance from each other: The Centre one is the principal, and extends two Miles. It is well conducted for leading to the most agreeable Parts of the Grounds, and for commanding Views of Lough Neagh, and the distant Country. There are several Buildings, a Temple, Green-House, &c. The most beautiful Scene is from a Bench on a gently-swellling Hill, which rises almost on every Side from the Water. The Wood, the Water, and the green Slopes, here invite to form a very pleasing Landscape.

Within a Mile of Portadown, on the R. is the Seat of the Revd. Mr. Buckby, near Segoe Church, and on the R. of Portadown, is that of Mr. Obins.

A Mile beyond Portadown, on the L. is the Seat of Mr. Workman.

Near Loughgall, on the L. is the Seat of Mr. Cope; and about a Quarter of a Mile beyond it is Drummilly, the fine Seat of the Bishop of Clonfert.

Near two Miles beyond Loughgall, on the R. is Summer-Island, the Seat of Mr. Clarke; and on the L. Hayes-Hall, that of Mr. Hayes.

About half a Mile from Charlemont, on the R. is the Seat of Mr. Caulfield.

From Lisburn to Keady.

|                         |   |                  |
|-------------------------|---|------------------|
| Portadown, as in P. 296 | — | 152              |
| Richhill                | 5 | 20 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Armagh                  | 4 | 24 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Keady                   | 6 | 30 $\frac{1}{2}$ |

A Mile from Portadown, on the L. is the Seat of Mr. Workman, and two Miles further, is Bolton's Folly, that of Mr. Black.

Within two Miles of Richhill, on the R. is the Seat of the Revd. Mr. Bisset, near Kilmore Church.

At Richhill, on the R. is the Seat of Mr. Richardson; and two Miles beyond, and a Mile, on the R. is Castle Dillon, the fine Seat of the Right Hon. Sir Capel Molyneux, Bart.

Within half a Mile of Armagh, on the L. is the Seat of Mr. Cust.

Half a Mile beyond Armagh, on the L. is the magnificent Seat, with ample Domains of the Archbishop, the Lord Primate of all Ireland.

This Gentleman has made very great Improvement in his Domain. He has a Lake, at the bottom of a little Vale; the Palace is very elegant, ninety Feet by sixty, and forty high, in which an unadorned Simplicity reigns. It is light and pleasing, without the addition of Wings or less Parts, which too frequently wanting a sufficient uniformity with the Body of the Edifice, are unconnected with it in effect, and divide the attention. Large and ample Offices are conveniently placed behind a Plantation at a small Distance. Around the Palace is an extensive Lawn, which spreads on every Side over the Hills, and skirted by young Plantations, in one of which is a Terrace, which commands a most beautiful View of cultivated Hill and Dale. The View from the Palace is much improved by the Barracks, the School, and a new Church at a Distance, all which are so placed, as to be exceedingly ornamental to the whole Country.

To Castle-Shane.

|                      |                 |                  |
|----------------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Armagh, as in P. 298 | —               | 24 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Killyleagh           | 4 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 29 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Tynan                | 1 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 31               |
| Middleton            | 2               | 33               |
| Castle-Shane         | 4 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 37 $\frac{1}{4}$ |

Two Miles and a Half from Armagh, on the L. is Rosebrooke, the Seat of Mr. Maxwell.

Half a Mile beyond Tynan, on the R. is Fair View, the Seat of Mr. Strong.

Within Two Miles of Castle-Shane, on the R. is Killyneale, the Seat of Mr. Johnston.

At Castle-Shane, on the L. is the Seat of Mr. Lucas.

To Aughnacloy.

|                     |                 |                  |
|---------------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Tynan, as in P. 299 | —               | 31               |
| Callidon, Tyrone    | 1 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 32 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Creely              | 3 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 35 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Aughnacloy          | 2 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 38 $\frac{1}{4}$ |

Half a Mile beyond Callidon, on the R. is Aghinnas, a very noble Seat of Lord Belmore; and on the L. situated on the River Blackwater, is the Seat of Mr. Alexander.

Within a Mile of Aughnacloy, is Drumin, the Seat of Mr. Moore.

To Ballyhays.

|                     |                 |                  |
|---------------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Tynan, as in P. 299 | —               | 31               |
| Glaslough           | 2 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 33 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Monaghan, Monaghan  | 4 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 38 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Rockcorry           | 7 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 46 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Cootehill, Carran   | 4 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 51               |
| Ballynacargy        | 7 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 58 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Ballyhays           | 1 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 60               |

The Prospect hereabouts is every where charming. It is a fine Ride by Killylean Hill, Fellows Hall, Woodpark, Lodge, Lisloony, Tynan and Glaslough, which indeed is a Round that shews the Country to Advantage. Stop where you please, you are in the midst of a beautiful Landscape. The Hills are waving in every Variety of Outline that can be imagined: There is a great Plenty of Wood, every Tree of which is seen to Advantage from the Inequality of Surface. It is a cheerful, beautiful Country, and well worth a Traveller's Time to take this Ride, in order to see it.

At Glaslough, on the L. is Castle-Lessie, the fine Seat of Mr. Lessie.—

The Lake is a large one, containing 120 Acres, and the Wood 100 Acres, spreads over a fine, bold Hill, and hangs down to the Water in one deep Shade, the Effect of which is remarkably beautiful:—Additional Plantations are made and Walks cut through the whole.

Two Miles beyond Castle-Lessie, on the R. is Falkland, the Seat of the Revd. Dr. Maxwell.

Within a Mile and a Half of Monaghan, on the L. is Bess-mont, the Seat of Mr. Montgomery.

Five Miles beyond Monaghan, on the L. is Keaghan, the Seat of the Revd. Mr. Rogers.

A Mile and a Half beyond Rockcorry, on the L. is Fairfield, the Seat of Mr. Corry; and a Mile further, is Dawson's Grove, the noble and beautiful Seat, with extensive and fine Demesnes, of Lord Darcy.

Within a Mile of Cootehill, on the L. is Bellamont Forest, the superb Seat, with delightful and ample Parks and Plantations, of Lord Bellamont.

About a Mile beyond Cootehill, on the L. is Annalee, the Seat of Mr. Willis; and a Mile and a Half further, on the R. is Tullyvin, that of Mr. Moore; a Mile beyond which is Rathkenny, the Seat of Mr. Clements.

At Ballynacargy, on the R. is the Seat of Mr. Stephens; and about Half a Mile, on the L. is the Parsonage House of the Revd. Mr. Dundas.

Within half a Mile of Ballyhays, on the R. is the fine Seat of Mr. Newburgh.

From Cavan to Clones.

|                  |    |     |
|------------------|----|-----|
| Ballyhays, Cavan | —  | 3½  |
| Scots House      | 6½ | 10  |
| Clones           | 3¼ | 13¼ |

Near three Miles beyond Ballyhays, on the R. are the Ruins of a Church; and three Quarters of a Mile further, close to the Road, is Red-Hill, the Seat of Mr. Whyte.

On the L. of the Scots House, about a Mile, is Ann-Ville, the Seat of Mr. Ellis; and near a Mile beyond, is Maddea's Town, that of Mr. Madden; and further to the L. is Cara, the Seat of the Revd. Mr. Roper.

Within a Mile and a Half of Clones, on the R. is Lashnabuck, the Seat of Mr. Bradshaw.

From Cavan to Swanlinbar.

|             |     |     |
|-------------|-----|-----|
| Crofsdony   | —   | 4½  |
| Killefandra | 4¾  | 9¾  |
| Swanlinbar  | 13½ | 22¾ |

Near three Miles from Cavan, on the L. is Kilmore, a fine Seat, of the Bishop of Kilmore; and a Mile and a Half further, on the R. is Bingfield, the Seat of Mr. Story.

Two Miles beyond Crofsdony, on the L. is Gortinardrafs, the Seat of Mr. Veatch; and near it Lahard, that of Mr. Young.

Three Miles and a Half beyond Killefandra, on the R. is Greenville, the Seat of Mr. Thornton.

Within four Miles and a Half of Swanlinbar, on the R. is Baunboy, the Seat of Captain Enery. It is situated under Slieve Ruffel Mountain, which is of a prodigious Height, and divides the Counties of Fermanagh and Cavan.

For an Account of Swanlinbar, see Page 56.

From Belfast to Ballycastle.

|                  |    |     |
|------------------|----|-----|
| Carmoney, Antrim | —  | 5½  |
| Doagh            | 4½ | 10  |
| Connor           | 6¾ | 16¾ |
| Kells            | 1½ | 17¼ |
| Ballymena        | 3¾ | 21  |
| Stranockum       | 15 | 36  |
| Ballycastle      | 8  | 44  |

Belfast is a very well built Town. The Streets are broad and strait, and the Inhabitants, amounting to about 15,000, make it appear lively and busy. The public Buildings are not numerous, or very striking; but over the Exchange there is an Assembly Room, sixty Feet long, by thirty broad, and twenty-four high, being a very elegant Room. The Town belongs to the Earl of Donegal.

A Mile from Belfast on the L. is Mount Collier, the Seat of Mr. McDonald; and near it are the Seats of Mr. Thomson, Mr. Lewis, and Mr. Lendrick.

Two Miles and a Half from Belfast, on the L. is Park-Mount, a Seat of the Earl of Donegal.

A little beyond Carmoney, on the R. is the Seat of the Revd. Mr. Thomson.

A Mile beyond Doagh, on the L. are the Seats of Messrs. Allen.

A Mile and a Half beyond Kells, on the R. is Limenary, the Seat of Mr. Dogherty.

Half a Mile beyond Ballymena, on the L. is Hillhead, the Seat of John Dickey, Esq; and near two Miles further, on the R. is Lodge, that of Mr. Adair.

At Stranockum, on the R. is the Seat of Mr. Leslie; and Half a Mile further, on the L. is Clover-Hill, that of Mr. Henry.

Two Miles beyond Stranockum, on the L. is Grace-Hill, the Seat of Mr. Stewart; and a Mile further, Chatham-Hall, that of Mr. Dunlap.

Within two Miles of Ballycastle, on the L. are the Ruins of a Castle.

At Ballycastle, are the Seats of Messrs. Boyd, the Proprietors of the Collieries near that Place.

From Belfast to Ballymoney.

|                         |                 |                  |
|-------------------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Ballymena, as in P. 302 | —               | 21               |
| Clogh                   | 6               | 27               |
| Clogh Mills             | 2               | 29               |
| Ballymoney              | 6 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 35 $\frac{1}{4}$ |

Half a Mile from Ballymena, on the L. is Hill-Head, the Seat of John Dickey, Esq.

Within a Mile of Clogh, on the R. close to the Road, is the Seat of Mr. Coples; and about Half a Mile, on the L. is Ballyreagh, that of Mr. McNaughton.

Two Miles and a Half beyond Clogh Mills, on the L. is Killagan, the Seat of Mr. Moore.

From Ballymoney to Ballycastle 12

From Ballymoney to Stranockum is four Miles, and from Stranockum to Ballycastle is eight.—For remarks, see the preceding Page.

From Londonderry to Giants Causeway, and Glenarm.

|                   |                  |                  |
|-------------------|------------------|------------------|
| Muff, Londonderry | —                | 5 $\frac{1}{2}$  |
| Ballykelly        | 5                | 10 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Newtown Limavady, | 2 $\frac{1}{4}$  | 12 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Coleraine, Antrim | 10 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 23               |
| Bush Mills        | 6 $\frac{1}{4}$  | 29 $\frac{1}{4}$ |

[Giants Causeway but two Miles from Bush Mills.]

|              |                 |                  |
|--------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Ballintoy    | 5 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 35               |
| Ballycastle  | 4 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 39 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Newtownglens | 11              | 50 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Cairnlough   | 7 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 58 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Glenarm      | 2 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 60 $\frac{3}{4}$ |

Near two Miles from Londonderry, on the L. and the opposite Side of the River Foyle, is Broom-Hall, the Seat of Mr. Alexander; and near it, Brook-Hall, that of Mr. Wiay.

Near three Miles from Londonderry, on the L. are Ruins of a Church.

At Muff, on the L. is Cullfinny, the Seat of Mr. Huey; and Half a Mile from it, is Flowerfield, the Seat also of Mr. Huey.

Three Miles and a Quarter beyond Muff, on the R. are the Ruins of a Church; and a Mile further, on the L. situated on the Banks of Lough Foyle, is Wallworth House, a most superb and elegant Seat, with ample and beautiful Demesne, of the Right Hon. John Beresford.

Within a Mile and a Half of Newtown Limavady, on the L. is Glebe-Hall, the Seat of the Revd. Dr. Hamilton; and half a Mile, on the L. is Daisy-Hill, the Seat of Mr. McCausland.

A Mile beyond Newtown Limavady, on the R. are the Seats of Mr. Thornton, and Mr. McCausland; and Half a Mile to the R. are the Ruins of Strieve Church.

At Coleraine, are the magnificent and beautiful Seats, with very extensive Domains, of the Right Hon. Richard Jackson, the Right Hon. Edward Cary, and Mr. Richardson.

Two Miles beyond Coleraine, on the R. is Clyfin, the Seat of Mr. Lyle; and near two Miles further, on the L. is Bardyfield, the superb Seat of Mr. McNaughton.

A Mile and a Half from Bardyfield, on the L. is Ballymagarry, a very magnificent Seat of the Earl of Antrim.

On the L. of Bush-Mills is the Seat of the Revd. Mr. Leslie; and a Mile and a Half beyond it is Doway, that of Mr. Wray; and on the R. Clogher, the Seat of Mr. Dunkin.

About a Mile and a Half from Mr. Wray's Seat, Doway, on the L. is the Giant's Caulway, esteemed one of the greatest Curiosities in the world. It extends from the Foot of a steep Hill into the Sea, being of a triangular Form; the Length of it at low Water being above two hundred Yards, and of a considerable Breadth. It consists of several thousand Pillars, some triangular, and others octangular, but most of five and six Sides; all the Sides are irregular, and from sixteen to twenty-four Inches Diameter. Every Pillar has as many others joined round it as it hath Sides, except the outward ones, which have one, two, or three Faces to View. Some are much longer and higher than the rest, some shorter, and more broken; some, for a pretty large Space, of equal Height, so that their Tops make an equal Surface. Every Pillar is made up of several Joints or Pieces, from twelve to twenty-four Inches long, not joined together by flat Surfaces; but when one Part of the Pillar is separated from the other, one Piece is always concave, and the other convex, joined to each other in a Kind of Articulation. Some of the Columns are thirty-six Feet high above the Strand; how far they reach under Ground is not known, though they have been traced eight Feet deep. The Stone is a heavy, dark, brown Grit, abounding with Iron Ore. The whole Caulway is certainly natural, though some imagine it the Production of Art. Something like it may be seen on the opposite Coast of Scotland.

Three Miles beyond Bush Mills, on the L. is Dunfaverick, the Seat of Mr. McNeil; and near it are the Ruins of a Castle.

Five Miles from Bush-Mills, on the R. is Craig, the Seat of Mr. McNeil.

At Ballintoy, on the L. is the Seat of Mr. Stewart, near the Church.

By Dervock.

|                         |                  |                  |
|-------------------------|------------------|------------------|
| Coleraine, as in P. 304 | —                | 23               |
| Dervock                 | 7 $\frac{1}{4}$  | 30 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Moss-Side               | 13 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 33 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Ballycastle             | 16               | 39 $\frac{1}{2}$ |

Two Miles and a Half from Coleraine, on the L. are the Ruins of a Church; and two Miles and a Half further, on the R. are those of a Castle.

About half a Mile beyond Dervock, on the R. is Belleisle, the Seat of Mr. Legge; and a Mile and a Half further, is Clover-Hill, that of Mr. Henry.

Within a Mile of Moss-Side, on the R. is Grace-Hill, the Seat of Mr. Stewart.

Within Two Miles and a Half of Ballycastle, on the R. are the Ruins of a Castle.

From Newtown Limavady to Ballymoney, Kilrea, Portglenone, and New Ferry.

To Ballymoney.

|                   |                 |                  |
|-------------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Aughadoway Church | —               | 9 $\frac{1}{4}$  |
| Cross Ferry       | 3 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 13               |
| Ballymoney        | 2 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 15 $\frac{1}{4}$ |

A Mile from Newtown Limavady, on the L. is Strieve, the Seat of Mr. Thornton; and near it, Fruit-Hill, that of Mr. McCausland.

Near the Ferry, is Agivey, the Seat of Mr. Du Prie; and a quarter of a Mile from it, on the R. are the Ruins of a Church.

Within a Mile of Ballymoney, on the L. is O'Hara's Brook, the Seat of Mr. O'Hara.

On the L. of Ballymoney is Leslie Hill, the fine Seat of Mr. Leslie.

To Kilrea.

|                      |                 |                  |
|----------------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Garvagh, Londonderry | —               | 10 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Defart Church        | 1 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 12 $\frac{1}{4}$ |
| Kilrea               | 3 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 15 $\frac{1}{2}$ |

Near a Mile from Garvagh, on the L. are the Ruins of a Church.

About a quarter of a Mile from Defart Church, on the L. is Mulletragh, the Seat of Mr. Church.

To Portglenone.

|                |                 |                  |
|----------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Garvagh        | —               | 10 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Tamlagh Church | 6 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 17               |
| Portglenone    | 3 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 20 $\frac{3}{4}$ |

Within two Miles of Tamlagh Church, on the L. is the Glebe House of the Revd. Dr. Torrens.

Two Miles beyond Tamlagh Church, on the R. is Ennistruff, the Seat of Mr. Ellis.

At Portglenone, on the R. is the Seat of Mr. Hamilton.

To New Ferry.

|           |                  |                  |
|-----------|------------------|------------------|
| Garvagh   | —                | 10 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| New Ferry | 12 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 23               |

At New Ferry is the fine Seat of Mr. Courtney.

From Strabane to Clady.

|                  |                 |                  |
|------------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Dunymagh, Tyrone | —               | 6                |
| Donaghedy Church | 1               | 7                |
| Clady            | 5 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 12 $\frac{3}{4}$ |

A Mile and a Half from Strabane, on the R. is Waterfall; and near two Miles further is Holly-Hill, the Seat of Mr. Sinclair.

At Dunymagh, on the R. is the Seat of Mr. Hamilton; and about half a Mile beyond, on the L. are the Ruins of a Castle, and on the R. is the Seat of the Revd. Mr. Hamilton.

A Mile and a Half beyond Donaghedy Church, on the R. is Ballykellaghan, the Seat of Mr. Bond.

Within two Miles of Clady, on the R. is Ballygartin, the Seat of Mils Mc.Culloch.

Within a Mile of Clady, on the R. near the Church, is the Seat of Mr. Ross; and near it is Beaufort Lodge, the fine Seat also of Mr. Ross.

From Dungannon to Callidon, Aughnacloy, and Balligawly.

To Callidon.

|                |                 |                 |
|----------------|-----------------|-----------------|
| Eglisb, Tyrone | —               | 3               |
| Dyon           | 4               | 7               |
| Callidon       | 2 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 9 $\frac{1}{2}$ |

Dungannon is an ancient Borough and Market Town, and hath a Barrack for a Troop of Horse. It was formerly the chief Seat of the O'Neils, Kings of Ulster, and gave the Title of Viscount to the Family of Trevor, as it now does that of Baron to the Lord Viscount Vane. This Town is remarkable for the Assembly of the Ulster Delegation of Volunteers, on the 15th of February, 1782, a glorious Period in the Annals of Ireland! The Resolves of this patriotic Assembly, dictated by the Spirit of Wisdom and Fortitude, had no small Influence in obtaining a Restoration of the Imperial Rights of the Nation, which had long been withheld from it by the Intervention of a foreign Legislature. The Emancipation of the Irish Roman-Catholics, shackled by a Code of impolitic and inhuman Penal Laws, was effected in consequence of that Meeting; whence that large and loyal Body of Men date a new Æra and Revolution, settled on the broad Basis of constitutional Independence and Liberty. Many Causes contributed to this great Event. The Liberality of the present Age, when Superstition and Bigotry have been completely put to Flight, must be reckoned among the chief; and the numerous excellent Productions that have issued from the Press, in favour of the natural Rights of Mankind, greatly seconded that liberal Spirit, and proved the Impolicy of a Code of Laws, that, like those of DRACO, were conceived in Cruelty, and written in Blood.

On the L. of Dungannon is Formhill, the fine Seat of Mr. Knox.

Near Callidon, is Ahenis, the Seat of Lord Belmore.—The Castle belongs to the Earl of Cork and Orrery.

To Aughnacloy.

|                          |    |    |
|--------------------------|----|----|
| Castle-Caulfeild, Tyrone | —  | 2½ |
| Carnteel                 | 5¼ | 7¾ |
| Aughnacloy               | 1¾ | 9½ |

At Castle-Caulfeild, is a most noble and elegant Seat of the Earl of Charlemont.

Within a Mile of Carnteel, on the L. is Baun, the Seat of Mr. Moore.

About half a Mile from Aughnacloy is Revalla, the fine Seat of Miss Moore.

To Balligawly.

|                  |   |    |
|------------------|---|----|
| Castle-Caulfeild | — | 2½ |
| Balligawly       | 7 | 9½ |

Within a quarter of a Mile of Balligawly, on the L. is the Seat of Mr. Gorges.

From Downpatrick to Antrim.

|                    |    |     |
|--------------------|----|-----|
| Ballynahinch, Down | —  | 7¾  |
| Lisburn, Antrim    | 8  | 15¾ |
| Stoneyford         | 4¼ | 20  |
| Antrim             | 10 | 30  |

A Mile from Downpatrick, on the R. is Finebrogue, the Seat of Mr. Maxwell.

Ballynahinch is in the Barony of Kinelarty, and stands near the Centre of the County of Down, on a little River.

The Country about it is extremely coarse, and full of Rocks and Hills. The small Lakes, however, interspersed in the Bosom of the Hills, give Rise to many little Brooks and Rivers, and help to divert the weary Travellers Eyes as they pass along. About two Miles S. S. W. of this Place, on the skirts of a Mountain called Slieve-Croob, is an excellent chalybeo-sulphureous Spa, but not much frequented.

About half a Mile on the L. of Ballynahinch, is Montalto, a very fine Seat of the Earl of Moira.

Four Miles and a Half beyond Ballynahinch, on the L. is Larchfield, the fine Seat of Mr. Mussenden.

A Mile and a Quarter beyond Lisburn, on the L. is Ballymacash, the beautiful Seat of Mr. Smith.

Within four Miles of Antrim, on the L. is Killhead Church.

Within a Mile and a Half of Antrim, on the R. is Green-Mount, the Seat of Mr. Thomson; and about three quarters of a Mile from it, nearer Antrim, and close to the Road, is Ballow, the Seat of Mr. Wilson.

At Antrim, on the L. is the Castle, a very superb and noble Seat of the Earl of Massareene.

From Dungiven to Antrim, Belfast, and Carrickfergus.

|                      |     |     |
|----------------------|-----|-----|
| Maghera, Londonderry | —   | 10  |
| Ballaghy             | 5¼  | 15¼ |
| Randalstown, Antrim  | 8¾  | 24  |
| Antrim               | 4½  | 28½ |
| Carrickfergus        | 15¼ | 43¾ |

On the R. of Dungiven, is the Castle, the Seat of the Right Hon. Edward Cary.

At Maghera, on the R. is the Glebe-House of the Revd. Lord Viscount Strangford.

Two Miles beyond Randalstown, is Shane's Castle, the noble Seat, with very extensive Demesnes and Plantations, of the Right Hon. John O'Neil. The Castle is most beautifully situated on Lough Neagh, the Windows commanding a very noble View of it; and this has the finer effect, as the Woods are considerable, and form a fine Accompaniment to the Lough. Within four Miles of Carrickfergus, on the L. is the Seat of Mr. Ellis.

From Dungiven to Belfast.

|                |    |                  |
|----------------|----|------------------|
| Antrim  | —  | 28 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Belfast | 12 | 40 $\frac{1}{2}$ |

A Mile from Antrim, on the R. is Green Mount, the Seat of Mr. Thomson. Within two Miles of Belfast, on the R. is New York, the Seat of Mr. Greig; and near it, Springfield, that of Mr. Cunningham.

From Belfast to Killyleagh.

|                     |                 |                 |
|---------------------|-----------------|-----------------|
| Cumber, Down | —               | 6 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Killyleagh   | 9 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 16              |

A Mile from Belfast, on the R. is Mount Pottinger, the Seat of Mr. Pottinger; and a Mile from it Orange-Field, that of Mr. Bateson.

Two Miles and a Half from Belfast, on the L. are the Seats of Mr. Bamber, Mr. Matthew, and Mr. Halliday; and on the R. is Tullycarnet, the Seat of Mr. Montgomery.

Within a Mile and a Quarter of Cumber, on the R. is Ballyloughan, the Seat of the Revd. Mr. Stone.

Cumber is situated on a Branch of the Lake of Strangford. It is a mean Place, and has no Trade; but seems, by its Situation, to be fit for it, on Account of the Advantages of the Tide. There is here at low Water a pleasant Strand of some Thousands of Acres; and near the Town is a Horse-Courte of a noted fine Sod, two Miles in Circuit.

A Mile and a Half beyond Cumber, on the L. is Ballygraffan, the Seat of Mr. Adair.

Three Miles beyond Ballygraffan, lying three quarters of a Mile to the L. is Rock-Mount, the Seat of the Revd. Dr. Trail; and near it, seated on a high Hill, whence there is a very extensive Prospect, is Killinchy Church, which, on Account of its Situation and being seen at a great Distance, may be properly called The Visible Church.

Within three Miles of Killyleagh, on the L. is Moore-Hall, the Seat of Mr. Moore; and Mount-Potter, that of Mr. Potter; and about a Mile further, on the R. is Toye, the Seat of Mr. Baillie.

At Killyleagh, on the R. are the Seats of Sir John Blackwood, Bart. and Mr. Hamilton.

Killyleagh is the principal Town of the Barony of Duffrin, and seated on an Arm of the Lake of Strangford, from which it is supplied with a great Variety of Fish. It is built on a rising Ground, dry and healthy, and has a commanding Prospect of the Lake, the Ardes, and St. George's Channel. At the lower End of the Town is a little, safe Bay, where Ships lie sheltered from all Winds. The Town consists of good Houses, a decent Market-House, a Horse-Barrack, and a Presbyterian Meeting House. The Linen Manufacture thrives greatly here; and its fine Thread is in great Esteem.

From Killyleagh to Downpatrick 5

A Mile and a Half from Killyleagh, on the L. is a very fine Seat, called Dallymount; and on the opposite Side of the Water, at the Distance of a Mile and a Half, is Lisbawn, the beautiful Seat of Lord Bangor.

Within a Mile and a Half of Downpatrick, on the R. is Finebrouge, the Seat of Mr. Maxwell.

From Magherafelt to Ballaghy.

|                                     |                 |                 |
|-------------------------------------|-----------------|-----------------|
| Dawson's Bridge, Londonderry | —               | 2               |
| Ballaghy                     | 2 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 4 $\frac{1}{2}$ |

On the L. of Dawson's Bridge is Castle-Dawson, the fine Seat of Mr. Dawson.

Within half a Mile of Ballaghy, on the R. is Rosegin, the Seat of Mr. Downing; and on the L. is Mount-Thomas, that of Mr. Rankine.

From Antrim to Templepatrick 4

At Temple-Patrick, on the L. is Castle-Upton, the noble and delightful Seat of Lord Templetown. There is here a remarkable Spring-Well, of very limpid Water, frequented by People afflicted with Head-aches.

From Moira to Killyleagh.

|                    |                 |                  |
|--------------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Hillsborough, Down | —               | 5                |
| Ballynahinch       | 7               | 12               |
| Killyleagh         | 8 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 20 $\frac{1}{4}$ |

At Moira is the Castle, a noble and beautiful Seat of the Earl of Moira.—For a farther Account see P. 296.

At Hillsborough is a fine Seat of the Earl of Hillsborough, with very extensive and beautiful Demesnes appertaining to it.

Hillsborough is pleasantly situated on a healthy, gravelly Soil, in View of Lisburn, Belfast, the Bay and Town of Carrickfergus, and commanding a great Extent of Prospect into a well improved Country. In this Town King William III. soon after Landing at Carrickfergus, halted two Nights, and hence gave Orders to his Army to take the Field, and march to Dundalk. The Mule-Course is upwards of a Mile North of the Town, near the Banks of the River Lagan. A rising Hill in the Middle of the Course, about two Miles in Circumference, affords the Spectators a full View of the whole Field; and on the Summit of the Hill a wooden Tower is erected, open on all Sides, for Spectators to sit in.

Near three Miles from Hillsborough, on the L. is Ballylinleagh, the Seat of Mr. Keowan.

At Ballynahinch, on the R. is Monta'to, a very fine Seat of the Earl of Moira.

Three Miles beyond Ballynahinch, on the L. is Liswiney, the Seat of Mr. Isaac; and near a Mile from it, on the R. is Redemon, that of Mr. Johnston.

From Dromore to Castlewellan 11  $\frac{1}{2}$

Dromore is the See of a Bishop, which was founded by St. Colman in the sixth Century; but was since enlarged, and several Town Lands were granted to the See by Letters Patent of King James I. The Cathedral is small, yet is commodious and decent. It is not built in the usual Manner of Cathedrals, in Form of a Cross, nor is there any Revenue for supporting Cathedral Service; the Incumbent or Dromore, who is Treasurer in the Chapter, discharging the Duties of the whole Parish.—This Town, in the fourteenth Century, was the Place of Exile of two corrupt English Judges, Sir John Holt and Sir Robert Belknap, who, for delivering their opinions, that the then reigning Monarch, Richard II. was above the Laws, were found guilty of High Treason, and condemned to die; but at the Intercession of the Clergy, and some temporal Lords, their Sentences were mitigated into Banishment.

A Mile from Dromore, on the R. is Fair-View, the Seat of Mr. Agnew; and two Miles further, on the L. is Waringsford, that of Mr. Knox. It is situated on a Branch of the River Lagan.

Within half a Mile of Castlewellan, on the L. is a fine Seat of Lord Viscount Glerawly.

Two Miles from Castlewellan is Brian'sford, a very superb Seat of the Earl of Clanbrassil. There are here two Deer Parks, remarkable for excellent Venison, finely wooded, cut into Ridings and Villas, and watered by a River running through it in a Channel of Rocks and Precipices, which passes under a Bridge of hewn Stone, from which are beautiful Prospects of the Sea. Castlewellan is the Head of a Manor, and pleasantly situated on the Side of a small Lake, called after the Name of the Place. A Mountain, Part of the Manor, clothed with Wood, and a good Prospect of the Sea to the South, enliven the natural wild Beauties around it.

From Rossfrewar to Moira and Lurgan.

To Moira.

|                       |                 |                 |
|-----------------------|-----------------|-----------------|
| Clanduff Church, Down | —               | 5 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Rathfriland           | 2 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 8               |

Dromore 11 19
Moirá 5 24

Rostrevor is a Village, seated on Carlingford Bay, well defended from the Severity of the Winds and open Sea. At the lower End of the Village is a small Quay for Ships, which ride at Anchor within a few Yards of the Shore; and here is also a Salt Work, and a Pottery for a white Earthen Ware, made of the fine Clay found near Carrickfergus, and frequently exported to foreign Parts. Mr. Rost's House here is large and beautiful, and his Demesnes and Plantations are very extensive. The high Mountains above it, planted with well-grown Oaks, and at the Bottom an arm of the Sea, forming a noble Basin, afford a very agreeable Prospect.

Near a Mile from Rostrevor, on the R. are the Ruins of a Church; and on the L. is Moore Park, the beautiful Seat of Mr. Moore.

On the R. of Clanduff Church is the Seat of the Revd. Mr. Morgan.

Rathfriland is situated on rising Ground, and hath four great strait Roads leading up to it, and centering in the Town. It is built on a Freestone Rock, of a firm close Texture, fit for Building, with which the adjacent Lands abound, and is easily cut into different Forms. At one end of the Street is a small, decent Church, built and furnished with suitable Ornaments by John and Robert Hawkins Magill, Esqrs. And here the Dissenters have a Meeting-House, and a little South of the Town is a small Horse Course. On the Summit of the Hill are the Ruins of an ancient Castle, formerly one of the Mansion-Houses of the Magennis's, Lords Iveagh.

About half a Mile from Rathfriland, on the L. is Liffize, a Seat of the Earl of Clanwilliam; and upwards of a Mile N. E. is Ballyrone, a fine Plantation of Forest Trees, near the Verge of a pleasant Lake, called Ballyrone Lake.

Seven Miles beyond Rathfriland, on the R. is Ballooily, the Seat of Mr. Magennis.

About three Quarters of a Mile, on the L. of Moira, is the Seat of the Revd. Mr. Smith, near the Church.

To Lurgan.

Dromore, Down 1 19
Lurgan, Armagh 6 25 1/4

A Mile and a Quarter from Dromore, on the L. is Gillhall, a Seat of the Earl of Clanwilliam; and about half a Mile further to the L. is Tullycarn, the Seat of Mr. Magill.

Near two Miles and a half from Dromore, on the R. is Spring-Hall, the Seat of Mr. Waddell.

Within a Mile and a half of Lurgan, on the R. is the Seat of Mr. Grier; and on the L. is Harry-Mount, that of Mr. Jennings.

On the R. of Lurgan is the superb and beautiful Seat of the Rt. Hon. William Brownlow.—See P. 298.

From Newry to Ballybay.

Ballywire Church, Armagh } 7 1/2
Newtown Hamilton 12 9 1/2
Castleblaney, Monaghan 17 1/2 17
Ballybay 5 1/2 22 1/2

N. B. To Newtown Hamilton by Belleek Town is eight Miles and a half.

Newry is one of the most considerable Towns in the County, and is seated on the Newry Water, which is a Boundary Westward. It is almost surrounded by Mountains and rocky Hills, except to the North and North-West, where a Prospect opens into a good Country, through which the Canal is now carried.

Half a Mile from Newry, on the R. is Liddrumgullion, the Seat of Mr. Nedham; and a Mile and a half from Newry, near the Road, is Moore Vale, the Seat of Mr. Moore.

Three Miles and a Quarter from Newry, on the R. is Tullyhappy, the Seat of Mr. Blacker.

Within half a Mile of Ballywire Church, on the L. and the cross Road from Newry to Newtown-Hamilton, is Ballymoyer Lodge, the Seat of Sir Walter Synnot, Bart. The House is beautifully situated by the Side of a deep Glen, with a fine Stream running amongst Rocks through it. The Plantations are extensive, and elegantly laid out.

At Castle Blaney, on the L. is a fine Seat of Lord Blaney, with ample and beautiful Demesnes.

From Killough to Belfast.

|                          |                 |                  |
|--------------------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Downpatrick, Down | —               | 5                |
| Inch Church       | 2               | 7                |
| Everog Bridge     | 2 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 9 $\frac{3}{4}$  |
| Saintfield        | 3 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 13 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Newton Breda      | 6 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 19 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Belfast           | 3 $\frac{1}{4}$ | 23               |

Killough is situated North of St. John's Point, and hath a good Quay, where Ships lie very safe. The Town is agreeably situated, the Sea flowing all along the Backs of the Houses, where Ships ride in full View of the Inhabitants. There is here a decent Church, and a Horse Barrack. They have good Fishing in the Bay; but the principal Trade of the Place consists in the Exportation of Barley, and the Importation of such Commodities as are consumed in the adjacent Country. A Manufacture of Salt is also carried on here with great Advantage. At a small distance from the Town is a Charter Working School, for the Reception of twenty Children. Some of the Boys are employed in making Fishing-Nets; a few of the more robust are fitted for the Sea, and the Rest apprenticed to Protestant Farmers and Linen-Weavers.—There is a remarkable Well here, called St. Scordin's Well. It is highly esteemed for the extraordinary Lightness of its Water. It gushes out of a high rocky Bank, close upon the Shore, and is observed never to diminish its Quantity in the driest Seasons. There is also a Mineral Spring near the Charter-

School, which the Inhabitants affirm to be both purgative and emetic.

Near four Miles from Killough, on the L. is Marlborough House, a very superb and beautiful Edifice, the Seat of Lord Clifford.

Downpatrick is a large well-built Town, composed of four long Streets, centering near a Point, exclusive of smaller Streets and Lanes. It was made the See of a Bishop by St. Patrick, and has been united to the See of Connor ever since 1442. About a Mile from it is a noted Horse-Course, where, pursuant to a Charter granted by King James II. Plates given by the Corporation of Horse-breeders are run for.

On the L. of Inch Church, is Finebrouge, the Seat of Mr. Maxwell.

Half a Mile beyond Everog Bridge, on the L. is Redemon, the Seat of Mr. Johnston.

Half a Mile beyond Saintfield, on the R. near the Road, is the fine Seat of Mr. Price.

Within half a Mile of Newton Breda, on the L. is Purdisburn, the Seat of Mr. Wilson; and a Quarter of a Mile beyond it is Belvoir, a fine Seat of Lord Dungannon.

Three Quarters of a Mile beyond Newton Breda, on the L. is Caldwell, the Seat of Mr. Portis.

Within a Mile of Belfast, on the R. is Mount Pottinger, the fine Seat of Mr. Pottinger.

From Armagh to Gilford, Banbridge, Loughbrickland, and Rathfriland.

To Gilford, by Hamilton's Bawn.

|                                |                 |                 |
|--------------------------------|-----------------|-----------------|
| Hamilton's Bawn, Armagh | —               | 3 $\frac{3}{4}$ |
| Tanderagee              | 4 $\frac{3}{4}$ | 8 $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| Gilford, Down           | 2 $\frac{1}{2}$ | 11              |

For a Description of the Lord Primate's Palace at Armagh, see P. 299.

Half a Mile from Armagh, on the R. is Ballynahone, the Seat of Mr. Cust.

About half a Mile beyond Tanderagee, on the R. is Glebe-Hill, the Seat of the Revd. Dr. Leslie.

At Gilford, on the R. is the Seat of Sir Richard Johnston, Bart. The Meanders of the River Bann about this Place, and the rising Grounds surrounding it, adorned with Woods, and the Bottoms variegated with Bleach Yards, afford a very agreeable Prospect, particularly in the bleaching Season.

To Gilford, by Richhill.

|                         |    |     |
|-------------------------|----|-----|
| Richhill, Armagh | —  | 4   |
| Tanderagee              | 5  | 9   |
| Gilford                 | 2½ | 11½ |

At Richhill, on the L. is the Seat of Mr. Richardson; and two Miles and a half beyond it, is Dawson's Grove, that of Mr. Kelly.

To Banbridge.

|                                |    |    |
|--------------------------------|----|----|
| Tanderagee, by Hamilton's Bawn | —  | 8½ |
| Banbridge                      | 5½ | 14 |

Two Miles beyond Tanderagee, on the L. is Tallyho, the Seat of Mr. Johnston.

To Loughbrickland.

|                                |    |     |
|--------------------------------|----|-----|
| Hamilton's Bawn, Armagh | —  | 3½  |
| Clare                          | 3¾ | 7½  |
| Scarva, Down            | 2¾ | 10¼ |
| Loughbrickland                 | 2½ | 12¼ |

Three Miles from Hamilton's Bawn, on the L. is Redbrae, the Seat of Mr. Lee.

At Clare, on the L. is Clare Castle, the Seat of Mr. Dawson; and near it is the Seat of Mr. Harden.

A Mile and a half beyond Clare, and near a Mile to the L. is Glebe-Hill, the Seat of the Revd. Dr. Leslie.

Half a Mile beyond Scarva, on the R. is the Seat of Mr. Reilly; and near it Union Lodge, that of Mr. Dawson, situated close to a Lough, which nearly adjoins the Newry Canal.

Loughbrickland, (which signifies the Lake of the Speckled Trout) consists of one broad Street, at the South End of which is the Parish Church.

|                                    |   |
|------------------------------------|---|
| From Loughbrickland to Rathfriland | 7 |
|------------------------------------|---|

Within a Mile and a Quarter of Loughbrickland, on the L. is Tullyquoily, the pleasant Seat of Mr. Willock.

END OF THE CROSS ROADS.

CIRCUITS OF THE JUDGES.

The Assize Towns are marked with an Asterisk, thus, (*).

MUNSTER CIRCUIT.

|                |           |        |
|----------------|-----------|--------|
| From DUBLIN to |           |        |
| * Waterford    | Waterford | 74     |
| Carrick        | Tipperary | 14 88  |
| * Clonmell     | Tipperary | 10 98  |
| * CORK         | Cork      | 42 140 |
| Mill-street    | Cork      | 22 162 |
| Castle-Island  | Kerry     | 48 180 |
| * Tralee       | Kerry     | 8 188  |
| Castle-Island  | Kerry     | 8 196  |
| Abbyfeale      | Limerick  | 8 204  |
| Newcastle      | Limerick  | 9 213  |
| Rathkeale      | Limerick  | 6 219  |
| Adair          | Limerick  | 6 225  |
| * LIMERICK     | Limerick  | 8 233  |
| DUBLIN         | Dublin    | 94 327 |

CONNAUGHT CIRCUIT.

|                |           |        |
|----------------|-----------|--------|
| From DUBLIN to |           |        |
| * Roscommon    | Roscommon | 69     |
| Tulsk          | Roscommon | 9 78   |
| Elphin         | Roscommon | 5 83   |
| * Carrick      | Leitrim   | 7 90   |
| Boyle          | Roscommon | 7 97   |
| * Sligo        | Sligo     | 17 114 |
| Ballisfadare   | Sligo     | 3 117  |
| Colony         | Sligo     | 2 119  |
| Tobercorry     | Sligo     | 11 130 |
| Banada         | Sligo     | 4 134  |
| Kilmateague    | Sligo     | 3 137  |
| Foxford        | Mayo      | 8 145  |
| * Castlebar †  | Mayo      | 11 156 |
| Balcarra       | Mayo      | 5 161  |
| Newbrook       | Mayo      | 5 166  |
| Holymount      | Mayo      | 4 170  |
| Kilmain        | Mayo      | 3 173  |
| Shrule         | Mayo      | 3 176  |
| Cahirmorres    | Galway    | 6 182  |
| * Galway       | Galway    | 11 193 |
| Gort           | Galway    | 17 210 |
| Crusheen       | Clare     | 8 218  |
| * Ennis        | Clare     | 6 224  |
| Gort           | Galway    | 14 238 |
| Loughrea       | Galway    | 12 256 |
| Kilconnel      | Galway    | 6 251  |
| Ahascragh      | Galway    | 5 260  |

† At Ballinrobe generally in the Spring, and at Castlebar in the Summer.

|             |           |        |
|-------------|-----------|--------|
| Mount-Tabor | Roscommon | 5 277  |
| Roscommon   | Roscommon | 7 274  |
| DUBLIN      | Dublin    | 59 346 |

LEINSTER CIRCUIT.

|                 |             |        |
|-----------------|-------------|--------|
| From DUBLIN to  |             |        |
| * Wicklow       | Wicklow     | 24     |
| Arklow          | Wicklow     | 12 36  |
| Gorey           | Wicklow     | 9 45   |
| Castlebridge    | Wexford     | 19 64  |
| * Wexford       | Wexford     | 2 66   |
| Ros             | Wexford     | 19 85  |
| * KILKENNY      | Kilkenny    | 19 104 |
| Leighlin-Bridge | Carlow      | 12 116 |
| * Carlow        | Carlow      | 6 122  |
| * Athy †        | Kildare     | 9 131  |
| * Maryborough   | Queen's Co. | 12 143 |
| * Philipstown   | King's Co.  | 17 160 |
| DUBLIN          | Dublin      | 38 198 |

† At Naas generally in the Spring, and at Athy in the Summer.

ULSTER, North-East.

|                 |              |        |
|-----------------|--------------|--------|
| From DUBLIN to  |              |        |
| * Drogheda      | Drogheda co. | 23     |
| * Dundalk       | Louth        | 17 40  |
| * Downpatrick   | Down         | 32 72  |
| Saintfield      | Down         | 8 80   |
| * Carrickfergus | Antrim       | 17 97  |
| Belfast         | Antrim       | 8 105  |
| Lisburn         | Antrim       | 7 112  |
| Lurgan          | Armagh       | 10 122 |
| Portadown       | Armagh       | 5 127  |
| Richhill        | Armagh       | 5 132  |
| * Armagh        | Armagh       | 4 136  |
| Tynan           | Armagh       | 6 142  |
| Glaslough       | Monaghan     | 5 145  |
| * Monaghan      | Monaghan     | 5 150  |
| Castleshane     | Monaghan     | 3 163  |
| Castleblayney   | Monaghan     | 8 161  |
| Peterborough    | Monaghan     | 7 168  |
| Mill of Louth   | Louth        | 5 173  |
| Ardee           | Louth        | 5 178  |
| Navan           | Meath        | 15 193 |
| * Trim          | Meath        | 7 200  |
| DUBLIN          | Dublin       | 22 222 |

| ULSTER, North-West. |          |    |    |                              |           |     |     |
|---------------------|----------|----|----|------------------------------|-----------|-----|-----|
| From DUBLIN to      |          |    |    | Newtownbutler                | Fermanagh | 11  | 94  |
| Kilcock             | Kildare  | —  | 14 | M <sup>c</sup> Wire's bridge | Fermanagh | 7   | 101 |
| Infield             | Meath    | 5  | 19 | * Enniskillen                | Fermanagh | 7   | 108 |
| Kinnegad            | W. Meath | 10 | 29 | Trillick                     | Fermanagh | 9   | 117 |
| * Mullingar         | W. Meath | 9  | 38 | * Omagh                      | Tyrone    | 11  | 128 |
| Ballinalack         | W. Meath | 8  | 46 | Newtownstewart               | Tyrone    | 7   | 135 |
| Edgeworth's-tn.     | Longford | 6  | 52 | Strabane                     | Tyrone    | 7   | 142 |
| * Longford          | Longford | 6  | 58 | * Lifford                    | Donegal   | 1   | 143 |
| Granard             | Longford | 12 | 70 | * LONDONDERRY                | Derry     | 12  | 155 |
| * Cavan             | Cavan    | 13 | 83 | DUBLIN                       | Dublin    | 115 | 270 |

POST-OFFICE EXPRESS TABLE.

Calculated from Messrs. TAYLOR and SKINNER's Survey of the Roads of Ireland, and made up thus: Four-pence Halfpenny per Mile, and Six-pence Halfpenny for the Post Horn at each Stage. One Shilling and One Penny Messenger, and Eight Shillings and Three Half-pence Express Warrant and Fees.

| Irish Miles. | Hours. |              | l. | s. | d. | Irish Miles. | Hours. |                    | l. | s. | d. |
|--------------|--------|--------------|----|----|----|--------------|--------|--------------------|----|----|----|
| 85           | 25     | Antrim       | 2  | 5  | 8  | 39           | 11     | Carlow             | 1  | 6  | 1  |
| 36½          | 11     | Ardee        | 1  | 5  | 1  | 88½          | 26     | Carrickfergus      | 3  | 7  | 5  |
| 36½          | 11     | Arklow       | 1  | 4  | 6  | 45½          | 13     | Carrickmacross     | 1  | 9  | 0  |
| 66           | 19     | Armagh       | 1  | 17 | 3  | 98½          | 29     | Carrick on Shannon | 2  | 10 | 6  |
| 61           | 18     | Athlone      | 1  | 14 | 10 | 94           | 28     | Carrick on Suir    | 2  | 9  | 4  |
| 32           | 10     | Athy         | 1  | 2  | 11 | 95           | 28     | Cashel             | 2  | 9  | 8  |
| 15½          | 4      | Balbriggan   | 0  | 16 | 2  | 132½         | 39     | Cattlebar          | 3  | 4  | 3  |
| 50           | 14     | Ballinamore  | 1  | 10 | 1  | 35           | 10     | Castlebellingham   | 1  | 4  | 6  |
| 74½          | 22     | Ballinahinch | 2  | 1  | 7  | 86           | 25     | Castleblakeney     | 2  | 5  | 2  |
| 73½          | 22     | Ballinasloe  | 1  | 19 | 11 | 34           | 10     | Castledermot       | 1  | 3  | 8  |
| 121½         | 36     | Ballinrobe   | 3  | 0  | 1  | 119½         | 36     | Castlemartyr       | 3  | 0  | 1  |
| 29½          | 8      | Ballitore    | 1  | 1  | 11 | 49           | 14     | Cattlepollard      | 1  | 9  | 7  |
| 59           | 17     | Ballyboy     | 1  | 14 | 1  | 54           | 15     | Cavan              | 1  | 12 | 3  |
| 121          | 36     | Ballycastle  | 3  | 0  | 8  | 126          | 37     | Charleville        | 3  | 2  | 4  |
| 66           | 19     | Ballyconnell | 1  | 17 | 11 | 84           | 25     | Clogher            | 2  | 5  | 3  |
| 58           | 17     | Ballymahon   | 1  | 13 | 8  | 26           | 8      | Clonard            | 1  | 0  | 0  |
| 95           | 28     | Ballymenagh  | 2  | 9  | 9  | 89½          | 26     | Clones             | 2  | 7  | 8  |
| 109          | 32     | Ballymoney   | 2  | 15 | 7  | 83           | 24     | Clonmell           | 2  | 4  | 10 |
| 39           | 11     | Ballynakill  | 1  | 9  | 9  | 51           | 14     | Colehill           | 1  | 10 | 4  |
| 102          | 30     | Ballyshannon | 2  | 13 | 0  | 115½         | 35     | Coleraine          | 2  | 18 | 6  |
| 74½          | 22     | Banagher     | 2  | 0  | 10 | 59½          | 17     | Cootehill          | 1  | 14 | 10 |
| 61           | 18     | Banbridge    | 1  | 15 | 5  | 128          | 37     | Cork               | 3  | 3  | 8  |
| 141          | 42     | Bandon       | 3  | 9  | 3  | 124          | 36     | Derry              | 3  | 2  | 5  |
| 168          | 50     | Bantry       | 4  | 0  | 5  | 94½          | 28     | Donaghadee         | 2  | 10 | 2  |
| 80½          | 24     | Belfast      | 2  | 3  | 10 | 112          | 34     | Donegal            | 2  | 17 | 4  |
| 64           | 18     | Belturbet    | 1  | 15 | 6  | 135          | 39     | Doneraile          | 3  | 6  | 3  |
| 68           | 20     | Birr         | 1  | 18 | 0  | 74           | 22     | Down               | 2  | 0  | 11 |
| 100          | 30     | Boyle        | 2  | 11 | 1  | 24           | 7      | Drogheda           | 0  | 19 | 5  |
| 10           | 3      | Bray         | 0  | 13 | 6  | 66½          | 19     | Dromore            | 1  | 18 | 0  |
| 79           | 23     | Burrisfakane | 2  | 2  | 8  | 41           | 12     | Dundalk            | 1  | 6  | 10 |

| Irish Miles. | Hours. |                | l. | s. | d. | Irish Miles. | Hours. |                 | l. | s. | d. |
|--------------|--------|----------------|----|----|----|--------------|--------|-----------------|----|----|----|
| 76           | 23     | Dungannon      | 2  | 1  | 9  | 56           | 16     | Monke           | 1  | 12 | 11 |
| 31           | 9      | Dunleer        | 1  | 2  | 6  | 72           | 22     | Moir            | 2  | 0  | 1  |
| 14           | 4      | Dunshaughlin   | 0  | 15 | 0  | 80           | 24     | Monaghan        | 2  | 3  | 6  |
| 42½          | 12     | Durrow         | 1  | 11 | 1  | 32           | 9      | Monastereven    | 1  | 2  | 10 |
| 91½          | 26     | Elphin         | 2  | 7  | 3  | 89           | 26     | Monymore        | 2  | 7  | 0  |
| 125½         | 37     | Ennis          | 3  | 2  | 2  | 43           | 12     | Montmelick      | 1  | 8  | 2  |
| 60½          | 17     | Enniscorthy    | 1  | 14 | 7  | 38           | 11     | Mullingar       | 1  | 5  | 1  |
| 80           | 24     | Enniskillen    | 2  | 3  | 11 | 15½          | 4      | Naas            | 0  | 15 | 7  |
| 79½          | 24     | Eyre Court     | 2  | 3  | 3  | 23½          | 7      | Navan           | 0  | 19 | 3  |
| 46           | 13     | Flurrybridge   | 1  | 9  | 3  | 85           | 25     | Nenagh          | 2  | 4  | 9  |
| 114          | 35     | Galway         | 2  | 17 | 4  | 142          | 42     | Newport (Mayo)  | 3  | 8  | 3  |
| 46           | 13     | Gorey          | 1  | 8  | 7  | 97           | 29     | Newport (Tip.)  | 2  | 9  | 10 |
| 108          | 32     | Gort           | 2  | 15 | 0  | 51           | 15     | Newry           | 1  | 11 | 2  |
| 52           | 15     | Gowran         | 1  | 11 | 6  | 88           | 26     | Newtownards     | 2  | 7  | 3  |
| 58           | 17     | Granard        | 1  | 13 | 6  | 126          | 38     | N. T. Limavady  | 3  | 3  | 1  |
| 70           | 21     | Hillborough    | 1  | 19 | 3  | 17½          | 5      | N. T. (Wicklow) | 0  | 16 | 10 |
| 63           | 18     | Innistioge     | 1  | 16 | 3  | 38½          | 11     | Old Castle      | 1  | 5  | 11 |
| 31½          | 9      | Kells          | 1  | 2  | 9  | 98           | 29     | Omagh           | 2  | 11 | 7  |
| 54½          | 16     | Kilbeggan      | 1  | 12 | 3  | 41           | 12     | Philipstown     | 1  | 6  | 2  |
| 14½          | 4      | Kilcock        | 0  | 15 | 2  | 88½          | 26     | Portaferry      | 2  | 7  | 5  |
| 21           | 6      | Kilcullen      | 0  | 18 | 2  | 37           | 10     | Portarlinton    | 1  | 5  | 5  |
| 26½          | 7      | Kildare        | 1  | 0  | 10 | 132          | 39     | Ramelton        | 3  | 5  | 11 |
| 59           | 17     | Kilkenny       | 1  | 14 | 8  | 118½         | 35     | Raphoe          | 3  | 0  | 4  |
| 156½         | 46     | Killala        | 3  | 14 | 4  | 58           | 16     | Rathfriland     | 1  | 14 | 4  |
| 165          | 49     | Killarney      | 3  | 19 | 4  | 119          | 35     | Rathkeale       | 2  | 19 | 2  |
| 63           | 18     | Killisnoha     | 1  | 16 | 2  | 76½          | 23     | Roscommon       | 2  | 1  | 1  |
| 125          | 37     | Killybegs      | 3  | 2  | 9  | 77½          | 23     | Roscrea         | 2  | 2  | 0  |
| 139½         | 40     | Kinsale        | 3  | 8  | 6  | 69½          | 21     | Ros             | 1  | 19 | 2  |
| 98           | 29     | Larne          | 2  | 11 | 6  | 114          | 34     | Six-mile-bridge | 2  | 17 | 3  |
| 45           | 13     | Leighlinbridge | 1  | 18 | 11 | 119          | 35     | Sligo           | 2  | 18 | 9  |
| 8            | 2      | Leixlip        | 0  | 12 | 9  | 112½         | 34     | Strabane        | 2  | 17 | 6  |
| 125          | 37     | Lettickenny    | 3  | 2  | 9  | 38           | 11     | Stradbally      | 1  | 5  | 5  |
| 105          | 31     | Limerick       | 2  | 13 | 4  | 20           | 6      | Summerhill      | 0  | 17 | 9  |
| 73½          | 22     | Lisburn        | 2  | 1  | 2  | 7            | 2      | Swords          | 0  | 12 | 5  |
| 102          | 30     | Lisnaree       | 2  | 12 | 5  | 106          | 31     | Tallow          | 2  | 14 | 5  |
| 72           | 22     | Lisnaskea      | 2  | 0  | 2  | 61½          | 18     | Tanderagee      | 1  | 15 | 9  |
| 146          | 43     | Lislowel       | 3  | 10 | 5  | 135          | 41     | Tarbert         | 3  | 5  | 9  |
| 59           | 17     | Longford       | 1  | 13 | 10 | 59           | 17     | Thomastown      | 1  | 14 | 8  |
| 59           | 17     | Loughbrickland | 1  | 14 | 8  | 104½         | 31     | Tipperary       | 2  | 13 | 9  |
| 96           | 29     | Loughrea       | 2  | 10 | 0  | 179          | 53     | Trillick        | 4  | 5  | 2  |
| 68           | 19     | Lurgan         | 1  | 18 | 8  | 25           | 7      | Trim            | 0  | 19 | 8  |
| 37½          | 10     | Lurgan-green   | 1  | 5  | 6  | 106          | 31     | Tuam            | 2  | 13 | 9  |
| 93           | 28     | Magherafelt    | 2  | 8  | 6  | 48½          | 14     | Tullamore       | 1  | 9  | 7  |
| 140½         | 40     | Mallow         | 3  | 8  | 10 | 72           | 22     | Tynan           | 2  | 0  | 2  |
| 44½          | 13     | Maryborough    | 1  | 8  | 2  | 40½          | 12     | Virginia        | 1  | 6  | 8  |
| 11½          | 3      | Maynooth       | 0  | 14 | 1  | 80           | 24     | Waterford       | 2  | 3  | 6  |
| 124½         | 37     | Middleton      | 3  | 2  | 5  | 72           | 22     | Wexford         | 1  | 19 | 6  |
| 150½         | 44     | Millstreet     | 3  | 13 | 3  | 24½          | 7      | Wicklow         | 0  | 19 | 6  |
| 105          | 31     | Mitchellstown  | 2  | 14 | 0  | 116½         | 34     | Youghal         | 2  | 18 | 11 |

N. B. Expresses are likewise sent from DUBLIN to all Parts of GREAT BRITAIN.—The Expence to LONDON, 4l. 18s. 4d. To LIVERPOOL, 2l. 17s. 6d. To CHESTER, 2l. 2s. 10d. To GLASGOW, 4l. 13s. 11d.

LIST of the several Post-Towns, with the RATES OF POSTAGE to each from DUBLIN, for a single Letter.

BY AUTHORITY.

|                  |      |               |      |                |      |                 |      |
|------------------|------|---------------|------|----------------|------|-----------------|------|
| Antrim           | d. 4 | Castlemartyr  | d. 4 | Kilcullen      | d. 3 | Newport (Tip.)  | d. 4 |
| Ardee            | 4    | Castlepollard | 4    | Kildare        | 3    | Newry           | 4    |
| Arklow           | 4    | Cavan         | 4    | Kilkenny       | 4    | Newtownards     | 4    |
| Armagh           | 4    | Charleville   | 4    | Killala        | 4    | N. T. Limavady  | 4    |
| Athlone          | 4    | Clogher       | 4    | Killarney      | 4    | N. T. (Wicklow) | 3    |
| Athy             | 4    | Clonard       | 3    | Killyshandra   | 4    | Old Castle      | 4    |
| Ballbrigen       | 2    | Clones        | 4    | Killybegs      | 4    | Omagh           | 4    |
| Ballimore        | 4    | Clonmell      | 4    | Kinfale        | 4    | Philpstown      | 4    |
| Ballinahinch     | 4    | Colehill      | 4    | Larne          | 4    | Portaferry      | 4    |
| Ballinakill      | 4    | Coleraine     | 4    | Leighlinbridge | 4    | Portarlinton    | 4    |
| Ballinasloe      | 4    | Cootehill     | 4    | Leixlip        | 2    | Ramelton        | 4    |
| Ballinrobe       | 4    | Cork          | 4    | Letterkenny    | 4    | Raphoe          | 4    |
| Ballitore        | 3    | Derry         | 4    | Limerick       | 4    | Rathfriland     | 4    |
| Ballyboy         | 4    | Doneraile     | 4    | Lisburn        | 4    | Rathkeale       | 4    |
| Ballycattle      | 4    | Donaghadee    | 4    | Lisnaree       | 4    | Roscommon       | 4    |
| Ballyconnell     | 4    | Donegal       | 4    | Lisnakea       | 4    | Roserea         | 4    |
| Ballymahon       | 4    | Down          | 4    | Lislowel       | 4    | Reis            | 4    |
| Ballymenagh      | 4    | Drogheda      | 3    | Longford       | 4    | Six-mile-bridge | 4    |
| Ballymoney       | 4    | Dromore       | 4    | Loughbrickland | 4    | Sligo           | 4    |
| Ballyshannon     | 4    | Dundalk       | 4    | Loughrea       | 4    | Strabane        | 4    |
| Banagher         | 4    | Dungannon     | 4    | Lurgan         | 4    | Stradbally      | 4    |
| Banbridge        | 4    | Dunfer        | 3    | Lurgan-Green   | 4    | Summerhill      | 3    |
| Bandon           | 4    | Dunshaughlin  | 2    | Magherafelt    | 4    | Swords          | 2    |
| Bantry           | 4    | Durrow        | 4    | Mallow         | 4    | Tallow          | 4    |
| Belfast          | 4    | Elphin        | 4    | Maryborough    | 4    | Tanderagee      | 4    |
| Belturbet        | 4    | Ennis         | 4    | Maynooth       | 2    | Tarbert         | 4    |
| Birr             | 4    | Enniscorthy   | 4    | Middleton      | 4    | Thomastown      | 4    |
| Boyle            | 4    | Enniskillen   | 4    | Millstreet     | 4    | Tipperary       | 4    |
| Bray             | 2    | Eyre Court    | 4    | Mitchellstown  | 4    | Tralee          | 4    |
| Burrisakane      | 4    | Flurrybridge  | 4    | Moate          | 4    | Trim            | 3    |
| Carlow           | 4    | Galway        | 4    | Moir           | 4    | Tuam            | 4    |
| Carrickfergus    | 4    | Gorey         | 4    | Monaghan       | 4    | Tullamore       | 4    |
| Carrickmacross   | 4    | Gort          | 4    | Monasterereen  | 4    | Tynan           | 4    |
| Carrick-on-Shan. | 4    | Gowran        | 4    | Monymore       | 4    | Virginia        | 4    |
| Carrick-on-Suir  | 4    | Granard       | 4    | Montmelick     | 4    | Waterford       | 4    |
| Cashel           | 4    | Hillsborough  | 4    | Mullingar      | 4    | Wexford         | 4    |
| Castlebar        | 4    | Innistige     | 4    | Naas           | 2    | Wicklow         | 3    |
| Castlebellingham | 4    | Kells         | 4    | Navan          | 3    | Youghal         | 4    |
| Castleblakeney   | 4    | Kilbeggan     | 4    | Nenagh         | 4    |                 |      |
| Castledermot     | 4    | Kilcock       | 2    | Newport (Mayo) | 4    |                 |      |

F I N I S.

